TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 51. TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1895. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVIII.

THE STRIKE TODAY.

Soldiers Stoned and the Wires Cut in Several Places.

A MOTORMAN SHARLY KILLED.

The Troops Ordered to Respond With Bullets When Assaulted—Line Men Join the Strikers.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 21.—There was no usual rush this morning. At Atlantic avenue station the Fulton avenue line soldiers were shipped. Each stable is crowded with tired soldiers. Out in the fog where they see only three paces before them the pickets hailed every passerby to know his business. They were in no humor for nonsense and it was with long use they stood the footfalls of needless hurried from the darkness. While they did not make any open demonstration, the mule skinners formerly by cutting wires for about two months. On Gates avenue, between Kosciusko-street and Central avenue, they cut the wires and carried them away. At Flushing it was discovered a mob made his way into the stable and attempted to bribe the new men there to desert their duty under pretense of being well paid for staying away from work. It was discovered that some other informant tampered with the motor men of some cars. He was discovered in the stable and taught that a lesson. One receives a blow on the eye and the man escaped. Every precaution is being taken to prevent any attempts from entering the power house, or from derailing the cars that the men now power house would be blown up.

JOINING THE STRIKERS.

Police Superintendent Campbell has been notified that the Brooklyn line men have gone on a strike. The electricians may follow suit.

Another conference before Brigadier General McAlister, Mayor Schieren, the executive committee of the citizens and the president of the railroad companies will be held today.

MOTOR TEMPERED.

After midnight a monster motorman named O'Neill was stoned down and kicked until stark unconscious. He was then found hard on foot with wire, carried into the middle of an empty lot and kept there until daylight. He insists were then removed and he was carried to Broadway ferry. His face was pad and he was told not to return under penalty of worse treatment the next time.

The house in the neighborhood of the car stables are crowded with strikers and their friends. Two boys were badly injured by being trampled upon by the strikers in the conflict between the soldiers and throngs last night at Ridgewood.

The companies are still unable to secure new men to run all their cars, and little not expected any more cars will be running today than yesterday. The companies are still further hampered by the removal of the line men to repair the cut wires.

ORDERED TO KILL.

Colonel Appleton has ordered his men, when assaulted, beaten with no respect good cause with lead.

A SERIOUS REVOLT.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 22.—It is rumored that the strike has been declared off at Gowanus, but the report is denied by Master Workman Connolly.

OTHER CONTINGENT REPORTS.

The seventh regiment is having a fierce fight with the strikers. It is reported that several soldiers have been injured. The strikers are throwing stones and tearing the cars at the stable.

Although quiet this afternoon a mob at Buffalo avenue stopped a Fulton street car. Troop A, under command of Lieutenant Bagley came to the assistance of the police and the crowd were dispersed. The cars on the Broadway line have stopped on account of the coming of the wires at Broadway avenue. A large crowd congregated there. Capsule horses and a wagon load of policemen have gone to the scene of the trouble. Several other trouble between the police and the strikers have occurred.

A Bomb at Dunkirk.

DUNKIRK, Jan. 22.—A bomb was exploded yesterday evening in a crowded place at James, near Central. Much damage was done to the building and a panic followed. Nobody was seriously injured.

Fatalities Duel.

LIMA, Mex., Jan. 22.—A duel was fought at San Pedro, east of this city, between Henry T. Ward, an Englishman, and Jesus Garcia, a native. The men fired at a distance of twenty paces. Ward was mortally wounded, being shot through the body. The affair grew out of a financial deal between the two men.

AGAINST PARKHURST.

Rev. Mallary Will Complain Against Him to the General Assembly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Today was a meeting of the New York presbytery in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's church, yesterday. A letter was received from the Rev. E. P. Mallary, who made himself conspicuous as the last member of the presbytery by voting against the endorsement of the reform work of the Rev. Charles Parkhurst, in which he said he would appeal to the Rev. R. H. Boyd, D. D., L. L. D., the moderator of the presbytery, and said:

"I hereby respectfully give notice that I intend to complain against the presbytery of New York on account of its action touching the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst and his reform work, in our general assembly at its meeting in Philadelphia next May."

Some relations were manifested by the ministers present as to allowing the reception of the complaint, but the moderator announced that no other course was open.

Mr. John C. Eline then introduced a resolution denouncing the proposed effort to secure a Sunday liquor law in this city, in which he calls upon the ministers of the presbytery to agitate the matter from their pulpits and to use every effort to overcome any legislation in the matter.

Raid on Railroad Pools.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 22.—The government has taken a hand in the causes against the blind pools. James N. Gillespie, the Pittsburg manager of the Vanderbilt system, Conway and F. S. Davis, manager of the American syndicate pool, have been arrested on warrants charging them with using the U. S. mail to carry a scheme t. defraud. There has been a rift on the American and Vanderbilt syndicates, but the depositors required to sale letters.

Railroad Pooling Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The railroad pooling bill was reported favorably to the Senate without amendment.

IN THE STORM KING'S REALM

Scenes of Surpassing Magnitude are in the Lead.

Twelve Continuous Proceedings Through Perpendicular Banks of Snow Towering Above the Tracks.

RICHMOND, Cal., Jan. 22.—Advices as of the route of the Central Pacific were laid through the three of the greatest snowfall. With drifts forty feet deep and snow twenty-five feet deep on the level at the summit, the utmost energies of the railroad people are put to the test. The interests are being rent in continuous streams from the contest, but from Gold Run to Truckee snow is falling at the rate of an inch an hour. Luckily the wind is not blowing, and the situation is not complicated by the formidable fury and snow slides that so often make railroading and even existence in the high Sierras perilous.

Up to now only heavy accidentness in the smaller two-horse snowplows of Boston or Omaha through the snow. Hitherto the snow has obstructed and the sight is the storm king, magnificent, but sometimes terrifying.

Union pressed uselessly through perpendicular banks of snow towering the walls towering above the coaches. The engine plows dash in resistance with nothing the way but a couple of thousand men have prepared. The snow is falling so fast that it is not certain that the snow plows and the plowers will not have to be invoked to keep the way open.

The latest official reports received show that during the previous twenty-four hours the snowfall was as follows: Truckee 8 inches, Summit, 24 inches, on the ground 30 inches; Cisco 8 inches; Cascade, 30 inches, on the ground 15 inches; Colfax, 4 inches, on the ground 3 inches.

There is no flood in the valley. Of course the mine and saw mills are filled, but the streams are well in their banks and at present there is no danger of washouts.

If the storm continues it will severely test the levees. A water level on the mountains of snow now would bring a greater body of water on the valley than in 1862.

Word has received early this morning that the snow on the summit of the mountains had reached in a level way, the cross arms on the telegraph poles and that four more inches of snow would prostrate every wire over the mountains.

Question About Right to Land.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Jan. 22.—George H. Pearson, a capitalist of this city several years ago, claimed Gist Lake in Humboldt county. He secured a title to the ground and finally made the bed of the lake, comprising nearly over 1,000 acres, fillable land. Now, under the action of attorneys, several persons have settled on the land as homesteaders, claiming as the law was a meandered body it belonged to the United States and was open to settlement. Other attorneys hold that while the meander lines are legal the adjoining property owners have riparian rights. The land is worth $50,000.

PLATT AND STRYKER.

Dr. Parkhurst Pays the Gentlemen His Respects Again.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Thomas Platt and Superintendent of Police Byrnes came in for a scrubbing from Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst at the monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Union last night. There were about 300 people present with President Warren van Norden at the head of the table. Among the prominent ministers present were Dr. John Hall, Dr. H. H. Jessup, Dr. W. C. Roberts, Dr. J. C. Hiles, Dr. W. E. Knickerbocker, Dr. L. C. Thompson.

Dr. Parkhurst occupied the seat of honor. He touched the prodigality for its kindness in its almost unanimous approval of his work. After his introduction Dr. Parkhurst said:

"I want to say a word about our present chief of police, Mr. Byrnes. He is the man in whom the corruption of the police department resides. The people of that town is tired. The eyes of the country are upon us. The eyes of the citizens."

Then the doctor turned his attention to politicians. "There is a man at Albany," he said, "trying to get the bill giving the mayor the power to remove the heads of the city departments. I would rather find Gen. Grant than Tom Platt."

LEGAL DECISION.

Injunction to Manufacturers and Retail Dealers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—A case of great importance to manufacturers and retail dealers has just been decided by United States Judge Grosscup. A retail tobacconist of the name of Schaefer was cited up on an examination and the United States material was interfered to sell the goods at public sale. A manufacturer of wholesale manufacturers of cigars and cuffs then an intervenor. Judge Grosscup held that owning has no right to the property of the delinquent tobacconist. He judge construed of dollars and different belonged to them. The intervenors claimed that three years ago they made a contract with Schaefer, certain sale with a stock of their goods, nothing, however, the property stayed, Schaefer paying them at the end of each month for the amount of the sales during the month. Counsel for the other creditors argued that any such contract was clearly against public policy, as it gave the manufacturers a preference over creditors and enabled them to get a credit that otherwise he would not obtain. The argument proved weighty with the court, for Judge Grosscup sustained the position and dismissed the intervenors bill for want of equity. This decision will have special weight with manufacturers of agricultural and mining implements, as it is an open secret that such sales in these cases of goods will almost entirely be consignment.

Abandoned Farms.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 22.—The annual report of the State Board of Agriculture now in its hands, will show that during the year there were 740 abandoned farms reported, as against 154 when the work of enumerating their number was begun by the board in 1885.

MINING PATENTS CANCELLED.

The Land Department and the Lawyer Prosecution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Patents issued to the Montana Mining and Reduction company on mineral entry for lands in Helena, Montana, the land district including the Jim, Kansas, Cleveland, Gandy, Bismarck, Mac, Cleveland and Handy lodge claims, have been cancelled by the interior department. It was charged the lands were mineral and the entry fraudulent.

Earthquakes in Russia.

TIFLIS, Russia, Jan. 22.—An official report from Mozdok, the capital of the province Kissisoni, says a severe earthquake shock was felt there at noon on Thursday, January 17. The vibration extended in a northwesterly direction as far as Dzaudjikau. There was another shock the same evening. The damage was slight. No lives were lost.
