POLITICAL MENTION.

Democratic State Convention Will Reconvene in This City Oct. 22.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY TICKET.

Frank Armstrong for Mayor; E. L. Sloan, Recorder; George E. Pyper, Treasurer, W. W. Gee Police Justice.

In political circles today the chief topic of conversation was the reconvening of the Democratic state convention. The Democratic municipal ticket, too, was much spoken of by the party leaders on either side and comparisons made with the ticket already in the field. The municipal campaign may now be said to have taken definite shape and from this time forth the city committees may be expected to do their share of work.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION RECALLED.

The Democratic state committee last night after a tempestuous session of several hours, decided to reconvene the state convention for the purpose set forth in the following call:

Since the nomination of the Democratic state ticket through no fault of the Democratic party there has arisen a crisis in political affairs of this Territory. It has been caused by the efforts of designing and unscrupulous Republicans, who have used and deserted Mormon statesmen of high Church officials in order to secure their own designing ends. Efforts are being made to raise the people who have been taught to reverence authority, that the dominant church of Utah desires the defeat of the Democratic party. The condition of things forms the serious consideration of every thinking man and woman. It presents before the people a question before which all others are dwarfed. It relates to the rights of persons and the personal and political freedom of every individual. The Democratic party, which has ever been the party of the fullest freedom to the citizen, proposes to meet this issue and fight it out that it may be settled for all time. That peace may come to the people of Utah, the adoption of the constitution that is presented for the consideration of the people may not be delayed.

It has no quarrel with any church; it admits the right of every society to govern and control its members in its own affairs, so long as the rights of the state or the rights of other individuals are not encroached upon. Its grievance has been caused by those who are ready and willing to drag the cross of Christ in the mud and dust and filth of politics, in advance selfish ends. It matters not whether this was occasioned by innocent motives or innocent action, the condition is here, and it must be met and overcome. There should be no injustice done to any man. There should be no interference with the rights of any church or of any individual; but for the good of Utah as well as for the good of Democracy the question should be met in a manly way, and in a manner that the people will know that the Democracy has spoken and will act accordingly.

Therefore, in view of the conditions existing, in order that there may be issued a declaration of political independence and for the purpose of declaring that no man or set of men shall hereafter use the name of any church or ecclesiastical authority to control the votes or the political sentiment of any citizen, the Democratic State committee, duly assembled at Salt Lake City on Monday, the 14th day of October, 1895, by unanimous vote, hereby directs the reassembling of the delegates that composed the convention that met at Ogden on the 5th day of September, 1895, at Salt Lake City, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of October, 1895, at the hour of 10 a.m. All delegates to the late convention are earnestly requested that having settle all business and excuses they attend this convention for the good of Utah and all the people of Utah and settling once and for all one of the questions that has so long harassed all classes in this Territory.

The convention will also be empowered to take such other action than that stated in this call as the exigencies of the occasion may require.

O. W. Powers, Chairman.
E. A. McDaniel, Secretary.

DEMOCRATIC MUNICIPAL TICKET.

After the NEWS went to press yesterday. The Democratic city convention made the following nominations:

For Mayor—Francis Armstrong.
For recorder—Edward L. Sloan.
For treasurer—George E. Pyper.
For city justice—W. W. Gee.

Those placed in nomination and the votes received were as follows:

For mayor—Francis Armstrong, 108; A. W. McCune, 109; H. N. Ilaskin, 28.

For recorder—E. L. Sloan, 57; John N. Pike, 54; E. A. Folland, 1; George H. Beckman, 6. Messrs. Folland and Beckman withdrew before balloting began.

For treasurer, Judge Hoge presented the name of George E. Pyper, and by unanimous consent he was nominated by acclamation.

For city Justice, W. W. Gee was nominated by acclamation, Morris Sommer and B. T. Lloyd, the other gentlemen named in nomination, having withdrawn.

The committee on resolutions reported the following which was adopted after some discussion:

We, the Democrats of Salt Lake City, in convention assembled, hereby renew and affirm our confidence in Democratic principles.

We endorse the platform adopted by the state Democracy, and particularly that portion of it which demands the restoration of silver as lawful money of the United States at the ratio of 16 to 1, and that, too, without the assent of any other nation.

We favor eight hours for a day's labor, and point to the recognition of labor on the Democratic ticket as unmistakable evidence of the treatment that labor will receive at the hands of the two parties.

We demand that Salt Lake work be given to Salt Lake workmen.

We favor a reduction in all municipal expenses to such limits as are absolutely indispensable to the safe conduct of the city's affairs, economically administered.

Whereas, The present system of metering water rates is far in excess of the expense of maintaining our system, and

Whereas, The surplus is employed to defray the general government expenses to which property has been subjected by a Republican administration, and

Whereas, This results in unjust and excessive exactions from the owners of homes in our city. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves to limit the water rates to an amount necessary to defray the expense of maintaining our water system.

The record of the Republican party in this county and our demands the reparation for the robbery of their control of public affairs in this city, in this county and in Utah Territory.

In 1890 the city treasury turned over to the county city money the sum of $[illegible]. Since that time the county commission has been composed of Republicans at the ratio of about three Republicans to one Democrat. In the five years since 1890 these Republican municipal bodies have expended $6,012,525 collected from the people by regular and special taxes and by the sale of $2,020,000 of our most bonds, which are today a lien upon all the property of this city.

The school boards have expended $1,779,327, of which amount $[illegible] was obtained from the sale of bonds. We have no criticism to make upon the amount of or manner in which this particular sum was expended.

The county court has expended $1,[illegible]205, of which amount some $[illegible] is still owing in the form of interest bearing warrants.

The grand total of expenditures by these several Republican bodies is $8,920,000 and our bonds is destroyed.

During the same period property has decreased from [illegible] to [illegible] per cent while the tax account has still increased annually, and today, with values lower than in the last five years, taxes, as a result of Republican misadministration, are higher than they ever were.

We also direct attention to the record of the Republican party in the construction of the joint city and county building and in the scandals that have grown therefrom; also to the work done on the State road as well as the mileage building proposition of the present county court as further evidence of the inability and indisposition of the Republicans to economize in any of the people of Salt Lake City, and we affirm that the only way by which the taxpayers of this one city can hope to save their property, already heavily burdened by public debt, is to place under Democratic control the affairs of a city.

We condemn the system by which the city's resources are frittered away in contracts secured by reason of the wrongs continually occurring in the city and police departments. We pledge the Democratic party, if entrusted with power, to such a course as will secure efficiency and harmony in these departments.

We send greeting to the Democrats throughout all Utah, declaring that Salt Lake City is not the private property of the Republican party, that the citizens are at last awakened to their own interests, and that both her politics and her business will be removed from Republican dictation the fifth day of next month.

There shall be no union of church and state, nor shall any church dictate to the state. And we pledge ourselves as freemen in a free land to resist to the last ditch any interference with the functions of the state.

We endorse the action of the chairman and members of the Democratic state committee and approve of the utterances of and courses pursued by Democratic candidates who refuse to be improper ecclesiastical interference in political concerns.

We respectfully exhort to the State Democratic central committee the propriety of reassembling the State Democratic convention for the consideration of grave questions that today confront every citizen regardless of his political convictions.

We express our absolute confidence in the people, and without fear of contradiction hold that if this question is submitted for their consideration they will vindicate their own honor and justify the assurances made by those that have trusted them and vouchsafed for their independence and freedom from the control of anti-American influences.

BICYCLE DON'TS.

Have Are a Few Points on the Spoke Which Are Recommended to Beginners.

San Francisco Examiner: Don't wheel up a steep hill. Leave that sort of thing to fellows who haven't enough sense to go in when it rains. What gain is there in it, anyhow? You can walk up and push your wheel just as fast, and with one-quarter of the exertion. If too much wheeling on the level road is bad, too much climbing is ten times worse. If you could look into the minds of the smart hill climbers you would find that they hat hill themselves to make bystanders think they are wonderful riders. Rise up that sort of thing is too silly to talk about with patience.

Don't coast too much. If you feel that life without coasting is a nonentity, then go to a place where you are thoroughly familiar with, where there are no crossings, where you can watch the road for at least one hundred miles ahead, and then take care. No matter whether you have coasted down the hill a thousand times before or not, the danger is always just as great. Perhaps we are never in a coast a peril as when we think we know it all.

Don't "coast" in the streets. At any crossing you are liable to run over some pedestrian or to collide with a big truck or carriage. Either one may mean a life lost, or at least broken bones. You wouldn't drive a horse at a 2:40 gait through the streets. Remember a bicycle is quite as dangerous.

Don't ride on the left side of the street. Your place is on the right side, because a bicycle is a vehicle in the eyes of the law, having the same rights and subject to the same rules as any other vehicle. If anything happens to you because you are on the wrong side of the street you cannot recover damages.

Don't ride, because somebody you know has wheeled a "century," that you must do it too. There is really very little satisfaction in riding 100 miles merely for the sake of saying that you have done it. If any other wheelman chooses to tire his muscles and prostrate his heart for a mere bicycle record, let him do it. I know that most of us are surely tempted by the "century" folly. But think a moment. If you owned a fine thoroughbred horse would you think of killing him forever by spending him to the utmost limit of his strength for a wager, say? You do not your own health quite valuable to you than all the horses in the world?

Finally, my husband,—traveling for a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,—procured, for me a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured.
