Forgery.

A. J. Chamberlain of Ogden was surprised yesterday to learn that he had been made one of the defendants in a suit brought on a note signed by George A. Barry, Ed Lusty, H. Hartman and himself. The note is dated "August 15, 1891" and is for $195. The suit was drawn in favor of M. V. Gilbert, who sold it to J. H. Sawtelle, who has brought suit against the signers for the payment of the obligation. Neither Lusty, Chamberlain or Hartman know anything about and deny ever having signed the note.

The Wertz Case.

The Wertz case should have had a final hearing before Judge Bishop of Ogden, yesterday, but as he was otherwise engaged a continuance was taken.

A motion was made by the attorneys for the prosecution to change the charge of robbery to that of assault and Wertz made known his willingness to plead guilty and pay the judgment obtained against him in Terrace court, also the $5 assessment for contempt. Just what will be done with the case when it comes up again is a matter of much conjecture and considerable interest.

Another Bereavement.

Three deaths have occurred within a few months in the family of Brother Solomon F. Kimball. About nine months since Mrs. Kimball gave birth to twins and in a short time after the event the estimable lady passed away from this life. Some weeks subsequently one of the twins followed its mother and the remaining one succumbed to day, from an attack of summer complaint. Brother Kimball and family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. The funeral of the little boy will be conducted at the family residence, 274 Main street, at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Bishop Baudy Welcomed.

The following was handed to this afternoon, by the gentleman whose signature is attached to it, with a request to give it space in our columns, and we cheerfully comply:

St. Rev. James A. Baudy:

Dear Sir—As an old citizen of Utah, having resided here for the last 32 years, it devolves upon me, in behalf of the citizens of our beautiful city, to extend to you and your co-workers our hearty welcome to Utah.

The history of Utah and your church connection, will be a matter of pride to your city, as the first African Methodist Episcopal bishop, to preside over the conference of that church in Utah. I presume it will be a source of joy and happy reflection to you in the future. Remember, Bishop, that I feel certain our joyful welcome to you and your co-workers is not limited to colored citizens alone, but extends to the entire people of the Territory of Utah, irrespective of color or creed. We wish you and your co-workers success in the spreading of Gospel truth, not only in Utah but the whole world. Again, dear sir, with heartfelt joy, we welcome you and may God guide you in your journey through life.

F. H. GIBBS.

In behalf of the colored citizens of Salt Lake City.

Fatal Accident.

John, the five-year-old son of Wm. Darley of Wellsville, met with an accident Friday afternoon, which proved fatal. Following is a brief synopsis of the sad occurrence:

Mr. Darley and his little son were returning from Ogden where they had been by team. They had proceeded as far as Brigham City where the father purchased some melons. They continued their journey homeward eating the melons as they traveled.

Mr. Darley's attention was attracted from his son, in an opposite direction, and was recalled suddenly by the boy falling from the wagon. He drove to catch him but was too late. He fell to the ground and the wheels of the wagon passed over him.

Both shoulder blades were fractured and it is believed he received internal injuries.

The unfortunate boy was conveyed back to Brigham City, and his mother dispatched from Wellsville. She arrived in time to see her son before he was seized in the throes of death, but it was inevitable and nothing could restore him. He died Saturday morning.

His remains were conveyed to Wellsville and interred on Sunday, at 4 p.m. The funeral services were impressive and the bereaved mother refused to be comforted. General sympathy is felt for the family.—Logan Herald.

Too Much Salt for Fish.

Dr. Beaubier, of South Cottonwood, is the owner of a couple of fish ponds adjoining his residence and has been very successful in rearing a large number of beautiful trout. Lately he gave orders to a young man who attends the ponds to give the fish a little salt, thinking it would be good for them. By some mistance too much of the article was given to the fish. As a consequence they became blind, were therefore unable to procure their food and actually died of starvation in the midst of plenty. Last week Mr. Beaubier buried about two hundred and fifty pounds of these creatures that had died from this cause. The Doctor takes great pride in his grounds and is spending considerable means and labor in beautifying his place by planting vines, etc. He greatly regrets the loss of his finny pets, but is not discouraged, and will try again next spring, after cleaning out the ponds. He will be careful, however, not to endeavor to raise salt fish in future, having demonstrated that they can be more successfully produced fresh.
