TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 268 MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1894, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

THE RACE PROBLEM.

Seven Negroes Said to Have Been Slain in a Fight

WITH RAILROAD PASSENGERS.

They Were Forced to Ride in the Colored Apartment and Wanted to Have Revenge.

HAWKINSVILLE, KY., Oct. 6.—As the excursion train from the Owensboro fair arrived at Fakers station, a few miles west of this city, last night, a terrible race fight occurred between thirty drunken negroes and a few white men, as a result of which seven negroes are said to have been killed. It seems the negroes became angered because they were forced to ride in the colored apartment, and as they neared their home station they made a rush to get in some cars for white people. The frightened white women and their men, who had brought the train, As the special Deputy United States Marshal Moses Shillingham, who was the only on the train, met the negroes and attempted to quiet them. The negroes then began shooting as they got off the train. Deputy Shillingham and Squire Adams, both of this city, and Marshal Jones and Col. John Patterson, of Lewisport, had but a video face from the cowdy then became firing into the negroes. As the train pulled out the negroes shot all the windows out of one coach and the white men emptied their guns into the negroes who were running on the platform. None on the train was hurt, but it is thought at least seven negroes died and many others injured. The white men on the train went for battle, which was covered with blood when he came in. These statements are from the Rev. of United States Marshal Shillingham.

(Subject to be Sold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Forty-seven lots now in the Fair Association belonging to the Atlantic estate will be sold next week to be sold at auction in New York. The lot is situated on some of the best and suitable that the area has promises and some of the number are alley. Bell, a half-brother to Andrew Carnegie, a speculator of Homestead.

PANIC AT A THEATER.

Fire in an Adjoining Building Causes a Mad Rush for the Doors.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Panic at the Chicago theater followed the discovery of fire in an adjoining building last night. Nearly half the audience rushed from the theater and the performer were thrown into confusion before it was discovered that no fires were in danger. The employes and police at the theater made every effort to prevent a panic and to assure the strangers that the fire was in an adjoining building. But this had no effect upon the frightened men and women, who were determined to get out at all hazards. The greatest confusion attended the wild rush of the men and women in the galleries. Three hundred men and boys were compactly crowded into the railway leading to the street. They swept, howling and fought in their mad rush to break down the door. Only the efforts and timely words of a policeman prevented them trampling each other to death. After several minutes of determined work with his club, however, the officer succeeded in clearing the door and stairway and quiet was restored. A number of persons were extremely injured in the crush and several women were removed to a place conscious, but none were fatally hurt.

WAR AGAINST THE A. P. A.

Roman Catholics Form the American Liberal League.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Open and organized warfare against the American Protective association has been commenced in this city. Meetings have been held in every precinct and an organization called the American Liberal League has been formed by a number of prominent laymen in the Roman Catholic church to devise plans for the defeat of candidates in the coming election who may be supporters of the A. P. A. The organizers of the American Liberal league have exhausted every available means to learn the plans and methods of the A. P. A. They claim to have obtained accurate records of the A. P. A. membership in this city, with the names and addresses of the various lodges. Jabez P. Smith, an attorney, who is a prominent member of the American Liberal league, said:

"Our league is organized because it is only by organization that we can fight the A. P. A. movement. By the organization and central organization we will try to establish one of the A. P. A.'s are elected. The local Populist ticket is largely A. P. A. in its makeup, and the municipal nominations have almost made many A. P. A. names. In the recent Republican municipal convention there were 12 members of the A. P. A. and in times also the many names written in the American Liberal league will speak dangerous."

RAILWAY RETRENCHMENT.

Many Employes to be Discharged and Do Operate Saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The Chronicle says that the policy of retrenchment contemplated by the Southern Pacific railway company is to be carried out. A consolidation of divisions will take place on November 1. The division is to be abolished and many of the work of other divisions officials and employes will be a second division superintendent can be dispensed. The change means the laying off of the heads of all the petty officials of the abolished division and of half of the clerical force in the consolidated division, effecting a saving of several thousand dollars a month. William Hayes is to be relieved of the superintendency of the coast division and will be succeeded by J. L. Fraser, now superintendent of the San Joaquin, which is to be abolished and the headquarters removed from Fresno to San Francisco. The San Joaquin division will be divided, half of the territory being added to that now in charge of the Modoc division superintendent whose headquarters will be moved from Modoc to Bakersfield. The other half will be part of the Western division with headquarters at Oakland.

The Sugar Trust.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 8.—Charles J. Off, president of the Illinois Wholesale Grocers' association, last night freely discussed the sugar situation. He said that rules and regulations, which were important in their character, had not been lived up to by many of the members, and he considered this unfair competition responsible for the downfall of the association. The organization was formed largely for the purpose of regulating the price of sugar, which has been lowered for years without a profit, though it represents a large part of the sales of a grocery house. The sugar trust also the industry at the Pacific Mail Aspinwall to the jobbers, selling the sugar at 5-32 of a cent a pound more than the actual rate. The reason the jobber is not at the long price you receive a commission, and yet leaves a profit of 3-16 of a cent a pound.

He heavily attacked are Chicago wholesalers that Mr. Off anticipates a big drop in prices today. It is certain the refiners will go off and cheaply greatly. Sugar, however, will be secured at a rate, as before the formation of the association.

The other rules regulating carriage, breaking commission by traveling men and the regulation of rates between jobbing houses are also abandoned. The association will remain based but only for purposes of a social nature.

His Head Blown Off.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 8.—Dr. W. F. Gleasing, a dentist of wide reputation and ex-president of the State Dental association, was found in his office with the whole left side of his head blown off by a shotgun. He had power for months of gas in his mouth and when the shot went off blood and brains were scattered over the ceiling and three walls of the room. Gleasing was prosperous and happy in his domestic relations, his health had become impaired by the excessive use of cocaine, unquestionably causing mental derangement.

GRIEF AND JOY.

Sudden Bereavement Mars Which Was Awaiting the Marriage Ceremony.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The appointment with of Jacques Bernstein, a millionaire bachelor, was that he might be single enough to witness the marriage of his son John. Mr. Bernstein, who was 64, had lived for the past twenty-two years in Brooklyn. For about a year he had been suffering from an affection of the liver, and with the growing weakness came the wish to see his son married.

The young man was engaged to a Miss Lou Bernstein. The definite date had been selected for the marriage. Yesterday Mr. Bernstein learned that his end was near and he prevailed on the young couple to have the ceremony performed in the evening.

As the time approached Mr. Bernstein expressed the fear that he would not live until the hour and urged that it be hastened. All the children were present at the time excepting one daughter who was in Chicago with the cage. The preparations were hurried and the bridal party were about to proceed to Mr. Bernstein's bedroom. Mr. Bernstein had been sinking rapidly. The bride and groom took a position in the parlor, beside him, the guests were grouped with pillows. The other members of the family gathered close by his bedside. The latter was about to read the marriage ceremony, Mr. Bernstein died. The grief-stricken family were about to postpone the marriage but Mrs. Bernstein insisted that it should be carried out just as if her husband were alive. The family then witnessed the ceremony in making the young couple husband and wife.

ROBBERS IN A SALOON.

Masked Bandits Enter and Secure the Cash in the Place.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—A daring highway robbery took place last night at the saloon of Herman L. Fischer, 3001 Cancelosa avenue, at 8:45 o'clock. At that hour there were present Fischer and several quality concerts. The door was suddenly opened and a masked man, wearing a shoulder hat and a hooded overall over his face and mask, walked in and was closely followed by five more men, all wearing masks. The men held their revolvers and quickly ordered the night and the men in the saloon. The entrance of the robbers was so serious that the saloon-keeper and his companions were taken completely unawares, and were so frightened that they thought of no resistance. The bandits entered compliments. They entombed the men to the cellar of the house, and then ordered them to follow up their horses. The robbers, six in number, were then placed in line, and while five of the robbers kept them covered with revolvers, one of them went through their pockets.

From the pockets of Fischer together with the receipts of some days' sales, which were taken from the till, $65 was secured.

Eugene Fischer, a apprentice, contributed $4 of hard earned wages to the welfare of the free booters.

Joseph Fischer handed over $12. J. W. Furr gave up $4. Con Wilson and John Doherty, for good reasons not coming, because that was the size of their pies. The men on completing the robbery decided not the way they came and so quickly into the railroad yards where they were lost among the many cars standing on the tracks. The masked bandits police were quickly notified and the robbers are being closely pursued.

DENOUNCING THE SHOW.

Rev. Vanendel Creates a Stir by Attacking Society People.

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 8.—Society here is all agog over an attack made by Rev. G. W. Vanendel in his sermon last night on the twenty-five of "the 400." Actors were age some judge, including members of Rev. Vanendel's flock, gave a minstrel show for the benefit of the Universalist Church. The affair was a great success in every particular. The ladies and their friends attended and also showed the regulation amount of money to their sisters' degree and the "end without" were big spectacle diamond pins and played fashionables in a way that would do credit to a professional. The show met with the approval of Rev. Mr. Vanendel, and on Sunday evening he gave notice that he would dwell upon the subject in his sermon. During the week the matter has been the subject for much speculation and the preacher was criticised. Some of the members of his church requested him not to speak on the subject, but he published in the evening papers a card in which he claimed the right as a Christian minister to criticise the public acts of any individual, set of individuals, and that he would continue to the course he had laid out. The result was that his church was filled last evening. He denounced in strong terms such measures for raising money for the church. As result of the sermon there is likely to be a break in the Rev. Wommser's church.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

A Nice Point in Reference to a Burglary and a Butcher Shop.

EARL STEPHENSON IS DISCHARGED.

Roberts Sister Arraigned—A Woman and Her Two Husbands—Cases Before Judge Merritt.

Judge Barich resumed operations on the criminal calendar this morning.

IN THE STATUS AS FAUST.

The motion to arrest of judgment and for a new trial in the case of Sam Chow, convicted last week on a charge of burglarizing a butcher shop, was argued this morning by Attorney Morse on behalf of the defendant and by Judge Howat for the prosecution.

The ground on which the motion was based was that the indictment "did not charge a public offense." Defendant's counsel pointed out that the burglary was alleged to have been committed at a butcher's shop, and he contended that the Territorial statute did not make it an offense to burglarize "a butcher's shop."

Paragraph 1041, section 90, Compiled Laws Utah, reads as follows: "Every person who, in the night time, forcibly breaks and enters, or enters without force, through any open door, window or other opening, any house, room, apartment or tenement, or any tent, vessel, water craft or railroad car, with intent to commit larceny or any felony, is guilty of burglary."

Attorney Morse insisted that a butcher's shop might come under the 4th, fifth and sixth of the places named. The statute merely described the character of the building and not the occupancy.

Judge Howat said that if this view were to be generally accepted all the butchers, and other stores in the city might be burglarized with impunity. He called the attention of members of the last legislature to this particular statute, but nothing was done in the matter.

After some discussion Judge Barich took the point under advisement.

STEPHENSON SET FREE.

The case of Earl Stephenson, the Reform School boy, brought in the court on the petition of the managers of that institution, who asked that he, as an incorrigible, be transferred to the penitentiary, was again called up, whereupon Attorney Armstrong, on behalf of the defendant, contended that the indictment under which Stephenson was convicted was defective and that he could not be held under it.

It was alleged that the 1st burglary and Hieronimus's shoe store on the night of December 11, 1892. He was going to the offense and Judge Zane sentenced him to the reformatory.

Attorney Armstrong's contention was substantially the same as that urged by Attorney Morse in the foregoing case.

It transpired on the testimony of Deputy Marshal Timmony, who was called by the defense, that the defendant had been in the reformatory about nine months when he was a witness against the establishment. But he ran away from there.

Judge Barich asked Stephenson why he did this (that, by the way, apparently being the only thing against him).

The defendant answered that as there was nothing against him he applied to be discharged, but the board refused to let him go, although others who had done no better than he, if so well, got their release. Therefore he determined to run away.

Judge Howat thought no harm would be done if Stephenson were now discharged from custody, as Judge Barich suggested, adding, which significantly, defendant's discharge forthwith. The lad, who has an intelligent face and a quiet, inoffensive manner, then left the court with an air of satisfaction.

WHOSE WIFE IS SHE?

An application for the release of Emma Henderson (or Service) on her own recognizance was made by Attorney E. D. B. Thompson. The charge against the woman is adultery, the strange feature of the case being that the defense is allowed to have been committed with her own lawful husband, whose name is Bonnie Service. Some years ago Bonnie was in the age Service (who is now in jail awaiting trial for the same charge) left his wife and young children (one of whom, a babe, is with her in prison) and went to Denver saying that he should never return to her. Some time last spring a man named Henderson came along, took a fancy to Mrs. Service, and induced the woman to marry him. The knot was tied by Probate Judge Hall. Recently however, Bertha turned up again quite unexpectedly, put Henderson on one side, and again went to live with his wife. Henderson became enraged and at his instance the couple were arrested for adultery, he himself claiming to be the woman's husband.

Attorney Thompson stated that the grand jury would not be in session again until the 22nd inst., and that the case could not therefore be taken up before that date. To keep a perfectly innocent woman in jail all that time, with her two children running around the streets, would be both a great hardship and an injustice, she having been held by Commissioner Greenman under a $500 bond, which she could not furnish. As to the man, Service, he didn't care about him at all. (Laughter.)

Judge Howat said he knew nothing of the case beyond that Henderson claimed he was the woman's husband.

Attorney Thompson—If she is guilty of anything it is bigamy.

Judge Howat—I see no objection to the woman's release on her own recognizance, and the Court thought that, under the circumstances, this was only right.

An order for her liberation was therefore made.

MOTHER ARRAIGNED.

Modena Stoker, the alleged slayer of Oldenquist Stoker, was arraigned on a charge of willful murder.

Judge Dee asked on behalf of the defendant that he attorney, and that he was unable to employ one, inquired whether any member of the bar present would volunteer to undertake the defense. There being no response, the court asked Attorney John La Taylor whether he would defend the accused, and he consented to do so. Attorney Taylor thereupon went over and had a talk with the defendant, who appears perfectly indifferent to the serious charge against him.

FIFTEEN MONTHS.

Wm. Henry plead guilty to grand larceny, and was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

STATEMENT SETTLED.

Alex. Rogers vs. John W. Donnellan. Statement on motion for a new trial in the case was settled.

BARNY SAYS NOT GUILTY.

Simon Nowel was arraigned and plead not guilty to a charge of larceny. The offense is alleged to have been committed with Delaware Tullis.

A CASE OF ARREST.

Fred C. Lengnick, a few days ago plead guilty in Commissioner Pierce's court to a charge of having spoken treat to his prisoners. He was fined $10, but this the defendant thought too much, and he appealed the matter to the Third district court.

The trial is on this afternoon, his attorneys being E. D. Lewis and C. Ira Hicks. Judge Howat represents the prosecution.

BEFORE JUDGE MERRITT.

This morning Chief Justice Merritt dealt with the following cases.

Sarah Kane vs. John M. Dolan. Injunction and dissolution of lis pendens—Right of principal, interest $[illegible]

Emma Hawkins vs. E. W. Hawkins et al. Demurrer and motion of defendant sustained and judgment.

John M. Farnsworth vs. George E. Parsons. Demurrer and motion of defendant sustained on the grounds of equity and failure to support.

The court is in session again this afternoon, the law still holding the boards.

County Court.

The usual weekly session of the county court was held today, Probate Judge Hair presiding. All the selectmen were present, but up to 1:00, at which time a recess was taken for 2 p. m., nothing of public interest was done.

Greater part of the time was occupied with the consideration of petitions for relief on account of tax sale, and this afternoon the court, after dealing with some of these, took up the regular routine business.

REGISTRATION WORK ENDED.

Mr. Cohen, as a Result, Will Not Hold Public Information in Order To Keep a Bad Promise.

There has been a great deal of speculation in political circles as to the total registration of Salt Lake City and county for the present year. Definite information on that point has not yet been given to the public. The final canvass of recorded names, however, has been made and returns are all in from the precincts of both the city and the county.

Registrar Cohen was asked this morning by a representative of the News for the figures in detail. He replied that at that time only the list outside of the city was complete, but said he could not give it to the News just then.

When asked why he could not, he replied with extraordinary emphasis and terse, "Because I have promised it to the morning papers first."

The News was not considerably more than surprised at the frank manner in which Mr. Cohen confessed to discriminating against this paper and stated that he was not aware by what rule of law or precedent a registration officer was justified in such favoritism.

On hearing the word "favoritism" Mr. Cohen shifted in his chair and intimated that it was not a question of favoritism at all. But he had given his word to the "boys on the morning papers that they should have the first whack at the lists."

Then Mr. Cohen showed that he had not extended all of his magnanimity on the morning newspapers by saying, "I will give you the total figures for the county outside of the city if you want them. But not as to precincts. They are, on the old list, 5,347, in the Constitutional Convention list 5,823. The city's total registration will be a little less than 10,000."

The total registration of the First precinct, it was learned from another source, was 2,120.

The Third precinct figures are as follows: New voters, 303; transfers in the precinct from other precincts, 1[illegible]; transfers to other precincts, 170; strikes off the list, 301; total on the constitutional list, 1,803; total on the revised list, 1,[illegible].

In the Fourth—Number of voters who have taken the new oath, 219; transfers in the precinct, 121; transfers from the precinct, 181; strikes off, 100; total on constitutional list, 1,210; total on the revised list, 1,[illegible].

All of the Same Kind.

The county clerk issued marriage licenses today to the following: Henry M. Hunter, 20, and Katie Wiseman, both of Salt Lake; Edward E. Harris, 27, and Ray Westphal, 26, both of Provo; Michael Hogan, 37, and Emma Jane Gates, 17, both of Salem, Sevier county; Arthur Ellingworth, 21, and Maggie Campbell, 19, both of Salt Lake; Peter H. Hendin, 24, and Anna J. Hunsaker, 22, the latter of Boise, Mont., and the latter of this city; John Christian Sorgefrey, 23, of Bountiful, and Kathrina Reinold, of Salt Lake; Nels Sorenson, 22, and Ellen Peters, 18, both of Ogden; John T. Rigby, 23, and Lizzie B. Knox, 18, both of Boise, Idaho.

The first named couple were united in marriage by Probate Judge Hall.

AT THE FAIR.

It Continues to Attract People—Rush Expected.

MUSICAL PROGRAM TONIGHT.

The Attendance Good—The Exhibits Select Large Lots Stock.

The large attendance at the Fair today fully vindicates the wisdom of the action of the management in keeping it open an additional three days. The interest and enthusiasm of the public continued, and when it is remembered that thousands of people who have come to the city to attend Conference returned to their homes today, the good congregation was satisfactory.

The weather was delightful, a condition which encouraged the people to a marked in great numbers. A look in expected this evening.

Before noon today most of the livestock had been removed. It was rather expected that this would be done, so it is trying in the animals to remain on exhibition. Nearly all the other exhibits remain intact, including those in the agricultural and horticultural departments which had been sold to merchants.

Up to the hour of going to press no special rush occurred on the grounds. The visitors were attracted quietly, feasting their eyes upon the exhibits, and listening to the excellent music.

About 3 the individual in charge of the Footed Ice exhibit raised a bowie on discovering that two large specimens had been valued at $10 each, had been stolen from his booth.

The following musical program will be rendered this evening, commencing with 7 o'clock:

[illegible]

Unique Quartet—Will Kick Out Other and Fifteen Minutes.

Cornet Solo—Mr. Bennion.

Duet—Mr. Bennion and Mr. Hyrum.

Selection of the Concert, by Harmons, by request.

There will be a promenade concert by the Crimson Quartette, during the evening, in addition to the above program.

NOTES.

There was some relief today from the immense crowds that have attended all last week. The attendance was [illegible] yesterday's better opportunity to examine the exhibits.

The Fair directors have been busily overworked ever since the Fair opened, but there was some relaxation of the strain today.

The Great Soap Co. had announced that their prize drawing would come off in the Sun. When it was determined to close the Fair on the 8 they had to change the date of the drawing. But so many tickets have come in since the drawing was held that it has been determined to give another drawing will come off tonight. Twenty-five prizes will be awarded to Great soap ticket holders, commencing at 8 o'clock this evening. It is expected that amusing features will attend it.

Suits on Promissory Notes.

George Collins brought suit today in the Third district court against Morris Sommer, Henry Wagener and F. S. Harris to recover $500 on a promissory note, with interest at 2 per cent per month.

The Utah National Bank of Ogden likewise instituted legal proceedings in the same court today against F. A. H. Franklin to recover $2,511.70, balance due on a promissory note for $5,000, with interest at 10 per cent per annum.

SHERIFF BURNS'S MURDERERS.

Report that Mickel Was Captured—Another that Both Escaped.

Special to the News by Direct Telegraph.

PIERRE, Oct. 8.—A man in Sanpete reported this morning that news had reached Mount Pleasant to the effect that Mickel has been captured, but that Rafferty escaped. A telegram to Mr. Carter, of Mount Pleasant from Detective Franks is said to contain the information that both murderers have escaped and gone east from Castle Valley. No information has been received direct from the officers in pursuit.
