THE FINAL READING.

and sections 23 and 24 be referred to the committee on judiciary for correction.

Rowlly, of Davis, opposed such instruction for the reason that he believed that the temper of the Convention was such that the required amendments could be made footwith and the question settled once for all.

Squires now withdrew his motion to refer.

A vote on Kimball's substitute was then taken with the result that it was unanimously lost.

ARTICLE EIGHTEEN FINALLY PASSED.

The Essay section passed to section 22 was carried and section 23 was adopted, section 24 and the remainder of the sections were speedily disposed of, after which the preamble was temporarily passed and article 1 of the Declaration of Rights unanimously adopted, some twenty members voting in favor of it.

THE PREAMBLE ADOPTED.

The Preamble was next acted upon and it also received a unanimous vote, the same number being cast for it as for the Declaration of Rights.

CONSIDERATION OF THE WHOLE.

Kimball, of Weber, at this moment moved that the Convention resolve itself into the consideration of the whole to consider the next article. Carried, and the Convention became Platte, of Salt Lake, in chairman.

THE EXECUTIVE ARTICLE.

The executive article was immediately taken from the calendar and the reading of it proceeded with.

WHAT A LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS.

Kimball, of Weber, rose to answer a query pertaining to a lieutenant governor. The amendment was under consideration at 4 o'clock when this report closed.

Police Court News.

Frank Howard, who was arrested by the police last night for acting his organ on the sidewalk in the general vicinity, was released on his own recognizance, on promising to appear in court at 10 o'clock this morning. He did not appear at that hour, however, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The city prosecutor instructed the clerk to issue a bench warrant and cause the arrest of the defendant.

L. P. Hardy was arraigned in the police court yesterday with drunkenness and cruelty to animals, on the recommendation of Officer Gillespie, who made the arrest. He discharged, it appearing that he had kept Sally Wise would be unable to relief if the defendant should be sent to jail. The officer consented to drop the horse charging in the street without loss for a considerable length of time.

A Six Months' Sentence.

Stephen Fisher, the man who was caught cold from Evanston, Wyo., and sighting Captain of Police Dinsmore, was taken before Commissioner Pratt today. The original charge against the defendant was forging a check for $10, and thereby defrauding Jack Goldstein; but this morning a new complaint was introduced, charging Fisher with having obtained the money by false pretenses.

To this he pleaded guilty and the commissioner sentenced him to six months' imprisonment in the county jail.

An Expensive Trade.

The legal arguments on the motion of the defendant's attorney for arrest of judgment in the case of M. Drandolph, convicted on Monday afternoon on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses on the sale of a watch, continued before Commissioner Pratt this afternoon. The prosecution was represented by Assistant County Attorney Dan Harrington, and the defense by Attorney S. H. Lewis.

The court overruled the motion and fined the defendant $25 and costs, amounting altogether to about $40.

AMUSEMENTS.

HAVERLY'S, the new military play in which is introduced the battle of Gettysburg, the northern and southern troops being represented by the local militia, will first see the light tomorrow night at the Theater.

THE SCHOOLGIRLS of New York is the bill at the Theater Saturday and Monday evenings.

DON DIXON'S new running along more smoothly at the Grand. The features of the cast remain Phil Margetts, Mr. Sylvia, Miss Bateman and Miss Kingsley. It seems to resist the impression that Mr. Margetts would improve the part by indulging in a little "Dundreary" and by introducing it both as regards dress and tone. It may be the idea of the stage, or the close proximity of the audience to the players, but the part hardly seems to be played with the same breadth and unction that used to distinguish it as the hands of Mr. Margetts.

PROVO, UTAH, APRIL 5, 1893.

DEAD MAN FOUND.

His Body Discovered in the Canyon by a Little Boy.

Yesterday afternoon a little boy who was herding cows in Hobble Creek canyon, about three and a half miles east of Springville, discovered the body of a man in some brush in a ravine. He hurried to town and the officers accompanied him to the place where the body was lying. It is believed that the deceased was thrown from a horse or stumbled and fell from a cliffy place where he was found, as he had an ugly wound on his forehead. The body was supposed to have been broken through a hole. The position of the body in the brush also indicated that it had been violently thrown down. The face of the unfortunate man had been pecked out and he was otherwise mutilated by birds. It is thought he has been dead about a month. He was well dressed and wore a black Derby hat, a brown overcoat, black coat and vest and checked pants. Complete shoes and another in shackles. He is supposed to be about fifty years of age, and has a full beard streaked with gray.

The body was taken to Wheeler's undertaking establishment, where a verdict will be rendered in being held today.

DROPPED DEAD.

One of the First Settlers of Springville Suddenly Strikes Down.

Yesterday evening Mr. M. F. Crandall, of Springville, died suddenly while he was milking a cow. He came up his hands and knees in agonies and fell to the ground. A little boy ran to the house and informed the family. When they arrived on the scene Mr. Crandall gave a gasp and expired. Mr. Crandall was 68 years of age. He was one of the twelve men who first settled Springville and was well known throughout the Territory, having been largely engaged in railroad contracting. Yesterday he sowed two acres of grain and remarked to a neighbor that he would, hereafter, remain at home and take care of his little farm. Mr. Crandall leaves two wives and a number of children, most of grown up.

Notes and Personals.

In the First district court today, Jasper Davis, convicted of forging a deed to land on Provo bench, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. The case will be appealed.

A fire in a small house owned by Mr. Melcron, of the Fourth ward, and occupied by students, called out the fire department at about 2:30 o'clock this morning, but little damage was done. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

A. E. Ford and Eph Romer have been elected delegates to the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge, which meets in Salt Lake City on the 17th inst. Mr. Ford and T. H. Marsh are also delegates to the A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge which meets in Park City the 15th of May.

Norman Boan, of the Third ward, was bound over in $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of obtaining money with Katie Smith, of Lehi. The girl has given birth to twins, who died a short time after their birth.

The funeral services over the remains of Hieronimo Oguinaga were held in Saint Joseph church. She was the mother of Bishop Eli Oguinaga, of Utah county. The deceased was a native of Lorenzo, Spain. She would have been 89 years of age had she lived till May the next. She leaves four sons and three daughters, eight grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

EX-QUEEN LIL IN PRISON.

Singing and Dancing to While Away the Time.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 5.—A letter received from M. M. Winkler, an Indianapolis man, who is a member of the national guards, doing guard duty over ex-Queen Liliokalani, at Honolulu, says:

"The ex-queen is a prisoner up stairs over our barracks. She is allowed a walk all the time, and as her surroundings are all Hawaiian, they seem to enjoy themselves. The time is mostly passed in singing and dancing. This is the way the ex-queen is expected to pass the next five years."

Winkler says the islands are at present a poor place for capital seeking investments, as the opinion is general that another rebellion may break out any time. In this event, Winkler says, the Japanese will take a hand.

A Famous Man Murdered.

LOUISVILLE, April 5.—The Post from Morganfield, Ky., says Morganfield is in intense excitement over a murder, which occurred early this morning of Major A. J. Hamilton, the famous originator and executor of the Libby pillow scarfs in 1864. Rebel spectre has been attributed to the escapes of Detroit, who says Spencer Stubbs is at fault. Major Hamilton's name is famous throughout the country.

The escape of Major Hamilton and his associates from the famous rebel prison at Richmond, Va., is one of the most interesting episodes of the civil war. Major Hamilton was a member of the twelfth Kentucky cavalry and with him were Colonel Owen, James A. Jennison, of the Eighth cavalry and Lieutenant Jack Stokes, of the Twenty-fifth Kentucky infantry. They concerted the idea of tunneling out the old prison and with a few crude implements began the task. After digging fifty-five nights they were only eight feet, when from the upper floor they escaped. The officers named spent a fortnight on the edge of Canada in 1864. Many of those who escaped were recaptured.

Scarlet Fever Extremely Fatal.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Carrollton, Mo., says: When the jury came which was after the case of the State vs. Wm. H. and Geo. Taylor, for the murder of the Shown family, retired last night, it was announced they would not begin deliberation on a verdict this morning. Up to 2 o'clock the citizens who have come from the jury room to relieve him they stand. The fact that they came out yesterday and announce indicates that they are not at for conviction. There are only rumors in the street today and the town is full of men from Lexington and Waverly who believe the Taylors guilty and will, not quickly enough say other verdict.
