5 O'clock EDITION.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 271 MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1895. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVIII.

HYPNOTISM A FRAUD.

Declaration Publicly Made By a Professional Subject.

A NUMBER OF TESTS EXPLAINED.

Among Others the Famous Sleep of Seven Days Duration—A Promised Expose.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Harry Davis, who has for four years been a professional hypnotic subject, has made the declaration publicly that hypnotism is a fraud, and has issued a challenge to all professors of that science to meet him in public at any time or place, Davis agreeing to obey any instructions given him and defying any professor to hypnotize him. Davis, who is but 23 years old, has lived in Chicago for seven years, and during the last four has appeared in hundreds of public and private exhibitions of so-called professors of hypnotism. He has undergone every alleged test known to the profession and the details of these have appeared in newspapers and medical journals, not only in this country, but in Europe. Despite these facts the young man asserts that he has never been hypnotized and declares himself capable of performing and explaining any "test" known to the world.

Davis is perfectly earnest in his desire to expose hypnotism, which he says he realizes has become more than a mere amusement. He explains a number of so-called tests and among others referred to his famous hypnotic sleep of seven days recently, in a north side theater. He says:

"Three of us took turns sleeping in that bed. We took the janitor of the theater into the deal the first night and the next night the watchman. I was down town every day that week while the people supposed I was sleeping in the theater."

Great interest attaches to the promised expose from the fact that a number of prominent persons are alleged to have been "taken in" by professors or teachers of hypnotism.

Not Expected to Live.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Page Brown, one of the leading architects of the Pacific coast, is not expected to live, as the result of injuries received in a runaway accident last week. Mr. Brown was driving an ex-turfite racer called The Nigger, on a country road, when the animal ran away and plunged down a steep bank fifteen feet high into a dry creek. Mr. Brown had both legs, one arm, his collar bone and three ribs broken. His face was frightfully gashed and his skull was fractured. It is not known whether there are any internal injuries, but his friends fear he cannot survive his terrible external wounds.

FORCE OF HABIT.

A Seventy-year-old Man Applies for His Eighth Divorce.

LA FORTE, Ind., Oct. 14.—Abram Holmes, of Fulton county, has applied for his eighth divorce. He is 70 years of age. His matrimonial career had its inception March 11, 1876, when he was married to Miss Emeline Grady, who obtained a divorce November 14, 1883, on the ground of cruel treatment.

Holmes remained single two years when he married Miss Martha Robbins. He experienced eleven months of marital discord and in February, 1886, was granted a divorce, resuming that he had been mistreated.

November 22, 1886, Holmes was wedded to Miss Samantha Bengel, and the divorce court annulled the marriage April 14, 1888, his wife's tongue being the cause of his tribulation.

On January 5, 1887, Holmes manifested a mind in an alliance with Miss Levina Straw, but again the divorce court recorded the story of domestic infelicity.

Miss Anna Rowland became wife No. 5, and peace and happiness reigned for upward of a year. April 5, 1889, Holmes was again divorced, and on July 14, 1890, tried it again, Miss Sarah Overture being the bride. Two years later the husband secured a divorce on the plea that his wife had attacked him with a pair of scissors.

Miss Hassel Magnum was next wooed and won, their wedding taking place March 29, 1893. He was divorced from her September 18, 1894. Holmes resented of the action and on March 28, 1895, he again married Miss Magnum, who was his last and eighth wife. They quarreled but the court refused the much married husband a divorce. Holmes is determined to secure a decree and he has gone to Michigan to acquire a residence where he will seek to annul the tie.

A Well Known Chicagoan Dead.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—John Gabriel died yesterday morning. He was 73 years old and had lived in Chicago since 1854. He was well known among local hunt men, having been connected with the Tremont house, the Sherman house and the Grand Pacific. He was an honorary member of all the Scottish societies and was a Knight of Pythias.

Is Opposed to Prize Fighting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Gen. Carlos Ulsa Gutierrez, of Mexico, governor of the state of San Luis Potosi, is stopping at the Waldorf. He is accompanied by Senor Manuel Medina, judge of the supreme court, and Senor Paulino Almanza, and Mariano Monoel, two prominent merchants of Mexico. The governor and his friends are making a tour of the United States. They expect to remain in this city for several days, when they will leave for Boston.

Gen. Gutierrez said he would examine the American institutions, with a view of improving the condition of his native province. He said he was a great friend of Americans and had induced many colonists from the United States to settle in his state.

Gen. Gutierrez said he had read about the proposed Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight. Under no circumstances would it be allowed to take place in Mexico. He did not favor prize fighting, though he delighted in bull fighting. He says the Americans in the City of Mexico are prominent in business circles. The establishment of an American newspaper in Mexico, he says, has been a great benefit to the English speaking portion of the population.

A BLACK CRIME, PROBABLY.

Mysterious Case of Mrs. Annie Walker, of Guelph, Ont.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Annie Walker, of Guelph, Ont., who is said at one time to have been the wife of Hunter McIntyre, of Virginia, lies in a West Side boarding house in a precarious condition. The case is a most mysterious one and the police do not know what to make of it.

Mrs. Walker was brought to the house several days ago by a man giving the name of Elliot. He had 200 in an envelope which he said belonged to the woman. Then he went away and had not been seen since.

Mrs. Walker is said to be demented and it is also said that she is suffering from concussion of the brain. J. E. Fitzpatrick, who boards in the house where Mrs. Walker is lying, gives it as his opinion that she has been drugged and assaulted.

An Anarchist Applauded.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—Charles W. Mowbray an English anarchist, delivered a speech on anarchy-communism to a large crowd at Walhalla hall yesterday afternoon. All his sentiments were loudly applauded. He pointed out the social, moral and physical evils of the times, that attributed their existence to the system of government which holds sway in every land. Mowbray jokingly referred to the fact that he was out on bond for timoliier Dynamite Bill of Uncle Sam in a recent speech and added:

"What does the red, white and blue mean to us? What does the union jack mean to us? They should mean nothing to each and every one of us, for they are rags to hide the ugly scars of a piece of calico to constitute the Bedlam of the world. The Declaration of Independence is a dead letter; men have been arrested for reading it in the streets. No form of government ever existed for the weals of the people. Patriotism is dead."

A GIGANTIC LINE OF FIRE.

Volcanoes in the Aleutian Chain of Islands Active.

Smoke and Steam in Every Direction by Day and Fiery Columns by Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The revenue cutter Commodore Perry returned from the northern sea, where she has been cruising every night for weeks by a gigantic line of fire. As Captain Smith expresses it: "The devil's stokers have been stirring up the subterranean sea of flames that is supposed to lie thousands of feet under the Behring's bed, and as a consequence fully twenty of the forty volcanoes in the Aleutian chain are now active."

The line of islands lying between the Behring sea and the Pacific ocean belong to the United States, and on them are probably the only active volcanoes lying within American territory. Many has been written of Bogoslov island, which has been throwing up a cloud of smoke at times for years, but it was supposed that all the other peaks on this slender line of islands were extinct craters only.

Now, so far as the eye can reach from any point in the Behring sea, at least six of even as distance from the famous seal islands, the rising smoke and steam can be seen in both directions. The eruption is general and is very likely that at night the fiery columns take on the reflection of the fires deep in the earth beneath the ocean. Nowhere else on the globe can such a sight be witnessed.

In the day time only the white smoke or steam is visible. As dark comes and darkness follows the wonder grows. The brighter column shot up in the cold Alaskan night first and as it gets darker other vivid curls of smoke are to be seen at greater distance. Sometimes when the position of the observer is advantageous, a dozen or fifteen of these modern pillars of fire are in sight.

The show of subterranean force is the most noteworthy ever observed on American soil. As proof of the mighty power that is at work beneath the islands a rock of hundreds of tons was hurled out of the sea between Bogoslov and old Bogoslov, and the two islands are now one. It is a queer looking rock, one of the pieces shown on the chart as connecting the Behring sea with the greater ocean in the southward. The rock is of a dark red color, black and smooth in surface as if once melted.

HARRISON AND TARIFF

The ex-President Protested Against the High Figures Adopted.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 15.—The Commercial-Gazette, a strong McKinley paper, edited by Perry S. Heath, who was close to Harrison during his administration, will tomorrow say: A great deal has recently appeared in setting the attitude of ex-President Harrison toward the McKinley tariff at the time of its adoption. It is considered that, in the majority of Republicans, Gen. Harrison opposed the adoption of schedules as high as those in the McKinley law, and that he entered a protest against them to those who had the measure in charge. One prominent Republican newspaper has stated recently that the McKinley tariff defeated Harrison's election, and that this fact is the cause of "Harrison's feeling towards McKinley."

Another influential Republican newspaper in the West announced that during the consideration of the McKinley bill President Harrison summoned Mr. Reed and Speaker Reed, and possibly other party leaders, and warned them against the adoption of such high figures.

Ex-Governor Perry Dead.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 14.—Ex-Governor Elisha P. Ferry died this morning.

U. S. SUPREME COURT

Reconvenes After a Recess of Four Months and a Half.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—After a recess of four and a half months, the U. S. Supreme Court reconvened at noon today. The only vacant seat on the bench was that caused by the death of Justice C. Jackson. BANK FAILURE.

Caused by the Defalcation of the Cashier, the Notice says.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 14.—A special to the Star from Fort Scott, Kansas, says: A sensation was created this morning when Vice President J. J. Stewart of the State bank posted the following: "Telephonic closed, subject to the order of the State bank commissioner. Depositors will be paid in full. The failure is caused by the defalcation of the cashier." A large crowd of excited depositors gathered. Cashier J. S. Coleman has had the utmost confidence of all. He has been cashier since the bank was organized in 1883. Last Wednesday he left town, saying he was going to visit his home in Jeersville, Ills., where his wife is visiting.

Cashier Coleman confessed to President H. F. Coon, of the bank, on Saturday night that he lost about $25,000 on stock and bonds speculations. The theft has been systematically practiced over two years and covered up by manipulation of the bank's books.

In a statement issued by the bank today, the officials say: "The loss will fall wholly upon the stockholders, as the assets of the bank are amply sufficient to pay all depositors."

It is now known that when Coleman left on Wednesday, he had no intention of returning. He was under a St. Louis specialist's care last week for a nervous trouble. On Friday he wrote President Coon that he had become a wreck. Coleman's irregularities go to that time and not become known. Coon telegraphed Coleman to remain in St. Louis and went on to meet him there on Saturday night. In the presence of his wife and brother-in-law and President Coon, Coleman made a confession. He broke down and cried piteously.

Killed By Molten Metal.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14.—The canvasters at the American tin works of Jones & Laughlin were overturned this morning and sixteen tons of molten metal poured into the pit below where a score or more of men were working. Quite women was terribly burned about the head and body and will die. John R. Burr, William Edwards, Charles Freeborn, William C. Faulkner, Thomas W. Faulkner, Frank Keeling and Samuel Law were injured. Physicians say Watson will die and the chances are against Burr, Edwards and Freeborn.

Victim of a Trolley Car Accident.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14.—O. J. Baldwin, of Youngsville, Pa., a victim of last night's West End trolley car accident, died this morning. Two makes four deaths so far. Several other victims are in a critical condition. The accident was caused by the breaking of the brake chain and the fact that the trolley left the cable. The conductor attempted to stop the runaway car by reversing the current, but there was no current.

Racing Law to be Tested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Judge Ingraham decided that no crime was contemplated by the Morris park race, which opens tomorrow. The matter was brought up on a test case agreed to on Saturday at a conference between the police commissioners, the district attorney and the state racing board and the West Chester racing association.

District Attorney Fellows had advised the police commissioners that in his opinion the racing at Morris park would not be illegal, and no arrests would be made before a hearing had been had before a higher court than had heretofore decided upon it, as Judge Bischoff in this city and Judge Gaynor of Brooklyn has rendered opposite opinions on the constitutionality of the Percy Gray racing law.

SURE TO WIN.

A New York Office Seeker Speaks of Hilmself and Preachers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Republicans of my district gave me the unanimous nomination for the senate; I was endorsed, which is equivalent to a nomination, by the state democracy, and with horses could not pull me out of the race. I am going to remain in the field and I am going to win."

Thus spoke ex-Inspector Alexander S. Williams, referring to his candidacy for the state senate in the Twelfth district. Inspector Williams acquired national prominence on account of the universal testimony against him produced during the sessions of the Lexow committee in this city. He has just been requested by the executive committee of the state democracy to withdraw from that ticket.

"I have lived in this district forty-three years. The people not only know my public life, but they know my private life as well. They know how I have brought up my family and what sort of a man I am. They know how on Sundays that my family has attended regularly the little church adjoined next door, and although I have not asked them, I venture to say that votes I can count on anyway will be the votes of the two ministers connected with that church.

"Speaking of preachers, it has seemed to me that the ladder to preachers has changed since I was a boy. The preacher who preaches Christ and Him crucified today preaches to empty benches, but he who preaches upon the social evil in the sense of our sons and daughters, upon the villainies of the police and upon the wickedness of Tammany Hall, preaches to standing room only.

"And I remember one of the preachers who kept up with the market. I knew him when he wore threadbare clothes and lived in a house that was mortgaged. Now he wears the best of broadcloth, cut in the most approved clerical style, and, because he could not find a summer resort good enough for him in America, he built him a villa by the banks of a beautiful lake in Switzerland, and there he spends his summers."

His first employment was in a Boston manufactory of tinware. In 1855 he went to Albany for a partnership in a general commission house in Albany. Mr. Bigelow came to Chicago in 1858.

The Church of the Redeemer is a high Episcopal church. Mass is said there, and confessions are heard, and all the paraphernalia used in the Catholic church in public worship is to be found there.

The delegates from western silver states voted for the amendment.

CHARGES OF FRAUD.

Serious Allegations Against Joseph P. Bache.

DISCHARGED A $2,000 MORTGAGE

In His Own Favor, Without Paying the Note, to the Accusation Made in a Law-suit.

A suit containing sensational charges against Joseph E. Bache, clerk of the Territorial Supreme court and member of the present City Council, was filed in the Third district court this afternoon by Frank Pierce, attorney for the plaintiff, John Baxter Donaldson. Mr. Donaldson is a resident of Loudon, England, but is an American citizen, and claimed that his absence from this country is but temporary. In his suit he makes Frank A. Grant, Joseph F. Bache, Glen Miller, Hercules MacCord and Arthur Mulvey defendants.

The opening paragraphs of the complaint allege in most legal phrase that on January 25, 1892, Mr. Donaldson placed in the hands of Mr. Bache $2,000 cash to be loaned out upon interest and good real estate security in Salt Lake county, and that the same day Mr. Bache loaned that money to Frank A. Grant, taking therefor a promissory note, payable in five years at 7 per cent, and a mortgage on a piece of property at Fourth and Q streets, this city. It is also stated that the note and mortgage were made to Bache without authority or consent of the plaintiff, but that on the 7th of April, 1892, Mr. Bache assigned both in writing to Mr. Donaldson, which assignment is duly recorded. The further statement is made that no interest has been paid since January 25, 1893, and the note is still due.

Then comes the allegations upon which the charges of fraud are based. It is said that on January 27, 1892, two days after the money was loaned and the note and mortgage made, Frank A. Grant and his wife, Isabelle J., conveyed the mortgaged property by warranty deed to Joseph F. Bache, the deed recorded June 30, 1892, after the assignment of the note and mortgage to Mr. Donaldson. "Then," continued the complaint, "on July 29, 1892, said defendant, Joseph F. Bache, without the authority of plaintiff, and intending to cheat and defraud the plaintiff out of his said note and mortgage and said $2,000 and the interest thereof, falsely and fraudulently entered upon the records of said mortgage in the county of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah, a false and fraudulent discharge and satisfaction thereof, which was unknown to plaintiff until October 1, 1895, when false and fraudulent discharge and satisfaction was in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

"Salt Lake City, Utah, July 29, 1892.

No. 10,758.

"I hereby satisfy and discharge this mortgage of record, and receive the indebtedness secured thereby fully paid.

"JOSEPH F. BACHE.

"Attest: John R. Bower, recorder, Salt Lake county, Utah Territory."

The complaint then states that at the time of such pretended discharge and satisfaction, Joseph P. Bache falsely and fraudulently represented to the recorder that the mortgage had been paid, and relying upon that statement had altered the discharge; also that at the time such discharge was made Mr. Bache held title to the property, and the discharge was to his favor. Subsequently, on July 8th, 1894, it is asserted, Joseph E. Bache and his wife Lettie D. Bache, made a trust deed to Glen Miller, as trustee for Hercules MacCord, for the property, to secure a note of $1,800, and that this deed was taken with full knowledge that the former cancellation of the mortgage was fraudulent and void.

Later, on the 12th of last July, the land was deeded by Bache and his wife to Arthur M. Mulvey. This conveyance, the complaint says, was without valid consideration, and was made with full knowledge of the former transactions.

Upon this statement, Mr. Donaldson asks that the cancellation of the mortgage be set aside as fraudulent, that judgment be given in his favor for $2,000 and for $350 interest and $100 costs; that the trust deed in favor of Miller and MacCord and the deed to Mulvey be declared subsequent and subject to the Donaldson mortgage; that a foreclosure of the Donaldson mortgage be decreed, to the exclusion of all other claimants, until the claim under the first mortgage is satisfied; and that pending the action a receiver be appointed to take charge of the premises.

Mr. Bache is now absent from the city, and little not known just when he will return. This is but one of a number of transactions wherein it is said his financial affairs are badly complicated. His business with the government as clerk of the Territorial Supreme court is said to be all in good shape.

Will be Arraigned Tonight.

Firemen Crosby, Fitzgerald and Tremayne, who were suspended a week ago, will be arraigned at tonight's meeting of the police and fire commissioners and the day for their examination will be set.

REMODELING A SCHOOL.

The Old Twenty-second Ward Building to Be Fitted Up for Use.

The board of education committee on buildings and grounds met at ten o'clock this morning and opened bids for the remodeling and fitting up of the old Twenty-second or Nineteenth ward school house as it is sometimes called. This school was abandoned some years ago but the increase of school population has been so great and the demand for extra room so manifest that it was decided to relieve the situation somewhat in the northwestern part of the city in the manner indicated. The building is not a modern one by any means, but it is solid and substantial and when finished will accommodate 250 pupils within it. Bids for the work as contemplated were as follows:

Tuttle Brothers	$ 1,477
Wm. Lucas	1,475
Thomas A. Tracy	1,395
A. E. Cohoon	Low 10
Salt Lake Shingle Manufacturing Co.	1,378
H. S. Richards	1,350
John Quinn & Sons	1,338

The committee will take the lowest bidder and on the execution of their contract with the board will proceed to their work with the understanding that it is to be completed and the building to be made ready for occupancy by December 1st.

ALREADY AT WORK.

The Denver People Have Begun on the Next Legislature.

"There is no use borrowing trouble," says Judge Jones of Denver in speaking on the matter of adequate building facilities. He says that the chamber of commerce of that city has already taken the matter up and the committee is laying its plans for a grand rush next year. Mr. Jones has directed an inquiry to Secretary James as to what he will be able to take up a big load of business connected with the festival. From present indications there will be a splendid array of talent in Denver at the next contests.

THIRTY-FIVE INDICTMENTS

H. Haynes, A. E. Cohoon and the Ex-Selectman

Are All Included in the List Presented by the Grand Jury Today.

This afternoon the grand jury came into court and presented thirty-five indictments under Utah laws, some of them being as follows:

Harry Haynes, of Murray, is indicted for defrauding the county in drawing $3.45 for sixteen days of eight hours each in sprinkling streets at Murray, where as it is asserted that not more than three hours' work was done each day. Haynes made oath that the bill was correct. This was in August, 1894, the bill being for July.

Another indictment against Haynes is drawing pay for sprinkling State street, thirty days, and for sprinkler repairs and merchandise, to September, 1894, $129.70. The same kind of fraud is alleged to have been perpetrated here.

Still another indictment is against Haynes for the work of October, 1894, $101.15, when similar fraud is charged.

Harry Haynes and A. E. Cohoon (brother of the ex-selectman) are the objects of an indictment accusing them of presenting a fraudulent claim, on October 8, 1894, for 1,000 yards of rock, $1,720, when in fact the material furnished was dirt and soil, and not rock.

Another indictment against Cohoon and Haynes is for their claim of Dec. 31, 1894, for 2,351 cubic yards of rock for State street, $4,043.72, while the indictment says that dirt was furnished instead of rock.

A. E. Cohoon is indicted separately for drawing money, $50, as a peace officer, in November, 1894, when he did no service for the county.

A like indictment against Cohoon names September as the month when the salary was fraudulently drawn.

Martin Hayken, Herman Bamberger, Joseph L. Morris and John P. Cahoon are indicted for connection with the furniture contract and securing county warrants for $34,973.85, instead of about $26,000, which should have been the bill.

Joseph Morris is indicted for bribery, in taking $5,000 from Martin Hayken, on the furniture scheme, in August, 1894.

Herman Bamberger is indicted for bribery for also taking from Hayken $5,000 on the same business, in August, 1894.

The remaining indictments were not given out for public information at present.

THE RAILWAY BLAMED.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on the Burton Accident.

The coroner's jury which made the investigation into the cause of the death of W. L. Burton came to the conclusion, late Saturday evening, that "due caution and care is not exercised by the Union Pacific to make its crossings safe for the use of the public," and returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased met his death by being crushed beneath the wheels of a box car on that road.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

Funeral services over the remains of the late W. L. Burton were held yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The ceremonies were attended by a very large number of friends, as well as a long line of members of the A. O. U. W., which was headed by Hobb's band. The interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery.

MRS. BURTON.

Mrs. Burton is progressing very nicely after the operation and with proper care the unfortunate lady will recover her strength. She is a very plucky woman and this furthers her chances for recovery. It is a sad thought, however, that she will be obliged to go through life without her left foot.

"DISCIPLINE."

A Plain, Straightforward Statement of Fact.

PREST. SMITH'S REMARKS

Not Susceptible of Any Political Motive or Meaning.

WANTS THE PEOPLE TO BE TRUE.

And Not Swayed by False Reports as to What He Said or Meant in Priesthood Meeting.

Referring to the excitement caused and the many rumors circulated and the unwarranted deductions drawn from the published reports of his remarks at the Priesthood meeting on Monday last, President Joseph F. Smith authorizes the NEWS to make the following statement:

"In the first place, you may say for me that I heartily and sincerely endorse the card written by President Woodruff which you publish this evening. He expresses my sentiments; and I desire furthermore to renew the assurance of my conviction that in political affairs every man has the right to a free ballot without coercion or dictation. Fairly construed, my remarks at the Priesthood meeting are not susceptible of the meaning which individuals in both political parties have placed upon them. I was speaking upon Church discipline—not upon politics at all; and I said what I did, not intended to say, anything that should be interpreted as a desire to compass the defeat of any candidate. The obligations under which a man holding the Priesthood is to those who are his superiors in authority, are one thing. His political faith and conduct are another thing. I referred to the former, and had no thought whatever of being understood as meaning the latter.

"I must certainly object to being interpreted, and am equally averse to being misconstrued. I accordingly desire to reiterate that I neither wished nor intended to influence any man's vote; and if any persons then present have sought to use my name or my remarks to win others from their political allegiance, they have done me an injustice, and have taken a liberty which I strongly disapprove of and hereby disclaim. I want the people to be honest, true, consistent and reliable in all their doings—religiously, commercially and politically. Least of all do I desire to bring success to any candidate or party, or defeat to any other candidate or party, by the exercise of either dictation or suggestion that may derive weight only because of my position in the Church."

COUNTY COURT.

Petitions and Resolutions—Appropriation List—Other Claims Referred.

The county court met at 10 o'clock this morning with all members present. Petitions were read and disposed of as follows:

William Jones petitioned for release of tax sale. Referred to attorney.

Williams & Tripp and Harry Haynes were each granted retail liquor licenses upon filing the usual bond guaranteeing to comply with the incidentive act.

The claims of B. W. Ashton and Byron Cummings for $30 each for services rendered on county examination board were approved and ordered paid out of the county school fund.

The following resolution offered by Selectman Christopherson was adopted:
