AROUND THE COURTS.

Criminal Trials Before Chief Justice Merritt Today.

THE ALLEN HABEAS CORPUS AGAIN

An "Industrialist" Charged With Disturbing the Peace.—A Neighbors' Brawl, Etc.

In Chief Justice Merritt's division of the Third district court today criminal business was once more in order. Spectators were present to fill them.

Allen Miles, a strapping young fellow about 25 years of age, was first placed on trial on a charge of assaulting, with intent, Clara Frazer, a girl of 14 years, at Oakley, Summit county, on June 25, 1893.

Assistant District Attorneys Howat and Richards prosecuted; Attorney W. L. Scott defended the accused.

The facts were of a disgusting character, and such as should not find a place in any respectable newspaper. While the girl spoke with certainty in the defendant as being the man who assaulted her, Miles on the witness stand stoutly asserted his innocence, saying he did not see Clara on the day in question.

The arguments did not begin until late this afternoon.

TWO MONTHS IN JAIL.

Arthur Woods withdrew his former plea of not guilty to an indictment charging him with forcibly entering the dwelling house of Alfred W. McCune, on February 21, and stealing various articles, and plead guilty to petit larceny; thus by consent of counsel for the prosecution. He waived time for sentence and was ordered to be imprisoned in the county jail for two months.

FORECLOSURE.

In the case of W. A. Fancher vs. W. A. Dyson, a decree of foreclosure was entered by default, and an attorney's fee of $75 allowed.

ORDERED OUT OF COURT.

The case of Abraham Smith vs. Daniel Kay was reported to have been settled, and was dismissed.

SENTENCED AT VARIANCE.

This morning Deputy Sheriff Mattews went to Morgan's saloon situate at the rear of the Chamber of Commerce building, and arrested John "Doc" McLarenne and Mrs. Smith (a young woman of about 22), on a warrant taken out by Thos. E. Wissing, in Commissioner McNally's office. McLarenne is charged with using vile language and disturbing the peace of Wissing and family; and against the lady a charge of assaulting Mrs. Wissing is preferred. McLarenne's hearing has been set for Thursday at 2 p. m., and Mrs. Smith's for Friday at the same hour. The defendants were released, meanwhile, on their own recognizances.

AN "ALL-TO-PIECES" WORK.

At a late hour last night Deputy Sheriff Steele arrested E. H. Steinberg on the strength of a warrant issued by U. S. Commissioner McNally, the charge alleged against him being disturbing the peace and using profane language, at Murray, on May 2nd. The case arises out of the recent arrangement of the industrial army at Murray, the defendant having been a member of that body. For certain reasons, however, he was "strummed out" of the ranks, and on account of this the trouble seems to have sprung. The defendant, after arrest, was allowed to go on his own recognizance pending an investigation, which was set for Friday morning next.

FOR DISBURSEMENTS.

The trial of C. G. Johnson, on a charge of embezzling certain monies and county warrants in his capacity as a trustee of the Twenty-fourth school district of Salt Lake county, under circumstances already stated in the NEWS, is expected to commence this afternoon.

WHEN WILL IT END?

The attorneys for the defendant-petitioner (Judge Powers and Morris Shimmer) are having lots of fun out of the Charles Allen habeas corpus matter. Twice already had Chief Justice Merritt discharged Allen, and now his honor is called upon for the third time to pass upon the case. His manner indicated today that he has had about enough of it. The officers got the man after his release yesterday as far as Woods Cross station, it being intended, it is said, to rush him on from there to Ogden by the next train passing that way; but Marshal Davenport, of the Junction city police force—upon whom in the meantime papers had been served by the county sheriff, at the instance of Allen's counsel—appeared upon the scene, stated the then condition of things, and reluctantly concurred that they must return to Salt Lake. Judge Powers claims that "technically" is holding Allen on the very same warrants that was dismissed by Judge Merritt yesterday morning, and shortly after the opening of court today counsel desired his honor to hear him. It was agreed, later, that he should have an opportunity of presenting his case at 2 o'clock.

The matter did not come up as expected, but it is said to be probable that another effort will be made to "catch the eye" of Judge Merritt before his home adjourns for the day. City Attorney Walpole, of Ogden, is down in order to contribute his quota to the legal arguments on the side of the police authorities, and will seek to show the court that the officers have acted in good faith throughout in the action they have taken.

The Kansas City officer is not now expected to arrive until tomorrow. It is stated, however, that Allen has been provided with "significant" in the city jail, and it is intended to keep him there until the court has again ruled upon the case.

COURT NOTES.

John Welsh and James H. Clair, whose trial on a charge of highway robbery was reported in yesterday's NEWS, were found guilty late in the afternoon. The date for sentence was not set.

W. H. Wallace, charged with burglarizing the store of John R. Binns, and stealing therefrom a basket of eggs and other articles, on March 4th, 1894, was convicted after a very short hearing. Sentence will be passed later.

Charles H. Deere has brought suit against Henry Wagener et al in the Third district court to recover $37,161.18 claimed to be due on a promissory note secured by a mortgage on Mr. Wagener's brewery and other property.

TODAY'S PROBATE COURT.

Estate of Frederick W. W. Brodemeyer, a minor. Hearing on petition of Pernette Brodemeyer, mother of the minor, for appointment of a guardian. Mrs. Brodemeyer herself was appointed on filing a bond of $10,000.

Estate of John Parker, deceased. Hearing on final account and petition for distribution.

The account was allowed and distribution made.

Democratic Meetings.

The Seventeenth Ward Democrats will meet at the residency of Aurelia Miner at the corner of North and West Temple streets, on Thursday evening next at 8 o'clock, to perfect an organization.

The Democrats of North Salt Lake will meet at the Ward meeting house on Monday night next at the same hour for a similar purpose.

Personal.

Chief Engineer George H. Pegram, of the Union Pacific, with headquarters at Omaha, arrived in the city this morning. While here he will be the guest of his sister, Mrs. F. J. Fabian.

William S. Colvin, president of the Hazard Powder company, of Hazardville, Connecticut, is in Salt Lake today, and receives a cordial welcome especially from those with whom his institution has done business for many years. Mr. Colvin is accompanied by his wife. They have been on a tour of the Pacific coast and are now homeward bound. They will spend some time looking about the city, and will resume their journey eastward.

ARMY MORE RESTLESS.

Believed that it is Now on Its Last Legs.—Carter Living High.

An officer of the Industrial army came up from West Jordan today. He says the men are getting very restless and that they are deserting every day. There is great dissatisfaction over the course that Carter is pursuing. The latter is living high at the restaurants and hotels now, the men say, while the members of the army are on short rations at camp. The offer to work on the railroad for $1.50 a day was laid before the men and rejected. They want to go to Washington. That, they say, was the object of their organization and not to get work on the railroad or anywhere else. The army is apparently on its last legs and the sooner it disbands the better it will please the farmers in whose neighborhood it is camped, as they have been taxed almost to the limit.

May Not Come to Time.

Mr. Frank Kane, local representative for Thurman & company, of Chicago, who offered the highest figure for the $500,000 of city bonds last evening, has been in close telegraphic communication with his house today with a view to getting them to meet the requisite $50,000 certified check. The first telegram stated that the condition would be complied with by 6 o'clock. Late this afternoon another was received asking until tomorrow. And thus the matter stood at press time.

AMUSEMENTS.

WATTERSON'S LECTURE.—The famous Kentucky editor, orator and statesman, Mr. Henry Watterson, will deliver his great lecture on "Money and Morals" at the Salt Lake Theater on Friday, May 11th; and that he will be greeted by an immense audience goes without saying.

Seats will be on sale at the box office on Thursday, and should be secured at once. Of Mr. Watterson's lecture which he delivered lately in San Francisco, the following are some of the press opinions:

"Mr. Watterson delighted everybody. His lecture on "Money and Morals" is full of light and shade, humor and pathos, magnificence of rhetoric and splendor of thought, a masterpiece in short of all that can command and delight an audience."—Examiner.

"Money and Morals is a diamond set in emeralds, rubies and gold."—Call.

"In his really delightful discourse on Money and Morals, Mr. Watterson captivated everybody. There was not a dull line in it. From first to last he held his audience by the silken threads of eloquence, pathos and humor."—Report.

"Watterson is a great talker, and Money and Morals is a great talk."—Bulletin.

"A more magnificent and delighted audience than that which greeted Henry Watterson never assembled in Metropolitan hall.

"Money and Morals is not a lecture; it is a drama in one act and one part, exquisitely rendered. From gay to grave, from lively to serious the orator carries all his hearers, and when he has finished, the cultured that have hitherto alone was spontaneous and long sustained."—Chronicle.

"There never was a lecture with more in it, and more characteristically delivered, than Mr. Watterson's 'Money and Morals.'"

"Mr. Watterson is never tiresome. He entertains from first to last. If he had spoken twice as long, not one auditor would have left the hall."—Argonaut.

THE QUEEN IN SLAVERY DAYS will hold the boards at the Theater on the 14th and 15th. It is a real dusky drama with the sensational effects.

CHAS. H. COLLINS and actor O'Malley are back in Salt Lake shaking hands with old friends. The former is still binding for tourneys and is merely on a visit, the latter is resting after a season on the road.

Fish Lake Once More.

Editor Deseret News:

Having read the articles in the SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS lately about the destruction of fish in Fish Lake, I beg leave to say a few words about it. Since I first came to this valley in 1877, there certainly has been great destruction of fish and game at Fish Lake, and in the adjacent mountains, and the fish are greatly diminished, but I do not believe the statements told of the great amount of fish allowed to waste on the shore of the lake. The NEWS of April 24th, in giving an extract from a letter of Mr. Carter, fish and game commissioner of Hooper county, makes some heavy "Fish Lake is made a reservoir for Heber Valley, and that destroyed more fish than the whole people get from the lake." I wish to say Mr. Carter is misinformed, and his statement is not warranted by the facts. My business has called me to the lake very often ever since 1877, and for weeks together I have camped there, more especially the last two summers, having been there as agent for the Fremont Irrigation Co., and I know of the conditions. Men go there from St. George in the south and Eureka in the north, and people in the north, who harvest, and have hauled away tons of fish. About the time they expect to spear our game the Indians and whites congregate there, and wait anxiously for us to "make a fish way," as they call catch the fish. When I opened the gates last June and refused to "make a fish way" for a few days, I was "cursed" by both whites and Indians because they could not manage their traps to go more widely.

There are three good-sized creeks, and two or three smaller ones, running into the lake. They make excellent spawning grounds for the fish, but these creeks are washed day and night, and I tell the squaws that if the fish dare venture up into them, not five in a hundred ever live to get back into the lake. That is the true cause of the decrease of fish in Fish lake.

Our irrigation company will be happy to cooperate with Mr. Carter in protecting the fish, but inasmuch as we are all the water flowing from the lake for irrigation purposes, we think we have a perfect right, by law, to close or open our gates at pleasure; and some, we hope no one will give too much sympathy to the cry of hungry fish peddlers for a "fish way" in our dam. All they want is for us to so open wide the fish, that the fish can be conducted in these beautiful crystal streams during June and July, and some springs in May, of each year, and the fish and game commission will direct or allow us to put in a screen at our headgate, so as to keep the fish in the lake, and will then plant trees from Indians and others at the side called for a few years, the lake will be filled with the most delicious trout again.

Then the Indians and others should be taught to cease shooting fire in the forests about the lake as they did last year, when they went away from their angry because they had failed to get a "fish way" at our dam to suit them. We are very much interested in the success of Prof. Whiting and others to protect our forests, and will be pleased to help all we can in that direction.

We have bought a right of way, and are constructing a dam, by which we expect to make a fine fish pond, equal to the little water and twenty feet deep. This is not intended for a fish pond, but for the storing of water for irrigation, but it will be a fine fish pond all the same.

Yours respectfully,

FRANKLIN W. YOUNG.
