NEWS OF THE WEST.

The Late Cattlemen's Troubles in Johnson County, Wyoming.

THE "VOICE" OF THE PEOPLE.

A Traveler Fatally Injured—Was Found Dead in a Coal Mine, etc.

In Sheridan, Wyo., the business men are stirring up the question of putting in a telephone exchange here.

More than 1,000 cows of calves are said to be held in Fresno by parties who anticipate an advance in the price, which is expected to take place soon.

The salmon business is on the increase at Hot Springs, Wyoming. Two more "Hot-eys" of this place were opened last week and several others are promised.

The only Cat in known man was found near Dayton, Nev., in what is known as the Housing dug out on Only a few crevices on the head furnish a basis for a theory as to the cause of death, and it is not known whether he met death by foul play, air, accident, natural or suicidal causes.

A Fresno (Cal.) firm is sending dried fruit to San Francisco by single teams, and is arranging to ship oranges, in the season, this winter by the same method, except that they will be loaded in freight, instead of being brought to the city by hand. They believe their team can do well and be a great relief to the railroads, whose charges by the pound.

Carson (Nevada) Assay Henry Van Bokkin was arriving in the city last Monday when his team became frightened and ran away. They ran into the fence that at one the road, throwing Mr. Van Bokkin violently to the ground. The injured man remained unconscious seven hours. He is 72 years of age and should he recover it will be a miracle.

The Fresno, Cal., Morning Expositor has passed into new hands. The Fresno Loan and Savings bank bought the presses, type and outfit at a recommended sale, and N. L. F. Eichel, designated to be assembly from the Sixty-third district, will be the editor. It is said that the policy of the paper will be changed from Democratic to independent and that it will be a republican.

Laramie Boomerang: Johnson county will succeed in have the state legislature make an appropriation of $25,000 to reimburse the county for expenses incurred in prosecuting the parties who took part in the cattlemen's invasion. A bill of this kind passed both houses of the legislature two years ago, but failed to receive a law on account of the press of the adjournment of the house of representatives.

It is estimated that over 50,000 head of sheep have been driven into Sweetwater county from outside points principally from Utah, so far during the winter, says the Lander (Wyo.) Boomerang. Sweetwater county derives no revenue from these herds, and the farmers in that county are very anxious to having the range cleared by the foreign sheep. The matter will be a subject for legislation at the coming session of the legislature.

Warden Campbell says prisoners in the Boise penitentiary were allowed to hold an election among themselves at their request. That is a statement published in the Hailey (Idaho) Times. Regular ballots to have been used. There were ten Republican votes and a no Democratic, but the Populists had a clear majority of twenty-three votes over the combined vote of the Republicans and Democrats.

The Idaho delegate in the Trans-Mississippi congress will put forth their best efforts to bring the next session of the congress to Boise, says the Statesman. This city some time carrying off the plum last year, and there is every reason to believe Idaho's claim will come if successful this time. Governor McConnell has written a letter to each of the Idaho delegates who will attend the congress, urging them to make a strong stand for Boise. He has also addressed a letter to the president of the congress on the subject.

According to the Virginia (Nevada) Enterprise Comstock was shaken to crescently between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock last Sunday morning by a seismic disturbance, and timid people were thoroughly frightened. The tremors started shortly after 2 o'clock and were almost imperceptibly felt until twenty minutes to 3. Down in the mines the shocks were felt plainly. The center of the disturbance is apparently Mt. Davidson, and it is of narrow scope. All of the shocks felt here have apparently been felt at Carson, but no further away from the Comstock.

Quite a force of men are at work at Morrisdale, says the Miami Sentinel. The plans are so extensive that it is necessary to erect the work along the river. If completed before snow flies, switches are being laid, a tramway to take the coal from the mine to the coal is being built, a locomotive to bring the coal from the mine to be set in place, bank houses, etc., to be erected. Altogether Morrisdale is about as lively a place just now as there is in Gallatin county, and the labor furnished, and materials sold as lumber, ties, etc., purchased, is scattering considerable money among the boys.

Failures.

"Do not for one instant forget," said a prominent artist, addressing his pupils, "that so called failures are only milestones on the road to success. With each one passed there is just so much of the weary, terrible journey behind you, and you are just so much nearer the goal." A comfortable theory which it would be well if we were philosophical enough to apply to all our undertakings. If young people, too, could only be taught to count their best failures as so many premiums paid to experience, how much discouragement would be saved and how many ultimate triumphs won! Patient and trustful, the not half appreciate the value of a failure, which with hope and kindness is turned to good account, and which the end may be far more beneficial than a success. Children should early trained to consider them not in the light of discouragements, but as the best incentive possible.—New York Tribune.
