

WOMAN DROWNED IN PROVO RIVER.

Tragic Fate of Mrs. Hyrum Nerdin
Of London, While Coming Down Canyon.

BUSY SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL

Temple Hill to be Sold to B. Y. University—Priesthood Meeting—
Funeral of Martha Corbett.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Hyrum Nerdin, of London, was drowned in Provo river about a mile above the Telluride company's lower power plant yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Nerdin and Joseph Jacobs of Danville precinct in Wasatch county, were driving down the canyon in a sleigh. A small snow slide on the blue dugway made the road dangerous, and the sleigh tipped over, throwing the woman into the river, while the men were thrown on rocks on the edge of the river. Word of the accident was soon sent down to Telluride power plant, when about 40 men immediately responded to the call. Mr. Hisset, S. J. Jones and John Bonnett being the first to reach the place. They discovered the woman lying against a rock about 200 yards below where she fell into the river, and where the body out. Every possible effort to bring her to life was made, but without avail. As soon as the people at the power plant heard of the accident, they telephoned sheriff Harmon with Sheriff Bonner of Wasatch county and Deputy Sheriff Barnett went to the scene of the accident, but the body was found before they arrived. London was also notified and a large body of people prepared to go and search the river, but were notified that the body had been recovered. Bishop Cobby and others, however, came and took the body home. The deceased was about 25 years of age. She was the daughter of Henry Clegg of Heber, and had been on a visit to Heber.

Considerable indignation is expressed by the men at the power plant, that Mrs. Nerdin should be permitted to drown in the river, but it is reported that the place where she was drowned. There is, however, quite a strong current.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

The following business was transacted at the meeting of the city council, last evening.

A communication from W. W. Matthews of Eureka asking that a fence on the south side of his property on Fifth North street, which had been moved a rod back on petitioner's property by order of the city council, be placed back in its original position. Referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

A communication from Robert Anderson and Mida Anderson, offering to sell the city land for opening of Fifth South street, for $40, was referred to the committee on public grounds and city property.

The committee on public grounds and city property recommended that the ground known as Temple Hill be sold to the Brigham Young University for $15 an acre, provided it be used for building purposes, and that if the university would build on the ground that the ground revert back to the city at the same price. The land in question consists of about 16 acres, situated in the northeast part of the city.

The students petitioned to buy the ground for a campus, but the committee considered that the ground was too valuable for that purpose, and could not recommend selling it for that use only, but would sell at the low price named if it should be used for building purposes. The report was unanimously adopted.

A. M. Zabriski was employed as deputy superintendent of waterworks at a salary of $50 a month.

The committee on electric light recommended that a light be placed at the intersection of Fourth South and Second West, one at each crossing of the railroad tracks on West Center street, and that the lights be extended north to the city limits on Academy avenue.

Some opposition was raised to the extension of lights on account of the expense. The report was adopted after being amended by striking out the recommendation for extension of lights on Academy avenue.

The committee on judiciary reported on the communication from Charles J. Wahlgren, county attorney of Wasatch county, in regard to befalling water on Provo river by parties last summer. The report recommended that nothing be done in the way of prosecuting the old cases, but that cases of befalling the water next summer be vigorously prosecuted. Report adopted.

The committee on printing and engraving recommended that the engraving company be given the contract for publishing ordinances, etc., for the year. Report adopted.

The committee on rules recommended that the committee on references to committees can be made by the president without motion, except when objections are made.

The committee on fire department and the president were instructed to confer with the authorities of the Brigham Young University with a view to have the doors of the large halls of the institution changed, so that they shall open outward, instead of opening inward, as now. The committee was also instructed to inspect the means of exit at the opera house, and to examine other public buildings.

EST. 1847. ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS

A universal remedy for pains in the back (so frequent in the case of women). They give instantaneous relief.

Wherever there is a pain a Plaster should be applied. Rheumatism, Colds, Coughs, Weak Chest, Weak Back, Lumbago, Sciatica, &c., &c. Alcock's Plasters are superior to all others.

The afternoon was spent very pleasantly. Nellie Bruce-Pugsley sang, "On the Danube River," and "Home Sweet Home." In 1844, came to Council Bluffs in 1848, and in company with her brother, Wm. Ward, the sculptor, crossed the plains in 1850. She was the first white woman to live in Fairview, Sanpete county, was one of the first schoolteachers in that settlement, and helped organize the Relief society there, and was president of that organization for many years. In 1879 she was called by President Henry Wood, president of the Indian mission, to go to Arizona and labor among the Indians for many years without pay until her eyesight failed when she had to give up her labors in that direction. About 19 years ago her husband died and eight years later she married Mr. Sugar House, and has since resided with her daughter, Mrs. Hoge, and despite her years she enjoys good health.

Night Was Her Terror. "I would not nearly as much for," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 50 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

COLD WAVE IN DIXIE.
Wind, Hail and Rain—Water Again in Canals.

Special Correspondence.
Bloomington, Washington Co., Feb. 6.—On the evening of the 5th a cold wave accompanied with high wind, passed over the country. During the night we had two small hailstorms, and on the 6th it rained, while the surrounding mountains are capped with snow, low down. This morning it is cold but clear and the wind has ceased entirely.

There has been some sickness among the people, but all are feeling better now.

The Price dam is about completed and water is now running in the canal.

No Pity Shown. "For years fate was after me continuously," writes F. A. Guldge, Verden, Ala. "I had a terrible case of the Piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. Equally good for Burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

LAKE TOWN.
ELDERS QUORUM ORGANIZED.

Visit of Stake Presidency—Mild, Open Winter With Little Snow.

Special Correspondence.
Lake Town, Rich Co., Feb. 4.—Last Saturday President Wm. Hoge and others of the stake presidency and High Council, visited this ward and held meeting with the people. They visited the Sunday school first, and then called on the local Elders and organized the First quorum of Elders of the Bear Lake stake, as follows: President, Royce, of Garden City; and David Hyden, of Round Valley, counselors; Orson P. Satterthwaite, of Lake Town, secretary. The quorum will include in its membership all the Elders residing in the wards named. There are eight quorums organized in this stake, all now fully organized.

The visiting brethren held meetings with the people of this and neighboring wards the afternoon and evening.

The winter has been a mild and open one. The roads are mostly dusty even now, with a drift of snow in patches here and there.

years old at the time of Napoleon's final defeat. Her parents were visiting in Belgium in the vicinity of Waterloo when the battle was fought, and the impression on the child's mind was such that it has never been effaced.

A NIGHT ALARM.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the child's death knell and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier, of Manlius, Ky., says: "My three year old girl had a severe case of croup, the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave quick relief and she is now well." Sole agent, F. J. Hill Drug Co.

LUND, IDAHO.

BISHOP REDDISH HONORED.
Special Correspondence.
Lund, Bannock Co., Ida., Feb. 8.—On Monday Feb. 8, the annual meeting of the Lund Bannock Company, limited, was held in Pack's hall at Grace. After hearing the secretary's report of the financial condition of the company the following were elected as the board of directors for the ensuing year: E. J. Turner, Geo. A. Tolson, E. H. Reddish, Geo. Telford and David Miles. About 4,000 shares of the company's stock was represented.

BISHOP REDDISH HONORED.
Friday night, Feb. 5, the choir and members of the church gave a surprise party on the Bishop, P. H. Reddish, at his home, and adjournment was taken to the schoolhouse, where a good program was rendered. Deceased was a native of Sweden, and was a member of the Lund Bannock Company, a position of respect from people whom he has presided over for nearly five years. After the program was over a delicious picnic was taken, and the remaining time was spent in dancing and social chat.

WHY THEY COULDN'T OBEY.
Clerk McDowell, of the house, saw Civil War service, and was at the battle of Fredericksburg, which resulted disastrously for the Union. His captain was an officer of the name of Ridgely, and the company, after a disastrous encounter with the enemy, started on a lively retreat.

"I met with Capt. Ridgely," said Mr. McDowell yesterday, "and almost at the same time, Gen. Meade came riding down upon us.

"Form your men, captain," shouted the general.

"Ridgely drew his sword. 'Form on me, men,' said he, obedient to the orders from high authority.

"McDowell, a soldier named Morfarty, and me were all there were to form. As we huddled together a shell burst near and Ridgely ran for half a mile before he was killed.

"When he halted he again drew his sword and shouted: 'Form on me, men.' Again shell burst and he was killed. I ran for another half mile to the rear, still again drawing his sword and shouting: 'Form on me, men.'

"By the time that Morfarty and I were exhausted from running, 'Form on us,' said I. 'How can we do that when you can run faster than either of us?'"—Washington Post.

MILD OPEN WINTER.
Enthusiasm in Beet Growing Industry—Winter Amusements.

Special Correspondence.
Cardston, Alberta, Canada, Feb. 3.—While we read that the people of Utah are enjoying deep snows and a rollicking mercury indicating variations in temperature, anywhere from zero to 25 and 30 below, enjoying a fine open 25 and 30 below, we are enjoying a fine open winter, with very little snow.

We are certainly proud of our country and climate. Grading work is still progressing on canals and railroad extension, thus furnishing sale for large quantities of grain and baled hay, with work for all.

On Monday evening last Messrs. J. W. Knight and T. J. O'Brien of the Knight Sugar company, held a meeting with the Cardston farmers and intelligently discussed beet raising and attendant industries. Much information was given, and at the close of a most enthusiastic session a great many contracts were signed for growing beets at prices which will net the farmers from $4.25 to $4.45 per ton. It is believed that in and around this district, with Cardston as a center, will be grown the greatest tonnage of any country or section yet tried. There is much enthusiasm manifested in this industry, and with the advent of the railway in early spring, the end of track being only three or four miles away at present, the increased interest in dairying and prospects for the establishment of a pork packing industry in our midst, together with the tide of immigration now setting our way, we are sure of a solid and substantial growth. We have plenty of land rich and deep, and do not need to irrigate as we certainly ought to feel blessed.

For amusement, dancing forms the principal attraction, interspersed with a few performances by local dramatic talent. Two weeks ago the Raymond organization, headed by that old-time favorite, Aaron Johnson, played four nights to appreciative audiences. The Cardston Sunday school troupe plays a variety engagement at Raymond this week.

The Northwest Agricultural college bulletin, just issued, shows three of Cardston's sons at the top of their class, carrying off three of the six special prizes offered for proficiency in studies.

Shearing Williams, B. A., principal of our schools, is slightly indisposed and out of the school room for a day or two.
