STAKE CONFERENCES.

APPOINTMENTS UNTIL APRIL, 1899.

1898. Days.	1899.	Stakes.
Oct. 15 and 16 (Saturday and Sunday)	Jan. 14 and 15	Utah and Juab
Oct. 16 and 17 (Sunday and Monday)	Jan. 15 and 16	Emery and Woodruff
Oct. 22 and 23 (Saturday and Sunday)	Jan. 21 and 22	Tooele and Juarez
Oct. 23 and 24 (Sunday and Monday)	Jan. 22 and 23	Weber, Cassia and Bannock
Oct. 30 and 31 (Sunday and Monday)	Jan. 29 and 30	Cache, Summit, San Luis and Wayne
Nov. 13 and 14 (Sunday and Monday)	Feb. 12 and 13	Wasatch, Star Valley, Box Elder and Uintah
Nov. 19 and 20 (Saturday and Sunday)	Feb. 18 and 19	Sanpete
Nov. 20 and 21 (Sunday and Monday)	Feb. 19 and 20	Millard, Carbon, San Juan and Pioneville
Nov. 26 and 27 (Saturday and Sunday)	Feb. 25 and 26	Bear Lake and Panguitch
Nov. 27 and 28 (Sunday and Monday)	Feb. 26 and 27	Oneida and Snowflake
Dec. 10 and 11 (Saturday and Sunday)	Mar. 11 and 12	Salt Lake and Kanab
Dec. 11 and 12 (Sunday and Monday)	Mar. 12 and 13	Morgan and St. John
Dec. 17 and 18 (Saturday and Sunday)	Mar. 18 and 19	Davis, St. George, Bingham, St. Joseph and Malad
Dec. 24 and 25 (Saturday and Sunday)	Mar. 25 and 26	Sevier and Beaver
Dec. 25 and 26 (Sunday and Monday)	Mar. 26 and 27	Fremont, Pacsweap and Maricopa

F. D. RICHARDS,
JOSEPH F. SMITH.

SALISBURY TAKES INITIATIVE.

There is No Retreat Now the Fashoda Blue Book is Published.

The Jingo Element in Britain Delighted—Parties Free to Discuss—Gen. Marchand May be Recalled.

London, Oct. 10.—The commotion in the newspapers show that the Marquis of Salisbury's determined stand on the question of the occupation of Fashoda has come as a most agreeable relief and as disposing of all theories of compromise. No whisper of dissent is heard anywhere. Both friends and opponents of the premier are rejoicing in the fact that in publishing the blue book on the Fashoda question he has burned his bridges behind him.

While it is recognized that the situation, by the publication, has become more difficult for France, there is almost entire absence of disposition anywhere to believe that France proposes to press her claims to the point of danger, and this confidence was demonstrated by the capital tone of the stock exchange after a momentary scare, and such comment as comes from Paris also tends to allay alarm.

The Matin, which is directly inspired by the French officials, says today the more pacific mood which is apparently prevailing in Paris, saying: "We shall probably not risk a war with Great Britain for central sovereignty over territory 41 an immense distance from our possessions on the Atlantic. They are no longer in the Upper Nile coast as the mountains in the moon. We can retain our honor without retaining Fashoda. Prudence should prevent us from exchanging sensitive with no such territory. We must be colonial, but in moderation."

The newspapers of Berlin this evening take a calm view of the situation and plead for moderation. They express a sincere desire for a friendly settlement of the question when Mr. Marchand's report arrives. But the prevailing view of political men is that the French cabinet will find a way out of the difficulty on the report expected from Maj. Marchand, whom, in response to a hint from the French foreign office, will be recalled.

The Berlin Post says: "Our sympathies are with Great Britain in the contest, and we hope that the French cabinet will find a way out of the difficulty on the report expected from Maj. Marchand, whom, in response to a hint from the French foreign office, will be recalled."

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "Our sympathies are with Great Britain in the contest, and we hope that the French cabinet will find a way out of the difficulty on the report expected from Maj. Marchand, whom, in response to a hint from the French foreign office, will be recalled."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "Our sympathies are with Great Britain in the contest, and we hope that the French cabinet will find a way out of the difficulty on the report expected from Maj. Marchand, whom, in response to a hint from the French foreign office, will be recalled."

The Berliner Tageblatt