NEWS OF THE WEST.

Boy Thrown Off of a Wagon and Killed By a Runaway.

KILLED AN INCAPACITATED TRAMP.

Unpaid Nearly Gave Her Tailor—Closing Holes Without—and Nearly Killed.

Mr. Mielke, 10 years of age, of Oakland, Cal., died on Monday, resulting from injuries.

A Prescott, Ariz., man named John H. Murphy, became insane while on a train at Palo Alto, Cal., on Monday night.

In one year the number of pupils at the Arizona University increased to 1 instructors, and the attendance $50,000.

The East Oakland, Cal., street railway employs but seventeen. One is over 18 years of age. Three boys work eleven hours a day, and receive $18 per month wages.

Fred Grow, an old and respected pioneer of Hillsboro, Or., is dead. He was 72 years old and came to Oregon in 1844. He had the honor of pulling the first first tree grown in Oregon.

Cornelius Wolfert of Martinez, Cal., ate two tea biscuits on Monday night, swallowing a silver 5 cent piece. One of the pieces attempted to escape and the substitute shot him through the heart.

Ed Tilman of Bloomfield, Cal., met with a bad accident while out roasting a new cane. The light bullet lodged in the shotgun exploded near the chamber. His right arm was badly mutilated by the explosion.

Prizes aggregating $1,000 will be paid for the Valentine wheat at Chico, Cal., as soon as it is cured. Experts expect to harvest and thresh equal to Chico blue stem in Southern California.

Nick Verdier, a German 27 years of age, accidentally shot his wife in Hoopa, Cal., a ranch near Dillwood, Humboldt County, Tuesday. He was cleaning a revolver or rifle and a flight from the weapon was discharged.

By the horse running away at Healdsburg, Cal., Monday afternoon, a little child named A. Piper had his leg broken in two places. The child was seated in a buggy, while a lady was driving. The horse became unmanageable and started home.

A Japanese named Lyemon entered the place occupied by Sakamoto, Cal., on Monday and gave himself up, saying that he murdered his partner at Tatsuki, a village in Wakamatsu county, last Tuesday, and buried the corpse. The cause was some trivial quarrel.

Mrs. Maria Martin, who died at her home in Redlands, Cal., on Tuesday, was the mother of Frank Martin, formerly of the firm of Martin & Martin, prominent dry goods merchants of Los Angeles. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and was 70 years of age.

Mrs. Mielke, 10 years of age, of Oakland, Cal., died on Monday, resulting from injuries.

A Prescott, Ariz., man named John H. Murphy, became insane while on a train at Palo Alto, Cal., on Monday night.

In one year the number of pupils at the Arizona University increased to 1 instructors, and the attendance $50,000.

The East Oakland, Cal., street railway employs but seventeen. One is over 18 years of age. Three boys work eleven hours a day, and receive $18 per month wages.

Fred Grow, an old and respected pioneer of Hillsboro, Or., is dead. He was 72 years old and came to Oregon in 1844. He had the honor of pulling the first first tree grown in Oregon.

Cornelius Wolfert of Martinez, Cal., ate two tea biscuits on Monday night, swallowing a silver 5 cent piece. One of the pieces attempted to escape and the substitute shot him through the heart.

Ed Tilman of Bloomfield, Cal., met with a bad accident while out roasting a new cane. The light bullet lodged in the shotgun exploded near the chamber. His right arm was badly mutilated by the explosion.

Prizes aggregating $1,000 will be paid for the Valentine wheat at Chico, Cal., as soon as it is cured. Experts expect to harvest and thresh equal to Chico blue stem in Southern California.

Nick Verdier, a German 27 years of age, accidentally shot his wife in Hoopa, Cal., a ranch near Dillwood, Humboldt County, Tuesday. He was cleaning a revolver or rifle and a flight from the weapon was discharged.

By the horse running away at Healdsburg, Cal., Monday afternoon, a little child named A. Piper had his leg broken in two places. The child was seated in a buggy, while a lady was driving. The horse became unmanageable and started home.

A Japanese named Lyemon entered the place occupied by Sakamoto, Cal., on Monday and gave himself up, saying that he murdered his partner at Tatsuki, a village in Wakamatsu county, last Tuesday, and buried the corpse. The cause was some trivial quarrel.

Mrs. Maria Martin, who died at her home in Redlands, Cal., on Tuesday, was the mother of Frank Martin, formerly of the firm of Martin & Martin, prominent dry goods merchants of Los Angeles. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and was 70 years of age.

Mrs. Mielke, 10 years of age, of Oakland, Cal., died on Monday, resulting from injuries.

A Prescott, Ariz., man named John H. Murphy, became insane while on a train at Palo Alto, Cal., on Monday night.

In one year the number of pupils at the Arizona University increased to 1 instructors, and the attendance $50,000.

The East Oakland, Cal., street railway employs but seventeen. One is over 18 years of age. Three boys work eleven hours a day, and receive $18 per month wages.

Fred Grow, an old and respected pioneer of Hillsboro, Or., is dead. He was 72 years old and came to Oregon in 1844. He had the honor of pulling the first first tree grown in Oregon.

Cornelius Wolfert of Martinez, Cal., ate two tea biscuits on Monday night, swallowing a silver 5 cent piece. One of the pieces attempted to escape and the substitute shot him through the heart.

Ed Tilman of Bloomfield, Cal., met with a bad accident while out roasting a new cane. The light bullet lodged in the shotgun exploded near the chamber. His right arm was badly mutilated by the explosion.

Prizes aggregating $1,000 will be paid for the Valentine wheat at Chico, Cal., as soon as it is cured. Experts expect to harvest and thresh equal to Chico blue stem in Southern California.

Nick Verdier, a German 27 years of age, accidentally shot his wife in Hoopa, Cal., a ranch near Dillwood, Humboldt County, Tuesday. He was cleaning a revolver or rifle and a flight from the weapon was discharged.

By the horse running away at Healdsburg, Cal., Monday afternoon, a little child named A. Piper had his leg broken in two places. The child was seated in a buggy, while a lady was driving. The horse became unmanageable and started home.

A Japanese named Lyemon entered the place occupied by Sakamoto, Cal., on Monday and gave himself up, saying that he murdered his partner at Tatsuki, a village in Wakamatsu county, last Tuesday, and buried the corpse. The cause was some trivial quarrel.

Mrs. Maria Martin, who died at her home in Redlands, Cal., on Tuesday, was the mother of Frank Martin, formerly of the firm of Martin & Martin, prominent dry goods merchants of Los Angeles. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and was 70 years of age.

Judge Clancy

The Humboldtian, N. Y., Times says: "Judge Clancy is a man of health, as never being sick. He never knew what it is to be sick. He never was sick a day in his life. He never was sick a day in his life. He never was sick a day in his life