SIX UTAH MEN ARRIVE.

Volunteers from Manila Reach San Francisco En Route Home.

A Tribune special from San Francisco dated Jan. 15, gives the following concerning the Utah volunteers who arrived there on Monday:

Corporal Charles E. Varian of Utah Battery A, Corporal Call of Battery A, Private Hansen and Private Anderson of the same battery, Corporal J. A. Hess of battery B and Private Anderson of the same battery are among those Manila, having arrived on the transport Ohio. Hess, Call, Holbrook and Snider were discharged at Manila, and the others on account of disability. Hess is a prominent real estate man of Salt Lake and Varian is the son of Attorney Charles E. Varian.

Anderson was shot through both lungs by a Filipino with a Mauser. He will remain here for a week or more before starting for Utah. He is rapidly recovering from wounds. Call and Varian will leave for home tomorrow, and the others are now on route to Utah.

The disease most prevalent are typhoid malaria and dysentery. Snider contracted typhoid fever. When I was taken home he was reported in the death-averaged on a day in December I was ordered home. I was in the hospital and the deaths had been reduced to one in three days. The most hopeless sufferers were those who had never been to take care of themselves. Fifty men were down with the malaria when I left.

"I left Manila weighing 112 pounds. I contracted Varian, and now weigh 140 pounds. The change came from the Utah climate greatly helped all of us.

Varian declares that the trouble with the native soldiers is little trouble to Manila or the troops joining the town, one tribe called the Macabees, seems to be friendly to Americans. Aguinaldo's people are at Marco Bohol, some down the Pasig river and do a good deal of pillaging. They recognize native authority and defy Aguinaldo.

WILL LAUNCH IN BUSINESS.

Mosser Brothers of Salt Lake, to Head an Enterprise in Manila.

Don C. W. and Barr W. Mosser, sons of Mr. A. Milton Mosser, who were discharged from the army at Manila on the 6th inst. by instructions cabled from the war department, were on given leave of absence from Manila because they were either sick or intending to come home. They were in such good health, the last time they wrote, that some people would not take hold of them, though they had been cautioned from home. They called to their father to obtain their discharges at Manila because they intended staying there for a while, at least, to engage in some business or business operations which they could not successfully launch at home. They were handicapped with soldiers' duties.

PRESS ASSOCIATION'S MEETING.

The members of the Utah Press association will hold their annual meeting at the Knutsford hotel tomorrow morning and elect officers for the coming year. In addition to this the association will discuss the question of importance to all State newspapers. In the evening Mr. Don Foster, president of the Knutsford, will entertain the visiting members and their Salt Lake friends a banquet. Toasts, short speeches and music will follow the repast.

CITY AUDITOR'S REPORT.

City Auditor Swan submitted reports of the receipts and disbursements of the city for the fiscal year and also for the month of December, at last night's council meeting. The report for the year shows receipts to the amount of $615,386.78 and disbursements to the amount of $476,714.17, leaving a balance of $38,188.16 on hand.

The December report shows receipts amounting to $107,469.26, and disbursements, $69,528.28.

PUSILLANIMOUS SUGGESTION

A Search Light Thrown On the Clerical Combination.

To the Editor:

In the statement recently issued by President Snow asserting that no plural marriages had been solemnized into since the issuance of the Church manifesto, and that he proposed to see that there should not be any while he held his present position, the following passage occurs:

"What were these men to do with their plural families? Cast them off? Incriminate their wives? Bastardize their children? Make them a common charge upon the community? Or make them, or compel their fathers to make them, maintain the wives, and support and educate the children? It is possible that the Chilian idea of the United States, who have never brought upon the Republic or designing persons to raise their voice against the Mormon people, in this respect, may be found to be the wisest course, and that children who are true and devoted are not to be the worst."

This interpretive idea of President Snow is, to my mind, a pitiful, if not a pitiable, one. It naturally appeals to every magnanimous man and woman familiar with the facts and with the Church it concerns. In contradistinction to it, Lorenzo D. Young's quotation from the altered "Revelation" in Doctrine and Covenants, "Let the widows, saith the Lord, let the children" association, "per Dr. McNiece."

"Now, if President Snow is really anxious about providing for these plural wives, and has the financial ability and organize a special fund for their support and we shall begin to have some confidence in his sincerity.

It will be observed that these clerical persuasions ignore the fact that the families referred to are supposed to be sealed together for eternity, and that the husband is the key-stone of the arch. Without him, there is no exaltation. This may explain why the key-stone of this arch is left out of the association, "per Dr. McNiece." Hosanna and Satan would rather do their work and part in bringing repentance to the erring wives and children, and the others would be driven to despair if they did so.

The salaries of these clerical officers are high, and honorable and would pay for separation to concentration. They therefore would be opposed to the disintegration of Dr. McNiece and the corrupt combination which uses him as a willing tool to the ruin of wives and children, and the misery and malignity of all honest people.

As the wicked interpretation of President Snow stands out in the strongest light of its immaturity, so does the response to it by the Ministers association, then, "per Dr. McNiece," project as a blasting catalist of their partisanship.

The frames of numerous of the leaders are slightly without symmetry. They would sacrificate and wantonly disrupt family associations of long standing which secure the strongest and most tender affections of the human heart.

They propose a process for amelioration to those people that would render them pauper, or, they hope, that they to be long dependents to society, of such a situation. The proof of this is before their eyes. Monsters of Satan, who have, by every suggestion, many years previous to the issuance of the Church manifesto, fatally placed obstacles, wheedled the government into disfranchisement and expending a large amount of money, in the vain way of erecting a building in this city for a home for plural wives with their children, have sought to separate from their husbands. The chief fear used was that large numbers of women would be left in a pitiable condition, and homes to such an institution it is related. The structure was erected, and the plan was a success, so far as the Mormon multitude and nonmormonite, the movement was a total failure.

Brigham Young, Jr., and D. O. Calder's, now, the old truthful statement shows that its framer and clerical associates are not disposed to be forward a number of their fellow beings most worthy people. They would, but, in the words of Brigham Young, Jr., a situation that would tear their heart-strings with sorrow.

The Christianity apart from charity, or love, therefore, I hold that these men are not Christians and that, if they are supposed to be such, logically, they are hypocrites.
