TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 130 FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1894, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVII.

AS IN THE DELUGE.

The Platte River Rising and Denver Inundated.

HAD TORRENT THROUGH THE CITY.

Five Hundred Families Made Homeless.—Loss from Other Flooded Districts.

DENVER, June 1.—The Platte river continued to rise until 3 a. m. today and a raging torrent was running through the city. In Jerome Park, Globe and river bottoms in the city all families were compelled to flee to higher ground. One boy was drowned. The Exchange and Railroad track were washed away in several places. The damage is great. It will be impossible to run the cars on the schedule time. There are serious washouts on the Rio Grande and Santa Fe roads. Thirty miles of the South Park road in the Platte canyon are inundated. The line to the colorado are the heaviest experienced in this state.

LOST THEIR HOMES.

Five hundred families are made homeless by the flood in and around Denver. Over one hundred persons have applied to the county commissioners for aid. Forty families are employed in the school house at Jerome, but it is not thought they will be in danger.

THE U. P. IS IN A DEPLORABLE CONDITION.

PORTLAND, Or., June 1.—The river rose two-tenths of a foot last night and stands 20 2-10 feet above low water mark. Reports from headwaters indicate a further rise of one foot.

The Union Pacific between Umatilla and this city is in a deplorable condition, and it is possible that the arrangements for river service will be completed today.

CROPS DESTROYED.

LOUISVILLE, Colo., June 1.—All the crops of one of the richest grain regions in the state have been destroyed. The loss is very heavy.

LOSS AND RUIN.

BOULDER, Colo., June 1.—The pipe factory, five houses, railroad tracks and all the city and railroad bridges have been washed away by the flood of Boulder creek. Poverty flats are submerged. The Sunset branch of the Burlington railroad and the Marshdale road are entirely gone. Crooke and Salina, mining camps in Boulder canyon are wiped out of existence. They had a population of about 200. No lives were lost. Very pioneer mines are ruined. The loss in and around Boulder is estimated at $500,000. Boulder has had no communication with any outside point since Wednesday until today, as the telegraph wires were down and the roads impassable.

THE RIVER FALLING.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 1.—The rain ceased about midnight, and the river is now going down rapidly. A large force is put to work by the city cutting through the levee to drain off the water. Only two bodies have been recovered. Five persons are known to be drowned. The loss to business firms is estimated at $100,000; the loss to railroads in bridges and tracks is very heavy.

AN ELECTRIC STARTER.

CHICAGO, June 1.—A. Darrell has a novel invention which will be appreciated by horsemen and other interested persons at the old Garfield track Saturday afternoon. Mr. Darrell's invention is an electric starter for getting horses away in a race. The electric starter rests on two racks or rather rails on either side of the path for the horses and is joined by a rope across the race track. It moves forward as the animals do and when the horses are all in motion, by the pulling of a cord, the rope separates in the middle and flies up on two arms and the field is off.

NEW YORK CHANGE.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Share market was weak at the opening. On heavy offering sugar declined 1½.

The gold shipments tomorrow will be between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

Sugar fluctuated rapidly within narrow limits. Atchison was weak on a bad showing for the third week of May.

A BILL PROMISING POOLING.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The House committee on commerce has reported a bill drawn by Representative Patterson, of Tennessee, radically modifying the anti-pooling provisions of the interstate commerce act. The proposed system, which permits pooling under restrictions and under the supervision of the interstate commerce commission, has the support of a majority of the commission.

DISEASE DID NOT COME.

He Left the Steamer at South Boston.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The statement that Count Herbert Bismarck was a passenger on the Normannia, which arrived here yesterday, is erroneous. He embarked on the Normannia at Hamburg, but disembarked at Southampton.

TARIFF AND SILVER.

Cook's Proposition to Retaliate Does Not Strike Hard Favorably.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Bland fringed at Thomas B. Reed's proposition that the silver being taken for discriminating duties be taken against the countries not using silver. "Blood remedies our agreements, but offers a remedy that we will not have," said Bland. "The agricultural classes who are taking silver will never consent to a tariff which will close the market of Europe to our agricultural products."

THE KILLING OF NEWSOM.

A Railway Agent Arrested, Charged With the Crime.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Special Agent Jabez G. Maxwell, of the Grand Trunk Railway, is under arrest, charged with being implicated in the fatal shooting on the train last night of George C. Newsom, assistant special agent of the Western Indiana Railway. Maxwell reported that Newsom was shot by confederates. Newsom says there was a conspiracy between Maxwell, the chief prosecuting agent of the Grand Trunk and the confederates men to rob the passengers, and he was shot because he would not join the enterprise.

A YOUNG GIRL MURDERED.

Her Body Found and the Supposed Murderer Arrested.

OMAHA, Neb., June 1.—The dead body of a young girl was found in a rear room in the second story of No. 808 South Tenth street last night. The body was partly nude, but enough clothing remained to identify the deceased as Maude Hubel, who lived with her parents in a house at South Omaha since last Saturday night. An autopsy disclosed the fact that the death was caused by a clot of blood on the brain, and that the opinion of the examining physicians was caused by a blow.

The deceased was about 15 years old. It developed that she had been visiting lately the office of an dentist from Hera who met a younger man named Brown who some time ago robbed the office of dentist. The specialists claim that she had not been under their care since February 1st, but had been treated by Brown. He is under arrest charged with her murder.

THE GREAT COAL STRIKE.

The President of the Wheeling Company Hopeful of a Settlement.

Ohio and Pennsylvania Miners Willing to Negotiate and Force Illinois Into Line.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—A. C. Dinl, president of the Wheeling and the Lake Erie coal company received a telegram from President McBride, which he believes opens a way to a settlement of the strike. He will not show the telegram, but says it shows the willingness of the miners to negotiate with the operators of Ohio and Pennsylvania. Dinl says both he and McBride are of the opinion that this will force Illinois into line, and with this backing the consolidated coal company will not be able to block a settlement.

COLUMBUS, June 1.—The officers of the United Mine workers will hold a conference here on Tuesday on the coal situation. The Consolidated coal company, which controls one-fourth of the output of Illinois holds the key to the situation. President McBride has telegraphed the miners at Walhonding and Coalton, Ohio, not to interfere with the trains.

TIRED OF RUSSIA.

Western Thousand Mennonites Will Go to California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—The Call says that J. J. Klein, a Mennonite, is conducting negotiations for the purchase of 200,000 acres of land belonging to the Mitchell estate in Merced county, and that if the deal is carried through 14,000 Mennonites will settle in California in a body. These Mennonites are of German descent and live in Bessarabia.

They are dissatisfied with the arrangement whereby Bessarabia was ceded to Russia and want to get away from Russian rule.

A SUICIDE.

Shot by Burglars.

PALMYRA, Mo., June 1.—Two burglars, caught in Banker John M. Hosell's house last night, shot Mr. and Mrs. Hosell. Both are in a critical condition. The police are trailing the robbers with bloodhounds.

STORY OF AN ADVENTURESS.

First in Jail, Then in a Sanitarium, Whence She Escaped and Married.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—A strange romance developed in this state lunatic asylum at Agnews. Nearly a year ago a bright appearing young woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Evelyn Lamont Bacon Mills-Evans, was arrested here for swindling fashionable boarding houses and a maid and nurse who had trusted her. She was twice taken before the board of lunacy and pronounced sane. A police magistrate then pronounced her guilty of the crime charged and sentenced her to six months' imprisonment in the house of correction. Then it transpired that the woman had a wealthy father in Sacramento and another influential brother in New York, who is connected with the great house of Tiffany. They promptly interceded, had her pronounced insane and she was promptly removed from prison to the Agnews asylum. There she strangely accommodated the superintendent and another influential trustee
