FAIR AND INVENTORS

The Latter Will Have a "Corner" Where Their Work Can Be Seen.

MORE SPECIAL PREMIUMS OFFERED

Prize for Best Bottled Fruit—Original Story Premium—Other Interesting Items.

H. H. Henderson, of Ogden, has written as follows to the secretary of the D. A. and M. Society:

"Going from time to time with a feeling akin to jealousy, the very liberal provision and encouragement given by your association, towards the promotion of the liberal arts, I cannot but respectfully call to your attention the absence of encouragement to inventors and that commendable branch of American institutions, the mechanical arts.

I have this last year succeeded in perfecting three valuable additions to the scientific and mechanical fields and have as many more in course of development, and to my knowledge there are many others, the product of the past year, which we would be pleased to exhibit were sufficient inducements given us.

Now I submit, should the inventors and inventions of the promising territory state be known abroad and withhold recognition in our own country? I, in advance, will thank you to bring this matter before your directors and advise me later on as to your success, that I may confer with other inventors to make our display as attractive and instructive feature of your coming Exposition."

WILL HAVE A CORNER FOR THEM.

In relation to the subject of this letter the secretary says it is the intention of the Fair directors to have a corner where the inventions of Utonians will be given a place for exhibition. It would be impossible to offer premiums in all inventions, however, as no man knows just what an inventor is going to exhibit.

"Indeed where is the man?" exclaims the secretary, "who can tell what the American mind will produce, even in the next thirty days?"

MORE SPECIAL PREMIUMS.

Mrs Priscilla P. Jennings makes the following offers of special premiums in the woman's department of the Fair:

For the best article of underwear for ladies, made complete by hand, $5.

For the best article of ladies' underwear, made complete on machine, $2.

For the best hand made apron for a child, made by a girl under seventeen years, $2.

For the best button holes, made by a girl under sixteen years, $1.

For the best variety of braided straw made from Utah production, $5.

To the boy under seventeen years of age who will write up the best one article made of his time during vacation, $5.

BOTTLED FRUIT.

The Mountain Nursery Co., J. M. Fisher Jr., manager, offers the following:

For the best exhibit of fruits—fresh, in bottles or both, variation, quality and quantity to be considered, $10 in trees, vines or plants any time who wanted.

BOY ORIGINAL STORY.

The Review, a school paper published in Salt Lake, seems to be fully up to the times, as the following offer of a special premium shows:

We have decided to offer a prize at the coming Fair for the best original story of 500 words, open to all. All stories to be our property and the best to be judged by a committee of three appointed by us. Prize to be $5 cash and one year's subscription to our paper. Also a prize of two inch column wide space in our advertising columns for a period of six months (value $6) and one year's subscription to our paper for an article on the value of advertising in a juvenile paper, open to all, and all articles to be our property. Stories and articles must be sent to us later than the first day of the Fair, and awards to be made the last day of the Exposition.

Preparing for the Show.

PRIESTHOOD MEETING.

Timely Topics Considered by the Stake Authorities Assembled.

The regular monthly meeting of the Priesthood of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion convened in the Assembly Hall at 11 a.m., today—Saturday, August 4, 1894—Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the Stake, and his counselors, presiding. All the wards of the Stake were properly represented excepting the Seventeenth city ward and Farmington, Union, North Jordan, Brighton and Hunter wards of the country.

The First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Tenth, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-fourth quorums of Elders were represented by their presiding officers.

The Young Men's Mutual Improvement associations of the Stake were represented by Elder James W. Easley, of the Stake presidency of these organizations.

The usual business was promptly dispatched, after which reports were made in the following order by the speakers named:

Bishop Robert Dennis, of Herriman, reports the condition of his ward. He stated that the difficulties which existed there had been settled and a good feeling now prevailed.

Elders Wm. C. Crump and Joseph Rozell, of that place, added, by request, a few words upon the same subject, confirming the report of the Bishop.

Elder Charles W. Parson expressed his satisfaction at what had been reported, and made some excellent remarks upon the subjects of unity and humility. It was no sight of a great mind to refuse to acknowledge a error; it was rather an indication of a small mind. He rejoiced that the people and presiding officers at Herriman had asked God to grant their faith and forgiven each other, and he hoped the present happy state of things would endure and be permanent. He bore testimony to the blessing of uniformity of action in the administration of sacred ordinances, and gave instructions regarding the proper mode of administering the Sacrament. Counsel had recently been given that the Priest or Elder who blessed the bread and water should kneel while so doing, and it was also proper that the people, while the prayer was being offered, should bow their heads and listen with reverent hearts. Those who desire others to office in the Priesthood should be careful to do it correctly, for though the letter kills and the spirit gave life, it was advisable to have the letter as correct as possible. Stereotype and rote repetitions in ordinary prayer should be avoided, but correct forms should always be observed.

Elder William C. Dunbar asked a question carrying with it its own answer. It was: "Is the prayer offered in the administration of the Sacrament intended to be heard by the whole congregation, or only by a few in the immediate vicinity of the stand?"

Bishop Elias Morris made some practical observations upon the proper care of the poor. He thought that those able to work should be furnished with employment, whenever possible, and not pauperized. Many much prefer to go into the fields and scrape some green wheat and gather fallen fruit sufficient almost to last for a week, should green and fruit was left to rot upon the ground that might thus be saved and utilized by those too lazy to do hard work. He advocated a system and organization of some kind with this object in view. The coming winter, he believed, would be a severe one upon the poor, and something should be done by them to help themselves. Employment could be had in the country if men would take pleasure to pay, and none should be nowhing to accept it.

Elder Joseph E. Taylor deprecated the conduct of certain persons, members of the Church, who were always complaining and criticising their leaders by what was written in the books, placing the dead letter above the living oracles. He stated that the written word, being a record of the past, was not always applicable to present conditions. Hence the necessity of inspired leaders, whose teachings had the precedence over instructions given under other circumstances and conditions. The speaker continued the subject dwelt upon by Bishop Morris and related some of his experiences during "hard times" in the early days in Utah. Now many poor people were too proud or too lazy to work, especially if it was hard work, and wanted to be supported in idleness. The speaker closed with an exhortation to industry, humility and faithfulness.

Elder Andrew Jensen spoke briefly upon the subject of ward records, and showed that they ought to be preserved and kept together, and admonished to keep to different places. In his travels collecting genealogical data he had found records in Utah's wards away down in Arizona, and in other parts of the Territory from where they were written and where they ought to be kept.

Elder Angus M. Cannon thought that the meeting had been productive of good things. He warmly endorsed the remarks of the previous speaker, and suggested other matters for consideration. He showed how much might be saved if the Word of Wisdom were faithfully observed. What is spent for tea, coffee, chocolate, tobacco, beer, etc., would keep the poor from want. President Cannon added other timely instructions on a variety of topics.

The meeting adjourned until 10 a.m. on the first Saturday in September, to assemble in the Stake conference beginning at that time.

AROUND THE COURTS

Judge Bartch Listens to a Few Small Saturday Motions.

SUIT BROUGHT BY A RECEIVER.

The Copper Plant Bonds Case Goes Over.—Today's Probate Court, Etc.

With Chief Justice Merritt absent from the city, the usual Saturday motion business was very greatly curtailed. Judge Bartch sat in his division to hear just a few motions which attorneys were specially desirous to bring forward at this time, but his honor was soon through with them. Less than half an hour sufficed to clear the deck for the day. The subjoined orders were entered:

LEAVE GIVEN.

In the case of Tom G. Shimko, receiver of the Cisco county bank, vs. C. F. Lofflinghe, an affidavit was put in by Attorney Frank Pierce, and motion for permission for the receiver to sue in this court was given.

DEMURRER WITHDRAWN, ETC.

Leslie E. Keeley institute, Dalgleish, Ida., vs the Keeley Institute of Salt Lake. Demurrer withdrawn by consent and default entered on stipulation. Judgment against for $2,000.

THE DATE FIXED.

The A. B. Dick Co. vs C. B. Parsons. Set for hearing by consent, on Wednesday, August 8th.

ADDITIONAL ATTORNEYS.

The accounts of U. S. Commissioner Greenwood were approved on motion of Assistant District Attorney Howat.

DEMURRER SUSTAINED.

Clement Scarrid Jr. vs Ella T. Shurtleff et al. Demurrer to complaint argued and submitted on the rule of interest. This was fixed at 8 per cent. Five days allowed to amend, except as to the defendant Ella T. Scarrid, whom default was entered.

ON A RECEIVER'S REPORT.

Morris Bush vs R. C. Watt. Plaintiff moved for confirmation of report of the receiver in the case, upon supplementary proceedings. Defendant was served and without by those too lazy to do hard work. He advocated a system and organization of some kind with this object in view. The coming winter, he believed, would be a severe one upon the poor, and something should be done by them to help themselves. Employment could be had in the country if men would take pleasure to pay, and none should be nowhing to accept it.

The Mining Record (Denver), says: Starting within the limits of Denver and extending about twenty miles in and along the course of Cherry creek, Up now are few exhausting gulches and hard and gravel and outcrops of gold. Men are washing, not in streams, but in one dry placer operation are seen to be the saving. There is some freely showing in placer mining along the Platte, though it is thought there are not so many men at work near Denver as on Cherry creek. Enough we think may appear the source from this source have afforded quite a surprise to those who have looked into it.

A Great Feature

of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and wields its controlling influence over the vital fluid of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and unsurpassed.

TOOELE COUNTY TEACHERS.

Their Excursion to Garfield Today a Splendid Success.

A Big Harvest Train From the West as Soon—A Caravan Ad and to the Lake.

The Tooele County Teachers' excursion to Garfield Beach occurred today. In the morning the weather looked threatening, but the clouds soon cleared away, and the day proved pleasant, a mild breeze setting in from the east and modifying the temperature in a marked degree.

Early in the morning teams began coming to Garfield from Tooele, and as the day advanced the number of vehicles was increased to such an extent that the excursionists became an imposing procession. At 12 o'clock the train bearing the Tooele teachers and their friends, as well as members of school boards with their families, steamed into the point of their destination, loaded with the merry company. Lunch was the feature of the day.

After taking part in a sumptuous spread, the company changed from being disciples of Epicurus to an army of tailors. The water was then filled and a large proportion availed themselves of the opportunity of taking an invigorating bath.

At 2:30 the train from Salt Lake brought a large contingent of teachers and their friends, not the least important part of the excursionists company being Olsen's band, which with the music from Tooele and Grantsville contributed much during the session. The attractions were a match game of baseball between the champion clubs of Tooele and Grantsville, foot races, swimming races, etc., the day's attractions to wind up with a grand ball in the evening.

Dancing will commence at 8:30 and last until 12 o'clock. The day seems to have been all that could be desired by all, and it is learned that Superintendent C. V. Christensen, who responsible for the success, that the affair is a success from every point of view. The proceeds of the excursion will be used to defray expenses incident to the Tooele summer school.
