WHEN A MOB RULES.

Scenes After the Lynching of the Negro Thomas Smith.

BURNING THE LIFELESS BODY

General Vandalism.—to Awful Sight.—The Wounded Mayor.—Police Officers Suspended.

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 21.—Coroner Gray and jury repaired early to the scene of the lynching of the negro Thomas Smith, and, after viewing the body, entered a verdict that the negro came to his death at the hands of persons unknown to them.

After the inquest the officers were ordered to take charge of the body, but the surging mass of men would not let them touch it. A coal cart passing near by was pressed into service and the body was thrown into it. It was then hauled to Mayor Trent's residence. It was seemingly the intent of the mob to bury it in the front yard. At this moment Rev. Mr. Campbell appeared and admonished them from carrying out this plan.

Then they took the body to the edge of the river to bury it. Fences were torn down, store boxes taken, and some one with an axe cut down several cedar trees near by. The dry wood was laid in a large pile, and on the heap the negro's body was laid. On top of all cedar boughs were thrown, and then, just before touching the match, two gallons of coal oil were poured over all. The match was touched to it, and the flames shot rapidly up.

It was an awful sight. It was not long before the crowd dispersed, but all the morning men, and sometimes on occasional women, were seen going toward the place of the burning. All remaining of Smith at noon was a few ashes, and here and there a bone, but the fire is still burning, and those standing around said it should burn till there was not a vestige left.

Mayor Trent, who was wounded in the foot, was carried to the Prince de Leon hotel, owing to the crowd around his residence, and from there to the country, where he still is. Acting Mayor Buckner seemed cowed and suspended the chief of police and several officers.

The coroner's jury was in session all day, investigating the cause of the tragedy, but has not completed the inquest. The town is quiet tonight, and the streets almost deserted. Nine men were killed and twenty-five injured last night.

The matter was briefly argued and Judge Cox overruled the defendant's motion.

It Will Be Completed Within a Month.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—A very prominent Democrat on the ways and means committee says the new tariff bill will be completed within a month. If Congress is still in session it will be immediately presented. The Democrats on the committee feel, in view of the unrest among business men on account of legislat ive delay, that the new schedules ought to be made known as soon as possible, so that business can commence adjusting itself to the new conditions.

The United States immigration officers will pass judgment upon who could enter the United States, and will issue passports to them as means of identification.

The Valkyrie Lost, Forever.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—In yachting circles in and out of New York the fear is freely expressed that the Valkyrie is at the bottom of the ocean, having gone out second time in the calculated with the big cyclones that have worried seamen on the Atlantic during the past month. The only person who appears to be sanguine that the Valkyrie still rides the sea and will make her appearance soon was Designer Watson, who said he would not give her up until some definite news of misfortune having befallen her to receive.

A Chicago Duel.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—An afternoon paper says: Last night William Hinkston, a well known society young man, fought a duel with cavalry sabers with a young Philadelphian, who objected to Hinkston's attention to a young lady cousin of Hinkston's companion, the girl being engaged to the other man. The Philadelphian was wounded in the shoulder.

The judge said such proceedings were more agreeable to Boston than the United States.

The Michigan Train Robbery.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 21.—There are no new developments in the express robbery matter. If the Pinkertons know where the money is they have kept very quiet about it here. So far as any one here knows, none of the loot has yet come to light or actually located yet. The officers, however, are confident of recovering the money. The hearing of the prisoners was postponed until next week.

THE RIVER RAN BACKWARD.

CONSEQUENCE OF AN EARTHQUAKE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The Hong Kong Daily Press says that an earthquake took place in the province of Batangas, in the Philippines, on August 2nd. At Jaliva the current of the river Aquasa was reversed in direction and the water rose two meters above the ordinary level, the current running upstream instead of down for the space of ten minutes, after which the water remained stationary for five minutes and then rushed down stream at an enormous rate, carrying everything before it and wrecking a number of boats moored to the banks. Some thirty houses were destroyed by the earthquake, including the convent and the church, but there was no loss of life.

Typothetaeans.

An experiment in co-operation the Typothetaeans enjoy is decidedly interesting to the student of political science. Despite the sources of distress there have been reported everywhere the details of the suffering, but in spite of this the society has shown an increase of members, and those on the ground have been assured by the enthusiasts at home. It has existed for more than half a decade, and even its critics admit it has a promise to offer fruition. Whether the regulations under which the small number of citizens, bound together by mutual interests and privileges, can successfully govern a larger community, a quiring property and assuming multiplied duties, remains to be seen. It is now felt that a thoroughly phenomenal will become necessary, and doubtless the participants in the experiment will for years to come be called upon to sight upon the last shore the lone sail and stripes they have left. The return upon their investment must be the call of the soul. Hard work and many years of it will be necessary before anything like a Utopia dawns. The urgency of the invitation extended to all has drawn to the colony many well-meaning and visionary spirits not calculated to add strength or business capacity to any enterprise. With a greater measure of success more well-balanced managers will come to the control of affairs. Already a number of European capitalists of sociable ideas are looking with favor upon the experiment and lending their wealth and influence in its advance meal.

Bold, curious and unique, the Typothetaeans colony stands alone in the world-century governments. If it succeeds failure and even a fraction of the projected hopes are realized it will prove to be for many a practical solution of the most puzzling problem of political economy.—Carrie Harris Harper, in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for October.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The Question of Currency Discussed by a Commission.

The Ten Hour Bubble Said to Have Been Relieved—The American Show Cattle.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A dispatch to the Times from Singapore says: The Straits settlements currency commission under its sitting today. Four separate reports were presented. Six members of the commission advise that taels in large be accepted and six others demand that free silver be continued. The first report of the tales commission advises the adoption of the Indian rupee, if the Indian experiment proves successful and the taken dollar be impossible.

The report of the free silver men is much broad. It advises the continued use of Mexican dollars for safety, in addition to the proposed dollar which shall follow the price of silver.

The report of the banking members is similar, but it adds a plank that Lord proposed British dollars shall never be converted into taken notes. The report of the Chinese members is to the same effect, but embodies that clause silver would be adopted for the present, while taken coinage would alternate trade. The taken coinage now say the following of silver means the adoption of the Indian rupee, and that it is better to have new tackles than the taken coin. The opinion of the European members is divided.

Rebels Defeated at Santos.

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 21.—The Brazilian naval squadron, which sailed for the south, intending to bombard Santos, Porto Alegre and Rio Grande do Sul, has been celebrated. When they arrives off Santos the guns of the Brazilian and Fallow were trained on the city. Tie land batteries were awaiting the attack and the shore artillery replied with vigor. The fight was kept up for two hours, when the rebel fleet hoisted another and sailed south.

Dispatches from the ranks of the revolutionists are daily reported. The government is strengthening its forces, hoping soon to dominate the situation.

The Battle in Austria.

VIENNA, Sept. 21.—The sham battle which widely the maneuvers of the Austrian army were concluded today was the most brilliant spectacle of Emperor's Franchise. An officer of a regiment of lancers was knocked from his horse and died in a few minutes. The emperor's suite and guests left Gratz this afternoon.

Sailing at Sea.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—The steamer Palatine, which arrived today from Montreal, brought three survivors from the wrecked British steamer Winchester, which was capsized by a squall eighteen miles from Mobile. Three were rescued by the Captain John Cearlion, Mrs. Cheriton, Mate Tinsmar Holmes, Cook Henry Sauss and Daniel Angel, seamen.

Blake LeCain, Benjamin Clarke and Malica, who were rescued, tell a terrible tale of hunger and suffering while they were on the upturned keel of a vessel for nine days before being rescued. They procured drinking water by catching rain in their clothing, and their food consisted of birds, which they caught and ate raw.

SUNOL!

ROBERT BONNER

Superintending the shoeing of Sunol with the Putnam Nail.

PROSPECT HILL STOCK FARM, TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 16, 1893.

PUTNAM NAIL CO., Newport, Mass.

GENTLEMEN:—Sunol by her owner, Mr. Robert Bonner, is now regarded as the fastest of the trotting race horses of the world. She is shod with your Putnam Nails, and I have to write to the owner of Sunol to inform him that I have yet to be told that the Putnam Nail is not the best nail that the Farrier has to use. Sunol is now pastured with a herd of brood mares, and I shall advise Mr. Bonner to use the Putnam Nail on his mares exclusively.

Very respectfully yours,

Chas. Marvin

The Putnam Nail is the only exclusively Hot-Forged and Hammer-Pointed nail.

Look in your smith's shoeing box. If the nails have smooth edges for the whole length they are the PUTNAM, for they are Hammer-Pointed and are not sheared.

The above picture, from a photo representing Mr. Bonner's celebrated mare Sunol, is reproduced in 3-color process, and is sent in tube free to any address, size 22x28, on receipt of 4 cent stamp for postage, etc.
