FRAGMENTS.

THE City Council meets as a board of equalization on Tuesday evening.

FREDERICK CROWTON, JR., a native of England, was admitted to citizenship today.

MR. FRANK CRAMER, agent of the Guion line at Chicago, was in the city today on a brief visit.

ALEX. WOODS, the Pocatello wife murderer, is to be hanged at Blackfoot, Idaho, tomorrow.

AL. HOUSEHOLDER and Michael Flemming were each fined $10 today, in the Police Court, for drunkenness.

C. W. SMITH was fined $60 yesterday afternoon, by Justice Pyper, for beating his wife, Laura Smith.

G. W. WALLACE and Louis Owen are to be tried in the Police Court this afternoon, the former for battery and the latter for larceny.

ALBERT JEFFREYS was arrested today on a charge of disturbing the peace. The case is to be investigated by the Police Court this afternoon.

YESTERDAY afternoon Mrs. O'Neal and her five year old daughter were thrown out of a buggy near the Continental Hotel. The child was considerably bruised.

BURGLARS are getting their work in at Ogden as well as in Salt Lake. Last night the residence of a widow lady named Reese was robbed and a silver watch and other jewelry taken.

THIS afternoon Walter Reynolds left at this office samples of his popular summer beverage known by his own name. It is needless to say anything regarding the excellence of its quality, its reputation being already established.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has sent to the Senate several nominations for probate judges in Utah, as will be seen by our dispatches to-day. John Marshall is the name given of the nominee for Salt Lake County. We surmise that John A. Marshall, Esq., the law partner of Secretary Hall, is the gentleman meant.

THE FAIR.

Special Premiums Continue to be Offered.

The list of premiums offered by prominent citizens for the coming fair continues to increase. This morning the following was received:

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah,
August 15, 1888.

Wm. H. Rowe and H. M. Wells:

Gentlemen—We take pleasure in offering the following premiums at the coming Fair:

$10 for the best lady's hand-knit skirt, made from home-made yarns.

$10 for the best lady's hand-knit shawl, made from home-made yarns.

$5 for the best three pairs hand-knit socks, made from home-made yarns.

$2 for the best pair of hand-knit leggins, made from home-made yarns.

$2 for the best pair of hand-knit mittens, made from home-made yarns.

Yours truly,
JOHN C. CUTLER & BRO.

In addition to the above, and those already mentioned in the NEWS, C. R. Savage offers a special premium of $10 for the best original drawing or painting from nature, by a person under 16 or over 70 years of age.

Barton & Co. offer a $20 suit of clothes for the largest potato exhibited.

Herbert Pembroke will give $10 for the best display of home-made house and whisk brooms.

For the best rendered instrumental piece, on the piano or organ, by a boy or girl under 9 years of age, Coalter & Snelgrove will give $5.

James Dwyer offers as a special premium Webster's unabridged dictionary, the object to be named hereafter.

R. K. Thomas will give $25, object to be named hereafter.

George Arbogast offers a special premium of $10, object to be named hereafter.

Coalter & Snelgrove will give $5 to the best singer, boy or girl, under nine years old, playing his or her own accompaniment.

W. S. McCornick has contributed $25 to be awarded for the best exhibit of fine arts.

G. S. Erb gives $25 for the best 25 pounds of butter.

Warning to Fiddlers.

A local violinist of Helena, Mont., was practicing last week in the office of the hotel near the telephone. The wires got surcharged with electricity, and a second later the musician's fiddle was smashed to pieces. He valued the instrument at $500.—Reno Gazette.

A Pleasant Party.

Some time ago Sister Elizabeth Howard injured her ankle by an accidental fall, and has not since been able to leave her home. On Tuesday last the much respected lady was visited at her residence in Big Cottonwood, by a party of her personal friends. She was delighted to see them, and the company, which numbered over fifty, had a pleasant time. Dinner was partaken of in the grove adjacent to the house. The storm broke into the proceedings somewhat, but the occasion otherwise was a pleasurable affair.

Deserted Her.

Marie Christiansen was before Judge Zane today on her application for a divorce from her unfaithful spouse, James Christiansen, who is now in Carlin, Nevada. Both are natives of Denmark. In November, 1886, the husband left his native land to try his fortunes in America, his wife, whom he had married four years before, expecting to join him as soon as the means could be raised. A month or so later, he wrote to her from England, telling her that he would not live with her again, but giving no reason for the desertion. He came on to Montana, and in May, 1887, his wife came to Utah. She opened a correspondence with him on learning his whereabouts, and he sent another letter, refusing to have anything further to do with her. Upon this showing Judge Zane granted a divorce on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide.

Geisford's Sad End.

The funeral services over the remains of George Geisford were held at the residence of Alexander Brown, at Lynne, yesterday. Mr. Geisford was about 28 years of age and in good circumstances financially. He lived pleasantly with his family, which consisted of a wife and three children, and was never heard to complain of life or its ills. His self-destruction is, therefore, strange indeed to those acquainted with him, as they are at a loss to conceive any cause for the deed. He was at his ranch in the north, his little girl of five years, being the only one with him. Before shooting himself he asked the child if she would like to die, too. She replied, No, she didn't want to die. At this he placed the shotgun to his side, pushed on the trigger with a stick, and when the neighbors came, in response to the cries of the little girl, his clothes were found to be on fire. He had just got his crop harvested, and was about to start for Lynne for his wife, who had been there sick for a few weeks.—Ogden Standard, Aug. 16.

EFFECTS OF THE LIGHTNING.

Freaks of the Fluid—A House in the Twentieth Ward Struck and Damaged—Narrow Escape of the Inmates—A Man Thrown Out of a Wagon—Other People Shocked.

During the terrific thunder storm that prevailed in this valley last evening the lightning played some startling freaks in the upper portion of the Twentieth Ward, this city. About six o'clock there was a deafening roll, a roar and a crack of the artillery of heaven. About that time the house of John F. Olsen, at the corner of C and Sixth streets, was considerably damaged. The electric fluid struck the roof near the east side of the building and descended into the interior, tearing out shingles, sheathing, lath and plaster. In its descent it carried away portions of two partition walls, ran along the kitchen floor and tore up the boards exposing the ground underneath. It struck a sink in the northeast corner of the room, and demolished it, twisting the galvanized iron into peculiar shapes and shivering the woodwork into splinters. In its passage outward at the northeast corner the current tore out some of the rocks of the foundation and damaged the woodwork. Some outside flooring was lifted and hurled a distance of eight or ten rods, clear across the street into an adjacent lot.

There are five doors leading out of Mr. Olsen's kitchen. Four of them were torn from their hinges and thrown down, and every door in the house is more or less twisted or loosened. Slight damage was also done at the west part of the building, but this was probably caused by another electric current. The glass of the kitchen window was smashed to atoms.

Mrs. Olsen had a narrow escape from death. A few moments before the building was struck she was engaged in scrubbing the kitchen floor. She was unaccountably and apparently without any evident reason prompted to go into an adjoining room and take her baby from it into another. She had just passed through the kitchen into the adjoining apartment, when the crash came. The door through which she had passed an instant before was torn from its place and fell against her.

When she turned she saw the kitchen in a blaze of light and an odor of burning pervaded the place. She imagined that the structure was on fire, and as soon as she could free herself from her precious burden, the baby, she rushed out and seized the water hose in the hope of extinguishing the flames, but by this time she realized what had occurred.

Had she remained in the kitchen at work she doubtless would have been instantly killed.

About the time the lightning struck, Mr. Olsen's son Anton, eleven years old, was passing around the north end of the house. The current came in contact with his foot, and for a short time a portion of the member was partially paralyzed, but the effect was only temporary, as he soon recovered.

The family were thrown into great consternation by the incident, and Mrs. Olsen, as may be expected, has not yet recovered from the excitement. The damage falls heavily upon them, as Mr. Olsen's circumstances are not as good as could be desired and the family is large. The case affords an opportunity to the benevolently disposed to extend a helping hand in a time of need.

MR. SMYTH STRUCK.

At the same instant that these circumstances were transpiring at Mr. Olsen's house, a striking incident occurred at the premises of Mr. Richard Smyth, hat manufacturer, associated with Goddard & Co., across the street north. Mr. Smyth was seated in his light wagon, and just entering the gate, when he appeared to be struck by lightning, the shock throwing him out of the vehicle to the ground with great violence. Some boys who were near rushed to his assistance, and picked him up for dead.

Fearing that the shock of the incident might injure Mrs. Smyth, who is ill, the lads carried him to the porch of a neighboring house and laid him on the porch, where he remained until he recovered consciousness, but his insensibility continued for some time. He gradually recovered, however, and with the exception of feeling weak he is about all right today, except for a cut on the ear and another on the side of the head, the result of the fall.

OTHER INCIDENTS.

About the same time, and in the same vicinity, Frank Puzey, aged seventeen years, was standing on the porch of his father's house, with his left hand extended and resting upon the woodwork. He received a shock which passed into the hand and up the arm, making slight contact with the body. He was whirled round, the limb dropped lifeless and for a time was partially paralyzed. After a while a prickling sensation ensued and circulation resumed. His little brother, who was standing in close proximity to him, also had a somewhat singular experience. His hands were suddenly forced into violent contact with each other, as in the act of clapping. He also experienced the prickling sensation when circulation resumed. He was uninjured.

A number of other people in the locality were more or less shocked, but none of them received any special bodily injury, except the slight hurt to Mr. Smyth.

Returning Missionaries.

Among the Elders returning yesterday, were Andrew N. Michaelsen of Mayfield, Sanpete Co., A. G. Newgreen, of Grantsville, and H. C. Christiansen of Logan.

Elders Michaelsen and Newgreen left home in September, 1886. The former has been laboring in the Copenhagen Conference and the other in Gottenberg, Norway. Elder Newgreen reports having baptized six persons.

Elder Christiansen left his mission March 31, 1885, and has had charge of the Christiania Conference which comprises all Norway, and numbers about 700 converts, 400 of whom are outside of Christiania. There are ten or twelve missionaries throughout the state one of whom is preaching in the extreme northern part within the realm now of constant day. There is more general interest in the truth shown and less persecution than formerly. Bro. Christiansen has baptized some 128 members; and returning was placed in charge of the company of Saints and Elders which has just arrived.

The emigrants for the extreme parts of the Territory, both north and south, were detained last night at Ogden and Provo in consequence of the omission of coupons in the tickets. The matter was rectified today and the two parties of Saints will proceed to their destinations.

Killed by Lightning.

Word received from Logan today states that there was one fatality in Cache Valley during last night's electric storm, an aged gentleman named Newball, a resident of Smithfield, having been struck by lightning.

THE EXAMINATION.

The Closing Testimony on Behalf of the Prosecution.

The examination into the charge of murder, made against Howard O. Spencer and George Stringam, closed yesterday afternoon, as stated in the NEWS. Following is the testimony given after the close of the NEWS report yesterday:

ARTHUR PRATT

testified—I am warden of the penitentiary and Deputy United States Marshal; have had the defendants in custody; before Mr. Spencer was brought to the city to plead, I told him he was accused of the murder of Sergeant Pike; this was after he had been under arrest several days; he replied that he expected they would bring up that old matter; I have conversed with Stringam on the subject; on Jan. 14th last, in the Marshal's private office, Stringam came to me about some horses; I asked him to tell me about Spencer's having killed Sergeant Pike; he said that he himself furnished Speacer the pistol and told him to act; Stringam loaded the pistol, a five-shooter; he told his brother Bryant what they were going to do and he almost fainted; he also said Pike was with seven others; Spencer went up to Pike and asked him if Pike was his name; the reply was yes, and he shot Pike in the right side; he said Hickman wanted them to kill the squad of soldiers; Stringam further said they had gone to Camp Floyd once to find Pike, but did not; they had been looking for him for months; in the Marshal's office, after Spencer was arrested, Stringam came to me and said he wanted a pass to go and induce Spencer to plead guilty of unlawful cohabitation; I refused the pass unless the district attorney would allow it; after that Stringam made a statement of the shooting to a Herald reporter; this last was after his arrest.

To Mr. Brown—Stringham justified the killing of Pike, because the latter had struck Spencer from behind, without provocation, with the butt of a gun, and had almost killed him; he said Spencer was badly hurt, having had his skull broken, so that part of the brain oozed out; he said Spencer first said when he was sick that he must kill Pike, and wanted Stringam to help him; when Pike came to town, Stringam went to Spencer and told him; he gave him a loaded revolver, saying to him that he was to act; they went out in obedience to Stringam's direction, and Pike was shot right after; Stringam said he had told the story to Van Zile; he also said that if I brought it up he would deny the conversation with me; I was present when one newspaper correspondent talked with Mr. Spencer; this was after this plea was entered; that was the only time when a newspaper reporter was there; Mr. Albright was mistaken if he says a newspaper man was there at any other time.

To Mr. Peters—Mr. Clarke and Mr. Dyer were present when I talked to Spencer.

To Mr. Young—When Stringam came to me I could not say as to his condition; he is generally under the influence of liquor.

To Mr. Peters—He was not drunk.

To Mr. Young—Strinzam is much given to boasting of what he has done, and a great deal more.

TRUMAN SWARTOUT

testified—I live at Provo; have known George Siringam since 1868; in August, 1850, I think I was in Provo; heard of the killing of Sergeant Pike; have talked with Stringam about it, at Julesburg, Nebraska, 1868; Stringam had a dragoon revolver; I asked him how he would swap pistols; he would not trade; he said it was a keepsake: that it was the one that killed Sergeant Pike; he said he told Spencer that Pike was in town, and that it was time to act; Pike was then killed; Stringam said he had assisted Spencer to escape.

To Mr. Brown—Stringam was sober at the time; we had whisky along—I always carry it; he said he barred the way for Spencer to escape.

The prosecution rested its case.

Mr. Brown asked that the defendant Spencer be admitted to bail. If the Commissioner would allow that, they would not spend the time of the court in taking further testimony. There had been great provocation for the killing.

The District Attorney said he did not see ground for admitting him to bail, but would be satisfied if the amount was sufficient to insure his attendance.

Mr. Young thought the court could take judicial cognizance of the condition of a man after his head had been broken in, as Spencer's had, by Sergeant Pike.

THE COMMISSIONER

said there had been no eye-witness of the killing; the strongest testimony against him was that of Mr. Stephen Taylor, who did not see the killing, but saw Mr. Spencer running away after the shot was fired. The guard at the penitentiary had overheard a statement from the defendant that he would plead guilty; the court was of opinion the statement referred to the charge of murder. The only object was to secure the attendance of the defendants, and the commissioner was inclined to allow bail; the case should go to the grand jury.

In response to a question, Mr. Stringam said he had no statement to make, but would like to be admitted to bail.

Mr. Peters suggested bail at $10,000.

Mr. Young suggested $5000.

After some further discussion, Mr. Spencer's bail was fixed at $6000, and Mr. Stringam's at $5000.

Mr. Spencer obtained bondsmen for the required amount, but Mr. Stringam was unable to do so, and was remanded to the penitentiary.

Two Men Drowned.

Yesterday afternon two men were drowned in the Snake River, near Walker's Ferry, Idaho. They were Frank Stantord and James Blemming. The men were driving cattle, and in crossing were thrown from their horses and drowned.

Arrest of James H. Hart.

On Sunday morning last, at the early hour of 4:30, Brother James H. Hart, of Bloomington, Idaho, was surprised by a visit of Deputy Marshals Phelps and Hobson, who desired their hosts' audience to a warrant on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. Brother Hart was soon on his way with his escort to Montpelier, where, before a justice, he gave bonds of $1000 to await the sitting of the October term of the District Court at Blackfoot.

Elder J. E. Hart, who furnishes the above information, reports for Bear Lake County the yield of crops fairly good and the general health of the people excellent.

A MISSIONARY'S DEATH.

An Elder Departs This Life in Virginia.

Yesterday the following dispatch was received by Bishop P. G. Taylor, of Harrisville:

LOCKLAIRD, Virginia, Aug. 13, 1888.

P. G. Taylor:

Edmund Taylor expired at 6 a. m. Dumb chills and fever.

SAMUEL ROUNDY.

This sad announcement was telegraphed to Hot Springs on the 13th, but was not received until yesterday, though Mr. Taylor lives within four miles of said place, a very serious delay. A telegram was immediately sent to Chattanooga asking whether the remains were on their way here; if not, to forward them at once. Nothing further was learned of the particulars of his illness and death, last evening.

The deceased is a son of Wm. Taylor, of Harmony, Kane County, Utah, and was a resident of the same place. He was born in Slaterville, Weber County, in 1860, being 29 years old at the time of his death. His father's family moved to Harmony 25 years ago, where the young man had since resided. In the fall of 1882 he married a daughter of Bishop P. G. Taylor, of Harrisville. Upon his leaving for the Southern States on a mission in February, 1887, his wife came up to her father's, and has lived there during her husband's absence, a period of 18 months. The deceased had three children, two boys aged five and three years, and one girl. The latter he has never seen, she being born two months after his departure. The family connections of Elder Taylor are very numerous. Seven years ago his grandmother, Elizabeth Taylor, died at the age of 81, leaving seven sons and seven daughters, only one of whom had passed before her, and grandchildren and great-grandchildren to the large number of 636, which have increased since then to nearly 800.

Elder Taylor bore an excellent character. He was a reliable and moral young man, and made a good missionary. His death will be mourned by all who had made his acquaintance and had learned to appreciate his sterling qualities and kindness of heart. The bereaved widow, with her three small children, will receive genuine and heartfelt sympathy from the hundreds of friends and relatives who will protect her and assist her in the battle of life.—Ogden Standard, Aug. 16.

Elder Wm. Spry left this city for the Southern States on Monday last, and will reach Chattanooga on Saturday. He will doubtless forward promptly the information regarding the sending of the body home, that the friends and relatives of the deceased Elder may know when to expect it. Elder Taylor is spoken highly of by those missionaries who were associated with him for his firmness and undaunted courage in the missionary field. We unite in condoling with the bereaved family in their sad affliction. May He in whose service our brother has laid down his life bring consolation and peace to their sorrowing hearts.

CURE FOR PILES.

Itching Piles are known by moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching after getting warm. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding and protruding Piles, yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching and effecting a permanent cure. 50 cents. DEEP SEA WONDERS exist in thousands of forms, but are surpassed by the marvels of invention. Those who are in need of profitable work that can be done while living at home should at once send their address to Hallett & Co., Portland, Maine, and receive free, full information how either sex, of all ages, can earn from $5 to $20 per day and upwards wherever they live. You are started free. Capital not required. Some have made over $50 in a single day at this work. All succeed.
