Congress Confronted by the House On Its Coinage Attitude.

ISSUANCE OF STATE BONDS.

the Printing Committee Reports Expense Than $4,000 to the Printers—Libel Law Approved—General.

March of the Senate's time was occupied today in hearing an explanation of the printing estimate. Then the Senate got down to work. The proceedings for the day in full follow:

SENATE.

Communications were received from the House today announcing concurrence in Senate bills on calendar S. B. 46, duties of attorney general, and the passage of H. B. 125, state school for the blind; the latter was referred to the committee on schools.

The House also announced the passage, without amendment, of S. B. 57, University of Utah; also with amendments S. B. 23, state treasurer; S. B. 29, grand and petit jurors, and S. B. 70, birthday rights of polygamists in building and loan associations in Senate; amendments to H. B. 9, attorney's fees to actions for wages, and H. B. 30, exercising the powers of clerks of certain courts.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee on public institutions reported H. B. 119, regulating the state prison, recommending that it be passed.

The committee on claims recommended that claims 1, 3, 7 and 8 and Senate petition 30 be referred to the board of examiners.

The claims committee recommended the passage of H. B. 125, special appropriation for the Roman church, and H. B. 133, appropriation for the Salvation Army.

The committee on printing recommended that the House resolution on the subject of printing be not adopted.

The printing committee reported that the expense of printing to date was $3,900.65, exclusive of $375 for which it is expected to be ordered by the finance committee on ways and means, and asking authority to employ a competent man to measure up the printing. The report was adopted and the power to employ a man given.

Gene Miner had considerable to say of criticism on the printing committee, and disclaimed the Senate committee's responsibility therefor. The committee was in contest of the notion to be elected by printing the journals from the same type as the minutes. The secretary of State had let the contract, about which there is now some misunderstanding with the printer. No prices were agreed upon.

FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Communications were received from the Governor announcing his approval of S. B. 31, relating to county prosecuting attorneys, and S. B. 5, law of 1895, also S. B. 16, appropriation to the Utah University.

NEW BILLS.

Sutherland introduced S. B. 75, to relieve certain officers from certifying to warrants; committed to judiciary.

Sutherland introduced S. B. 91, in relation to making at desk in cases of official error.

Driesell introduced S. B. 92, in relation to b. ilef inspection.

Booth introduced S. B. 93, relating to jury qualifications on minors in certain cases.

BONDING THE STATE.

Sutherland moved that the subject of raising state bonds be referred to the committee on ways and means to frame a bill.

Booth moved that it go to the judiciary committee, to determine which bonds would be valid, as there was a question among attorneys.

The bill went to the ways and means committee.

DRAWING JURORS.

S. B. 70, drawing grand and petit jurors, was taken up on House amendments, some of which were concurred in and others rejected.

STATE TREASURER.

The Senate then took up House amendments to S. B. 80, State treasurer, concurred in some and refused to concur in others.

AFTER THE SALARIES COMMITTEE.

The report of the committee on salaries was recommitted to the committee, to report a bill fixing salaries of county officers.

Sutherland moved that the committee be instructed to report a bill not later than Monday, March 9.

Snow moved to amend by having the instruction of the committee notified, as he had attended very few meetings of the committee.

This motion was discussed pro and con, and the motion as amended was carried.

REVENUE BILL.

S. B. 31, the revenue bill, was taken up, and the second reading was in progress when the News went to press.

HOUSE.

After prayer time yesterday the following bills were passed:

Senate bill 10, providing for the number of drawing grand and petit jurors.

Senate bill 31, providing for the government and management of the State University and regulating the disposition of its income thereof.

Senate bill 70, relating to the birthrights of the issue of polygamous marriages.

THAT DEAD "BILL."

Mr. Tomlinson, of Sanpete, attempted to resurrect the dead bill, S. B. 80, when Mr. Kinney, of Iron, interposed a point of order upon a motion by Mr. Tomlinson, seconded by Mr. Lowry, that his motion is out and referred to the Speaker's committee.

WARM COMMITTEE ROOMS.

Mr. Corsten wanted committee rooms for holding meetings and a resolution to be carried, instructing the sergeant-at-arms to see to it that the necessary warmth was furnished.

Today's Voting.

It was 1:30 o'clock today when the House came to order but not until the reading of yesterday's journal, which, by the way, was printed, occupying a report from the committee having this matter in charge.

TEXTBOOK AND CLERKS.

House bill 10 was introduced by Mr. Sutton and came from the Salt Lake County Representative delegation, calling for one good textbook for each school year in which it is adopted by the county, and states that House bill 11, a companion measure, relating solely to payment, is moved into law. Unanimous consent was asked for the immediate consideration of the bill, which was reported by Mr. Sutton, and passed to the House without objection.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee on municipal corporations reported a resolution (H. House bill 21 introduced), authorizing a certain bridge to be built on Salt Lake County, and recommending the passage of the bill.

The municipal corporations committee recommended that House bill 24, providing for the building of a bridge in Salt Lake County, be indefinitely postponed.

The judiciary committee reported that House bill 31, to amend section 1 of the bill, be amended by striking out the words "Legislature assembled, that it is the sense of the Legislature that the United States of North America, which public lands it was born and has grown to, is the only measure of a foundation for various examples of the right to and property wherever and whenever found struggling for freedom, be the first to lend aid her mother help to the little sister of Antillas," which so much more than anything else, the cause of a state full of war of stories, taxation and suffering caused the heart of the civilized world also to bleed, and to it further

"Resolved, That we, the representatives of a people, happy in the spirit of civil liberty, hereby petition the Congress and President of the United States the organization of independent Cuba, to be a foundation to Western continental map also adding that the history be never, or only partially and the document be filed, and so on and so forth.

"Resolved, That we hereby extend the memorial of the State to the Congress of the United and petition action in the premises."

Committee Meetings.

The following House committees will meet at the time designated:

Education, 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Judiciary, 2:00 p. m. Thursday; fish and game, 2 p. m. Wednesday; public health, 2 p. m. Wednesday; private corporations, public morals, 7:30 p. m. Wednesday; live stock, 1 p. m. Wednesday; municipal corporations, 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Notes.

The revenue bill is now before the Senate for discussion.

The joint committee on education meets at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

There are twenty-eight more working days for the Legislature.

E. S. Corbett, of Uintah county, was a visitor to the Senate today.

The House county warrants bill comes up in the Senate on Friday.

Elder Rudolf Matzig, Bishop of the Eleventh ward, offered the opening prayer in the Senate today.

The Senate sent the land bill back to the committee to wait the result of the House consideration of the same measure.

The fact that Utah is a State was again made apparent today when the Legislature took up the matter of regulating the Cuban belligerents.

Senator Jones, chairman of the relative committee, came to the Senate ready with a resolution to act on the subject, but he was not allowed to do so, the resolution being referred to the committee on foreign relations.

It is evident that the relative bill will have a hard time getting through the Legislature in any form. Yet it is necessary to pass such a law at the present session.

The bill for a State board of labor, arbitration and conciliation appeared doomed to failure at the session of the Legislature, since it contained a clause inoperative to make it effective except at great expense to the state.

The absentees from the Senate today at the commencement of the session were Allen, Barnes, Jones, Cannon, Warner and Watson, leaving barely enough for the final passage of a bill that should take effect upon approval.

Booth's bill to suppress obscenity contains the rights of injunction minors in certain cases, so that a minor may petition the district court, and the court may empower such minor to purchase, hold and sell property, and exercise powers to the extent deemed for the interest of the minor's welfare.

The Republican caucus not meeting decided to make the State land court as the amended Boothe bill now reads the Governor, secretary of state, attorney general and the other officers appointed by the Governor. The caucus also decided against the proposed example county bill, but did not adjudicate about the other measures regarding a redistricting of the State for legislative purposes, a scheme presented was wild news, and the matter of recommendations therein left to the chairmen of the State committee. Allison's election bill was discussed, and it was decided that the State ought to give the power of appointing registrars and election officers into the hands of the county commissioners, so the bill will be amended giving the appointive power with the Governor.

Sutherland's bill on the making of deeds of property sold by United States marshals and sheriffs provides that "whenever any real property has been sold on execution or an judgment by any United States marshal or deputy, or any sheriff or deputy, in any cause under the laws of the Territory of State of Utah, and the time for redemption has expired, a deed to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, or to the person or persons, was taken up, as the next special order and the committee report thereon was being considered at place when

"DOWN AGAIN!"

Mr. Gordon will turn into the following resolution this afternoon:

"Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Utah:

"That the people of this commonwealth have heard with both a pride and admiration of the patriotic course of the United States Congress, which has so boldly declared that the sovereignty of Cuba be assumed the just right to belligerents to use the force of the United States for their aid.

"Further, It is declared by this very Legislature assembled that it is emphatically time that the United States of North America, which public land it was born and has grown to, be the foundation of a foundation for various examples of the right to and property wherever and whenever found struggling for freedom, be the first to lend aid her mother help to the little sister of Antillas," which so much more than anything else, the cause of a state full of war of stories, taxation and suffering caused the heart of the civilized world also to bleed, and to it further

FOUR BEN TRIED.

Charged With Robbing Robert a Girl Now a Home for Immoral Purposes.

James Miles, Joseph Hill and Richard Richards is a stranger to these parts, having come here from the East recently. Matt Buckley and J. T. Plummer were tried in the police court this afternoon.

These men are charged with being accused in having enticed Annie Peterson, a Swedish girl, into a room previously for immoral purposes. The girl in the case has lived in this city and has been wandering hither and thither whenever she could get employment. Her father is dead and her mother resides in Norway, from which the little girl came a few hours or five years ago. She is charged similarly to the men although she states that she was lured into the house under the pretence of getting work by one of the men with whom she became acquainted in Logan. Attorney C. M. Newman is looking after the girl's welfare and is to be shown to have her in a home in this city where she will be looked after and taken care of.

The case against Chas. Chapman, who was charged with larceny, was postponed until tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Tom King pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but sentence was suspended during good behavior.

FOR A GOOD PASTURE.

Prof. Mills Gives Suggestions as to the Various Seed Mixtures.

Mr. A. Jones, Salt Lake City, writes the Experiment Station for information in regard to seeding a 25-acre field for pasture. As our range is being eaten down each year, the matter is suitable pasture becomes of several importance, and so it was thought best to answer Mr. Jones through the press.

With the letter sent a rough sketch of the ground with the following description of the soil:

1. Gravelly soil, heavy black sage.
2. Clay, hot in soil, white and black sage.
3. Good strong bottom soil, gravelly, salty and clayey. Huge bunch and some grease.
4. Sandy soil with cobble brush.
5. "Alkali," sweaty.

The letter states that the altitude is from 5,000 to 5,500 feet, and that "the alkali-containing is suitable of lime, or gypsum."

It would appear that there is a mistake in regard to the alkali being medium grounds, and I would suggest that some of it be sent to the station in order that the true nature may be ascertained. The soil mix seems what rich for alfalfa, though I believe it best to try lime. Blood meal, wheat sage and greasewood indicate the presence of alkali, but if it is not too strong a very rich seed will generally be found.

In making a pasture the time is to get grasses that mature at different times and in these so that all through the season there will be the of more grasses of better quality at most feed. By this means there is a continuance of with it grass from early spring to late fall. Aside from this we have found in this experiment station that a mixture produced the best pasture and again as any one of the grasses taken separately.

On soils classed as No. 1, above, use the following mixture per acre: Red clover, 2 pounds; lal. meadow oat grass, 2 pounds; orchard grass, 2 pounds; meadow fescue, 3 pounds; sheep's fescue, 2 pounds.

For soils classed as No. 2, dry: Fawtree or meadow fescue, 3 pounds; tall meadow oat grass, 2 pounds; orchard grass, 2 pounds; meadow fescue, 3 pounds; timothy, 2 pounds.

For soils classed as No. 3, dry: Fawtree or meadow fescue, 3 pounds; tall meadow oat grass, 2 pounds; orchard grass, 2 pounds; meadow fescue, 3 pounds; timothy, 2 pounds.

For soils classed as No. 4, dry: Meadow fescue, 3 pounds; tall meadow oat grass, 2 pounds; orchard grass, 2 pounds; tall fescue, 3 pounds; timothy, 2 pounds.

If any of the soil under classes 2, 3 and 4 are wet for any length of time, either fall or spring, the orchard grass and tall meadow oat grass may be omitted, and may be wise to try the American vetch.

For soils classed as No. 5: Alsike clover, 3 pounds; tall fescue, 3 pounds; red top, 10 pounds.

If it is not worthwhile to go to the trouble of seeding the land, we would suggest the following for No. 5: Water cress, 10 pounds; meadow grass, 10 pounds; water meadow grass, 10 pounds.

If there are places where the alkali is so strong that it will not do a good result, it may be wise to try the American vetch.

These mixtures may be somewhat modified to suit a farmer according to the nature of the soil, the time he wishes to pasture, and the kind of stock he has. Some farmers prefer to have a pasture for sheep only, others for cattle only, others for both. The mixtures given are for a general pasture for both sheep and cattle.

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my business, and complained of the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually recovered my health. Now my health and strength are as good as ever. I feel my family have used the medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have died in infancy had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. Bisson, Postmaster and Farmer, Kingsley, Ky.
