LOCAL BREVITIES.

BARNELL'S juvenile band will spend Friday, the 15th, at Garfield.

We regret to learn that Bishop F. Kesler of the Sixth ward is very sick.

THE Third Quorum of Elders will meet in the Eighth Ward meetinghouse tonight at 7:30.

THE striking printers consider that their case has been greatly strengthened by the Omaha who joined them on Saturday.

A SPECIAL train of Tabernacle word set to Lake Park yesterday to decide the question of that resort as to its fitness for holding the base of Mormonite there in August next.

PRIVATE JOHN QUINLAN, who was accidentally shot by "Johnny" O'Neil, a fellow soldier, at a house of questionable repute in the eastern part of the city, on Saturday morning, is slowly improving and it is said to be in a fair way to recovery.

A SUIT has been brought in the district court at Ogden by Thomas L. Walker against Sarah and Lorenzo Morris against the Union Pacific railroad company for $10,000 damages for the killing of Mrs. J. Morris of Rock Springs, Wyoming, in September, 1891. The complaint alleges that the deceased was standing on the platform of a car when the train was started without any warning and she was thrown to the ground and sustained such injuries that resulted in her death.

Logan Temple.

The Logan Temple will close for renovation and repairs on Friday evening, July 22nd and open again on Tuesday morning, August 23rd, 1892.

M. W. MCDONALD,
President.

At Calder's Park.

The members of the Eighth ward Sunday school will go to Calder's Park Tuesday; the Seventh ward Sunday school Wednesday; the Tenth ward Sunday school Thursday; the Thirteenth ward Friday. This resort is growing more popular, and to increase its popularity the management has reduced the admission to ten cents, and improvements in the grounds.

Amusement Notes.

The diamond ring on competition at Wonderland was drawn by No. 4903, and the holder of that number will receive the ring on presentation of the proper coupon.

GEORGE THATCHER'S "FUCKERO."

George Thatcher and his merry company of minstrels and farce-comedy performers come to the Theatre on Tuesday and Friday evenings, July 14th and 15th. This company of minstrelsy and farce comedy has proven a success, and so much has been heard regarding its original, novel and truly entertaining qualities that much interest has been awakened among theatre goers to see this new production.

WILD AMERICA LIFE SHOW.

Dr. Carver's original wild America life show is announced to be given on the new race track on Saturday next. A band of Sioux warriors, savages from Montana and Dakota, Mexican rough riders and similar curiosities are the attractions.

ENCOUNTER WITH A PRISONER.

Lewis, the Slayer of Eler, Breaks Loose in the County Jail.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Lewis, who killed Barney Eler at Sandy a few months back, played a fool and loose game within the walls of the county jail on Saturday afternoon. Since the tragedy the prisoner, it is said, has gone insane, and certainly his latest act would carry that conviction to the minds of those who heard of it. During "reading time" on Saturday Lewis broke the lock of his cell by hammering it with a hardwood board forming part of the furniture of the cell, and got into Jailer Burt's room. He attacked the jailer savagely, and it was not until a tremendous struggle had taken place—in which Sheriff Burt and Deputy Sheriff Lemon played an active part—that the man was overpowered. Several trusties came to the rescue and did good service.

Deputy Sheriff Lemon was badly bruised, and today is complaining of being very sore.

FOR CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS.

Julius Riley, of Provo, Will Institute Proceedings Against the Rapid Transit Company.

At ten minutes to nine o'clock today Brother William H. Brown departed this life. Brother Brown has been prominently before the people of this city and county for the last fifteen years.

At the time of his death he was the tax collector of Utah county. He had not enjoyed good health for several years past. About three years ago he had an attack of spinal meningitis, and never thoroughly recovered his health. For the last six months his health has been gradually failing, but he bravely remained at his post of duty until the last.

Yesterday (Sunday) he felt worse than usual and Dr. Pike was called and examined him till the time of his death.

Brother Brown passed peacefully away in the presence of his family, consisting of a wife and seven children. He was about forty-five years of age. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure.

Julius O'Riley, of this city, whose little son was killed by the Rapid Transit company's cars in Salt Lake City on the 14th of June, this year, will prosecute the company for criminal carelessness. Judge A. G. Smith is his attorney.

A DENTIST'S LITTLE BILL

For "Services" Rendered a Penitentiary Convict.

THE BERRIMAN DIVORCE CASE.

Judge Anderson Surrounded by Auctioneers, Crying "My Turn Next"—A Lady Lawyer.

Associate Justice Anderson sitt court this morning, and the pressure of business appeared for a time to be so considerable that his Honor expectorated to small difficulty in clearing the way. For nearly an hour attorneys after attorney pressed forward motion after motion, imploring the Judge to hear him, until at length the Court had to put its foot firmly down and declare that the only case he could actually promise to take up today was one in which the arguments had been partly heard. And then the discussions went their way, probably by looking with fond anticipation to the time when the judicial bench here will be numerically strengthened. The following cases came on:

DEFIANCE AND CONTEMPT.

Judge Powers applied to the court for permission to have brought down from the Penitentiary Malachi Dillon, who is serving a long term of imprisonment for manslaughter at Ogden. Counsel stated that the prisoner had been sued by a dentist named Carr for professional services rendered, and it was in order that he might appear and testify in his own behalf that the request was now made. Dillon was willing to pay any expenses incurred in bringing him down here.

Judge Anderson—Let the order be made.

It seems that Carr, the plaintiff, was up at the penitentiary doing certain work as a dentist, and Dillon, who has a bad lot of teeth, employed Carr to do something to them. He said that he was so cramped for two successive days, about three hours each time, and then sent Dillon a bill commencing $100. This was all such an unexpected bill to convict, who positively refused to pay, and so the dentist has taken proceedings against him to try and recover.

ATTACHED.

The divorce suit of Minnie Berryman vs. John Berryman was expected to have been called up in Judge Anderson's court this morning, and Judge Powers (who represents the defendant) asked his Honor if it could not be heard forthwith, as both sides were ready to proceed. A considerable expense a number of witnesses, he said, had been brought from Bingham several times, and the case had been standing on the docket for a long time.

Judge Judd—I have a case older, much older, than that, in which a considerable amount of money is involved. It has been set, set, and reset, and here it stands yet. (The case here referred to is by consent that of Wm. Calder vs. J. H. Morris et al.) It has been put off again and again for the last two or three months. I appeal to your honor to give me a hearing in that case.

Judge Anderson said it would be impossible to try the divorce suit today, and he doubted whether Judge Judd's case could be reached either, as the arguments in the sitting actions, already part heard, had to be resumed this morning. He advised Judge Powers and Mr. Rawlins (the plaintiff's counsel) to see Judge Zane and ascertain whether no could take the divorce suit up next Saturday, on which day the chief justice would again sit.

Counsel did so and presently returned stating that his Honor had consented to try the case on Saturday week. The docket for next Saturday was already more than filled.

Judge Judd said he would try his luck at a later period of today.

ONE AFTER ANOTHER.

Attorney after attorney hobbled serenely up and begged of his Honor to hear such and such a motion, but Judge Anderson said he really could not do so, as the deferred sitting resumed have precedence of anything else.

DEFENDANT ASK.

The sitting suits above referred to are those of the Italian Canyon Mining company vs. W. C. Hall and the Pluto Mining, Milling & Smelting company vs. the same defendant. The attorneys in the cases are Judge Judd and Miss Emma Lee on the one side and Arthur Brown on the other.

Miss Lee, who had been occupying a seat at the attorneys' table, on Judge Anderson's rising, asked "Please with the arguments, please, in this case," gathered up her papers, advanced to the front of the clerk's desk, and started in with her argument. She asked the Court to hear patiently with her, as she was her client's only protector in a business matter, and then went on to discuss the points at bar. She spoke without the least hesitation, had her facts well marshaled together, and must certainly be credited with having done well.

GENERAL ORDERS.

In the case of W. H. Beck vs. J. P. Nelson, the report of the referee was confirmed. The report set forth that the defendant's wife had property which ought to be applied on the judgment obtained against her husband.

George E. Eler vs. Elizbeth. In this case—a suit to quiet title—the parties sought to settle out of court.

In the "embarrassed" case of the People vs. the Salt Lake Brewing Co., on application of Attorney C. W. Hall, evidence was postponed until Saturday, July 23rd.

Unander vs. Connolly. The demurrer to the third amended complaint was sustained.

Davidson vs. Walker et al. This suit was dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

Martha Turner vs. the Union National Bank. By consent, C. W. Hall, special stakeholder, was allowed to intervene.

Carter vs. Hodgson et al. In this matter a new trial was granted, and the defendant Blanar (only) on application of Attorney Schlosser.

BAD BOYS.

There are two particularly bad boys by the Twenty-first ward, named Jimmy Clark and Bi Whitehead. They were arrested on Saturday night by Deputy Marshal Charles Goodwin on a charge of malicious mischief. The boys are cattle herders and their offense is alleged to have consisted in breaking down a portion of a fence belonging to Mr. Forbes and turning stock into the enclosure, which is in the vicinity of the graveyard, close to the Court of the Nineteenth. They appeared before Commissioner Greenman this morning for hearing.

John Lyman is a Danishman and so a rule he and his better half get along pretty well together. Saltlet Friday he seems to have taken a "bath" dog and the result was a quarrel, and it was that when he went home in the evening some words arose between the couple. It is alleged that Mrs. Lyman threw a bottle of boiling water at her husband, who then went and swore out a complaint against her. Deputy Marshal Charles Goodwin made the arrest. Commissioner Greenman has fixed the hearing of the case for tomorrow; but it is said to be very probable that before then Husband and wife will have kissed and made it up.

INTERESTING JUBILEE.

Sabbath School Reunions Held in the Junction City Yesterday.

Editor Deseret News:

This has been one of the most interesting days of the year to us in the Junction city. The sabbath school students of the Latter-day Saints in Ogden city held a grand reunion in the Tabernacle, superintendent R. Ballantyne presiding. On the stand, besides the superintendents, teachers and others, were Assistant General Superintendent Godard, and General Secretary John M. Whitaker, of Salt Lake City, Presidents C. F. Middleton and N. C. Flygare, of the Weber Stake, also members of the High Council of Weber Stake, Sabbath school superintendents, teachers and others. By ten o'clock the building was filled to its utmost capacity with students.

The exercises were opened by singing, "Merry, merry children sweetly sing." Prayer by Bishop E. Sequarie. The second then sang, "We are sowing daily sowing."

Superintendent Ballantyne addressed the opening address, he congratulated the assembly on the happy and auspicious occasion on which they had met. He made a few pertinent remarks on the great importance which attached to the Sabbath schools of the Latter-day Saints, and the manner in which the youth of Israel should approach and worship Him. He was thankful to see so many present, as it showed the great interest taken in Sunday school work.

A duet, "Hope beyond the shadow," was wisely rendered by members of the Ogden Sabbath school. This was followed by an interesting discourse by Elder W. F. Henninger on "The Object of the Sabbath Schools." Among many other things he said that the object of these institutions was to teach the young to revere the name of the Deity, to keep only the Sabbath day in repute, to help the unfortunate and to train them up in the fear of the Lord.

A quartette—"Gratitude"—was then sung by the Third ward school.

Elder George E. Eyre delivered a short but interesting and instructive discourse, in which he showed how sabbath schools can be graded. This should only be done generally, the speaker said, by organizing classes consisting of pupils as nearly as may be of the same age and ability, and by teaching them the subjects to study suitable to their capacities.

"We are waiting, earnest seekers, for the better teaching of our youth," he concluded, after which Elder John M. Whitaker delivered an earnest address on the harmonious influences of the exercises of the Sabbath school. He spoke of the elevating power of music, both vocal and instrumental, and power of these sacred institutions morally, intellectually and spiritually, to fill the responsibilities which they will be called upon to assume when other classes have passed away to another sphere of labor. He advised the young men and women to be diligent and earnest in acquiring knowledge on all useful subjects and especially a knowledge of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

"Hope of Israel" was sung by all the schools.

Assistant General Superintendent George Goddard next addressed the meeting. His subjects were the proper conduct at Sabbath schools, prayer, singing and teaching children, teaching instruction to the youth, and other matters pertaining to the government and progress of these excellent institutions. He concluded his address by singing "Dale's Best Creed." The schools then sang a selection, benediction was pronounced by President C. F. Middleton, and the morning services closed.

At 2 p. m. the Tabernacle was again crowded, and some persons could not obtain seats.

"Our Mountain Home so Dear" was the first hymn sung. Prayer was offered by President Flygare. "Hold, Accept Our True Devotion" was the succeeding musical exercise. After the Sacrament had been administered, Elder Joseph Horrocks delivered a lecture on "Discipline" to be observed in the Sabbath schools and other worshipping assemblies. He said the Sabbath school is where parents should work in behalf of their offspring. He dwelt on the whole annual concerts. Great was whole-ly during prayer and a powerful discussion in all school exercises and religious observances in any place of worship.

"What! what means those holy voices?" a mixed quartette, was sung by the Third ward.

"How to serve God aright" was the next topic which came up for discussion by Elder E. T. Woolley, but space will not admit of even a synopsis.

"How to Pray," a solo, was rendered in an effective style by Oscar Griffin.

Elder John H. Douglas delivered an instructive discourse on prayer and the duty of parents to take such schools, embodying many important items of moral instruction.

This was followed by singing "Hope of Israel," when President Flygare called upon some an address by Elder George Goddard, in which he reviewed the proceedings of the day, and concluded by the usual benediction. The schools treated on to the earnest consideration and deep study of the members of the sabbath schools. He also spoke of the "Book of Mormon charter," "Gospel" and exercised every family who could perhaps a copy to do so. He closed by singing "When in Death I Shall Resign."

Elder H. D. Wilson, W. C. T. U., of the United States, also addressed, and delivered the following address (reported verbatim by Elder J. M. Whitaker):

Dr. Burrows, Oculist, Aurist and Optician, Spectacles Fitted. Commercial Block.
