of Mayor Morris in fighting so vigorously and persistently for the proposition to get a water supply commensurate with the city's needs. Surely the Knockers must feel like pretty small potatoes in these days when the supply of water is lower than ever before; when big business blocks are unsupplied; when plants have to close down for lack of water as did the Sweet Candy company today and others; when some of the sewers are going unflushed and when disease germs are sure to thrive. But at the same time it is well to remember that relief is in sight.

80,000 ACRES RESTORED.

Uintah Indian Reservation Homesteaders to Get a Look In.

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—It is understood that acting Assistant Secretary Ryan had held that all lands in Uintah reservation which were reserved in the president's proclamation of Aug. 3, should be restored for settlement entry, as the Act March 3, 1905, does not authorize the reservation and in this decision he has the endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt.

This action it is said will restore to homestead entry about 80,000 acres of land within Uintah reservation previously withdrawn under proclamation of March 3.

MURRAY JUSTICE ANSWERS CHARGE

Justice of the Peace J. P. McOmie of Murray today filed his answer to the petitions of James Supple and John Camp asking that a writ of prohibition be issued to prohibit the justice from taking any further action in the cases filed against them in his court. The petitioners alleged that the justice had no jurisdiction in either of the cases for the reason that neither the subject matter nor the persons of the defendants were within the jurisdiction of the court.

The justice denies that he has no jurisdiction in the cases or that he has exceeded his jurisdiction in taking the action already taken by him in the matter. He claims that the defendants by their attorney entered a general appearance in the cases by filing and arguing a motion to dissolve the attachment issued by him and denies that such appearance was for the special purpose of objecting to the jurisdiction of the court. By their general appearance in the case the justice claims that he acquired jurisdiction in the cases and hence he asks that the writs of prohibition be dismissed and that he have judgment for costs.

Case Dismissed.

Upon motion of District Attorney Loofbourow, the case of the state against John Brennan was dismissed today by Judge Armstrong. Brennan was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm but the evidence was considered insufficient to warrant submitting the case to a jury, hence the district attorney asked that it be dismissed.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Armstrong has granted John M. Jensen a divorce from Katherine Jensen and also Nels M. Pearson a divorce from Savilla M. Pearson, both on the ground of desertion.

TABERNACLE RUSH.

Tourists Crowd Temple Block Grounds —All Want to Hear the Big Organ.

The rush of tourists for the Tabernacle grounds this season is beating all records, and the number to call at the Bureau of Information of a morning, now occasionally reaches the high water mark of 1,000. There is a steady call for organ recitals, and bureau officials say that if there was one daily at 12 M. it would suit the occasion exactly, as the afternoon Rio Grande train eastbound carries many tourists who cannot remain to attend recitals at the regular early evening hour. The organ is a great attraction to travelers. They have heard much about it—also of the organist, and there is a general desire to hear the great instrument. The rush of visitors keeps the bureau officials and Tabernacle attendants very busy. The 6:45 a. m. train from California brings in many people who rush for the Tabernacle grounds first thing, and there is often a long string of travelers waiting at the south gate when the attendants come to open it.

ON A PRACTISE MARCH.

Troop A, First Cavalry, N. G. U., Off on A Sunday Drill.

This being the first drill of this nature held by the organization this year, the members are all looking toward it with pleasure. They will take a travel ration and will have instruction in preparing a meal in the field, pitching a shelter tent, camp and like exercises in field work.

These gentlemen went into this country as the special agents of ex-Governor Wells and his associates. On the Hacienda is already grown sugar cane, corn, bananas, coffee, grapes, oranges and like tropical and semi-tropical products. The corporation in addition to the cultivation of this class of produce, intends to raise cattle and sheep on the land for which there is every opportunity. Besides this, the land is covered to a great extent with various kinds of first-class sawing timber for which there is a great demand. The water supply is said to be abundant. Two railroads are being built which will skirt the area.

A NOTABLE EXCURSION.

St. Mark's Hospital Society at Saltair On Friday Next.

"St. Mark's Hospital Society" will give an excursion to Saltair on Friday next, for the benefit of the hospital. Much interest has been aroused in the excursion because of the worthiness of the object and the energy with which the ladies have been promoting it, and a large crowd is expected.

A few months ago some of the energetic and public-spirited ladies of our city organized the society to raise funds to assist in carrying on the charitable work of St. Mark's hospital.

The membership of the society is large and is constantly increasing. It is non-sectarian and includes members of nearly all of our churches.

The officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. William Inglehart; secretary, Mrs. Aaron Keyser; treasurer, Mrs. Jay T. Harris; vice presidents, Mrs. Jacob Bamberger, Mrs. Sol Siegel, Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mrs. Rachel Miller, Mrs. Windsor Y. Rice; executive committee, Mrs. A. T. Moon, Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. S. L. Butler.

EXPERT WAITE IN TOWN.

Governor Cutler Calls His Attention to The Sugar Beet Pest.

M. B. Waite of Washington, from the department of agriculture, whose special duty is to look into diseases of fruit trees, passed through the city yesterday. In calling on Gov. Cutler to pay his respects, Mr. Waite stated that he had been looking into the condition of orchard trees in Colorado. The governor brought to his attention the question of the insect known as the white fly, which has done so much damage to the beet crop in certain parts of Utah, and asked Mr. Waite whether he could not prolong his stay sufficiently to look into this question. Unfortunately, Mr. Waite's engagements in California would not allow him to remain in this state, but he took great interest in learning all that was possible regarding the beet pest, and it is hoped that the data he will take back to the department in Washington may result in steps being taken to eradicate the pest before another season arrives.

BOULEVARD FUND GROWING RAPIDLY

All Classes of Citizens Have Combined to Build the Driveway.

TOTAL OVER SEVEN THOUSAND.

Property Owners Along Route Will Grade Street and Plant Trees from Canyon to City Cemetery.

The work of filling up the lists of subscribers for the new boulevard on the northeast heights is progressing rapidly under the direction of the Commercial club officers. It is now certain that when the total contributions are turned in, the sum will pass the $5,000 mark by nearly half that figure. The newest development is on the part of the property owners along the driveway. While the boulevard is a general necessity, and its building will bring improvements far in excess of the local raise in price of boulevard land, still those who live by the driveway will be enriched materially. For that reason they have added the substantial amount of $1,715 to the fund. It will not figure in the total of $5,000, but will be spent by the owners themselves through a committee, in grading the boulevard from City creek canyon to the west side of the city cemetery, and in beautifying the drive by planting trees and shrubbery. Altogether it seems that the boulevard plan is in a most flourishing condition, and that the entire scheme is going through without serious friction. The subscription lists show a general response from the substantial business houses and leading citizens, that indicates their attitude to be one of entire endorsement.

BIG BIRTHDAY BANQUET GIVEN.

The Seventy-Fourth Anniversary Of Bishop George Romney Celebrated Last Night.

SHOWER OF CONGRATULATIONS

Speeches, Music, Refreshments, and General Good Time—Guest of Honor a Man Among Men.

Rare and beautiful was the birthday celebration tendered to Bishop Romney by members of his family in the Twentieth ward amusement hall last night on the occasion of his having reached the seventy-fourth annual mile stone on life's eventful journey. Among those present were many personal friends of the worthy Bishop.

The list included Gov. Cutler and wife, Presidents Joseph F. Smith and Anthon H. Lund, Charles W. Penrose, Col and Mrs. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Riter, J. M. Knight and wife, ex-Mayor John Clark, Joseph S. Wells, H. S. Young and wife, Geo. T. Odell, C. R. Savage and wife, J. G. McDonald and wife, John E. Hansen and wife, Mat Thomas, H. W. Naisbett, William Foster, R. F. Neslen, Geo. F. Gibbs, Joseph F. Simpson, the two later being Bishop Romney's counselors, and many others.

The large hall was most artistically decorated with flags and bunting, flowers and potted plants, furnishings and bric-a-brac from the homes of the sons and daughters of the man to whom honor was being done. Oriental rugs, tables, easy chairs and divans were arranged at proper intervals on the floor over which the guests moved at will to converse with friends between the numbers of the program. Christensen's orchestra discoursed sweet and stirring music through the entire evening. A most elaborate banquet was served in an adjoining room where great rows of tables presented a very pretty sight.

The master of ceremonies was Mr. O. D. Romney, who acquitted himself with credit. The program opened with prayer by Miles A. Romney and a piano solo was given by Kate Romney Stewart after which an address of welcome and good cheer was delivered by Ernest Romney. Thomas Ashworth, George Margetts and Mary Romney Ross each delighted the audience with a song as did also William Russell. William Foster and C. R. Savage, President John M. Knight of the Ensign Stake entertained immensely in a recitation, and a piano solo by Myrtle Brain was well received. Mat Thomas gave a humorous reading. Following this number Bishop Romney in an earnest speech welcomed most warmely the friends who had met to shake his hand and bid him take courage along life's highway. He said he was thankful for all the friendships he enjoyed; for the good that was being done, but above all he was most thankful for the Gospel with which he had been identified for 66 years.

President Smith congratulated Bishop Romney on his attainment to so ripe an old age, and the accomplishment of so much good. He should be thankful for such a family as he had and his family should be thankful for such a father and the ward for such a Bishop. After reciting a number of personal experiences that had attached him to Bishop Romney he closed with the sincerely expressed hope that he might live yet for many years and round out the measure of his creation according to his desires in righteousness.

President Lund was the final speaker of the night's celebration, and delivered a brief although effective address and drew a very pretty simile, which he applied to Bishop Romney, and a scene that recently came under his observation while on a summer outing in the tops of the mountains. He said that near his camp was a fine forest. It comprised many magnificent trees. Some stood there in all the mighty grandeur with which nature had clothed them. Others had been lain low, whether by wind, fire or lightning he was not aware. But they had lived their allotted time and had gone back or were going back to the elements from which they came. Naturally he admired the splendid specimens which still remained rearing their lofty heads among the many of their fellows that had fallen. So he admired Bishop Romney who stood like a great tree in the forest of humanity, his faith unshaken, his loyalty unshattered by either the fire of persecution or the storms of hate. He had seen many men fall around him. He was a man among men and was glad that the Lord had blessed him with health and strength and faith and family and all that was good for man to have.

After a few further words he said good night and left the hall to take his carriage at the door to be driven to the Oregon Short Line depot, where he took the midnight train to attend the Transmississippi congress, which convenes at Portland tomorrow.

HARRIMAN FEEDER.

Line to be Built Connecting With Southern Pacific.

Kansas City, Aug. 15.—A special to the Star from Topeka, says:

Application was made here today for a charter for a railroad company, the purpose of which is to connect the Harriman railroads in the northwestern part of the United States with the Harriman lines running to New Orleans and through southeastern states.

The new railroad will connect with the Burlington lines on the north either at Oronoquo in Norton county, Kan., or Republican Junction in Harland county, Neb. It will run south from one of these places to Hayes City, Kan., and then through Great Bend or Larned to Pratt, and out of the state at Kiowa. At Cherokee, Okla., it will connect with the Denver, Enid & Gulf, a few miles of which is in operation. It will run east from Oklahoma City to Texarkana, Texas, where it will connect with the Southern Pacific. The headquarters of the new company will be in Medicine Lodge, Kan.

The incorporators of the company are: Breckenridge Jones, of St. Louis, Mo., who owns 5,000 shares of the stock; Ed. L. Chandler, Medicine Lodge, and Milton Brown, Topeka. The purpose of the company, as set forth in the application, will permit the new company to run feeders through nearly every county in the wheat belt. The estimated length of the main line is 360 miles.

FATHER OF DEAD GIRL ARRIVES.

Will Leave for Ohio in the Morning With Remains of Beloved And Trusted Daughter.

THINKS FATE MOST CRUEL.

Believed His Child Safe in School for Her Sex, but Found That Destroyer Followed Her All the Same.

E. G. Ferguson, the father of Miss Alice A. Ferguson, whose death caused the arrest of Dr. E. S. Payne, and Robert Lee Stephenson, arrived in Salt Lake last night from Tonopah, Nev. Today he completed arrangements for taking his daughter's remains back to the old family home at Newark, O. Part of the family are now buried there, and Mr. Ferguson is desirous of having his daughter buried beside the rest of his immediate family. The body will not go forward unaccompanied, but both Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and their oldest daughter will accompany it, leaving Salt Lake on the morning train tomorrow.

Mr. Ferguson stated today that he was in business at Tonopah, but had left his family here so that his daughters might obtain an education. Had Miss Alice lived, she would have completed her fourth year at Rowland hall next June. Placing his daughter in a girl's school he believed her safe from the ravages of the destroyer, but says he was sadly mistaken. He thinks fate most cruel to him. His grief today was most pathetic.

CASE CONTINUED.

The case of the State of Utah against Dr. E. S. Payne was called this morning in police court for arraignment. Owing to the failure of Judge O. W. Powers, counsel for Dr. Payne, to appear, the case was continued without date. The arraignment will take place just as soon as Judge Powers can appear for the defendant.

AMUSEMENTS.

Our old friend "Shore Acres" bobbed up into life at the Utahna park last night under the name of "New England Folks." The main characters were in the hands of George H. Milford and Miss Gresham, and the rendition seemed to please the audience. Vaudeville sketches were introduced between the acts and these will be continued each evening from 8 to 8:30 and at the close of the play.

A telegram to the "News" from Manager Collins dated Clayton, N. Y., 14th, says:

The "Mrs. Black is Back" company start for San Francisco tomorrow, playing en route at Omaha, Des Moines and Salt Lake City.
