LEGISLATIVE WORK.

Senate Passes a Bill Relating to Private Corporations.

QUARTERS FOR STATE OFFICIALS.

The House Considers several Bills—Regular Routine Work Disposed of.

The State Senate met promptly at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at which time it was called to order by President George M. Cannon. Prayer was offered by Senator Chidester. After a number of minor amendments to pending bills, business was transacted as follows:

Joint resolution Senate bill No. 28, authorizing county clerks and notaries public to take acknowledgements of notice of incorporation of private corporations.

Johnson moved that the bill be passed to its second and third reading and that all rules interfering therewith be suspended. Receiving a second Senator Jones stated that a few days ago he introduced, by request, Senate bill No. 74, relating to private corporations. In view of what occurred in the committee, however, he said it was certain that it would not be agreed upon, hence the new bill. The motion prevailed.

The bill provoked considerable discussion and various amendments were proposed. Finally it was passed and rushed out to the House.

STATE OFFICIALS.

An unpleasant and protracted debate resulted on the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the question of securing quarters in the joint building for the State officers. The entire consideration of the report was finally postponed indefinitely.

The committee on Congressional reports of that line of work and until immortality, two, twenty, eighteen and again. Fifth.

The Senate was waiting for bills to come from the committee rooms when the News report closed.

In the House.

The House met in regular session at 2 p.m. today with Speaker Denny in the chair.

A communication from the Senate notified the House of the passage by that body of S. C. R. No. 2, relating to the death of Ambassador Bayard; likewise the passage without change of H. J. M. No. 1, relating to the annexation to Utah of certain lands in Arizona.

Senate Joint memorials No. 1 and 2 were then signed by Speaker Denny, after which the reference by the speaker of recommendations in the President's message to the appropriate committees was announced.

The Jackson & Milton Live Stock & Range company submitted H. P. No. 5, suggesting certain amendments to H. B. No. 46.

Thomson, by request, submitted H. C. No. 10, claim of Henry Cohen & Co., asking an appropriation of $98.30 for damage on sales.

The committee on judiciary, to which was referred H. B. Nos. 3 and 6, relating thereto and suggested certain amendments. The same committee recommended the non-passage of H. B. No. 9, a bill for an act limiting exaction from execution of laborers' and mechanics' wages. This recommendation was laid on the table.

The House then went into a committee of the whole with Lewis in the chair for the consideration of Senate bill No. 15 and other bills.

Senate bill No. 14, by Senator Miller, which provides for the management of the State prison and the appointment of a warden and guard thereof, was then taken up upon the committee's report. The committee's report recommended certain amendments, and it was agreed that when the committee rises they report favorably on the bill as amended.

H. B. No. 45, by Rollins, was then considered. This is a bill to prevent the use of stock on fraudulent politicians. It defines such actions as offense and imposes a minimum fine of $50 for each and every offense. After being discussed at some length it was moved and carried that when the committee rises, they report favorably H. B. No. 45.

H. B. No. 5 was being considered at press time.

Confectionery Store Sale.

The confectionery store and ice cream parlors established for so many years by Arrington & Trambo and later by W. H. Dodge and Prof. Plain, quietly changed hands this week. The purchaser and present proprietor is Mr. J. T. Wilson, a Salt Lake boy, who for years has entered the institution, of which he is now owner, as an appreciative patron. Mr. Arrington, his successor at the time was very sanguine, but he was not discouraged and continued resolutely onward until he secured complete control of the business. The purchase price is not known, but Mr. Wilson, when seen today, says it discloses that feature of the transaction. He has commenced a thorough renovation of the place, he says, and propose to make it second to none in the West.

A Good Word For the Newsboys.

Being aware that they also should meet with the orphan children in the child circle in the Theater, and enjoy the entertainment given in honor of the aid folks, widows, etc., I sent for some of the young Newsboys, whom I knew to be the most conspicuous as their vocation, and asked them if he would vouch for good behavior on such occasion. He told him so whistling, stamping of feet, or dropping paper, etc., on the heads of those in the parquet would be allowed. He pledged his honor that the newsboys should be strictly accountable with. Tickets for their admission were then freely given to all three, to be used with a paper over his head.

I feel great pleasure in bearing my testimony to their good behavior during the afternoon's entertainment, not the slightest evidence of rudeness or disorder, and having reached the ears of Mr. Ira the Gill Fisher committee, in the law was made known to the Theater about whistling, stamping at last, etc., they all responded to obeyed it by saying "Aye." They kept their promise, and have secured for themselves a hearty welcome on all such future occasions.

And now that we have become a State in the Union, and many strangers will come to see us, I would like all our newsboys to be the best behaved of any in America, not only in being polite in offering their papers for sale, but quiet and orderly on the sidewalk while waiting for their papers at the various offices, and to avoid all rudeness while in the street, and whenever any of them go to the theater at any time, to show by the best of order.

If the captain, to whom they look such respect, will kindly call them on all these points, and the importance of being strictly honest and gentlemanly in their conduct, and cleanly in their persons, it will not be long before their character will be observed and spoken of as the best of any newsboys in any city in America, and not only that, but when a reliable, honest boy is wanted in an office, to a manufacturing establishment, or in a store, they will apply for a newsboy. Yo'rs for the newsboys.

On Saturday last Mr. Wm. Lowe, of Franklin, and his nephew killed a large mountain lion at the mouth of a cave known as the Lion's Mouth, situated about two miles from Lewiston. The young men stated that a sheep had been killed, traced the slayer to its lair, returning then to his uncle's house to obtain assistance. When the approached the cave the animal sprang out, alighting within four feet of the [illegible]. The uncle fired, wounding the lion in the body and partially disabling it. It required eight rifle balls to kill the beast.

The $ Mark.

(The Denver Encyclopedia Sunday.)

A St. Louis exchange calls attention to the singularity of our custom of placing the dollar mark before the figures, instead of after, without giving the real explanation. A high authority says that the explanation is found in the fact that in the colonial times, when the word dollar was Americanized, its equivalent was the Spanish "piece of eight," or eight real," later known as the "York shilling." At first the abbreviation for a dollar was the figure eight between two straight lines [ ], and then the two lines were drawn through the 8. After a while the eight itself was changed just a little, making the sign stand as now in use. This is a highly probable explanation. In all civilized countries money marks are in use, and our St. Louis exchange throws some interesting light on the custom when it says:

In every country which has a written language and a system of colonage the abbreviation for the unit of value precedes the figures. In England the pound mark (£) is used in the same manner that the dollar mark is used in this country, while the same peculiarity is noticeable in Germany, where the abbreviation m. (for mark) appears preceding the numeral, just as the French abbreviation fr. (for franc) is used in France.

If the abbreviations are not used the legend is more apt to be correct. We find that in Mexico they have a "dos pesos" instead of a "p. 2," as one might expect, and in New Foundland they have a plain two-dollar piece. So, too, in France, where the abbreviation is not used, we find such pieces as "10 francs," "5 francs" and "(43 francs." In Germany they have a piece marked "X mark," which is all very plain, but the moment a clerk, bookkeeper or other person makes an entry or jots down a memorandum he tells you that it is a "Mk. X." The English pound sign, which is believed to be the oldest monetary abbreviation now in use, is the old initial letter by which the Romans expressed "pounds," just as we use the "libs." It has been suggested that we use our money abbreviation back were because the Romans, in expressing "pounds," always said "ultra decem," instead of "decem ultra," the first being "pounds ten" and the latter "ten pounds." When their initial letter of character was used it always preceded the figures, thus "U10," or placed of the reverse. Thus the whole world have gotten in the habit of doing these things backwards.

The Silver Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—The silver conference today resulted in an animated discussion of the finance situation and the policy to be pursued by the friends of silver. During the discussion considerable feeling was aroused by the remarks of General Hatch, of Missouri, who stated to effect that if the Populists of Kentucky had done their whole duty, the election of Blackburn to the United States Senate would not be a matter of doubt.

Gen. Field, of Virginia, and others made heated replies.

Mayor Turner of Lansing, Mich., and Senator Stewart also addressed the convention.

The committee on resolutions, of which Senator Jones, of Nevada, is the chairman, submitted a report, consisting of an enormously long preamble and ending with this declaration:

"First over and above all other questions of policy, we are in favor of restoring to the people of the United States the time-honored money of the Constitution—gold and silver—not one but both—the money of Washington and Hamilton, and Jefferson and Monroe and Jackson and Lincoln, to the end that the American people may receive honest pay for an honest product, the American debtor pay his just obligations in an honest currency and not in a currency less in appreciated one hundred per cent above the great staples of our country and to the end, further that silver standard countries may be deprived of the monstrous advantage they now enjoy in the difference in exchange between gold and silver—an advantage which tariff legislation alone cannot overcome.

"We therefore confidently appeal to the people of the United States. Then leaving to abeyance for the moment all other questions, however important or minute as they may appear, and uncovering if need be all party affiliations, they unite in a supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the domination of the money power—a power more destructive than any which has been fastened upon civilized men of any race or in any age.

"And upon consummation of their desires and efforts we invoke the gracious favor of the Divine Providence."

CURED OF DYSPEPSIA.

Commander Dean, writes: "As Chief U. S. Mail Agent of the U. A. O. R. I. good health is indispensable. I found myself, however, at times down with dyspepsia. I doctored and doctored, but grew worse. I suffered misery night and day, for fully two years. My case was pronounced incurable. I chanced to read Dr. Kennedy's about that time, and told him of my condition and he said, try a bottle of take it morning, noon and night—and it will cure you." I took the medicine as directed, and had no occasion to go a step, so my case had baffled my skill and many. After using it a week I began to feel better, and in a short while after that I was entirely cured. That terrible dyspepsia, everything I ate, breaking up since in my throat had all gone and I have not had a moment's discomfort since. To-day there isn't a healthier man and my appetite is good."
