THERE was a shooting scrape in a Main Street gambling den on Saturday night. The shooting of Brown was against the timorous thinker, but when they arrived on the scene everything was calm, and the participants had fled. The shooting scrape is said to have been accidental, but one man had been brutally beaten.

The legal arguments in the case of Alex. Wood vs. Ira Rice Jr. Brothers were concluded before Judge Anderson on Saturday afternoon and the case doubtless will appear a sweeper, or else a bond of $20,000, to secure a stay under the direction of the court until May 1st, when the case will be tried upon its merits.

A CORONER'S inquest was in progress this afternoon over the remains of Gerrian Erickson, a domestic in the employ of T. R. Jones, the well known brewer of this city. The deceased died during the absence of the family between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. We know of no morning opportunity in the best of health. The result of the inquiry had not been announced at the time of our going to press.

YESTERDAY morning, about 3 o'clock, Mr. J. Stewart, of Benjamin, had his store and entire stock of goods, valued at $2,000, completely destroyed by fire. Mr. Stewart, who lives in the back part of the store, was awakened by his wife who smelt the smoke. It was with much difficulty that they rescued their own lives and the lives of their children. The insurance on the goods was announced in the issues. The insurance is reported as about $1000.—Provo Enquirer, March 19.

WEBER COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

An Enthusiastic Convention at Ogden.—Resolutions Adopted.

There was an enthusiastic meeting of Weber county Republicans at Ogden on Saturday afternoon. Stirring speeches were made and delegates appointed to attend the Republican Territorial convention to be held at Provo on April 1st next, at which time and place two delegates will be chosen to attend the Republican National convention to be held in Minneapolis, on the 7th of June.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we unqualifiedly endorse and approve the administration of President Harrison.

We congratulate the Republican party, and the nation at large, on the passage and successful operation of the Republican tariff, known as the McKinley bill, and especially on that provision it known as the reciprocity clause, which has so largely increased the markets open to the manufacturers, farmers and producers of our country and has already turned the balance of trade so largely in our favor.

We commend the administration of the state department for its dignified, patriotic and American treatment of the fishery question on the New England coast, upon the assertion of the rights of the American fishery, upon the successful and peaceful termination of the Chilean difficulty with our navy, without the use of the sword, and upon its firm bearing on the Bering sea controversy with Great Britain.

We are heartily in favor of the free coinage of American silver.

We commend our senator for his action with the tariff and recommend that no backward steps be taken. A proper protective system has been instrumental in the encouragement of the manufacture of sugar are of vital importance to the best interests of the Territory and that the course of our recent Democratic legislature in refusing to pass the best sugar bounty of Utah, merited and receives our hearty and unqualified condemnation.

Resolved, That in our opinion no public man who has been honored by the Republican party has a right to disorganize its machines and refuse to become its standard bearer. It is admitted by all that our present governor, secretary of state, James G. Blaine, is the strongest man who can be named by the National Republican Convention at Minneapolis as a candidate for President of the United States.

Resolved, That our delegates to the Republican Territorial Convention at Provo be instructed to use their influence to elect two delegates and two alternates to the National Republican Convention who will do all in their power to secure the nomination of James G. Blaine, and to use all efforts to endorse his secretary, Wm. B. Wharton.

W. R. WHITE,
H. H. RICHARDS,
W. O. CHECK,
MOSES GREEN.

Resulted Fatally.

The unfortunate man Gus Erickson who was injured by being thrown from a wagon while the team was running away on Twenty-fourth street at Ogden, Friday evening, died of his injuries on Saturday at the City Hospital, to which place he was removed from his residence about 11 o'clock in the morning. He was kept at Dr. Conroy's office through the night. Toward morning he became greatly delirious and did fearful battle in unconscious, in which condition he remained until he breathed his last. His remains were removed to Bishop Rice's undertaking parlors on south Washington to be prepared for burial.

An Interesting Celebration.

The Relief Society Jubilee celebration held in the Eleventh ward on Thursday evening last, the notice of which was inadvertently been delayed, was perhaps one of the largest and most enjoyable gatherings ever held in the ward meeting house. The services consisted of a short and interesting opening address by President Margaret D. McMaster, instructive and earnest remarks from Counselor Joseph E. Taylor, Bishop Robert Morris, and others, twenty-two testimonies and singing. About 10 o'clock a delicious repast, furnished by the Society, and served by a host of interesting young ladies, was enjoyed by the vast assembly. At 11:30 the exercises were brought to a close. The hall had been beautifully decorated, and over the stand hung the consecrated banner of the Society, presented by the general organization of Relief Society, Emma Smith, Eliza R. Snow Smith, and Zina D. Young; also that of the president of the Eleventh Ward Society, Margret D. McMaster. The report of the society had showed the society to be in an excellent condition and convinced at present that it wields an influence for good in the community.

Amusement Notes.

The closing engagement of Miss Gale on Saturday last was poorly attended, the weather being anything but agreeable. But those who came to the Theatre were well rewarded, a fact which they acknowledged by hearty and judicious applause. Miss Gale's Parthenia was exceedingly well acted and Mr. Creston Clarke's Ingomar gave good satisfaction.

"THE RIVALS."

This quaint, old comedy will be presented tomorrow evening at the Theatre by the Jefferson Davis Company. The engagement is for one night only, and it is probable that the Theatre will be crowded to its utmost capacity. Such brilliant candidates as those composing this company attract beaten guests in spite of weather and counter-attractions.

PIANO RECITAL.

The noted pianist Mrs. Crawford, will give a recital at the Metropolitan parlors tomorrow evening. She is a graduate of Leipzig Conservatory and is spoken of as one of the rare musical geniuses of the present.

Among the features of the entertainment to be given in the Fourteenth Ward assembly hall tomorrow night we notice a violin solo by Prof. W. C. Clive. Altogether a good programme has been prepared.

WONDERLAND.

The attendance at this place continues large. The "spiritualistic" performance of Dr. Wattles, are some of the most mysterious ever seen even in "Wonderland." The Black company are giving good satisfaction in the dissolution, where "Hoke" is presented.

SUNDAY LIQUOR SELLING.

The Saloons of This City Did a Wholesale Business Yesterday.

Why the law prohibiting the Sunday liquor traffic in this city is not enforced is a question that is now agitating no small portion of the community. Yesterday liquor was served over the bars of saloons in all parts of the city. The clink of beer glasses and rhetoric of drunken men could be heard far into the streets.

Not only were entrances made to the thirsty and noisy throng who frequented these places, but in many instances front doors swing back and forth on their hinges as they do upon other days of the week.

Policemen paced heedlessly up and down their beats. Occasionally a highly intoxicated individual would emerge from a drive and be taken in tow, but under such circumstances only, and up to midnight only eight drunks were registered at the City Hall. An official of the department informed the writer today that every saloon in the city was open yesterday excepting the one belonging to Auer & Sperling.

When asked why this palpable and disgraceful violation of the city ordinances was allowed, he replied realistically, "It takes money to bring the least you know about the latter."

EVAN STEPHENS, conductor.
JOS. J. DAYNES, accompanist.

Assembly Hall Lecture.

On Sunday evening the Assembly Hall was crowded with people anxious to hear Mr. C. A. Hall, President of the "Church of Christ," commonly called "Hedrickites," who have their headquarters at Independence, Missouri, and hold possession of the land in question, which is known as the Temple Block. His subject was the consideration of the claims of Joseph Smith, the head of the re-organized Church, as the successor of his father and prophet, seer and revelator of the Church, Mr. Hall occupied about an hour in a calm and dispassionate review of those claims, and showed they were without foundation in fact or in the revelations by the Jefferson Davis Company. The engagement is for one night only, and it is probable that the Theatre will be crowded to its utmost capacity. Such brilliant candidates as those composing this company attract beaten guests in spite of weather and counter-attractions.

High Council.

The High Council of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will convene on Wednesday, March 23rd, 1892, at 7:30 p. m. Members of the council and all others interested in the meeting are respectfully requested to take notice of this.

JAMES D. STORRING,
Clerk of Council.

Probate Court.

The following cases were made by Judge Barlow today:

Estate of W. W. Piper, deceased; order made fixing April 2 to hear return of sale of real estate.

Estate of Andrew Miner, deceased; hearing on petition for order to sell real estate came on regularly. Hilda Beere administratrix. Proof of petition granted on filing additional bond of $2000. Order made for sale of real estate. Barlow Ferguson appointed attorney for minor heirs.

A Pickpocket Nabbed.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Lucy E. Debenham, a young lady, who resides at 341 East Fifth south street, had her pocket picked near the clock corner on Main street. She detected the thief and called upon ex-Secretary Gillespie, of the Chamber of Commerce, who was near by at the time, to catch him. That gentleman started in pursuit of the offender and apprehended him near Gotham's corner. When asked to disgorge he did so without uttering a word. He was turned over to Sergeant Brown, who took him before Judge Orr, where he plead not guilty. The case was set down for hearing at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

CONCERNING A GREAT SOLDIER.

How General Sherman Took Leonard to Task.

General Benjamin Harrison, who will be known in the army as an officer and an accomplished practical soldier, has not a military leg to his efforts that the standard of valour for the army was raised as high as it is. In telling how he learned to look to and that when he was a young man he was thrown into contact with a number of Frenchmen sufficiently intimate to establish a friendship with an old French gentleman who had fled from San Domingo at the risk of his life, leaving his relatives and setting almost penniless in a little cottage near Fredericksburg. Valuable assistance was given the young man by the gentleman, and he, in turn, dispensed his hospitality with the dignity of a king. From this old gentleman General Scott said he learned both courtesy and tact.

How to Ask a Favor.

When one makes a call on the friendship of another he is requesting a certain amount of social capital, the amount being measured by the good nature of the person of whom the favor is asked, the degree of friendship between the two persons interested and the reasonableness of the request. It is always best to ask as few favors as possible. When it must be done, however, the request should be preferred with such modesty that it has no chance of sound rebuff. Favors should be asked as a matter of right. Then, again, the form of the request should be so framed that the other party will feel at liberty to do the without embarrassment either to himself or the one asking the favor. Such formula should be used as will cause the person asked to feel that it is both for the interest of Pulaski:

Before a favor is asked a favor be,
For one of less birth feel and think
And becoming shifts the sign of humanity.

How to Raise Your Hat.

They do this thing better in France but they also rather overdo it. The proper thing to do is to raise the hat above the head, not merely touching it, but forward as the head inclines. Men can also take the hat below the head and bow slightly over it, but the first is the more general solution. Merely to remove the head without bowing is considered military in its method, but it does not appear to convey the same degree of respect. To merely touch the hat is not much better than a simple nod, and to pick the hat down to the waist is a line parallel with the body is not good form. To incline a hat which whenever a young man's temper threatens leads him to each mortal sin. It is needless to say that a proper salutation should always be said. Indeed, it should be so well learned that it comes so quickly as to appear to be only a grin, nor depart so soon as it were to have been summoned by an effort.

How to Hang Up Trousers.

The best way is not to hang them up. Fold them flat and lay them down. If there is no place for them to lie down, hang them up by the waistband, and put the front part of the band on one side and the middle of the back to another at the same height, so that the garment will hang flat.

How to Trim Trees.

It requires knowledge and courage to trim trees properly. The lack of these qualities has spoiled more a fine grove than all other causes combined. Some trees being what they should. In the first place it must be borne in mind that a tree is to room in which to grow, and that if branches are suffered to grow too near the ground the sap from the tree will kill all the vegetation under its boughs. Don't be afraid, therefore, to cut down trees which crowd over the sidewalks, and do not be afraid to cut off the lower branches of a tree to be improved. So that all the limbs can get sun and air they should be carefully thinned out and those branches which crowd over and cross others to the injury of the symmetry of the tree are those which should be lopped off.

A bear whose head weighed fifty-three pounds and whose hide was nine feet long, was recently captured by two Hale doctors by means of a piece of pork saturated with chloroform and sugar.

A new sweet is said to have made a discovery by which he refines milk to a very powder in such a manner that by the addition of water it at once assumes all its natural properties.

The mill is a total wreck. The loss is $10,000.

The British Fund Debate.

BERLIN, March 21.—The debate on the bill pensioning the sequestration agent in the Prussian chamber of deputies upon the property of the late King George of Hanover commonly known as the Guelph fund bill, was opened in the lower house of the Prussian diet. The only minister present was Dr. Miquel of the finance. Richter moved to adjourn the debate on the ground of the uncertain crisis. Miquel opposed the motion, declaring that the ministers continued to discuss as long as not disposed to the crisis. Miquel opposed the motion, declaring that the ministers continued in duties as long as not dismissed. He also pointed out the fact that his minister of agriculture, was present. The motion was defeated.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Oil Trust decided to dissolve the trust and that all property held by the trust except the stocks of the corporations be sold by trustees at private sale. The stocks were taken only at par $1, and engaged as to prices. Sugar, however, employed at par, which is not indicated strength, rose to 92, a gain of 1½ from the opening.

A Queer Creature Dead.

Mason Evans, the much paragraphed "wild man" of Monroe county, is dead. The feral grip took him off. Evans had been a great curiosity in this section for more than forty years, during which time he had roamed in the woods, hiding from the comforts of civilization, subsisting on roots and berries dug from the earth, with an occasional fowl surreptitiously taken from some unwatched barnyard. He was captured several times but always managed to escape. Seven or eight years ago he was captured by some fearless fellow with an enterprising idea of hitching the purpose of entering him in a dime museum as the "Wild man of Borneo."

When taken his body was as hairy as that of a bear and covered with filth and vermin. He was pleasant like the eye of a weasel and he had almost lost the power of speech. For twenty years he had not spoken a word to his fellow mountaineers, and was never known to have spoken a word during that time. He lived in a state of nudity, and was fond of raw meat.

Those who knew his history say that he was born in Monroe county, near Hiwassee college, in 1817 or thereabout. He was of a good family and received a splendid education. At about twenty years of age he was engaged in teaching school, and in the meantime fell in love with a handsome young lady of his neighborhood. She received his attentions with apparent favor. One night he called and asked her to become his wife. She said "No." He went out into the darkness and it was many years before he was seen again, and then he fled from his fellow men like a frightened deer.—Cor. Chattanooga Times.

Literally Death by Inches.

A Los Angeles physician told us the other day that the most trying time in all his experience was during the past five weeks, when he stood hopelessly by and saw a poor ranchman near Pinole die by inches of what is known as progressive paralysis. The patient was first affected in one big toe. In a short time the limb was paralyzed to the knee. Two physicians were called, and all the known remedies were applied to stay the progress of the deadly attack, but in vain. Bone by bone death moved on its victim. The patient was propped up in an armchair and fully realized his condition. He awaited the end with the resolute and bravery of a martyr.

As the line of death crept, now and nearer his heart he made calculations as to how much longer he could live. He said, "Now it has reached the body," indicating the exact place with his finger. A few days later he said, "It has reached the bottom of my lungs." Another short wait and he said faintly, "It has touched my heart," and he fell over dead.—Pomona Express.

STAMMERING CURED.

Prominent Citizens of Salt Lake Endorse Prof. DeMont's Method.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 14th, 1892.

Mr. DeMont has explained to us his method of correcting impediments of speech, and in our presence demonstrated its efficacy in the cure of a pupil who stammered badly. From what we have learned of Mr. DeMont's system of cure, and his remarkable success in the case mentioned, we are confident that any person with the slight losses or stutters can be cured under his care and instruction.

JOS. S. RICHARDS, M. D.
CHAS. F. WILCOX, M. D.
SALT LAKE CITY,
March 19th, 1892.

Mr. DeMont has permitted me to watch the progress of his treatment of stammering in one of one of the worst victims of that misfortune that I have ever seen. I could hesitate to say that I have never seen a better illustration of successful treatment. Such explanation as I have been given of Mr. DeMont's method shows it to be simple, natural and based on careful Psychological study. I am heartily glad he has to remain in this community for a time engaged in this work of relieving a condition which must seriously interfere with the happiness and success of those whom it afflicts.

MONEY FOR LAND.

MANY PERSONS WISH TO SELL THEIR Homestead Rights. If you find a willing purchaser, the title to the claim is not perfected owing to the period not having been elapsed from the persons entry to six or a great many cases that the person who made the entry is not in such a case, which cannot always be done. Why not let me get your cases through now and send you the papers as soon as ready? Most anyone has enough at the close of their entry, and the address where you want me to send the papers. I will attend to it promptly for you. Address: CHAS. W. GAYNER, Attorney at Law, Box 424, Washington, D. C.
