COMMITTEES NAMED.

All Speculation as to Their Complexion Now Settled.

ALL THE CHAIRMEN REPUBLICAN.

Convention Will Perform All of Its Work in the Joint City and County Building.

For half an hour before the time agreed to call the Constitutional Convention to order this afternoon the meeting chamber presented a scene of almost business activity, and the hum of many voices was heard out into and far down the spacious corridor of the third floor of the joint city and county building. But this condition of affairs did not indicate that there was anything unusual going on, because there was not. It was simply one way of whiling away the time until the President would be able to name the committees, which was a matter of a protracted Republican caucus consideration this forenoon. It proved to be a very difficult problem to deal with, involving as it did the question of giving chairmanships to the Democrats.

At 2:15 President Smith said: "Gentlemen, it is not my intention to call you to order just yet, but I have been requested to state that when an adjournment is taken this afternoon you all assemble at the foot of the stairs for the purpose of having your pictures taken by a photographer."

A few minutes later President Smith rapped his colleagues to order, after which prayer was offered by the Rev. J. H. Beales, of the English Lutheran church.

Roll call showed all the members present except the following: Corlesse, Keith, Stravell, Thatcher and Varian.

STANTON AS A PENCIL PUSHER.

County Clerk Stanton was present and occupied a seat at the side of Clerk Christensen for the purpose of instructing that gentleman in the art of minute making.

Yesterday's record was read, and after being amended was adopted.

West Virginia Woman's Testimony.

Editor Deseret News:

No doubt you will be surprised to receive a letter from West Virginia. I am glad to say that I have had the privilege of reading your paper this winter, and enjoyed reading the letters from the Elders all over so many States. It shows they are doing a great work. I have heard of the Mormons all my life, but was made to believe that they were wretched outlaws. I have often heard persons say when they wanted to pass some degrading sentence on some one's character, "Why he is worse than a Mormon." I am glad I have lived to learn to unlearn what I have learned amiss in regard to the Mormons, and am happy to say I have met with seven of the Mormon Elders and have had the pleasure of entertaining them at my own home, and can truly say I never met with nicer gentlemen in my life. Elders Taylor and Dougall of Salt Lake City, boarded with me three months, and their example of piety during their stay with me is worthy to be imitated. I had the privilege of reading their books and papers, and conversing with them in regard to their religious belief. I find they are true Bible Christians and I endorse their doctrine. I often wondered why the prophets and the laying on of hands were done away with and we had no living evidence that the Bible is true. What a delightful thought that it is just the same today as it was when Christ was here on earth, teaching and healing all manner of diseases.

I am a member of the Methodist church, and try to live up to its discipline; but I always feel an aching void, but I am feeling better now. I understand the Scripture better and hope to live nearer to God in future. I have strong desires to dwell in the city of the Saints and become a member of their Church. I feel satisfied in my own mind that they are the chosen people of God.

WEST VIRGINIA LADY.

From Millard County.

The Millard county Blade says it is rumored that Chris Erickson sold an interest in a mine the other day to George Busby for $7,000.

A rich strike of free gold in the lower (over 150 feet) in the Charmed has created quite a stir. Free gold strikes are now an every day occurrence.

M. M. Johnson on Saturday was exhibiting some large, perfect and beautiful topaz gems, which he secured from his topaz mine in the Trachyte range to the north of Deltah.

It is a well founded rumor that Hon. A. J. Weber, of Ogden, and other gentlemen interested with him in Detroit mines, will soon start work on a promising gold-copper proposition.

The recent finds of additional large high grade ore in the Ibex, and the further fact of its having been proved beyond all cavil that the Ibex is a true vein, has given a great impetus to the interest in the camp.

George Busby, of the Charmed, and his brother John E., came in from Detroit yesterday evening. George says the new strike on the Charmed is genuine and runs $62 to $100 in gold. It is the surface croppings of the rich chimney that continues down to the lowest workings, or about 170 feet.

THE PENDENNIS CLUB.

Social Intercourse Is the Object Sought By Its Members.

Mr. Laveille is to be president, Mr. Taylor vice president and treasurer, and Mr. Corbett secretary.

Salt Lake will be the home of the club.

AROUND THE COURTS.

Only One Case Has Been Tried Before Judge Merritt Today.

"PENDENNIS" CLUB ORGANIZED.

Probate Judge McNally Dismisses the Claim of Attorneys Baldwin and Tatlock.

The energies of Chief Justice Merritt were not very severely taxed in the Third district court today, one case only being left on the calendar to try this side of next Monday.

The suit in question was that of Richard Morrison vs E. S. De Golyer. The amount involved was $158.21, balance claimed to be due on a bill of $408 for plumbing work, done at the De Golyer residence at East Waterloo in about December, 1892. The defendant, who was represented by Attorney J. L. Dactory, put in a denial. Plaintiff's attorney was C. Ira Keith. The hearing was had before a jury and the case was taken into their hands at 2:30 with instructions as to bring in a sealed verdict.

TODAY'S PROBATE COURT.

The Application of Attorneys Baldwin and Tatlock Denied.

Probate Judge McNally this morning rendered his decision in the matter of the application of Messrs. Baldwin and Tatlock, who claimed that there is yet due to them the sum of $1,000 for legal services to the administrator of the Minnie Barlow estate.

The issue arose on the administrator's denial of the claim, in which it was recited that the claimants were never employed by him, and that whatever services were rendered by Mr. Tatlock were performed voluntarily and without compensation. The denial further recites that in November last Mr. Tatlock appeared before the court and presented a claim for legal services, but that the same was denied. That at the same time Attorney W. C. Hall was allowed $2,500 for services rendered in the administration of the affairs of the estate, $500 of which was turned over to Attorney Tatlock in full settlement of whatever claim he may have had for services.

Judge McNally, in denying the claim, remarked that the estate had been quite sufficiently taxed for attorney's fees already, and that if Messrs. Baldwin and Tatlock still had any valid claim to make, they must must look to W. C. Hall for satisfaction. His Honor added that it was his intention to protect the estate against any further expenditures of this kind.

ACCOUNT ALLOWED.

In the matter of Andrew J. Gisborn et al. minors, a hearing was had on guardian's account, which was allowed.

He had asked her to drive with him to Park City, where his wife was living, and she did so. On the return to Heber, the following day, Richardson stopped to feed his horse, when the crime was committed.

The Co-op. Store Burglarized.

On Wednesday night the Co-op store was entered by a burglar, and about $300 in merchandise scrip taken from a cabinet in the office. The intruder had evidently concealed himself in the cellar before the store closed in the evening, as a panel had been removed from the door leading into the store from the cellar. The officers kept the matter quiet yesterday, while they were endeavoring to discover the culprit, which they had not succeeded in doing. This morning, however, a stranger offered for sale, near the depot, a large quantity of scrip for $15. He walked towards Springville, and steps have been taken to have him arrested, as he is believed to be the party wanted.

IMPERFECT VISION

is caused by the length and shape of the eyeball. When the proper dimensions of the eye are accurately ascertained it is easy to prescribe the proper glasses.

But by the methods commonly in vogue, glasses are fitted by the doubtful trying experiments until the patient selects a combination which he thinks improves his vision. This is only guess work on the part of both. Glasses given under such conditions rarely give perfect satisfaction, owing to the eyes becoming easily confused when being tested.

By Dr. Shelmerdine's original methods an accurate measurement of the irregularities of the cornea, and the length of the eyeball is taken by scientific instruments, which record results that do not vary a fraction of an inch. One instrument proves another, thus making a mistake absolutely impossible.

He has fitted many hundreds and given universal satisfaction.

Every pair of glasses are especially ground to suit the peculiarities of each case, and guaranteed.

As all examinations are free it will cost you nothing to find out whether your vision can be benefited or not.
