becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable dispositions of His providence in the cause and conclusion of the great war for the great degree of tranquility, union and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and orderly manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now likely to continue for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have for acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general for all the great and various favors with which He has been pleased to confer upon us, and we pray that we may long continue to enjoy the offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and ruler of nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or in private station, to perform our several and relative duties properly and conscientiously in regard to our national government; to blessing to the people by constantly giving a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, directly and impartially executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us) and to bless them with good governments, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand in the city of New York, the 3rd day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Other days of thanksgiving were held; but it is said the first President of a wide-spread nation desiring a proclamation locally supplementing that of the President was that of Governor Bissell, of Illinois, in 1856. This has been a common custom, however, since the issue, in 1863, of the following proclamation by President Abraham Lincoln, which practically instituted the regular annual Thanksgiving Day:

The year that is drawing to its close has been filled with blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are of an extraordinary nature that they cannot fail to preserve and soften even the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever watchful providence of Almighty God in the midst of a civil war of unprecedented magnitude and severity, which has sometimes seemed to invite and provoke the aggressions of foreign states, peace has been preserved with all nations, order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and obeyed, and harmony has prevailed everywhere except in the theater of military conflict, while that theater has been greatly contracted by the withdrawing armies and navies of the Union. The needful divisions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to the national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle or the ship. The ax has scarcely paused in the midst of our estimate, and the mines as well of iron and of coal as of the precious metals, have yielded even more abundantly than heretofore. The population has steadily increased, notwithstanding the waste that has been made by the casualties of the sword and field, and the country, relieving in the consciousness of augmented strength and vigor, is permitted to expect the continuance of years with unimpaired favor of freedom. No human counsel hath devised nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the most high God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and voice by the whole American people. And I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States, and also those who are at sea and those who are sojourning in foreign lands, to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to our benefactor who dwelleth in the heavens, and I recommend to them that while offering up the sacrifice of praise to Him for such singular deliverances and blessings, they do also, with humble penitence for our national perverseness and disobedience, commend to His tender care all those who have become widows, orphans, mourners or sufferers in the lamentable civil strife in which we are unavoidably engaged, and fervently implore the immediate intervention of the Almighty hand to heal the wounds of the nation, and to restore it as soon as may be consistent with the divine purposes to the full enjoyment of peace, harmony, tranquility and union.

In testimony whereof, etc.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

THE CONGRESS FOR SALT LAKE.

Can Secure the Great Transmississippi Organization for Next Year.

The following telegram was received by Mayor-elect Glendinning from Hon. George Q. Cannon, president of the Transmississippi congress:

James Glendinning, Mayor:

Members Transmississippi congress desire next meeting in Salt Lake. What say citizens? Expense between one and two thousand dollars. Answer early morning.

GEORGE Q. CANNON.

Omaha, Nov. 26, 1895.

To Mr. Cannon's telegram Mr. Glendinning promptly responded as follows:

Hon. George Q. Cannon, Transmississippi Congress, Omaha, Neb.:

Time too short for definite answer. Think necessity of holding it here. Hurriedly conclude that I can assume responsibility for raising one thousand or more. Your judgment equally good as better than mine. Will join you heartily in any decision you make. J. G.

AGONIZING DEATH.

Mrs. Page, A Willing and Unfortunate Victim of Malpractice,

PASSED AWAY THIS AFTERNOON.

Warrant Said to be Out for the Arrest of "Dr." J. H. Carrington of Brigham City.

Mrs. Ida Page, married woman of some thirty years, died this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at a private residence on Second West street, after an agonizing illness of several weeks, concealed by the willing—and it is said sought for—admission to a case of criminal malpractice.

The deceased, it is claimed, came to Salt Lake with her husband from Delamar, Nevada, sometime in October last, and contrary to the wish and knowledge of the latter underwent an operation at the hands of "Dr." J. H. Carrington, of Brigham City, with a view to evading the responsibilities of motherhood. To briefly state the facts, the operation seems to have been as laughing as it was criminal. Blood poisoning setting in. The unfortunate and foolish woman suffered great agony and finally yielded up her life as a forfeit. She leaves, besides her husband, two little children, girl respectively 2 and 5 years.

The case of bringing the transgressing doctor to justice is now in the hands of the United States district attorney and marshal, and his arrest and prosecution is anticipated at an early date.

HEARING ARGUMENTS.

No Counting has been Done Today by the Canvassers.

The day with the Utah Commission and canvassing board has been spent in listening to arguments as to the discrepancies which appear in some of the recent election returns. The Republicans hope to gain a few more members of the Legislature and are urging their cases before the canvassers with that point in view. Utah county has been the theme of discussion today and when that bone of contention has been picked, others will drop in and have their say as to who they think is really elected in their respective counties. A good portion of the State returns were gone over yesterday by the Commission and the canvassing board went over the returns of Logan and other counties, Utah taken and Box Elder counties. CRIMINAL COURT.

McDonald's Case Given to the Jury at 11:15 Today.

THE BENEE CASE TAKES UP.

Needs of Rev. Dr. Sabey Furnished This Morning. Neither Defendant Nor Residence in Court.

At the close of the News report last evening in the McDonald case, Judge Hawes addressed the jury for the prosecution, and was followed by Attorney D. N. Straup and Judge G. W. Powers for the defense. During the latter's argument the court adjourned until this morning.

Immediately upon the opening of court today Chief Justice Merritt ordered the McDonald case to proceed, and Judge Powers resumed his argument in behalf of McDonald, sitting to the jury that, in consequence of "infirmities of the flesh," he was afraid he would not be able to present this case as he would like, nevertheless he presented a very vigorous argument to show that the prisoner was innocent of the charge preferred against him, occupying about forty minutes.

The closing argument was made by Prosecuting Attorney Hawes in about thirty-five minutes, showing that the defendant was sent up without authority to arresting Mr. Sakerson, having no warrant therefor, and having no right to make a bargain with Mrs. Sakerson to go and do wanting for his (McDonald's) wife to pay for the damage done by Mrs. Sakerson's cow in Mr. Smith's property, and now that the shooting, according to the testimony, was done with intent to kill Mr. Sakerson.

Chief Justice Merritt then charged the jury, who at 11:15 were conducted to their room and placed in charge of a bailiff.

THE NANNY CASE.

Rev. Sabey with his handsaw were called and not neither answered, and his bonds were forfeited.

BENEE ON TRIAL.

The case of the People vs. Wm. Benee, charged with assault with intent to murder one Chas. D. Smith with a revolver, was taken up and the following jurors called and accepted to try the case:

T. F. Rolapke, Milton Barrett, James Anderson, W. C. Urquhart, Calvin Rosser, Joseph Willey, John R. Edwards, T. Fowler, E. R. Holmes, Samuel Reiker, Isaac F. Shaw, James O'Rourke.

Judge J. W. Judd prosecuted and Attorney John M. Zane defended.

Chas. D. Smith was the first witness called by the prosecution. Resides in Salt Lake City. On the 20th of August, this year, he went out to get the irrigating water on his lot, when Benee called to him to leave the water alone in the ditch, also using some opprobrious language and threatening to put the witness in the ditch, as soon as he, Benee, got well. Some vile language was used towards Mrs. Chas. D. Smith by Mrs. Benee, who was present, when Benee procured a witness and escaped it at the witness.

Cross-examined—After Mrs. Benee had used the vile language to Mrs. Smith, witness told Mrs. Benee to go into the lot and assure Mrs. Benee, but she did not do it as the gate was fastened.

(A Remington navy revolver was the powder subsiding his eye and face. After being fired at he turned home and returned to Benee's place, the latter being still in his lot.

The witness was here asked if he had not been indicted in Provo; when the question was objected to by the prosecution, and argued. The objection was overruled.

Asked if he was not indicted for adultery with a young girl at Provo, and sent to the penitentiary, he replied no, as he was pardoned two months before his time expired.

Mrs. Mary E. Smith was next called—Charles D. Smith was her husband and they lived in the Eleventh ward this city. She related the conversation that took place between her husband and Benee, the latter threatening to do him up as soon as he got well enough to do so. She also related the language used by Mrs. Benee to the witness, among other things intimating that the witness was not of a moral character. This Mrs. Smith denied and stated that she was the mother of seventeen children. She also made other replies to the remarks of Mrs. Benee while the trouble was going on.

In cross-examination the witness stated she saw the gun fired by Benee and that her husband dodged the ball while she stood still on the sidewalk, and was notified to let her husband attempting to remove the unfortunate from the ditch.

Dr. Daniel Kennedy, the next witness called by the prosecution, was asked if he had heard Benee threaten to put the Smiths. Objection made and overruled. Two weeks previous to the difficulty the witness told that Benee had told him that when he got well he would see Smith up. He repeated this about fifty times.

Hence was here taken till 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

This afternoon on the opening of court the prosecution rested and a number of witnesses called for the defense, the defendant himself being present on the stand. Some of them testified that the character of Smith was bad, he being of a quarrelsome disposition.

At 5:15 Judge Judd addressed the jury, and was speaking when the News went to press.

Thanksgiving Social.

The people of the Second ward will participate in a social reunion tomorrow afternoon and evening. Preceding the Thanksgiving dinner Dr. James E. Talmage will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon. Besides music and responses a varied program of songs, recitations, speeches and selections will be rendered. The program will close with a dance.

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headaches caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best allaying family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. Mary Jenness, 308 Rider Avenue, New York City.

FITS CURED

(From C. D. Journal of Medicine.)

Prof. W. H. Parks, who is a professor of Chemistry, in a letter dated Detroit and based on a recent analysis of Parks' Tea, says: "I have found it a mild laxative, and a very pleasant one. The publishers request us to say to the readers of this journal that a large bottle of this medicine can be obtained of druggists for a dollar, and we feel safe in recommending it to our readers. We advise everyone suffering with constipation to try it." Prof. W. H. PARKS, F. D., 4 Cedar St., New York.
