SUNDAY SERVICES.

Elders George Teasdale and Brigham Young, Speakers at the Tabernacle.

The usual Sunday services were held in the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, president of the Stake, Angus M. Cannon presiding.

Choir sang:

Great God attend while Zion sings
The joy that from Thy presence springs.

Prayer was offered by Elder Abraham Zundell.

Singing by the choir:

Glorious things of Thee are spoken
Zion, city of our God!

ELDER GEORGE TEASDALE

was the first speaker. The Gospel, said he, is something which will gladden our hearts and encourage us in the battles and vicissitudes of life. I take a great deal of interest in the doctrine of Christ. It is sweet to me and has been for a number of years, and from the time of my conversion I am happy to say that in all the vicissitudes of life my love for the Gospel has never grown cold, but I have felt that they are the sweetest and most happifying, sustaining and encouraging of all principles that have ever been declared. To enjoy the Spirit of the Almighty and faith of the Holy Ghost is something that is beyond price. The principles of everlasting life are always so sweet, so encouraging, as to fill a person's soul with thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father that He has an existence, and to have living testimony that God lives and that Jesus is the Christ; not asking any man which is the way but being instructed in the straight and narrow path that leads to eternal life, by the revelations of the Almighty. What can we say for this great privilege? Have we language to express our thanks? These are the simple facts, the result of obedience to the doctrine of Jesus Christ; of being associated with the church of Christ which is composed of in the organization of apostles, prophets, pastors and teachers necessary for the ministry and for the edifying of the body of Christ. How came we in possession of these great blessings? How came we in possession of the glorious light and truth? By simple obedience to the everlasting principles that are without beginning or end upon the earth. 1800 years ago Jesus Christ and his disciples advocated these principles; advocated faith in the living and true God, the maker of heaven and earth, the sea and the fountains of water. He advocated faith in the divine mission of Jesus Christ, the Son of the living God; the only name given in heaven through which men can be saved; and inasmuch as death had come into the world, the law of mortality might be restored, and notwithstanding the intelligence or spirits that dwell in our bodies, that they should be redeemed from that death through faith in the living God and in His Son Jesus Christ. In the acceptation of the doctrines of Christ, in having obedience to the principles of our Father, we were promised that we would be put in possession of a living testimony—such a testimony as Peter and the other Apostles had. The disciples of Jesus Christ are they who do the will of the Father, and are sanctified unto Him; they who show by their virtue and integrity that they are the followers of Jesus Christ and are willing to abide by God's laws and commandments.

The miracles that were wrought by the ancient Apostles showed conclusively that they were truly endowed by God's blessings and the spirit of the Holy Ghost, and these same blessings are held out to the faithful in these days, and will be poured out upon them just as abundantly as they were in the days of Christ and His Apostles, if they live so as to merit them.

ELDER BRIGHAM YOUNG

next addressed the congregation. Here testimony to the truth of the remarks that had been made because he knew that they were verily true. The Saints should at all times to their walk and conversation show their gratitude to God in having received the principles of life. No man or woman upon the earth can say that they have not been privileged to embrace this Gospel, for there are none upon the globe who will be deprived of this privilege. God has set up His Church in this the nineteenth century to prepare the people for the second coming of Christ. When we say that Joseph Smith was a Prophet of God, and that this is the true Church of Christ, we cannot deny it because these things have been revealed unto us. It is not our privilege to take up the sword against mankind, but we have been given the work of preaching the pure peaceable tidings to the people, that they might know of the blessings which have been promised unto them if they would but give heed unto His laws and commandments. The spirit which the Saints are in possession of is given unto them to guide them into all truth and right course, and to make them live by every word which proceeds from the mouth of God. Can we afford to grieve the Spirit of God so that it will be taken from us and given to some one else who will nurture it and give all due reverence unto it? No, we cannot. We cannot afford to be without that spirit, because it is just as necessary that we should be in possession of it as it is that we should have the Bible or the Book of Mormon in our midst. Some of our young people go to foreign cities to study the fine arts, and what is the influence that they take with them? Such an influence that cannot be explained by those with whom they associate, but it makes itself manifest on all times we can hear it remarked that these Mormons are exceedingly bright and intelligent. It also keeps our children to keep aloof from the evils and temptations that generally surround them in foreign lands, or in places very far from home.

In referring to Salamond, the speaker felt that the Saints should feel thankful to God for this precious boon. To be a sovereign State of the Union is something which should fill our hearts with unspeakable joy, and we should be enough our lives that it can be said by every one that Utah is indeed a model state.

Choir sang the anthem:

Let the mountains shout for joy,

after which the choir and congregation sang the Doxology.

Benediction was pronounced by Elder Jonathan G. Kimball.

Amusement Notes.

The inaugural ball at the Theater this evening will be a grand finish to the festivities of the day.

Romeo and Juliet, the funny burlesque opera, will be presented by the Orpheus Club at the Theater tomorrow and Wednesday evenings.

Governor Wells, Secretary Hammond and other State officials have been specially invited, we understand, to witness this performance in the Theater.

On Thursday and Friday evenings in Old Kentucky will be seen at the Theater. Miss Laura Lloyd Burt who appears in this company was born at Carmarthen, Wales, and is by many recognized as the leading Welsh actress. She has appeared before the Princes of Wales and many European crowned heads. It goes without saying that the Welsh population, on her arrival in this city will be out in force and occupy prominent parts of the theater. Miss Burt intends honoring the Deseret Eisteddfod with her presence.

1492, which soon comes to the Theater, is spoken of as one of the finest productions of its kind now before the public.

Henry E. Dixey played to a fair-sized audience at the Theater on Saturday night. The Love Chase is an extremely funny comedy, in which a young husband who objects to a mother-in-law, and secures a divorce to get rid of her, by the irony of fate finds himself in the position of having twenty mothers-in-law and one of them his divorced wife. The various parts were extremely well played, Mr. Dixey being supported by Thomas Keene, a highly talented comedian; and Pauline French and Margaret Craven, two handsome young ladies who understand their roles perfectly. The entire cast was splendid.

AT THE GRAND.

The Silver Lining is the bill at the Grand this week.

It appears that Miss Pollock is about to leave the Grand and that her place will be taken by Daisy Lovering, a lady who played with Messrs. Ingersoll and Edwards last season.

AT THE LYCEUM.

The Lyceum has a double bill again this week. As a curtain raiser, the flower scene in Ingomar will be given by Mr. Hayes and Miss Lytton, and this will be followed by the comedy My Awful Dad, in which Mr. Harry Cotton Clarke appears.

A SUNDAY MORNING HOLD-UP.

Brigham W. Young, a Conductor on the Salt Lake City Railroad, the Victim.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, Brigham W. Young, a conductor in the employ of the Salt Lake City Street Railway company, was held up and robbed near the corner of Third West and First South streets.

It appears that Mr. Young's car, which was making its last trip, became disabled at the corner of First South and Fifth West streets, and in order to notify the company of the immovable car and to get assistance from the power house, he started on foot to the nearest telephone station, leaving Mr. David Hogan, the motorman, in charge of the disabled electrical conveyance.

Mr. Young wended his way along First South until he came to the corner of Third West, when he was hailed by three men, one of whom poked a gun into his face. The conductor quickly realized his position, and knocked the gun from the fellow's hand which caused a scuffle, and resulted in Young being knocked down, badly bruised and relived of about $20—$6 of which was his own—and also a silver watch.

Mr Young was rendered unconscious and remained prostrate on the frozen ground until a passer-by picked him up and brought him to a realization of his position. One of the assailants is described by Young as being quite tall, while the other two are of medium stature. He feels confident that he could recognize them, should he happen to be brought face to face with them again.

WILSON RE-INSTATED.

But Not Without a Severe Reprimand From the Acting-Governor—Errors in the Court-Martial.

The result of the court-martial proceedings which discharged from service Captain J. M. Wilson, of Company D, Second Infantry, N. G. U. of Logan, has been set aside, by Acting Governor Richards ordering Wilson's reinstatement, but not without a severe reprimand, as will be seen below. Wilson, it will be remembered, was court-martialed last December, for failing to turn out his company for inspection, and owing to certain errors in the modus operandi of the court-martial, the acting-governor has deemed it necessary to disapprove the verdict. He says in his review of the case:

The proceedings exhibit several minor defects from a failure to follow prescribed forms, and are totally defective in that the accused was called by the prosecution to testify and did testify as a witness for the prosecution, it being an established rule of military law that defendants only testify in their own behalf, and only then upon their own request to do so (which facts are required to be made a part of the record). It is to be regretted that the error of the court in this particular makes necessary the disapproval of the proceedings, for there appears to have been ample evidence, apart from the testimony of the defendant himself, to have established the case against him; and this defect is so vital that when the findings might otherwise be approved, the sentence cannot be. Captain Wilson then escapes a merited punishment. His conduct strikes at the root of discipline, and is subversive of the law and regulations governing the National Guard. He cannot maintain proper command and respect in his own company if he persists in the views and actions of which he is shown to be guilty in this case; but it is hoped that the lessons of his mistake will result in benefit to himself, his company and the National Guard.

Captain Wilson will be released from arrest and restored to duty.

CHARLES C. RICHARDS,
Acting Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, JAN. 4, 1896.

Territorial Cases Dismissed.

Territorial cases against the following defendants were dismissed by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Thurman, for the reason that the prosecution did not have sufficient evidence to convict:

R. F. Risman, assault to commit rape; J. C. Moore et al, larceny; Jacob Gates, battery; Adam Swaggart, burglary; James Powers, grand larceny; Thomas Moore, resisting an officer; John Johnson, larceny; George McKinney, burglary; Patrick Foster, perjury; Arnold Castor, grand larceny (two cases); Henry Marshall, rape; Annie Marks, resisting an officer; Philip Foote, assault to murder.

H. G. Henerson vs J. C. Nielson; decision in favor of plaintiff for $50 and costs.

Geo. L. Hyde vs Joe Nairn et al; decision in favor of defendants; each party to pay its own costs and one half of costs of court.

The case of Wm. Painter vs the Equitable Life Insurance Co. was decided in favor of defendant. Plaintiff sued for $143, the first premium paid on a policy taken out in 1892 on the ground that "the policy has not been delivered within the time agreed upon (thirty days) and, in fact, had not been received at all." The evidence, however, was that it had been mailed from the home office in New York within the specified time.

Notes.

Titus O. Snow, aged 23, and Mae Ivy Snow, aged 18, both of Provo, have received a marriage license.

At 1:30 o'clock a large and enthusiastic audience gathered at the tabernacle, where the program previously published in the NEWS, consisting of music and speeches was carried out.

Alpine will build a $4,000 brick schoolhouse in the north end of town. A tax of one per cent, one-half of state inflator, has been voted to erect the building.

J. B. Fairbanks has a beautiful art exhibition in his studio in the Union block to which he invites the public. There is a large collection of original paintings and copies of the works of leading artists by Mr. Fairbanks, together with some fine work by his pupils.

Arthur Foster, R. G. W. section foreman at Mill Fork died New Year's Day. He went to work, in the morning and in the afternoon was brought in by one of his section men (a Chinaman) unable to speak, and died a short time afterwards.

The second semester of the Brigham Young academy will convene on Tuesday the 7th, and the district schools will also convene on that date, and not on Monday as previously announced. The Governor's proclamation making Inauguration Day a holiday is responsible for the change in both cases.

John Fisher, a young Alpine man, was out sleigh riding a few nights ago. The end gate fell out and with it Mr. Fisher. Unfortunately another team came along behind the sleigh Mr. Fisher was riding in, and he was severely injured on the head and face through being stepped on by the horses. He is recovering.

Sunday morning Nephi Healy's team, which he had driven to Lehi, returned without the wagon. Fears were entertained that an accident had happened to Mr. Healy, but it was afterwards found that he had been caught in a blizzard between Lehi and Alpine, and taken refuge in a house after turning his team loose with the expectation that they would reach home all right.

ANOTHER RAMBLER DAY.

The Rambler boys made a great showing in the Ogden races. The first event of the day was the ten mile road race, in which McCunshay finished third, taking third prize and third time prize. Then came the track race, Joe Beck taking second in the novice, Fowler first, Weller second, and Thatcher third in the mile scratch, class B, all "Ramblers" you will note. In the half mile chase A, Star took second, Cotton third. Half mile, class B, Thatcher second, Fowler third. Five mile, class B, Fowler second. In this race a man in a yellow suit got far head of all others, Cotton and Weller being immediately behind him, the result was a spill for these parties and the race left to Evans. The five mile, class A, was another Rambler event, Star taking first, Joe Beck second and McCunshay third. Fourteen prizes for one day is glory enough for any one.

People are tough and people may cry,
And days may break if long pieces,
But Rambler's win races whenever they go,
Regardless of weather or chances.
