FRAGMENTS.

Home missionaries meeting tonight.

See Walker & Kohr's ad. for junk wanted.

YESTERDAY's clearings in the Salt Lake Clearing House amounted to $284,000, as against $200,704 for the corresponding day last year.

The time camps of the Patriotic Sons of America will have a celebration on the "Fourth." It will consist of an oration, songs, recitations, etc.

The coroner's inquest over the remains of J. G. Livermon, the unknown of Parowan, whose tragic suicide was reported in Tuesday's NEWS, took place yesterday afternoon. The jury found that the deceased came to his death from a bullet wound, inflicted with suicidal intent.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Utah Sugar company, the only business transacted was to authorize any five of the directors to transact all business that might come before them. The matter of changing the par value of the stock came up, but it was decided not to do it, retain the same, the 100 shares of the par value of $50 each.

The Ogden fire department was called out last evening to the rear of the Idaho Lumber yards where an enclosure was in flames. The building was totally destroyed, but the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to the adjoining sheds and lumber piles. Mr. Jones, in appreciation of the department's services, sent in his check for a liberal amount to be used in furnishing the gymnasium.

At a meeting of the World's Fair commissioners last night, it was decided to accept the plans for a building offered by Burton & Hodgin, architects, of this city. The style is what is known as Old Colonial, and the estimate cost is $15,000. A dissatisfied minority, however, has reacted until the matter has been submitted to the chief of construction at Chicago. Miss May Preston of this city, has been appointed secretary of the board in early managers for Utah.

Justice Jottings.

Wm. M. Shallcross is accused of assault and battery. He will have a hearing this p.m.

Bell Orr, arrested on a charge of having assaulted a lady, was found not guilty and discharged.

William Coal is in custody for larceny.

OLD FOLKS' EXCURSION.

Sa's Arrival of the Party at Payson A Hearty Reception—The Gallivoting in the Park.

The following telephone n. ange was received at the NEWS Office at 12:30 today.

"The Old Folks' special, consisting of eighteen cars, containing 1152 persons, which left Salt Lake over the Rio Grande Western Railway, this morning on time, arrived safely at Payson at noon. The excursionists were met at the depot by the Payson band and marched to the park. They are now seated at dinner. There are 8 babies, at each of which 100 persons are seated. There are one thousand persons over seventy years of age. Governor Thomas, Bishop W. H. Preston and President Angus M. Cannon are with the party.

THE FRANKLIN READERS

Have Been Adopted for Use in the Territorial Schools.

At yesterday afternoon's convention of county superintendents of schools, held at the Utah University building, Mr. Allewall Wootton moved that the new Franklin readers be adopted for the ensuing five years for use in the district schools. The series seemed to be a universal favorite with the members. Out of the many books before the convention it was the only one nominated. The readers are published by Sheldon and Co.

The following are the prices that are guaranteed for the next five years:

	Introduction.	Exchange.	Retail.	Mailing.
Primer	15	11	15	17
Primer (Phonetic)	15	11	15	17
Third Reader	40	30	40	50
Fourth Reader	50	37	50	60
Fifth Reader	60	45	60	70

Judge Boreman, F. W. Chappell and E. A. Wilson were appointed a committee to fix the amount of the bonds of the publishers.

The doors were opened and the agents again canvass. Supplementary readers were then offered as follows: The American Book company presented Johonnot's series, Effingham, Maynard & Co. presented English and Historical America, A. Lovell & Co., Series for Young Americans, Professor Bonnell, for D. C. Heath & Co., presented the Seaside and Wayside series, Sheldon & Co., through Mr. Hunt, offered Franklin's Advanced Readers.

Nominations for supplemental readers were then in order.

Dr. Park named Cirbs for Young Americans.

Mr. Nixon named Seaside and Wayside series.

Mr. Robinson Johonnotti's series.

Mr. Allen Stickney's readers.

Mr. Page made a strong plea for variety of supplementary readers, not only scientific, but classical series.

Mr. Leonard nominated English classics.

Mr. Harmon moved that the choice of supplemental reading be left to county superintendents.

A lengthy discussion followed, participated in by Messrs. Robinson, Wilcox, Olsen, Underwood, Weston and Chappell. The motion was lost. The matter proved to be the Seaside and Wayside series published by D. C. Heath & Co. Following prices will prevail:

Seaside and Wayside Series.	Introduction.	Exchange.	Retail.
Primer	15	11	15
First Reader	20	15	20
Second Reader	30	22	30
Third Reader	40	30	40
Fourth Reader	50	37	50
Fifth Reader	60	45	60

Mr. Robinson moved that another series of supplemental readers be adopted. Pending consideration the convention adjourned till 10 a. m. Wednesday.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

An Action in Which the Plute Mining, Etc., Co. are the Plaintiffs.

A CASE OF SOME IMPORTANCE.

Miss Lee, the Lady Lawyer, Makes the Opening Speech and Does Well.

The case of the Plute Mining and Smelting company vs. Wm. C. Hall was called on in Judge Anderson's court this morning.

The action is brought to quiet title to certain property in the Bells mining district, Piute county, described as the Clipe bels mining claim and the Crown point lode, vein and mining claim. Plaintiffs ask that the judgment entered against them on February 19th, 1888, be declared void in consequence of want of jurisdiction; that the sheriff's deed executed to said property be annulled; and that plaintiffs title be declared valid and perfect. The value of the property in question is estimated at $20,000.

On January 10th, 1888, the defendant Hall began an action in the Third District court against the Plute, alleging, among other things, that the company were then indebted to one Thomas Ferguson to the extent of $1000 on account of services rendered as their superintendent and agent. It was claimed also that the company were indebted to Ferguson to the sum of $475 on account of money laid out by him for their benefit and at their request; and that on January 10th, 1888, Ferguson assigned and transferred the same to W. C. Hall, the present defendant, without alleging that there was any consideration for such assignment. The case came before the Third District court and judgment was entered in favor of Hall, as plaintiff, against the company for $1,475.75 damages, and $22.[illegible] for the 10th of August, 1888, a writ of execution was issued on the judgment and directed to the Sheriff of Piute Co., Utah Territory. The Sheriff made sale of the mining claims before named, and delivered deed thereof to Hall, he who received on June 8th, 1889, in the office of the Recorder of Piute Co. It is insisted by the plaintiffs that the claims of Ferguson were wholly false and simulated, that the plaintiffs were not indebted to him at all, and that the assignment to Hall was without consideration; that Ferguson was not on January, 1888, in their employ in any capacity. Neither Ferguson nor Hall gave plaintiffs any notice whatever of the commencement of the action, and they were therefore wholly ignorant of its having been brought until long after the proceedings purported to be absolute. The sheriff's execution and sale being void, plaintiffs claim that their deed operated as a cloud on their title to said mining claims and greatly impaired their interest in the property.

Judge Sutherland (with whom Miss Lee, the young lady admitted recently to practice, is associated) represents the plaintiffs; Attorney Arthur Brown appears for the defendant. A large portion of the morning was occupied with preliminary motions and objections.

The plaintiff's case was opened by Miss Lee. She spoke with the greatest confidence of manner, made a straight, clear and concise statement, and even rose to eloquence. She was listened to with close attention by the members of the bar present, and it is but justice to the lady to say that her initial efforts betoken a successful legal career. When Miss Lee had finished her speech she sat beside Court Stenographer Fred McIntyre and took shorthand notes of the examination of witnesses.

The trial of the suit was in progress at noon.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Commissioner Mayer this morning dismissed the case of P. M. Frith vs. J. Dewing & Co., which was a claim in sale and delivery of certain books, the return of which was ordered by the court.

The elevator in the new court building was set in motion today, much to the satisfaction of those who have hitherto had to ascend by way of the staircase.

Judge Zane held no court today.

When will seats be set apart for the representatives of the press in the new court building?

Commissioner Greenman has had nothing to do in the direction of court matters for some days, and unless trade improves he talks of going out on a fishing excursion or something of the kind.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Lost Paradise" Tonight.—Wonderland's Five Programme.

The Robert J. Collier company closed their engagement last night and the principal comedians were accorded general applause.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

Charles Frohman's stock company of New York makes its third appearance in the Salt Lake Theatre, presenting Henry C. DeMille's admirable American drama, "The Lost Paradise," for an engagement of three nights, commencing tonight, Wednesday, June 29.

"The Lost Paradise" is a play that treats of the all absorbing question of labor and capital, and it does so in an effective and impressionable manner. It carries the audience from the drawing room to the workshop without disturbing the dignity of the drama or lowering its artistic tone. The hero is presented in the clothes of a working man instead of a dress suit, and a powerful argument is made for a more thorough knowledge of the laboring man's cause by the capitalist and an offense is given to either class.

William Sherry, who started the part of Jember in "Men and Women," plays the leading role, while Orrin Johnson, Cyril Scott, W. H. Crompton, Odelia Tyler, Maude Adams, Edith Hawkins and Elaine Ellson have prominent roles to play. Minor characters are also in faithfully interpreted by performers shown to advantage the strength of the stock company. The play will be presented with careful attention to details.

The company is favorably known here since the performance last summer of "Men and Women."

WONDERLAND.

Gilbert and Sullivan's popular opera "Patience" is announced for the week commencing tomorrow. It will be performed by the California Opera company, under the direction of Stanley Burton. The management has done all in its power to offer scenic effects and beautiful costumes as well as to insure good talent, all of which is duly appreciated by the public. A young lady was asked last night how she had enjoyed "Hiss and Hoss." "O, we entry," she replied, "that I did not go to Wonderland instead."

Hoss, the great cowboy pianist, assisted by Mattie Babel, the famous street player, will be the feature of the entertainment. The ladies need not be reminded that it is their day today.

THE "COMMANDS IN ARMS" CHORUS.

At a meeting held last evening to receive the report of the committee appointed by the "Commands in Arms" chorus, to perfect a permanent organization, there was not enough of the number present who were appointed to constitute the committee. As a second reason for the small attendance, that there was not much probability of a sufficient number meeting to create a lively interest in the matter, Prof. T. J. Thomas declined to act as conductor, and the meeting adjourned sine die.

A Valuable Pamphlet.

There has been received at this office a copy of a lecture published at the office of the Latter-day Saints' printing office, 42 Islington, Liverpool, in the form of a pamphlet. The title of the lecture is "The Latter-day Saints—Their Religion, History, Customs and Destiny." It was delivered before the Mental Society, London, by Elder James H. Anderson, of this city. It is a comprehensive and lucid presentation of the theme. The little work will prove a valuable addition to that class of literature suitable for spreading abroad a more thorough knowledge of the character, views, aims and doctrines of the Saints.

DARK LANTERN INQUISITION

It is Being Held for Mayor Baskin's Especial Benefit.

NEWSPAPER REPORTERS EXCLUDED.

An Evident Manifestation in Throes Infamy on the Innocent and Protect the Guilty.

Mayor Baskin's dark lantern investigation which is now on in the City Hall is causing a lot of public talk and indignation. Newspaper representatives are excluded and every effort is being made to maintain the utmost secrecy regarding the matter. The investigation is evidently an inquisitorial one and, his Honor admits, is being held for his individual benefit. The witnesses summoned to appear and give testimony before him have had the following notices served upon them.

Sir—I have to request that you will appear at the Council Chamber in Wednesday next, June 29th, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., and continue to attend from day to day, if necessary, for the purpose of giving testimony in the matter of the charges made against the chief and other city officers which is at present agitating the public.

It will be observed from the above that Chief of Police Janney and other municipal peace officers are occupying an unenviable position before the public. The charges preferred by Police Lieutenant Kesler, Sergeant George A. Sheets and City Detective Eckland.

The charges are that these men were discovered in a notorious dive on Franklin Avenue about ten days ago, while in the midst of revelry with the inmates. The discovery was accidentally made by a member of the council, to whose ears ugly rumors had come regarding the alleged unofficial conduct of Patrolman Albright. On the night in question, after the adjournment of the City Council, several of the aldermen determined upon making a personal visit to the place where Albright's accusers were living and interrogate them as to their charges. When they reached there they found two reporters—representatives of the local evening papers, who were already there if the street red used to writing. They were requested in the presence of the so-called self-constituted committee, after which the party visited the place and found the officers named.

The testimony of the witnesses examined, so far as the outline of the affair is concerned, confirms this statement, but the details cannot be had for publication, at least not yet. When the inquiry is over there will be disclosures will be of the most sensational character.

Unfortunately there seems to be a disposition to shield the guilty and prosecute the officials who discovered the singularly skeleton of municipal irregularity in the dive of infamy on the most notorious thoroughfare in the city.

A BLACKENED MASS.

Mrs. Agnes Ebern, of Ogden, Burned Almost to Death.

THE COAL OIL CAN AGAIN.

It is Feared That the Unfortunate Woman's Injuries Will Terminate Fatally.

Mrs. Agnes Ebern, of 2371 Monroe avenue, Ogden, was terribly and probably fatally burned yesterday afternoon by an explosion of kerosene with which she was just rekindling the fire in the kitchen stove.

Mrs. Ebern is the wife of James Ebern, janitor of the Fourth and Fifth ward school buildings, and came to Ogden from England with her husband and their three children nearly four years ago. The family took up a residence at the number already named and in order to help defray the expenses incurred in housekeeping Mrs. Ebern took in washing. Yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock she had nearly finished her work, when, desiring to make the kettle hot for tea, she took the coal oil can and poured part of the contents on the live coals. The fire flashed up instantaneously and catching the stream of oil as it issued from the can ignited it. A tremendous explosion followed, shaking the buildings for some distance. Burning oil was scattered broadcast over Mrs. Ebern's clothing and the room, and soon the back part of the house was in flames. The poor woman rushed from the building, closely followed by one of her little girls, one mass of working fire. The children began throwing water over their mother, but they only caused the heat to go inward. Mrs. Hooper's team residing streams under great excitement in the neighborhood and Mr. W. G. Hodge and Mrs. Oliver Bishop, neighbors, ran to her assistance. They threw a blanket over the burning woman and after taking her round for a few minutes succeeded in extinguishing the flames, not, however, until every vestige of clothing, with the exception of her stockings and a small part of her dress, had been consumed. The small of burning flesh was sickening in the extreme. Mrs. Ebern's woman's was a most pitiable sight as she lay on the bed partially unconscious, a blackened and singed object, terrible to behold.

Some one sent in an alarm of fire, and the department responded, but were not needed as the fire in the kitchen had already been trampled out.

The messenger who was dispatched to obtain medical aid met Doctors Jones and Blackburn, on their way to the city hospital, and told them the errand. They were soon doing all in their power to alleviate the terrible sufferings of the patient, whose agonizing cries and groans turned the listeners sick with horror. The poor woman's body was one solid mass of burns, the lower limbs being especially charred. The skin came off in great pieces, and in several places the flesh had eaten into vital parts to such a degree that the physicians are of the opinion that no human power can save the woman's life. Her sufferings were so excruciating that opiates were administered, and under their influence the pain was lessened. The doctors worked unceasingly, and within an hour had the wounds all dressed and the woman washed in oil and cotton batting.

Mrs. Ebern has a sister (Mrs. William Shepard) residing in Paris, Idaho, and last night she was communicated with.

FAST TIME.

The Celebrated "Pennsylvania Limited" Time Restored by the "Burlington."

The Burlington has made another new departure in fast train service between Denver and Chicago, reducing the time to twenty-eight hours. Its new train, known as the "Chicago special," leaves Denver at 8 a. m. and arrives in Chicago at 2:15 p. m. the next day, making the run, after deducting one hour for change from mountain to central time, in twenty-nine hours.

The time between Denver and Chicago is thirteen hours and forty-five minutes, and all trains, whether East or West bound, are ventilated throughout and are made up of through sleepers, chair cars and diners, fitted up with all the modern designs and latest improvements of the Pullman Company.

The Burlington has now Four Fast Flyers ("F. F. F.") between Denver and Chicago, and the question may well be asked: How can such phenomenally fast time be made with no accident of any character and with the safety and comfort of its passengers absolutely assured?

The answer is found in its excellent roadbed, superior equipment and effective system, the perfection of its operating department and in the uniform courtesy of its employees.

Be sure your tickets read "via Burlington route." For further particulars inquire of
