THE BEST OF GIFTS.

A Loving and Affectionate Wife, Says President Cleveland.

HIS LETTER ON A TENDER THEME.

Congratulations to a Friend on Entering the Portals to Domestic Happiness.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 12.—The Journal this afternoon prints a letter written December 26, 1890, by President Cleveland to John Temple Graves, of Georgia, the distinguished southern orator, on receipt of an invitation to the latter's approaching marriage.

Mr. Graves was closely acquainted with Mr. Cleveland, and enjoyed his friendship and esteem to a gratifying degree. With the wedding cards Mr. Graves had sent the ex-President a letter, paying tribute to the family and residence of Mr. Cleveland's own domestic life, and the influence of his high testimonial on domestic life for the people. The answer came promptly in the following exquisite letter:

John Temple Graves, Rome, Ga.

My Dear Mr. Graves.—We received the card of invitation to your wedding a day or two ago, and I am glad that your letter, received only a few hours later, justifies me, on behalf of my dear wife and myself, in do more than formally notice the occasion. And, first of all, let me assure you now that we appreciate the kind and touching sentiment you gather to us in our married state. As I look back upon the years that have passed since God, in His infinite goodness, bestowed upon me the best of all His gifts—a loving and affectionate wife—all else, honor, the opportunity of usefulness and the esteem of my fellow countrymen, seem dominated in every aspiration at gratitude and thankfulness.

You are not wrong, therefore, when you claim, in the atmosphere of last evening time which now surrounds you, kinship with one who can testify who uncovered tenderness to the sanctification which comes to man when heaven's directed love leads the way to marriage.

Since this tender theme has made us acquainted, let me wish for you and the dear one who is to make your life doubly dear to you, all the joy and happiness vouchsafed to man.

You will, I know, feel that our kind wishes for each are greater sincerity and more than when my wife joins me in the fervent desire that you and your bride may enter upon and enjoy the same felicity which has made our married life "more grand, sweet song."

Yours truly,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

A year or so ago, Mr. Graves requested permission to publish the letter for the sake of its influence upon the home life of the people, and Mr. Cleveland promptly replied that anything to the wording of the letter had passed from his recollection he would, for this purpose, freely commit to the delicacy and discretion of his friend. The recent interesting domestic event at Gray Gables induced Mr. Graves to consent to the publication of the letter.

Gen. Harrison's Ambition.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A local paper says, about the visit of ex-President Harrison to New York and the Adirondacks, it was reported in this city that ex-President Harrison had taken to the political woods, and that two or more cannot drag him to the Republican nomination for President. This sentiment is said to come from the ex-President himself, through ex-United Attorney Chemaker of Indianapolis, in conversation with Republican leaders in this city. It is given out that Mr. Harrison, however, would not decline a seat in the United States Senate.

In the Hands of a Mob.

LONDON, July 12.—Sir William Harcourt and wife, while returning from a political meeting in a carriage today, were vigorously pelted with cabbage stalks and rubbish while passing through a Poplar suburb of Derby. They were both hit but not injured. Lady Harcourt was literally covered with dirt and filth, which besmeared her garments and went down her back.

English Elections.

LONDON, July 12.—The general elections practically began today with the return of thirty-six unopposed candidates, including thirty conservatives, three liberals and three Parnellites. Among the unopposed members elected is the Rt. Hon. George Goschen, unionist, representing St. George's Hanover Square, London.

Harmless Duel.

ATHENS, July 12.—The threatened duel between Colonel Smolenitz, minister of war, and Colonel Vassilaidis, a member of the Deputies, occurred today. Two balls were exchanged but neither of the duellists was injured.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles is a consistent advocate of wholesome food. He is naturally a firm believer in the efficacy of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

A Farmer's Strange Ride to the Police Station.

DANBURY, Conn., July 12.—Peter Winter entered the police station here last night and said: "I want to give myself up. I have killed a man. Go outside and you will see the body."

An officer stepped out and found a buggy and pleasure in the street. In the pleasure were a man and a woman, sitting bolt upright, and between them was a corpse. The muzzle was open and blood was dripping from the beard. The man was Charles Butler and the woman Mrs. Gallaghan. The corpse was shot of the latter's son by her first husband, a brother of the man whom she lived with. Butler and Mrs. Gallaghan said the murder had been committed in the town of Trumbull. They had driven to the city by moonlight, holding the dead man between them, while Winter sat on the shifted knees of the corpse and driver. The body was taken to the morgue and Winter was locked up. At the inquest he was found sane.

Winter is 65 years old, a farmer and of good reputation. For several years he has employed Butler on his farm. The agreement was that Butler should receive part of his pay in hard cider. Butler had worked two weeks and had already drunk up the supply of hard cider. He demanded more, and Winter refused to give it to him. While Winter was at supper Butler entered and struck him. Winter ran to an outbuilding. Butler followed him. Winter dodged back into the house. Mrs. Winter and all the witnesses but one stated that Winter seized a hickory stick and struck Butler across the chest. A hired man named Hoch, however, said that Winter struck Butler with an iron bar on the chest and afterwards on the head. Butler was knocked insensible. Winter and his wife tried to revive him, but failing they placed him in the chaise and drove to Butler's home. Before they arrived he died.

Only Through Courtesy.

BERLIN, July 12.—The Frankfurter Zeitung says that those South German states which agree to a customs confederation at the same time informed Chancellor von Hohenlohe that it was a mere act of politeness, they being strongly against any change. The Intentlistic themselves are in a very confident mood.

OREGON SHORT LINE.

Argument Concluded in the Foreclosure Suit.

PORTLAND, Or., July 12.—Argument was concluded this afternoon before Judge Bellinger, sitting in the United States circuit court, in the suit of the American Loan & Trust company for the foreclosure of the consolidated mortgage on the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern railway. The original bill filed in the circuit court here, sets for the foreclosure of the consolidated mortgage, amounting to about $10,000,000, through the failure of the company to pay interest on the bonds issued under the mortgage. The first mortgage bondholders and Union Pacific receivers were represented by Zera Snow of this city, and the American Loan & Trust company by ex-Senator Dolph and Joseph Simon. It is understood Judge Bellinger will render a decision in the case tomorrow. Should he decide in favor of the plaintiff, the case will then go to St. Paul before Judge Sanborn for his concurrence, and later before Judge Merritt of Utah.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS.

Two Factions and Both Invite Carlisle to Speak.

OMAHA, July 12.—The financial issue politically has again been forced to the front in Nebraska by the publication today of a letter to Secretary Carlisle from the Democratic central committee. He is warned that the invitation by recently received to address Nebraska's Democrats at Lincoln September 9, was not issued by the Democratic state central committee, but by the element in the party which voted the convention last year. The committee explains in detail that only thirty out of 100 delegates holded the convention committee, ostensibly because of fusion, but really because the convention favored free silver. Incidentally it may be mentioned that though the holders are a very small part of the party, they have been given all the federal patronage and recognized as the only Democratic party at Washington. The letter concludes:

"However, by direction of the regular Democratic organization of Nebraska, we hereby extend you a cordial invitation to attend the regular Democratic state convention at a date to be fixed in the near future, and engage in a joint discussion with Hon. W. J. Bryan, the unanimous choice of the last state convention for United States senator, who received a vote of 80,000, as against 43,000 for the regular Democratic nominee the year previous, that platform is 'The immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a present ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any one nation on earth.'"

The letter has caused a commotion in state political circles.

Aldermen Indicted.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Late this afternoon the special grand jury called to investigate corruption in the city council relative to the Ahrman Martin ice ordinance, voted to indict Aldermen William Binder on two charges of soliciting bribes, and Alderman Charles Martin on similar charges. These true bills are expected to be returned to Judge Tuthill before noon tomorrow.

SCORNED A DEFENDER.

Convict Charged with Murder Wants No Attorney.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 12.—Ivan Kovalev, a Russian convict who escaped from Siberia and who was held to answer in this city for the murder of Merchant F. H. L. Weber and wife in this city last December, was arraigned in the superior court today. The district attorney read information charging him with the crime. Each sentence was translated to the prisoner by an interpreter. Kovalev, in answer to a question by Judge Johnson, said he did not want an attorney, as he was innocent. "If I am guilty," said he, "then let them find out." Kovalev has no money, and Judge Johnson appointed counsel to defend him. The case will be tried in September.

The Lewis Bond Forgery.

CUYAHOGA, O., July 12.—There were more developments in the Lewis bond forgery today. O. M. Gutschell, representing the Third National bank of Dayton, was at Moscaunesburg today, with two bonds of $1,000 each of the Moscaunesburg school issue. Both were declared forgeries. It is now believed that the forgeries will reach $500,000. New blocks of bogus bonds are turning up daily.

Grocers often say "It's just as good as Dr. Price's when they want to sell an inferior baking powder. But there is no powder half so good.

TAKEN IN BY STRANGERS.

Two San Francisco Ladies Robbed in New York.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Miss Leignesa, of San Francisco, Cal., and her daughter Olivette, 15 years old, arrived in this city recently from the coast, intending to take a French line steamship for Paris. They went down the dock and found that the steamer did not sail at once. They were accompanied by a friend they had met in Jersey City. Some time in the afternoon, while walking on Broadway, they were met by two men who had probably followed them from the French liner. One of the strangers accosted Miss. Leignesa's escort and asked him for a match. Miss. Leignesa said that the stranger looked like a friend of hers from San Francisco and they all became very friendly. The strangers, who spoke French fluently, asked the little party to go to Brooklyn and inspect a house he had recently bought. In the meantime a third stranger had appeared on the scene. He also spoke French and pretended to be very ill. He said he intended to go to Partsky the French liner as he had recently inherited a million dollars which he had in a bundle with him and beseeched Miss. Leignesa if she would keep it for him. She replied in the affirmative and took the package, which had a dollar bill on the top, and put it in her handkerchief. The first stranger put in $10 and Miss. Leignesa herself put in $200 in gold, representing all the money she had. In Brooklyn the strangers asked Miss. Leignesa and her daughter and friend to take something to drink, but they refused to do so. They were conducted back to this city where the strangers left them on Broadway, saying that they wished to mail a letter and would return immediately. After waiting a long time Miss. Leignesa and her daughter and friend discovered that their money had all been stolen and they went directly to the French line pier. The police were notified, and Peter Bianchetti, 29 years old, was arrested. He refused to give his residence but said that he was a carpenter. About $125 was found on his person. Miss. Leignesa and her daughter are being cared for by Mr. West, a gentleman of the French line.

Bolivia and Peru.

NEW YORK, July 13.—A special to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says: The alliance of Bolivia towards Peru is inspired by Chilean diplomacy.

Unless Peru shall accede to the demands of Bolivia (the Bolivian minister will retire from Lima. Following this Bolivia will occupy the district of Tacna, a department of Peru. For some time it is also said modern guns and rifles and artillery, suitable for action in mountainous districts, have been sent into Bolivia by way of the Chilean port of Antofagasta.

A STUPENDOUS ENTERPRISE.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Advertiser says: According to letters and telegrams received from Galveston, Texas, within the last few days by his friends, John J. Donovan has obtained a controlling interest in an enterprise which has a capital of $25,000,000.

In 1885 an English syndicate established six ranches on which to raise and fatten cattle, sheep and hogs for the market, and it is these ranches that have now passed under the direction and principal ownership of Donovan. Two of them are near Sydney, N. S. W., and others are near Melbourne, and in Gonzalo county, Texas. Mr. Donovan left New York three weeks ago to look affairs over, but before having negotiations with the syndicate were practically finished. He will be back toward the end of the month and may set sail for Australia before the fall.

H. M. Kinsley, the famous caterer of Chicago, writes: "I have used Dr. Price's Baking Powder for several years with great satisfaction."

Gen. Schofield Goes East.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—General John M. Schofield left for the east over the Canadian Pacific today, having been called east by dispatches from Washington, D. C. He intended to visit Fort Spokane and Sherman and go down the Columbia river and see the Cascade Locks but abandoned the trip on receipt of the telegrams from Washington.

The Portland Wrecked.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., July 13.—The steamer Unique from Alaska reports that the steamer Portland was wrecked last week near Dundas island. The vessel was bound from Seattle to Chignook river laden with supplies.
