AROUND THE COURTS.

An Action Against the Niagara Mining and Smelting Co.

A SEALED VERDICT RETURNED.

The Beautiful Land Case—Foreclosure Suits.—Justice's County Court.

The day has been an unusually quiet one in both departments of the Third district court. Chief Justice Merritt started in with the first case on the list of civil jury settings made last Saturday, and Judge Sutton, who returned from the Junction City on Saturday evening, listened, with a jury, to minor testimony for the plaintiff in the Beautiful Land controversy. The other case was begun on Friday afternoon.

A SEALED VERDICT.

In the matter of Frances Frisch vs. J. Dickson et al., tried and submitted on Friday last, the jury before whom the case was heard this morning brought in a sealed verdict, finding for the defendant. A stay of the days was allowed. Plaintiff sued to recover the sum of $50 alleged to be due upon a contract for building. The case was an appeal from a lower court, where judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount.

SUED AFTER THE NIAGARA.

The suit of C. F. Loofbourow, as administrator of the estate of H. M. Harmon, deceased, vs. the Niagara Mining and Smelting Co., was called up for hearing in Judge Merritt's division at ten o'clock. By this action it is sought to recover from the defendants the sum of $7,000, with interest and costs alleged to be due on three counts, viz. (1) $2,773 for work said to have been performed by the decedent under a contract entered of July 13th, 1891, on certain mining property of the defendants at Bingham, Utah; (2) in the sum of $5,000 damages claimed to have been sustained by decedent, arising out of a violation of the contract by the construction of 1,000 feet of tunnel; (3) in the sum of $1,000 alleged to be due for services performed during the year 1891, for which the defendant agreed to deliver to decedent 100 shares of stock of defendants' corporation, of the value of $10 per share.

In their answer the defendants admit the execution of the contract, but deny that under the same the decedent was to receive from the defendants, as indicated, that only 229 feet of work was done, which they say entitled him to a total of $2,290 and no more. They admit decedent Harmon at sundry times received cash aggregating $600, leaving a balance of $1,690 due. It is further denied that any alleged breach of contract damages was caused to the tune of $5,000. On the third count defendants adversely denying that the 1891 decedent remarkably services entitling him to any shares of stock of greater value than $100.

A good deal of time was consumed in the argument upon the demurrer to amended answer, which was overruled, the plaintiff being rightly represented by Loofbourow and Kauts and the defendants by W. C. Hall.

The taking of testimony was begun shortly before noon.

JUDGE SANDOS'S COURT.

John A. Groesbeck vs Salt Lake City et al. In this case, on motion of plaintiff's attorney, the appeal was dismissed, the defendants having failed to docket.

IN CHASE OF AGATH.

The case of Joseph Holt vs Chas. F. Peterson, part heard on Friday last, was again on the boards today.

The action is brought to recover the sum of $1,078.75, interest thereon from June 1st, 1891, and costs alleged to be due as the balance of money paid by plaintiff and other persons to defendant for the procuring of deeds to certain lands in Boulder addition cemetery plat. It is claimed that $1,987.50 was paid to Peterson in excess of the amount required for the deeds, that he has refunded the sum of $108.75, leaving unpaid the balance sued for.

PORTHAMPTON MATTERS.

A suit for divorcement was filed with Clerk Dunbar in the Third district court this morning, by Ellen Jane Jones Thompson vs H. M. McCartney and Katherine McCartney, also Chas. S. Wilson, C. S. Wantland, J. G. Sutton, C. W. Bogue and Joseph Donnellan and wife. Also by the same plaintiff against Fred Till and Mary Ann Till, also Wm. H. Irvine, Adolphus Irvine, with R. Stephens as trustee for R. W. Harrison, and wife, and Gertrude Van Anda.

THE WRONG NAME.

In the mention in Saturday's NEWS of the sale of certain property by sheriff McGuire, to satisfy a judgment of the Third district court, the name of Frank Kimball was by a typographical error, made to read Frank Kimball. The defendants in the suit were Frank Barbers and Jacob Kimball.

SUPREME COURT COURT.

At this morning's session of the County court, over which Probate Judge Hall presided, very little business was transacted.

The court was instructed to notify the Old Jordan and Queen Mining Co to repair, at once, the bridge over the canal on the Draper and Hereford road, and the R. G. W. Ry. company's line at Draper.

County Physician Worthington reported that at this city there are five county patients at St. Mary's hospital and one at St. Marys.

County Treasurer Lynn wrote stating that there are sufficient funds in hand to pay all legalized county warrants up to register No. 2,186.

Attorney Dan Harrington appeared before the court and on behalf of Jesse W. Harris and a number of other residents of Sugar House precinct petitioned for the appointment of a new road supervisor, asking that Mr. Harris be elected to the office. Mr. Harrington stated that the desire of the petitioners whom he represented was to have the roads placed in good condition, like those of Farnsworth's precinct, seeing that Sugar House contributes equal amount in taxes. Attorney Harrington, on behalf of the watermaster of the ditch in Parkinsburg district, also asked that it be permitted to put in a new flume near Cooper's ditch, mentioned, on Bank Travel railroad track.

Both matters were taken under advisement.

WHEATGROWERS ADDITION.

Edgar R. Kimball filed in County Recorder Lyndon's office today a plat of the new Wheatgrowers addition to section 25, one mile north of Sugar one week, and distant about half a mile west of the Copper patch.

DEATH OF GEORGE W. CROUCH.

Another Old Time Union Pacific Is His Reward.

Another prominent Democrat has sought the shades where political distinctions do not trouble and politicians have something else to think about. This time it is George W. Crouch, of Ashley. Mr. Crouch was probably 70 years of age, he came to Utah forty-five years ago and after a brief sojourn here he went to the eastern country, where for a long time he resided and did what he could for the furtherance of civilization in his neighborhood. He became editor of a newspaper in Dover some eighteen years ago and subsequently came to this city and was employed by the Tribune for several years, after which he went to Ashley and engaged in the business of merchandising.

Mr. Crouch was a delegate to the Democratic territorial convention which was held at Ogden in 1882 and was quite a prominent figure in that body. He had a wide circle of friends and his death will be sincerely regretted by them.

Bishop M. L. Lee's Death.

Brief mention has been previously made in these columns of the death of Bishop M. L. Lee, of Tooele, and the following will undoubtedly be of interest to those from the Popular Lake for the past three weeks he and family were sojourning in Salt Lake City, where he was under the care of the physicians. The ailment he was suffering from gall stone passages and tumors made within developed into inflammation of the bowels, resulting in his death.

Mr. Lee was a man of great worth in the community in which he lived, was well known throughout this section and highly esteemed and respected. He was one of the early settlers of Tooele, and his life was a long, busy, and useful one, and he leaves a wife and children, who will be sorely missed by the community in which they have lived so long. Mr. Lee was one of the most active and enterprising men in his county, and in the time he was placed at the head of the Mormon church in Tooele, being ordained a Bishop on June 3rd, 1882. He was born in Tooele, Utah, February 7th, 1855, and is consequently forty-one years of age.

In public and business life Bishop Lee had many friends and few enemies. He leaves an affectionate wife and fourteen children, the eldest over nineteen years old, to mourn his loss, and the only consolation to the bereaved is the kind and tender sympathy of their many sorrowing friends. Several prominent residents of Tooele went to Tooele today to attend some public and consolatory services, and to add to what the record, which took place at 10 o'clock this morning, and was largely attended.

Deaf Mute Sunday School Review.

One of the most pleasing, interesting and long to be remembered Sunday School reviews was given at the Church University, Salt Lake City, yesterday (Sunday) morning. There was quite a large number of visitors in attendance.

The exercise consisted of ordinary conversation, sketch of the life of the Redeemer of the world, organization of the Church, what Sacrament is, the Articles of Faith, the Apostles and Prophets, the Ten Commandments, the Ten Virgins, which was beautifully sung by Louie Dunbar, recitation of the Twelfth Article of Faith by Ethel Young, "Nearer my God to Thee" by the little Misses Stark and Pearl Ault, accompanied by the violin of the worthy Mrs Minnie Freyhofer, by the very pretty Misses Ruth Ault and Mary Dunbar and Andrew Mason, and others, including of the Lord's prayer in unison, which was beautifully sung. Hugh Henry Cannon then recited the words as the sign of the prayer were being given.

A Mormon Sunday School and Annie and Lizzie Lazen Pratt are entitled to the greatest credit that can be given teachers for their efficient labors, in view of very difficult obstacles they have to contend with.

Encouraging remarks on the blackboard were written by Elder Angus M. Cannon, Sister Rubecca W. Smith, Elders Wilford Young and Nathaniel V. Jones.

Joseph Greenhalgh, the choice worker, who is the superintendent of the Sunday School, and who is the man who has had to meet to this cause. He also thanked the visitors for their presence and good feeling towards the mission.

Local Forestry Association.

If the Utah Forestry Association is going to accomplish the work which it was organized to accomplish, a considerable number of local organizations must be formed this summer, and some good, earnest work done at once. One of the first investigations should be to determine how much timber is needed in the vicinity of the principal settlements. Every effort should be made to prevent shortage. Rather empty in these places, and home lumbermen need not be taken to preserve what little is now left, it is necessary to know to exact condition.

Below is presented an outline for the consideration and by-law of a local society. The outline was prepared by Mr. J. M. Downey, a member of the Utah Forestry Association. It is hoped that there will be a number of other societies formed with similar outlines. It will answer the needs of local societies in any part of Utah.

S. A. WARREN,
Sec. U. F. A.

12. This organization will be connected by a twenty-line bulletin of the members present at any regular meeting, provided some of the proposed change shall have been given at the next preceding meeting.

Central County Democrats.

The Democrats of Prior precinct, says the Eastern Utah Telegraph of the 20th inst., met at the meeting house last evening and selected delegates to attend the county convention which convenes in Price, Monday, April 23. C. W. Allred was chairman and the secretary of the meeting was Jesse Knight, who was asked to preside. The necessary committees for conducting a campaign were appointed.

DRUMMOND HERE YESTERDAY.

Went Out to Garfield in the Afternoon and Left Back Night.

General Manager R. Drummond and J. H. McDonald, superintendent of motive power and machinery of the Union Pacific system, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday morning in their private conveyance. Both of the officials are making a complete tour of inspection of the road and will be accompanied by their families. The early part of the day was spent in the city and during the afternoon the party went out to Garfield on a special train and informal matters of importance to the latter management for the coming month. Last evening they left for Portland. They are expected to spend about ten days in Oregon, during which time Mr. Drummond will be at home in Philadelphia, after which they will return to Omaha.

Home Missionary Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Home Missionaries of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene at the Social Hall, Salt Lake City, Wednesday, April 25, at 7:30 p. m. If, through some, any of the brethren are unable to attend the meeting, they are requested to send in the reports of their labors for the month past, in writing.

Spraying at Trent.

Editor Evening News:

Please give the following a place in your issue, so that it may reach the farmers in this county.

In your issue of Saturday I noticed something relating to the law passed by the last Legislature in regard to spraying, where you say, "Who is doing the spraying?" Undersigned, being one of the Respondents in Salt Lake City, will be glad to answer any questions in reference to spraying, and the best and cheapest way of getting it done, as I am very well acquainted with the business and can give the best advice without charge.
