SECOND EDITION.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Monday, November 16, 1891.

For the information of those who expected to come to this Conference but who do not receive notice, it may be stated that it has been decided to hold the Conference in the Tabernacle instead of in the Assembly Hall as previously announced.

Notice of special conference appointments will be found on the proclamation page in an earlier edition.

FRAGMENTS.

MR. DEAN offers $10 reward for the recovery of the stolen money in his safe.

THE Family Herald for November is on sale at Margetts Bros., 67 S. Main street.

THE Scandinavian Concertos will hold a meeting in the Second Ward meeting-house Tuesday and Peter Johnson will address the meeting.

A CALF has been lassoed by the property of Mormons for an original Gentile owner, to meet in the city of Helena, Jan. 7th, 1892.

H. H. PARKER was arrested by officer Green being $50 on a charge of the insurance company, for keeping of sound hand stoves.

A CERTAIN person named Ed. Lewis was sentenced Saturday morning to four weeks' of driving a buggy rake, and confined to his premises during imprisonment in the city jail. Chief Marshal Morgan was fined $15 for drunkenness.

STRONG efforts are being made to have a full representation of the manufacturers of this city at the Chicago Exposition, on occasion to the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening next. The call will be found elsewhere in this issue.

THE sleepy nuisance has been relieved among the spurious genius of the Twentieth ward. Perhaps when the street lamps are lighted the nuisance will turn their attention in that direction. It may result in fewer broken windows, if nothing more.

THE general committee of management of the ball in the Dooble on the 25th inst., and also the entire committee of young ladies, are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Jennings, Tuesday, Nov. 17 (tomorrow), at 2 p. m. sharp, for the transaction of important business.

THE People's Benefit Association of Utah has filed articles of incorporation with the Territorial secretary. The incorporators are H. A. Hendee, Jos. E. Dick, J. W. Langsdorf, C. C. Goodwin, F. J. Hemmert, O. G. Snow and David Kay, all of Ogden.

THE grand benefit ball for the Deseret Hospital to be given in the Salt Lake Theatre on the 25th of the present month, promises to be as largely attended as the management has found it necessary to make an extra charge of 50 cents for such additional only taken to the party by the gentlemen attending, outside of his regular partner.

AN organization known as the Science Society of Utah, has come forward in the city. The president is Dr. J. J. Wright, of Ogden. Dr. H. A. Hendee is chairman of a committee of five, chosen to constitute and act as a board of trustees, etc. The subject of the society is to bring about a better feeling among the medical fraternity in general, without regard to school or theory of practice.

THE Salt Lake Lyceum and the Y. M. C. A. debating and literary society of this city, will meet in Deseret University on Tuesday evening. The following programme will be observed: Music by the Lyceum orchestra; address of welcome, "Education," by R. W. Jennings and a dozen on the following subjects: Resolved, That education is more beneficial than intuition." Affirmative, J. G. Brown and D. J. Watts. Negative, A. T. Allen and John Jones.

FOURTEEN years ago Mr. Ashton and bad gives in the Twenty-second ward meeting house, in honor of Elder Matthew Noall and his wife, who was about to leave the city on a mission to the sandwich islands. The concert will commence at 8 o'clock. The many friends of Brother and Sister Noall will no doubt be glad to take advantage of the occasion and especially to pass an enjoyable evening and at the same time show their respect for the worthy couple before their departure.

MR. HOOK, secretary of the Mining Exchange in this city, which recently suspended business, has received the following letter from Chairman Charles F. Taylor, of the executive committee of the Denver Mining Exchange: "It is very probable that we will be called upon prior to closing the mining convention, as they are needed to protect the interests of the mining men of Colorado. You can depend on our committee to do all in our power for every city member. Please have the newspapers write a full attendance, as this is a big crowd coming from the East."

Squeezed by a Cave.

A man named Andy Lobenzer was badly squeezed by a caving back yesterday. He was working for J. F. O'Neil making a connection with the sewer in the south half of Twenty-fifth, between Well and Lincoln, when the cave occurred, carrying him up to his head. It took quite a little time to get him out and he looked half smothered. No bones were broken, however, and the attending physician said that he would be all right by morning.—Ogden Standard, Nov. 14.

Sunday School Review.

Yesterday was the fourteenth anniversary of the Twenty-first ward Sabbath school, which was visited in the morning by Brothers George Goddard, George Reynolds, John Alford, and John M. Whitlaker, officers of the Sunday School Union, also a number of patients. Class recitations were given, principally from the leaders, short lectures upon the "Battle of Crooked River" and "Hunn's Mill Massacre," essays. The "Afflicts of Faith" were ably handled by a male quartet of the Primary department and responded in concert by the whole school. Short remarks of encouragement were addressed to both teachers and scholars by the visiting brethren, who urged the teachers to continue in the good work in which they were engaged.

The session of the Sunday school was resumed in the evening, after which supt. Robert Avenst, and his assistants, Brothers James Stewart and Thos. McIntyre delivered the children and parents present. They especially impressed on the minds of little folks the importance of at first being sure of their salvation in Sunday school and have been instructed in the principles of the Gospel. Counselors H. J. Winger and M. S. Woolley spoke encouragingly to the students and thanked them for their arduous labors. It was a number of love to undertake to instruct other people's children, and they asked the Lord's blessing upon them for so doing.

The musical exercises were excellently rendered, under the leadership of Brother Thomas McIntyre, and the day will long be remembered by the saints of the ward.

SEVEN OF THEM CAUGHT.

Deputy Marshals Make a Raid on City Saloon Keepers

AND GET A FULL NUT.

Commissioner Pratt Fines Them $50 Each, and Condemns the Inaction of the City Authorities.

The Sunday liquor traffic yesterday received a sharp blow on the head when, working under the direction of United States Marshal Parsons, Deputy Marshals Brennan Cannon, Charles Goodwell, Will Goodwell, Frank Cleveland and Gill (the last named from Ogden) suddenly visited a number of saloons in the city, and made no fewer than seven arrests. The plan for the raid was ingeniously laid by Marshal Parsons, and it is but justice to his subordinates to say that the human hand which followed was due entirely to the smart way in which they played their part in the undertaking. It had been known for some little time that the "lemon" pounded upon yesterday had been greatly violating the law, but the marshal waited until a favorable opportunity for securing the offenders presented itself, and then the order to fall upon them was given, fortunately with successful results. In each instance where they entered the saloons the deputies had overwhelming proof of the offense, and when they had completed their rounds the following incriminated were engaged:

H. C. Cove, the Yellow Front saloon, west First South street; Hiner Mackay, the Alhambra, West Temple street; Morris Levy, whose saloon is situated on State Road, between Third and Fourth South; Joseph and Charles Mannon, saloon at the corner of West Temple and Second South streets, opposite the Dooly block; Joseph Kumpe, "house of the Elks" saloon, corner of First South and State streets, and George E. Collier, who runs a liquor establishment close to the Tribune office on West Temple street.

The defendants were taken without much loss of time before Commissioner Pratt, who has lately been quite or quite "an experience" among the Gentiles and some knaves—and that functionary fined their heads at $50 each, requiring them to again appear before him this morning and explain their conduct.

At ten o'clock today the aforesaid men had arrived here to the commissioner, and the deputy marshals were all ready to tell their story; but the record of their offenses announced that the defendants with one accord pleaded guilty. There was no attorney to ask for leniency in their behalf, and Commissioner Pratt had then a lecture which ought to remain impressed upon their minds as well as on the minds of others for some time yet to come. "Your Honor reminded the company before him that there was a statute on the subject of selling or giving away liquor on the Sabbath day, by certain keepers, which must be enforced. The district court, he said, had attempted to stop the Sunday liquor traffic, but defendants knew of this law by obtaining it, and were therefore now guilty of its infraction. Of course he took into consideration (this was uttered with a stinging emphasis) "the fact that the city government had been grossly negligent in not enforcing the law, thereby virtually allowing these saloons to be open every Sunday," indeed, by their inaction the city authorities had, in reality, issued the sale of liquor on the Lord's day. So far as he knew this was the defendants' first offense—at any rate it was their first appearance before him on a charge of the kind, and he would remind them that the law empowered him to impose a fine of $500 in such case, in addition to six months' imprisonment. Considering, however, the fact that this statute had been allowed to become a dead letter in the city, owing to the wand of action of those having control of its affairs, and as the object now in view was to prevent this sort of offense being committed in the future, he would inflict a fine of $50 only in each case. "But mind" (concluded the commissioner, with a warning inclination of the head), "if you are brought before me again you will be very severely punished."

And so the seven "fellies" deposited as security yesterday, had to be forfeited.

Marshal Parsons' action in the matter is warmly approved by all good and law-abiding citizens.

The proprietor of the Alhambra saloon, one of the arrested of yesterday, complains that Marshal Parsons' deputies refused to allow him to lock the door of his saloon before leaving the premises with the officer, and as no one remained in charge during his absence, some one walked in and attracted $25 from the till. Such was Mr. Mackay's report at police headquarters this morning.

Fire.

Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, a fire broke out in a small stable at the rear of No. 24 Church street. Before the brigade could reach the spot—consequent upon the inflammable character of the structure—the flames had got a firm hold, and no sooner had a stream of water been turned upon the burning building than the entire stable was ablaze in a perfect wreck. A Mr. Carr was the owner of the stable. The loss amounts to perhaps $40. It is supposed that the fire was caused by some boys, who were either smoking or playing with matches.

Personal.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, passed through this city on his way east today.

J. C. Perry, of York City, editorial writer and journalist, is in the Tabernacle.

Hon. C. C. Wallace, of Eureka, Nevada, left for home this morning.

Mr. Hinchcliffe, representative of the Chicago Times-Herald, who is making a tour through the West in the interest of the World's Columbian Exposition, is in this city.

A SECRET SESSION

Of the Alleged Territorial Republican Committee Held.—Moses, Evans and McBride Ousted.

The alleged Territorial Republican Central Committee met in secret session at the scene of the Utah Commission on Saturday afternoon. There were present J. E. Dooty, A. H. Lowry, C. C. Goodwin, Hector W. Height, John Willach, James McGarry, by Henry Page, proxy; J. H. Moses, by A. H. Fourty, proxy; Chas. Brough, by Wm. Farrell, proxy; Arthur Brown, by Arthur Pratt, proxy.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Dooty. Henry Page acted as secretary. It was determined that all people for absent members be ousted.

On motion Arthur Brown's place on the committee was declared vacant, and E. W. Talbot chosen to succeed him.

Mr. Pratt, proxy for Mr. Brown, filed the following protest:

The Republican party of Utah having been regularly organized by a Territorial convention called for that purpose, and its organization was duly filed with the secretary of the Territory, and its members having refused to work with Independent party, has no standing in law, and the action of the Republican party has not adopted the Republican party independent of all other parties, and consequently, when speaking as Republicans, has seen fit to give its own allegiance to the so-called Liberal party of Utah, and has declared itself in favor of the dissolution of the Republican party. Therefore, as a Republican, having been ousted from the party, I protest against any assumption of authority on the part of this committee to speak for the Republican party, and, moreover, I protest against any action on its part which would tend to advance the interests of the Liberal party, which is composed of the regular Republican party of Utah. The only party which has made no such legitimately patriotic is to aid party ends.

John R. McBride, a member of the original committee, was also ousted and his place filled by C. H. Varian.

Mr. Pratt succeeded that a ballot be taken on the question, and as all voted for Mr. Brown's removal except himself, he was declared duly ousted.

J. E. Dooty was made permanent chairman.

C. C. Goodwin, C. S. Varian and Henry Page were appointed a committee on resolutions to prepare a memorial to be sent to the National committee, protesting against the recognition, by that body, of the regularly organized Republican party of Utah.

Alleged Forgery.

E. H. Barnard was a employe of the Salt Lake Manufacturing Company up to the 7th instant. On that date he took a check to the State Bank of Utah in favor of himself for the sum of $[illegible]. To all appearances it was genuine, bearing the name of Mr. Woolley, the secretary of the company. The whole transaction set forth the fact that the city government had been grossly negligent in not enforcing the law, thereby virtually allowing these saloons to be open every Sunday," indeed, by their inaction the city authorities had, in reality, issued the sale of liquor on the Lord's day. So far as he knew this was the defendants' first offense—at any rate it was their first appearance before him on a charge of the kind, and he would remind them that the law empowered him to impose a fine of $500 in such case, in addition to six months' imprisonment. Considering, however, the fact that this statute had been allowed to become a dead letter in the city, owing to the wand of action of those having control of its affairs, and as the object now in view was to prevent this sort of offense being committed in the future, he would inflict a fine of $50 only in each case. "But mind" (concluded the commissioner, with a warning inclination of the head), "if you are brought before me again you will be very severely punished."

And so the seven "fellies" deposited as security yesterday, had to be forfeited.

Marshal Parsons' action in the matter is warmly approved by all good and law-abiding citizens.

The proprietor of the Alhambra saloon, one of the arrested of yesterday, complains that Marshal Parsons' deputies refused to allow him to lock the door of his saloon before leaving the premises with the officer, and as no one remained in charge during his absence, some one walked in and attracted $25 from the till. Such was Mr. Mackay's report at police headquarters this morning.

Fire.

Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, a fire broke out in a small stable at the rear of No. 24 Church street. Before the brigade could reach the spot—consequent upon the inflammable character of the structure—the flames had got a firm hold, and no sooner had a stream of water been turned upon the burning building than the entire stable was ablaze in a perfect wreck. A Mr. Carr was the owner of the stable. The loss amounts to perhaps $40. It is supposed that the fire was caused by some boys, who were either smoking or playing with matches.

Personal.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, passed through this city on his way east today.

J. C. Perry, of York City, editorial writer and journalist, is in the Tabernacle.

Hon. C. C. Wallace, of Eureka, Nevada, left for home this morning.

Mr. Hinchcliffe, representative of the Chicago Times-Herald, who is making a tour through the West in the interest of the World's Columbian Exposition, is in this city.

The musical exercises were excellently rendered, under the leadership of Brother Thomas McIntyre, and the day will long be remembered by the saints of the ward.

BEATEN AND ROBBED

Duncan M. McAllister has a Thrilling Experience With Footpads.

About 10 o'clock on Saturday night, Duncan M. McAllister, manager of the Utah Soap and stationery Company of this city, was held up, brutally beaten and robbed while on his way home from business.

The affair occurred on the west side of East Temple street and about two rods south of the northeast corner of the Temple Block. When a little north of the center of the block he noticed a couple of men at the point first named. Seeing that they were leaning against the wall, while the other was standing near the outer edge of the sidewalk, he thought they were intoxicated and taking quite freely. Mr. McAllister did not have the slightest suspicion that they were tough characters who had congregated together for some days prior to the assault. They were talking quite loudly,