MINING, BUSINESS AND STOCKS

UTAH MINES MAY BE SOLD SOON

Option Given on Majority of Stock On Basis of $250,000 or $2.50 a Share.

REGULAR DIVIDEND PAYER.

Shareholders Receive Three Cents a Share Monthly—Recovering From Late Fire.

It was learned today from an authentic source that an option has been given on a control of the stock of the Utah mine at Fish Springs, at the head of which is George Crismon, the veteran mining operator and business man of this city. The price is said to be $2.50 a share, or $250,000 for the entire mine. But other than that it was impossible up to press time to get further details concerning the transaction, as those of the officials seen were not inclined to talk.

The Utah is one of the best paying silver-lead mines in the state and is also one of the most conservatively managed propositions in this region. It is a regular dividend payer, and for many months past its shareholders have drawn three cents a share regularly; while during a portion of last year the amount was five cents a share and would probably have continued indefinitely had the company not suffered the loss of its hoisting plant by fire several months ago. A new plant was installed recently and since which time the management has been engaged in bringing conditions back to normal again. The shaft is being cleared of debris as rapidly as possible and timbermen have it in shape down to a point approaching the 500 level.

In the meantime, ore is being hoisted through another shaft and over which is operated a horse whim.

If the option is exercised, all shareholders will be given the opportunity of putting in their stock at the price stated; hence no undue advantage will be taken of the minority shareholders.

COLORADO WEAKER.

LONE MAN ENTIRE FORCE.

"Gus" Cordes Has Sunk Shaft Eighty Feet All by Himself.

From Round mountain comes a story of determination and pluck seldom equalled and never surpassed. "Gus" Cordes, one of the many who rushed to Round mountain when that district was being opened, is working a little lone fraction west of the Sphinx, Sprinx Extension and Comstock properties. When continued strikes proved the district's permanency and extreme richness Cordes figured out that by sinking to bed rock in the deep vast of the hill and then drifting he would strike an old river bed that will be the richest placer proposition ever discovered. He started sinking with this idea and has now driven his shaft down 80 feet.

At first thought this statement has no unusual meaning but the more thinking is devoted to it the bigger it becomes. Cordes has drilled, blasted and shoveled every shovelful of dirt; he has timbered, all by himself and when he could not longer throw the dirt out of the hole, he built a whim and installed a ladder. Now he climbs down the shaft, drills into the rock, climbs 80 feet to the top; gets powder and fuse; climbs down again, fills holes, lights long fuse, scampers up ladder; waits for explosion. It comes. Then he climbs down; fills bucket with dirt; climbs up again; hoists bucket; climbs down again. This is repeated several times a day. The superintendent of the property finds the powder monkey, mucker, driller and engineer a steady, reliable fellow and a hard worker. No labor troubles have been experienced at the property yet.

GEO. WILSON GETS DURANGO GIRL

J. R. Munn Releases Interest in Group Near the Golden Triagle.

SILVER AND GOLD PROPERTY.

Former Salt Laker is One of the Most Active Investors in Rosebud District.

George Wilson, a former Salt Laker and the man who has the distinction of handling the larger portion of the mining deals which have been made since the first discovery of Rosebud, has scored again. It has come to be considered a dull week in Rosebud when George Wilson doesn't put through something important in the way of a deal on some choice piece of mining property in the district—and there have been very few weeks since he started in to make a record which has no equal in any of the mining camps of the state. Probably the secret of Wilson's success is that he doesn't use a brass band accompaniment when he starts in to carry through a deal. He just goes along quietly to attain a definite end and he usually lands what he is after.

The latest deal to George Wilson's credit was made on Thursday of this week and was one of the most important yet made in the district, being the sale of the Durango Girl group of four claims and a fraction to the Rosebud Development company. The sale was made by J. R. Munn and associates, the latter being prominent business men of Telluride, Colo.

The consideration, though not made public, is known to be well up in five figures, the owners retaining a good sized stock interest.

The Durango Girl group is well known as one of the choicest properties in the entire district. It is situated about two miles and a half northwest of the town of Rosebud, close to the Sulphur mine, and was the original location in that part of the district. It is also in proximity to the well known Golden Triangle.

The Durango Girl was located by J. R. Munn in March, after he had made a sensational strike on the ground, the ore being some of the richest yet found in the district. From the croppings he broke pieces of quartz which were fairly covered with brittle silver. Since then the ledge has been proved for a distance of nearly 3,000 feet on this group and another ledge which makes a junction with the larger one has been uncovered, the values being high and consistent.

Those who have been over the ground state that it would be an easy matter to make a shipment of high grade right from the surface. Assays of picked samples have run as high as $1,000 per ton in gold and silver. Only a few days ago a big boulder found on one of the claims was broken and found to be fairly alive with visible gold. There is no doubt that this float came from one of the ledges on this property.

The Rosebud Development company, one of the strongest of Rosebud organizations, will at once incorporate the Durango Girl group into a company and put a force of men at work to develop this wonderful property on a scale commensurate with its worth. It will be heard from in the way of production before many moons.—Rosebud Mining News.

DAILY COPPER GOSSIP.

James A. Pollock & Co., bankers and brokers, 6 West Second South street, the following: Boston News Bureau says:

"The president of a leading copper producer says: 'I anticipate that the leading copper interests will compromise with the big consumers of metal and reduce prices a few cents per pound, possibly to 23c for electrolytic brands and 23½c for lake and the next big Calumet sales will be affected on the basis of 24c. This is not a bear point on copper sales, as such action will insure enormous earnings to the companies this year and copper stocks have already discounted a big decline in the metal and are already selling lower than when the metal was 12 cents per pound. I believe that the price of metal could decline to 18 cents per pound without affecting the dividend now being paid by the copper companies. No company is paying dividends on the basis, receiving 25 cents per pound for the metal.'"

Boston News Bureau says: An official of the Nipissing Mines company says that when the directors meet to act upon the dividend at the end of this month the larger dividend of 3 per cent will be declared. The Nipissing has greater liquid assets now than at any previous time in its history.

CONCENTRATES.

W. P. O'Meara is expected home from Nevada and California next week.

Walter C. Orem is in Bingham today looking over the properties of the Utah Apex and Utah Development companies.

gineer, and Frank Janney, mill superintendent of the Utah Copper company, are spending the day at the big Garfield plant of that company.

Word comes from Bingham to the effect that a fine strike of ore has been made in the Bingham Mary mine; about 1½ feet of fine Peacock copper ore having been exposed. Manager Sidney Bamberger is on the ground today sizing up conditions.

For a little over 22½ tons of ore, 44,604 pounds, the Utah Mine company yesterday settled with the smelter on a basis of $122.28 per ton. After deducting freight charges the check received called for $2,583.73. The ore assayed 135 ounces silver and 45.5 per cent lead per ton.

The Wabash has the flood recently opened in its long drift under control now. It is said the flow was somewhere in the neighborhood of 1,400 gallons per minute. At a distance of 1,000 feet from the source the water was flowing four feet deep. When the flood supply is reduced work will be pushing ahead rapidly beyond the present danger line and interesting developments are anticipated.

The Tetro Mining company of the Tintic district has levied an assessment tions. As the sum to be raised will just about clear the slate, it is believed another assessment will follow later. Connections have been made between shaft and old workings and it is thought the ore in the latter will be worth while. This goes about 12 per cent copper and about 10 ounces in silver and with something better mixed in will make the Tetro a good thing.

Hnry C. Stewart of New York, accompanied by G. A. Hufnagel of Antwerp, Belgium, are in this city from Cherry Creek. They are looking for machinery and equipment with which to build a mill for the treatment of gold ore. Mr. Stewart is president of five different mining corporations, the Gold Canyon, the Cocomongo, and Gold Canyon Extension Mining companies; the Cherry Creek Gold Mining company and the Antwerp-Nevada Gold Mining company. These five companies are all under one control and worked under one management. The properties embraced in these companies are so situated with reference to each other that the development of one is in reality the development of all.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT.

In today's local markets the receipts include an unusually fine car of extra Valencia oranges from Redland, Cal., also the last car of navels, and a car of Mediterranean sweets, two cars of bananas, and one car of Winningstead cabbages from southern California. There are also cantaloupes from Brawley, Cal., with express shipments of cucumbers from Marysville, Cal., and quite a variety of vegetables from Texas, Florida and Utah. The last of the Hood river strawberries are in the local market as the backward season and the wet weather have softened them so that they can not stand transportation, and shippers are losing money on them. A car load of Texas tomatoes are due in this city tomorrow. There is a slight raise in the prices of flour, and 1 cent per pound wholesale in butter. The prices obtaining today, are as follwos:

BULLS WERE ENCOURAGED

Soon After Opening Business Expanded and There Was Decided Improvement.

STOCK CONFIDENTLY BOUGHT

Growing Demand Rapidly Absorbed Realizing Orders—This Fell Off —Market Closed Dull.

New York, June 6.—Fluctuations in price of stocks resulting from the small opening dealings were feeble except in special cases. Small gains and losses were made. Reading was pushed up 1⅜. Union Pacific 1⅛. American Car 1⅛. American Locomotive a point, and Northern Pacific and American Smelting ¾. Colorado Southern second preferred fell a point, and Missouri Pacific ¾.

Business expanded greatly and there was a decided improvement in prices all around, arising from the confident buying of the Hill, Harriman and metal stocks. Realizing orders were readily disgested by the growing demand. Rock Island preferred advanced 3, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific and Smelting 2¼, Union Pacific 2⅛, St. Paul preferred, Locomotive and General Electric 2, Reading 1¾, Anaconda 1⅝ and St. Paul, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, United States Steel preferred, Amalgamated Copper, Atchison and Locomotive preferred 1.

Prices touched a slightly higher level in the second hour and then eased off, owing to a marked subsidence of demand.

Bonds were irregular.

Bull operators regarded the fact that prices held as well during the dull spell as an encouraging sign and proceeded to bid up the leaders again with the local tractions in large demand. Smelting rose 2¾. Union Pacific 2½ and Copper 1⅝.

A falling off in demand prompted realizing which forced the active features back from ½ to a point.

The market closed dull and heavy. The realizing movement continued to some length, several of the leaders reacting from 1⅝ to 1½. When the profit-taking subsided, prices recovered somewhat. Denver & Rio Grande preferred rose 2. Alton preferred declined 6.

PRODUCE.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 6.—The wheat market today opened weak and with a fairly active trade. The weather conditions in all parts of the country were reported as favorable for the crop and cables were easy. There was considerable liquidation in the July option and it was less firm than September. July wheat opened ⅜ to ¾ lower at 94¾ to 95⅛, sold at 95¼, declined to 94⅝, and then rallied to 95. September opened ¼@⅝ to ¾@7⅞ lower at 97⅛ to 97⅜ and sold at 97⅛@97⅜.

Trading in corn was very dull and prices were easier, partly because of the weather and partly in sympathy with wheat. July corn opened a shade to ⅛@¼ lower at 53⅞ to 54.

Prices in oats were easy in sympathy with wheat and corn, but trading was very light. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼ lower at 48⅞ to 49, and sold at 48⅞.

The provisions market was dull but prices were firm. Local packers were credited with a fair amount of buying which offset a 5-cent decline in live hogs. July pork was 7½ higher at 16.35; lard was up 5 at 9.10, and ribs were 2½ higher at 8.72½.
