COUNTY COURT UPHELD.

The Meeting of Taxpayers Last Night Attended with Success.

Funds to be Raised to Carry on the Investigation—A Committee of Seven Appointed.

The meeting of taxpayers held in the interest of and mainly initiating the effort to have into consideration the question of providing funds to carry on the county's investigation into the alleged county frauds, was well attended. Pleasant Judge McNulty called the meeting to order. Commissioner Clawson occupied the chair, and George W. Snow officiated as secretary.

County Attorney Whitlemore was asked to state the conditions that constituted the county court at this time. As to the receipts and disbursements of the county since January 1st, 1895, the former were shown to be $12,317.22; the latter $9,237.37. There was a balance on hand April 1st of $3,279.85 with which to pay claims amounting to $8,333.33—a deficit of $5,053. Mr. Whitlemore then said the most conservative estimate revealed that the county would not be run for less than $2,000 a month; the receipts for the quarter ending March 31st showed a deficit of $2,000 a month. The county stands out upon a proposition today without a dollar upon which a warrant could be drawn. The expense of the lunatic asylum and the maintenance of the jail were thus mentioned, and the investigation that had now afforded evidence, and which promised more, that warrants had been fraudulently and maliciously issued by the county commissioners, must be suspended for lack of funds. He expressed confidence that it would be revealed in the investigation that the fraudulent warrants amounted to sums between $100,000 and $150,000, and that the sureties thereof must go into court to collect. Turning suddenly to the $24,000 jail bill and $13,000 bill for wards, "We have been called to this," said he, "and must not pay a cent more than the furniture and wards are actually worth. The difference between the total outstanding indebtedness, $420,000, and the valid indebtedness, $200,000, is about $200,000, scattered through the valid are the fraudulent claims, and it is the duty of the county to shut them out, that none but a valid claim shall be paid, and honest men get their dues."

Statistician Lawrence explained that the court was at present compelled to pay interest of $27,000 never accruing revenue, and called attention to the absence of funds that must lead to the shutting down of the lunatic asylum.

John Hoff offered an appeal to Salt Lake capitalists.

Ex-Mayor Frederick Armstrong said he had much confidence in the present county court, commended the effort to expose and relieve fraud by vouchering its efforts and pointing to perpetrators, and declared that before the court had started, a citizens' investigating committee had been delegated to. He would himself call upon his friends, and say, "Let us pay right now a quarter on a third of your taxes in advance that the court may go on and expose the frauds at its pleasure."

Upon being asked whether the settlement of the late county court were not liable for the $60,000 claim, County Attorney Whitlemore quoted the sworn affidavit it, declaring the county would present data in the courts. Continuing, he volunteered that the proposition made by Mr. Armstrong to pay any part of the tax in advance was not feasible as both the levy was made, and money would be accepted by the county as taxes thus way out of the predicament, and the only one he saw, was upon the money appointed to when the Legislature adjourned without making an appropriation for Utah's exhibit at the World's Fair. In that case some of Utah's capitalists had gone to the banks and made themselves responsible for the money-need, but in the expectation that pass was passed the Legislature would have to authorize the county to discharge the debt at some future time when times were pinching in.

Henry W. Lawrence warmly urged the citizens to sustain the present court in their efforts to thoroughly investigate.

A number of other gentlemen having spoken in a similar vein, upon the motion of William Nelson, the following committee was appointed to confer with the county court in accomplishing the object in view: William Nelson, H. W. Lawrence, John G. Sutty, Lewis S. Hills, M. H. Walker, W. S. McCornick and Frederick Armstrong.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

The committee was to meet by appointment at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the offices of Mr. Armstrong, Utah Commercial Bank.

The People's Equitable Co-op association has withdrawn its credit from the county, on the ground that the board of Directors had decided that they were unable to carry the county for a greater amount than now appears on the association's books.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.

W. S. Gardner, alias Wm. A. Kimmel, Charged With Deceiving a Young Girl.

W. S. Gardner, alias William A. Kimmel, an electrician and former employe of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company in this city, has been arrested at Springfield, Mo., on the charge of bigamy, on complaint of the sixteen-year-old girl whom he is accused of deceiving by representing that he was single, and inducing her to marry him. The girl's name was Carrie Partridge, and her home was at Bay City, Mich. After a trip to Wisconsin she wrote a description of her travels to a cousin in Seattle, Wash.

A stranger giving the name of Kimmel answered the letter, telling how he had found the letter and fallen in love with the writer, apologizing for his temerity, that he had opened the letter and a regular correspondence followed. In 1893 he paid her a visit at Bay City, and they became engaged, but her parents objected to her marrying so young. Kimmel then came to Salt Lake, and in Nov., 1893, he succeeded in persuading her to meet him in Ogden, where they were married, and came on to this city.

In December Kimmel lost his position and went east in search of employment. After his departure he was made the startling discovery that he had a wife and child in Ohio, whom he had deserted, she thinking that he was dead.

She then consulted with District Attorney Jaite, after which she went before Commissioner Pratt and swore to a complaint charging Gardner with bigamy, and he was arrested at Springfield, Mo. Arrangements have been perfected for his return to this city.

Didn't Go to the Jury.

The damage suit for $15,000 brought by John Dane against the Pleasant Valley Coal company, on account of personal injuries sustained while working in the company's mine at Scofield, came to a sudden termination in Chief Justice Merritt's court yesterday afternoon. When the plaintiff had rested, the defense moved for a nonsuit, and after an extended argument the motion was granted, thus disposing of the case.

Civil Service Examination.

There were twelve candidates for positions in the civil service who appeared before United States Civil Service Examiner G. W. Lawlor, of Washington, D. C., and the local board of examiners yesterday when the competitive examination was conducted. Five of them were candidates for positions in the mail service, two for clerk supplies and one each for stockkeeper, special examiner in the bureau of pensions, stenographer and typewriter, principal teacher for Indian service, and physician for Indian service.

AN OPINION WITH.

Recently Mr. J. D. Thomas, of North Dakota, visited the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country located in Winchester, he written to Mr. V. Riggs, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in nearly every state and territory of the United States, and am frank in my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for directing me here, and shall from now making pleasant and profitable home to locate in this country."
