CHANGES FOR THE NATIONAL GAME.

Efforts Will Probably be Made This Winter to Restrict The Pitcher.

BATSMEN HAVE SOME TROUBLE.

Umpire Emslie Suggests More Rubber in Baseballs to Overcome Difficulty —Thinks He Has Right Scheme.

Recently we published a story to the effect that some radical changes were due to take place in the national game this winter, when the powers that be get together to discuss the matter. As before stated, there is a growing feeling in baseball circles, all over the country, that the pitcher has entirely too much advantage over the batters. It has been said that the game is becoming too mechanical, etc., etc.

That something should be done before next season rolls around, to assist the batters and render the pitcher less effective, is admitted in baseball circles everywhere. In fact, officials all over the National and American leagues circuits have been discussing the subject.

In the rules governing the game this year it has been demonstrated that the batsmen have been too much hampered while things have been too nicely arranged for the man at the shooting end of the battery.

The foul strike rule has been blamed and defended, and seems to be destined to remain in force, if the National league advocates have their way. Every little detail that boosts up the pitchers' showing has been discussed, and though condemned by some, there seems to be enough in favor of the objectionable things to support them.

The latest thing to be given thought is the manufacture of the ball itself, and discussion has brought out the question: Is the ball in use today not so greatly inferior to that of several years ago that it is tricking the batsman and shrinking his batting average to the delight of various pitchers?

"That is the truth," says Bob Emslie, the dean of President Pulliam's umpirical staff, who has observed the conditions closely. "The ball now used needs a little more rubber in it," declared Emslie, "and until its defect is remedied, the batsmen will have a kick coming. The best hitters are still swatting the sphere as of yore, but it refuses to travel as far.

"A good whack in the right place is bound to be as effective as it ever was, if the ball is the same.

"Though the pitcher has been helped a great deal by the existing rules, he has been aided still more by the difference in the make of balls, to my mind, and that's a thing that should be remedied, if it is desired to increase the batting.

"And the people seem to want just a bit more of that feature of baseball. They all hail the coming of a heavy hitter with delight, and the club owners are falling over themselves to sign the best stickers. A little more hammering of the leather would be refreshing to the fans."

BOSTON WINS PENNANT.

Runs Ahead of New York in the Final Sprint.

Boston	94	58	.621
New York	93	58	.618
Chicago	89	65	.579
Cleveland	86	65	.570

St. Louis	65	87	.427
Detroit	62	90	.408
Washington	37	114	.245

New York, Oct. 10.—Boston vanquished New York on the baseball field here today, winning the American league championship pennant for the second time. It was a sensational finish to a thrilling struggle, which has been going on for several months, and though Boston won, the New York representatives were not disgraced. In fact, they almost shared the honor with the victors. During the last two months these teams have been see-sawing in the lead for championship fame, and the fact that the issue narrowed down to the outcome of today's double-header on the Washington Heights grounds, demonstrates how close the battle was. In order to win the pennant Griffith's New Yorks required two victories today, while Boston needed only one. At the end of the fifth inning the local men seemed to have the first game well in hand, as they had scored two runs.

In the seventh inning a bad throw by Williams to the plate allowed La Chance and Ferris to cross the plate and tie the score for Boston. Each side being equal, things went smoothly until the first half of the ninth inning, when Criger reached first safely on an infield hit. Dineen advanced him to second by a sacrifice, and Chesbro, at this critical stage, made a wild pitch, the ball hitting the press stand while Criger was running in with the wining run. New York failed to offset the advantage which Boston had gained, and the game and the pennant went to the New England team by a score of 3 to 2.

Over 25,000 persons were within the enclosure when the victory was won. The scene which ensued will not be forgotten easily by any one of those who were present.

Puttman and Winter were the opposing pitchers in the final game, which went the full nine innings without a run being scored. A wild throw by La Chance gave Conroy the looked-for opportunity to tally in the tenth ining. Attendance, 25,600. Scores:

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Boston	3	9	0
New York	2	6	2

Batteries—Dineen and Criger; Chesbro and Kleinow.

Second game—	R.	H.	E
Boston	0	4	1
New York	1	4	1

Batteries—Winter and Doran; Puttmann and McGuire.

LONG, SPIRITED FIGHT.

American League Season Has Been Successful, Says Johnson.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—With the closing of the playing season in the American league today ended one of the most spirited fights in the history of the game for the championship of the league. For over a month Boston, last year's champion, and New York and Chicago, have been fighting for first place with only a few points separating the mat any time during that period. In the final test, however, Boston came off victorious and won the pennant, finishing eight points ahead of New York, Boston's nearest opponent. Boston finished the season with a percentage of .617 and New York with .609. Chicago secures third position, 31 points behind New York. Then comes Cleveland with but 8 points less than Chicago. Philadelphia is fifth with a percentage of .536. Then comes St. Louis with a standing of .428; Detroit, .408, and Washington last with a standing of but .252.

Bann Johnson, president of the American league tonight declare dthat this season, from a financial standpoint, had been the best in the history of the league.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The season closed in this city today with a double-header between Washington and Philadelphia. The second game was caled at the end of four and a half innings by agreement. Attendance, 2,000. Score:

Philadelphia	5	7	2

SCIENCE SETTLES IT.

Dandruff is Caused by a Germ That Saps the Hair's Vitality.

It is now a settled fact that dandruff is caused by a germ. Falling hair and baldness are the result of dandruff. Dr. E. J. Beardsley, of Champaign, Ill., got hold of the new hair preparation, Newbro's Herpicide—the only one that kills the dandruff germ. He says: "I used Herpicide for my dandruff and falling hair, and am well satisfied with the result." Dr. J. T. Fugate, of Urbana, Ill., says: "I have used Herpicide for dandruff with excellent results. I shall prescribe it in my practice." Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Physicians as well as the general public say so. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Z. C. M. I. Drug Co., Special Agents. 88

ATHLETIC MIX-UP.

Western Colleges and Clubs and Make Charges Against Opponents.

A dispatch from Chicago says: Not in many years has there been an athletic upheaval of the magnitude that at present exists in the college and athletic club circles of the middle west. Charges and counter charges of professionalism, bribery and similar acts are rife both in the universities and leading amateur athletic circles. The collegiate football season and the rivalry developed in the struggle for Olympic honors seems responsible for the alleged breaches of amateur status. Following closely after the Olympic championship meet at the world's fair stadium in St. Louis come reports that the standing of the Milwaukee A. C. team—particularly the tug-of-war combination—was under suspicion. An investigation led to the statement by prominent athletic authorities that the Milwaukee A. C. tug-of-war team was lifted bodily from the Chicago Columbian Knights A. A. and that the team had no connection with the Milwaukee A. C. until a few days before the Olympic meet. E. R. Baker, trainer of the Milwaukee A. C., is quoted as saying that the tug-of-war team was from the Columbian Knights A. A. and that the facts were known to the officers of the club, which includes the president of the A. A. U. Others charges of favoritism were also made, and the Milwaukee A. C., the Chicago A. C., and several eastern clubs are all charged with wire pulling in an attempt to secure special favors and places in the competition. A full investigation of the charges are to be made, and should it develop that the same are correct there will be a shift in the order of the standing of the athletic club teams as they finished at St. Louis.

The situation among the colleges is not much better. Veiled charges against the University of Michigan are made by Chicago university graduates and one member of the Maroon track team openly charges that inducements were made to him to leave Chicago for Michigan. The status of Ralph Rose is also the subject of controversy and it is said that he is authority for the statement that he receives free board and tuition in addition to an allowance of $5 per week as spending money. The charges are denied at Ann Arbor, but bad feeling has been engendered during the summer by the efforts of the alumni of the two big universities to secure prominent scholastic athletic stars for their respective colleges and a break is predicted in some quarters between the two colleges. The section is also up in arms over what is termed the "eastern invasion." Several colleges in the east have had graduates here during the past summer and their efforts have been rewarded by a number of prominent schoolboy athletes deciding at the last minute to take up their collegiate courses in the east. Princeton has been particularly fortunate in this respect, and at least five athletes of caliber will wear the Orange and Black next spring in track meets. But the scholastic stars are not the only ones sought. One of the latest defections is that of Robert Maxwell, the University of Chicago football player and shot putter. He announced yesterday that he would leave for an eastern college in a few days and finish his course there. Maxwell has been dissatisfied for some time with certain conditions existing at Chicago, and the present move has long been under consideration. Friday he had a long conference with the representative of an eastern college, and yesterday morning he made the decision which will probably take him from the western gridiron. Which college he will enter he refused to say, but it is thought from the recent exolus of western athletes that he will be numbered among the student body of Princeton or Yale. Though he will be barred from competing this season owing to the eligibility rules, he still has two years of football and track work ahead of him.

Dillon Breaks a Record.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct., 10.—Lou Dillon, the world's champion trotting mare, owned by C. W. G. Billings, broke all workout records for trotting horses today by circling the course at the Memphis Driving park in 2:01½. Millard Saunders, her trainer, drove the mare. She was paced by a runner driven by Doc Tanner. The fractional time was: Quarter, :30, half, 1:00; three-quarters, 1:29¾; mile, 2:01½.

The former workout record of 2:02 was held by Lou Dillon, and was established at Cleveland, Sept. 28 of this year. No wind shield was used.

"PENNY" GOSSIP.

We haven't heard a word about Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson for nearly a week. What can be the matter with the coast sporting writers?

The footballists have been working pretty hard of late, up at the university, and if they keep it up the result will be a good, fast eleven.

An effort is being made among the National Guard boys to organize an indoor baseball league for the coming winter. If no outside teams can be induced to join, the league will be formed among "the boys."

Some of the Eureka athletes are talking about organizing a basketball team this winter and competing for the state championship. They think if they were able to win the amateur baseball championship, they can do as well in the field of bastketball. This sport seems to be a little backward this year.

Hardy Downing has returned from his home in San Jose, Cal., where he went at the close of the bicycle racing season here. He will remain here for several days, but will go to New York in time for the six days race at Madison Square Garden. He will be accompanied by some of the local riders.

The Butte News says: Spokane fight fans have taken a liking to Jerry McCarthy who meets Burrows in that town on the 14th inst. They have been particularly impressed by Jerry's athletic appearance and the cleanliness of his conduct and living—also by his recently issued statement that he will meet any welterweight in the world, and is out for championship honors.

John L. Sullivan, who is at present in St. Louis, has been made the matchmaker of a new boxing club in that city, which will be opened in a week or ten days. Sullivan and the other officials of the club have leased the Jai-Ali building at the world's fair, which was formerly used for the purpose of exhibiting Spanish art pictures. The building cost over $200,000, and is very large.

Sullivan wanted Jack McClelland to fight Benny Yanger at the opening show on next Monday night, but McClelland had to decline the offer, as he is booked to fight on that night. Sullivan is trying to secure Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, and Gus Ruhlin to box a twenty-round bout at his club within four weeks.

FOOTBALL GAME NEXT SATURDAY.

University of Montana Plays University of Utah—Great Fight Expected.

LOCALS SHOULD WORK HARD.

If They Expect to Mske a Showing They Must Throw Off Spirit of Unaggressive Listlessness.

Saturday a game is scheduled between the 'Varsity eleven and a picked team from the University of Montana, and just now when the university men ought to be making the fight of their lives to retrieve themselves from the ragged showing made at the last game, a spirit of unaggressive listlessness is filling the squad and the student body at large. A radical change has to be affected in the football spirit of the university before 'Varsity standards can be reached in the game. At this critical period in the season's work a large part of the squad has quit, which is as unsportmanlike an action as university men could be guilty of. Some of the players found they had no chance of making the 'Varsity eleven, and did not feel that it was necessary to play on a second eleven. Yet in every college where football is developed to the point of winning games, it is a hard playing second team that brings out the victory. A man hardly dares dream of making the 'Varsity until his junior year, and until that time he is mighty well pleased with a place on the second eleven, or even on the scrub team below that. Football men cannot be developed in a year's work, and at the university the action of her second team men in quitting the field, when they might be working hard to get into the harnes for next year, is a serious blow to Utah's chances of having a well balanced team next year that can play ball Utah rooters need not be ashamed of. In many universities popular sentiment would mass itself against men who needlessly quit the squad, and force them to their work, but at the university there seems to be dearth of responsibility on the part of the students at large for the condition of the team. They don't know how to support it, by trained rooting and frequent visits to the field during practise, and the passing of a "social chill" to anyone who engages in unsportsmanlike conduct such as was indulged in during the last game by a Utah player.

Few friends of the university and of the team are sanguine of their having a set players this season that will do good work, and they do not take kindly to having their hopes shattered for next year by seeing so many of the squad quit the field. One of the coaching boerd said today "ordinarily, a football man on the 'Varsity team has played four years on a high school team, and three years on his 'Varsity squad, as a scrub and second eleven man, and it is rather surprising to say the least, to see a green man quit in the middle of his first season's training just because he cannot see a place on the 'Varsity immediately ahead. People who do that are far removed from a comprehension of football, and unless there is a change in spirit I see little hope for a winning team. Coach Maddock is an excellent coach and every man with any physique whatever ought to be out on the field getting the benefit of his training."

The team which the 'Varsity meets Saturday is in fairly good training, and a lively game ought to occur.

TOURISTS VISIT TOWER.

Register of Visitors Contains Many Interesting Signatures.

In the course of a few years the register of visitors to the tower of the city and county building, which was started by Custodian C. V. Anderson on Jan. 25, 1904, will be a decidedly interesting document. It already contains 2,070 names of people from all parts of the United States and also from 11 foreign countries who have visited the tower since the above date. During the time the register has been in use visitors from 44 states in the Union have signed their names in it and it is probable that the remainder of the states will be represented before the year is ended. The book contains the names of many persons of prominence both in the United States and in foreign countries.

Perhaps the largest number of visitors to the tower in one day is 60. That record was established last Saturday. Following is a list of the states and territories represented on the register up to last evening: Utah, Idaho, Montana, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Georgia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Colorado, Minnesota, Washington, Illinois, New York, Nevada Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, Wyoming, Ohio, Nebraska, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Kansas, Wisconsin, California Florida, Michigan, Maine, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Oregon, Indian Territory, Tennessee, Alabama, Indiana, Arizona, Connecticut, Alaska, Texas and Rhode Island.

The foreign countries represented are Canada, England, Australia, Mexico, Japan, Germany, Ireland, Sweden, France, Scotland and Holland.

MOTHER-IN-LAW BEATEN.

Frank Dagenhart Sentenced to 100 Days in Jail.

Frank Dagenhart, charged with assaulting and beating his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary J. Stringham, was given a trial in Judge Diehl's court late yesterday afternoon. He was found guilty and sentenced to 100 days in the city jail.

According to the testimony, Dagenhart ejected Mrs. Stringham from the premises they had been occupying, 24 Aberdeen avenue, last Friday, and in doing so knocked her down and kicked her. Mrs. Stringham is 64 years of age. They had had some trouble over the ownership of the property, and when Mrs. Stringham returned home Friday, she was assaulted by Dagenhart.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

Scheme to Teach Children Who Have To Work Daily.

At 7 o'clock tomorrow evening a night school will open in the basement of the First Congregational church. It will admit only children who are so situated that they cannot attend the ordinary day schools—children who are being deprived of their education because they have parents dependent upon them for support, or must earn their own way through life.

The decision to open the school was arrived at last night at a meeting in the Congregational church parlors, presided over by Rev. Elmer I. Goshen, and attended by a group of men and women interested in the project. About thirty teachers have volunteered their services without compensation for the school, many of them prominent in the city school system. The course of instruction will include the eight grades of the common school, giving attention largely to the more important branches, such as reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, geography, and history. Sessions will be held five nights of each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The entire teaching force will assemble for the opening tomorrow night.

I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first aplication gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Saponifier.

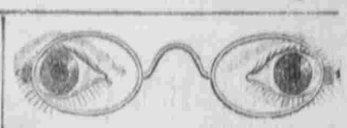
Pennsylvania Saponifier is the original and old reliable Concentrated Lye for family soap making and general household uses. Beware of counterfeits. The success of this article has induced unprincipled parties to imitate it. None genuine unless Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co., Philadelphia, is stamped on the lid.

Ask your grocer for it and take no other.



An occulist may furnish the proper lens, but an inexperienced dealer in frames may ruin the merit of the lens by not properly fitting them. We test the eye, grind the lens and fit the frame and guarantee the work.
