IN RUSSIAN HANDS.

Chinese Influence Now Predominating in Eastern Asia.

ENGLAND DRIVEN TO THE WALL.

The Ultimate Purpose of the Czar to Occupy Port Arthur With the Approval of China.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27. — Reports coming here to officials and to the diplomatic representatives of eastern countries indicate that the Slavonic, or Russian influence is becoming dominant, and that the Anglo-Saxon or English influence, which has hitherto been uppermost in the development of the east, is being systematically and surely eliminated from the world of China and the east. This evolution is regarded as of great importance.

The advance of Russian influence and the retirement of the British has come by stages, none of which has been sufficient in itself to attract marked attention, but all of them combining toward complete Russian supremacy.

At the close of the recent war Russia dictated the evacuation of Liao Tung peninsula and the great fortress of Port Arthur when had been captured by Japan. It is now believed by those in a position to be officially informed of the situation that it is the ultimate purpose of Russia to occupy Port Arthur and that the formal evacuation by the Japanese will be followed before long by a Russian fleet under Chinese approval. After Russia had dictated the retirement of the Japanese from Port Arthur the Russian government advanced the loan necessary to pay the first installment of its indemnity to Japan. The amount involved is $100,000,000 in gold, including the war indemnity and the payment for the release of Port Arthur. The loan was negotiated and the money paid over to Japan within a week, in the last few days by reports of the establishment at Shanghai of a Russian bank which will be a medium of China's financial dealings with Russia. These are some of the principal events which are regarded by those in official positions as leading towards Chinese dependence on Russia.

While Russia is thus making her hold on the east secure, the English influence is being thrown off by a succession of events, some of them threatening to occasion serious trouble. The Chinese have dismissed Sir Robert Hart from the head of the customs department, for which post he was the principal representative of England's influence in China. He had assisted the Chinese customs service in English fashion and filled it with Englishmen. His title was conferred upon him by the queen by reason of his meritorious service in China. His retirement has been followed by a demand by China for the recall of Mr. O'Connor, the British minister to Pekin, the ostensible reason being the resignation of the minister in the recent investigation of riots against foreigners, though those conversant with the history think the real reason was the influence of Russia.

A striking illustration of the change in China has come to the attention of the officials here. An American gentleman recently arrived in Washington after leaving China for some time negotiating for the building of a railroad with American capital. He found the Russian influence so strong that he went to the Russian embassador at Pekin to learn if the American project would be viewed with favor by the Russians. The embassador said: "Yes, Americans and American capital will be welcome in the development of China, but British capital is not wanted."

In the most emphatic manner the embassador made known his opinion that British influence in China was at an end and that Russia had openly entered upon her course controlling and developing China.

In an hour like this of the United States has become involved in this evolution of Chinese affairs. The present conditions were foreseen by Great Britain some time ago, before the Rosebery government went out of office. Lord Kimberly addressed a note to the country suggesting joint action in the settlement of the Chinese Japan problem. It has since been disclosed by British officials at Washington that the purpose of Lord Kimberly was to cement English as against Russian influence. The United States declined Lord Kimberly's overture, and as a result the Russian influence has been left free to execute their team plan of bringing the affairs of the world under the influence of the czar.

Several interesting eastern events are to occur shortly. On November 1st, the first installment of fifty millions of taels on the Japanese war indemnity is due. Russia has already secured the money in China, but a grave question has arisen, whether China, having the money, will pay it to Japan. One of the action demands that part of it be retained for China's home needs, with an extension of debt to Japan. Russia insists that the full sum shall be paid to Japan.

It appears also from an official report received here, dated the latter part of August, that Li Hung Chang is again in disfavor and that the leaders of the ignorant native factions are uppermost. The viceroy of Nankin is the head of the opposition to Li, and the reports reaching officials here show that she Nankin viceroy is the new power in China. A purely nominal title of "viceroy" of Japan has been conferred upon Li, but it has no power or duties. It has been found, however, that Li is the only man capable of negotiating the new commercial treaty with Japan and he has been named for this duty. A serious block has occurred in the treaty owing to the Japanese demand that Japanese courts shall have extra territorial jurisdiction in China, while no such privilege is to be allowed in Japan. This is a humiliation which the Chinese resent.

But these questions of treaty, intercourse, etc., are regarded as subordinate in importance to the larger question of Russian supplanting British influence.

New York Central Earnings.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The annual report of the New York Central Railway company for the year ending June 30, 1895, has been issued in pamphlet form. It shows that during the year the gross income was $12,489,237.

There is an increase in freight earnings of $381,000 over the previous year, and a decrease in passenger earnings of $1,169,665. The total operating expenses were $28,810,445, a decrease of $687,963 from the previous year. The net earnings for the year are $12,929,094; fixed charges $10,556,889; profit $2,372,045; dividend $4,238,999, leaving a deficit of $1,217,576.

CUBAN INSURGENT DISAGREE.

Civil Faction May Establish Headquarters in Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The World will say tomorrow:

The New York representative of the insurgents in Cuba are seriously disagreed, and if arrangements can be made with the Mexican government, Secretary Quesada will make his headquarters in Mexico City. Delegate Palma, Treasurer Guerra and Antonio Calas, the banker, constitute one faction; Secretary Gonzalo Quesada, Horatio Rubens, the junta's legal adviser, Leon Benoit, his assistant, and Dr. Bagnuilly, the recently-elected minister of foreign affairs, form the other faction.

Indian Killed by a Mob.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 26.—News comes from Keeseville that Philip Seybert, in an altercation over a game of cards, was shot and killed by Willie Archer, an Indian. Archer was arrested. At the request a verdict of willful murder was returned, after which a number of citizens took Archer from the officers and killed him. He was found with six bullet holes and several fatal knife cuts in his body.

Murderer Hanged.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26.—Martin Adams, of Cincinnati, who caused the death of John Ohmer by putting strychnine into a pail of beer, was hanged in the penitentiary yard at 11:07 this morning. The neck was not broken, and he died of strangulation in twelve and a half minutes.

New Commander, New Staff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Orders were issued from the war department today detailing all the officers of Lieut. General Schofield's staff upon the expiration of the term of service. Lieut. Col. Charles B. Schofield is granted four months leave of absence and then ordered to join his command at Second cavalry; Lieut. Col. Joseph H. Sanger and Tasker H. Fish are assigned to report to the secretary of war for orders. So the new commanding general will have a completely new staff.

Price on Window Glass Advanced.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—A local paper says:

Window glass has been advanced 2½ per cent in accordance with the policy marked out by the recently perfected agreement between the makers. A further advance of 5 per cent will be made if dealers pay the demand justifies it. The inquiry is said to be surprisingly large for glass, and it is predicted by all the mills are now in operation, most of them are said to be sold up for some time to come. Another advance in wire nails is expected to cut the jobbing trade to take place within a week. The present price is $2.20 for September delivery, but the makers have none to sell and are refusing to make quotations for October.

Sporting Men Not Alarmed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The Chicago sporting men do not seem to be much alarmed by the action taken by the governor of Texas. They say it is one thing to call the legislature together and another to secure the passage of a law prohibiting fighting.

Dan Stuart last night telegraphed F. E. Kennedy, who was Fairly Carroll's agent in Texas, to offer Dallas for the fight, that the fight would be brought off in the Indian territory if a law was passed prohibiting it in Texas. What action Uncle Sam would take if the two pugilists attempt to meet on his domain is problematical.

Expelled from Presidio Reservation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—W. H. Appelman, who was tried for the murder of Engineer Clarke, in the famous train wreck near Sacramento in which four United States soldiers were also killed, was arrested in the Presidio today by order of General Merriam, and was expelled from the grounds. With him was C. E. Bandall, an ex-trainer, who was treated in the same manner. Both claim to be the men visited the Presidio to view the famous monument erected to the memory of the murdered soldiers. General Merriam had ordered to be carved on the monument the inscription:

"Murdered by strikers." The A. R. U. men have been trying to have this inscription removed and have appealed to the war department. After inspecting the monument Appelman and Randall wandered about the grounds while the guard was seized by soldiers and taken before Graham. They denied that they were American citizens and had a right to enjoy the grounds, but the general ordered them out and they were escorted to the gate by a guard of soldiers. General Graham says the men visited the morgue and asked naive questions of the guard as to him to believe they contemplated mischief. The monument is guarded night and day in order to prevent its destruction by ex-strikers.

WITNESSES FOR DURRANT.

Saw the Accused Enter the Church Alone.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The following students had been sub-poenaed and will be called to the stand in the Durrant case today: Dr. Stillman and Dr. Binford, and students Wythe, Cross, Duglas, Carter, Graham and Walters of the Cooper college; Seymour W. Condon, E. Carpenter and Robert W. Maitland.

Carpenter is an expert gas fitter who will explain the workings on the gas burner in Emmanuel church, and Maitland, an expert electrician, will show by diagrams and charts how the electrical apparatus of the building is run.

The prosecution, during the presentation of its evidence against Durrant, was unable to present testimony tending to show that the accused was of immoral character and had visited immoral resorts. When the time for rebuttal came, however, it is the intention to present all of that evidence. It is claimed by the detectives that they have sufficient proof to effect every point they have to be offered to prove a good character for the accused.

The report that the defense in the Durrant case would produce 1a witness who would testify that she saw the accused medical student enter the Emmanuel Baptist church alone on the afternoon of April 3rd, between 4:30 and 5 o'clock, within which time Blanche Lamont is supposed to have been murdered, has been confirmed, but the few people to whom this witness has confided the story guard her name carefully. Wm. A. Deed, a stock broker, knows the woman who may thus testify, and is in possession of the name of the evidence she will give.

Mr. Deed said: "I know of this witness, because the story was told to me. Several months ago I met her and she pledged to secrecy. When the proper time comes and to the proper authorities, the evidence will be given."

The story as known to police headquarters is that the woman was a young man walking toward the church on that afternoon at the time mentioned and accosted him, mistaking him at first for a friend. She apologized, passed on, and then, curious about her mistake, turned and saw the stranger entering the church. Recently she is said to have identified Durrant as the young man she spoke to on that afternoon.

Mr. Deed would neither deny nor confirm this. He said that he had authority for concealing anything. The point with him was that the lady might be mistaken, and should she found that she was not it was unnecessary to bring her name before the public.

TANGLED RELATIONSHIP.

Strange Matrimonial Enterprises by a Young Schoolmaster.

VANCEBURG, KY., Sept. 27.—Wm. Sargent, a young man of this place, finds himself in the unenviable position of being a bigamist, a brother-in-law to his own wife and uncle to his child, which will, when big enough, call him father. And to make his burden still heavier he has got Mrs. Kate Evans, an estimable widow of Vanceburg, twice his mother-in-law.

A few years ago Sargent married Rose Evans and lived with her a few months. Then he went west to seek his fortune. After two years the report came that he was dead and his wife discarded her weeds a year later and married again. Sargent suddenly turned up in his old home. There was no divorce, but an agreement was entered into by which Sargent No. 1 was to retain possession of the wife, while Sargent second and was Mary, his wife's younger sister. A few weeks after the second marriage the young man again left for parts unknown. A year ago the report came to Vanceburg that he had been killed in Montana, and with Sargent Charles Simpler, to whom she bore a son.

Thursday, Mary and Rose, while sitting on the porch of the home they jointly occupied, were accosted by Sargent coming up the road. Another agreement was proposed, but Sargent failed to entertain it, by saying he was going to stay at home this time and wanted his wife Mary with the child. Simpler had other alternatives, and to choose the simpler way out of the perplexing difficulty. He packed his baggage, kissed his wife goodbye and left for Ohio.

Sargent is now in full possession of the house but does not seem to know just where he is at, and it will take considerable calculating of genealogical and domestic problems to set him exactly right.

Amnesty Bill Voted Down.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Herald's cable dispatch at Rio Janeiro telegraphs that the bill granting amnesty to those until lately engaged in revolt against the government in the state of Rio Grande do Sul was voted down in the house of deputies after a debate marked by a vast amount of excitement. Large forces, both of police and military, were necessary outside the legislative halls to keep back the crowd of people that had gathered, and that was filled apparently with a spirit of rebellion.

The deputies when they appeared in the street, were hissed and insulted, and had it not been for the strong guard that surrounded them they would undoubtedly have been attacked and perhaps killed.

The engineer claimed he saw the signal for clear and without stopping—to use a railroad term—"sidewiped" No. 4, overturning two passenger coaches and striking the baggage car. POLITICS PREVENTS.

Gentlemen Who Cannot Attend the Western States Conference.

BUT TWO DELEGATES MAY GO

Hon. Hadley D. Johnson and E. E. Wilder—Important and Urgent Letter to the Former.

It is seldom that Utah citizens will not sacrifice time and means to perform an important public duty. But there are occasions with them, as with others, when the pressure of other responsibilities are so great that they must decline to act.

Such an exigency has arisen with reference to Utah representation at the coming Western States conference to be held at Topeka, Kansas, October 1 to 3 inclusive, for the purpose of discussing the best methods to utilize the advantages of a deep water harbor at Galveston, Texas, and to consider the advisability of holding an Inter-American Exposition.

News readers will recollect that the Territory's chief executive was requested to appoint a number of delegates, among whom it was also asked that the congressional representative and United States senators from the new state be included; and that Governor West named all of the known aspirants to those offices. Inquiry at the executive office today elicited the fact that letters of thanks, declination and regret had been received from Hon. F. J. Cannon, J. L. Rawlins, Judge Bennett and C. E. Allen, all of them being engaged in active political work. Of several others who have neither responded affirmatively or negatively, it is known that some of them have the matter under consideration for remaining at home as the gentlemen referred to. These are Judge C. C. Goodwin, Arthur Brown, Moses Thatcher, Lorenzo Trumbo, B. H. Roberts and Charles Crane.

It is not certain, however, that Utah will be unrepresented. Hon. Hadley D. Johnson, who has been in the habit of attending these events, may conclude to go, and in the event that he does so he will probably be accompanied by Hon. E. E. Wilder, of Beaver county. The conference is to be held at a time of the year particularly inexpedient in Utah on account of being in the midst of an important political campaign. At an earlier or later date there is no doubt that the Territory would have sent the full delegation asked for.

Hon. Hadley D. Johnson, who was appointed as one of the delegates to attend this Congress, has just received a letter of which the following is a copy, from Secretary Hutchinson:

TOPEKA, Kansas, Sept. 21, 1895.

As a delegate to the Western States conference, which convenes in Topeka, October 1, I ask you will on placed to learn that the meeting is already an assured success.

The governors of Missouri, Texas, Nebraska, Kansas, Arkansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Wyoming have appointed delegates, some of whom have signified their intention to be present.

The leading cities of the West will be represented by good delegations, and the attendance promises to exceed that of any commercial gathering ever held west of the Mississippi river. Dead timber and other products must go to deep water at the nearest available point.

SEND THIS CIRCULATE.

Circular of the Commercial Market Section, Department of the Interior, says: "During the year 1894, the United States exports amounted to $892,672,628. Three-fourths of that amount, or $660,159,429, is directly evolved from the farms of this country, of the remaining one-fourth, four-fifths, or $173,419,199, consists of domestic manufactures, the materials of which are largely furnished by American farmers."

The freight charges to the Atlantic will keep the West poor until relief comes. Let us consider this matter seriously and earnestly, and if an Inter-American Exposition or discussion in honor of the completion of the jetties, which deepen southport water to floor the largest commerce-bearing vessels, will bring about such results as are indicated, let us do our share toward the expense, let us hold the exposition by all means. Write that you will be present and send a letter to the office in time for the next mail.

HUTCHISON VS BUTLER.

Mrs. Belle Hutchison made complaint before U. S. Commissioner Rominger, against Mrs. Ella Butler. Both reside in a lodging house at 74 east First South street, and the complainant's description of the accused claimed the latter as "terrible with her tongue when aroused." She said the police had been afraid to listen to her complaint, since they did not dare to arrest the offender. Commissioner Rominger is not a giant physically, but the impression on his countenance indicated that he thought the majesty of his court could set into a reasonable degree of silence even a Xantippe, so he informed Mrs. Hutchison that if her case was just and she was giving an accurate account of what had happened, he would take appropriate action in the case. The police force might be afraid, but he believed the sheriff's office had the requisite amount of courage, and if that did not, the United States marshal and militia would be called to his assistance in serving the warrants of a United States officer. As a warter, Judge Rominger placed the warrant in the hands of the chief of police, and deputied Monte Montgomery to bring "a the prisoner.

MAY SETTLE IT.

The case of assault against Wm. H. Boyd, at the First ward, was set for 10 a. m. today, before U. S. Commissioner Greenman, but suffered a postponement till tomorrow. The cause for the proceeding is a probability that A. Hanauer, who made the complaint, and the accused may settle their little difference and become good friends without the pressure of the criminal law.

NOTES.

The trial of Robert Egbert and John Gardner, of West Jordan, ended in U. S. Commissioner Pratt's court yesterday afternoon after the News went to press. The court found both defendants guilty of assault, and fined them $15 each and costs.

Henry Haslam and Sarah Haslam have begun suit in the Third district court against Walker Bros. and Walker Bros., alleging that in the year 1891, plaintiffs are informed and believe, they executed a warranty deed to 7, 8, and 9 acres, more or less, by Field survey, to defendant Samuel Haslam, who is their son. The deed was placed in escrow with Walker Bros. to be delivered to Samuel Haslam upon the death of Henry Haslam, and it still remains in the possession of Walker Bros. The plaintiffs have discovered its return, which was recorded, Walker Bros. declaring that they will deliver same to Samuel Haslam at the death of Henry Haslam, according to the terms on which it was deposited with them. It is then alleged that the deed was obtained by Samuel Haslam without consideration and by fraud and undue influence, that both plaintiffs are old, 71 and 72 years respectively, and to tender health, and were ignorant of the purport of the deed when they signed it. Wherefore plaintiffs pray that the deed be cancelled in chancery and be declared null and void, and that it be adjudged that no title pass by the deed.
