AROUND THE COURTS.

U. S. Commissioner McNally Holds That a Bicycle Is "a Vehicle."

THAT GARDEN THEATRE HUBBUB

C. H. Parsons Is Adjudged Guilty of Contempt—Penitentiary Releases, Etc.

One order of reference was made by Chief Justice Merritt this morning; he did no more, and Judge Bartch did not sit at all. In the other courts also dullness has reigned today.

A REFERENCE.

The case of John A. Street vs L. D. Kinney et al has been referred by consent to Judge Zane as referee, to hear and determine. Dey & Street are attorneys on the plaintiff's side and Judge Bowman on the other.

A WORD TO BICYCLISTS.

Commissioner McNally this morning held that a bicycle is a "vehicle," and as such has no right of way upon any sidewalk of the city. The ruling was in the case of L. J. Davis vs Dr. H. B. Hewitt, tried on Monday afternoon last. The plaintiff sued to recover $[illegible] damages for personal injuries. While Dr. Hewitt was riding his bicycle along the sidewalk near West Temple street he ran against Davis and knocked him down, hurting him and damaging his clothing. The Commissioner today awarded plaintiff the amount claimed and $8 costs in addition. Whether an appeal will be taken from this decision remains to be seen.

THE THEATRICAL "GAG."

Commissioner McNally also rendered his deferred opinion today in the "Garden" theater suit, likewise heard last Monday. The plaintiff was C. C. Showalter and the defendants Daniel Eldens, F. D. Joy and G. R. Cleland. H. Garrett was made a party defendant, but the commissioner dismissed the case as against him at the close of the trial. The claim was for $[illegible], for services in connection with a theatrical venture during the short run of the "Garden," near the Knutsford hotel.

His honor found for the plaintiff for $135 and costs.

IN CONTEMPT.

In the case of the A. B. Dick company vs C. H. Parsons, the bookseller, in which supplementary proceedings were twice recently had, Commissioner McNally ordered today that Parsons turn over a silver watch which he has in his possession, in part satisfaction of the judgment for $9 rendered against him on May 8th, and also adjudged him guilty of contempt of court. Mr. Parsons will be required to appear before his honor later to receive the "punishment" for this. The amount of the claim on which the action was based was $9, for goods sold and delivered.

THEIR NAME IS LEGION.

The replevin suit of Israel Evans vs Wm. Harkness, reported in these columns yesterday, is remarkable for the number of witnesses prepared to testify at the second hearing. Yesterday twenty or more persons were examined, and at the adjourned investigation which is set for the late hour of 8 o'clock this evening, fifty more are expected to be heard from. This is the harness case, in which the worthy Mr. Grice has stirred up so much commotion by his "admission" regarding Mr. Harkness, whom he has sought to show up in a very unfavorable light.

THE ATTWOOD CUTTING CASE.

Preliminary Hearing In the Police Court This Afternoon.

The preliminary hearing in the Attwood cutting case came up in the police court this afternoon. Attwood yesterday declined to sign the complaint charging Harry Dean, William Stewart and Matt Lawrence with assault with intent to commit murder. Officer Larsen signed the affidavit this morning.

Dr. Kiss was the first witness examined. He described the cuts inflicted upon Attwood, and gave it as his opinion that had Attwood been left to himself a short time he would certainly have bled to death. The doctor also related the bringing of the three defendants into his office on the day of the cutting. Attwood identified Stewart as the man who attacked him with the razor.

Attwood was then put on the stand and proved himself a very reticent witness, necessitating Justice Smith reminding him that he was liable to punishment for contempt if he persisted in not answering questions of counsel. Attwood said he was a native of Arkansas and arrived in Salt Lake on the morning of July 13th. He had previously worked two weeks at the Central hotel, Ogden. He was at the Lowerside house on the afternoon of the 16th July. He and the three defendants were engaged in a game of cards about 1 o'clock. During the afternoon he had drank considerable beer. He became engaged in a quarrel with the defendant Deane (who is now at the [illegible]). Attwood knocked Deane down and he remembered no more. He did not know who did the cutting, as it occurred from behind. Witness denied the testimony of Dr. Kiss regarding his identifying Stewart as the man who did the cutting. If he did say so he did not remember it.

Chief Pratt, Captain Donovan, Officers Larsen, Ford and Y[illegible] each testified to the arrest and to the finding of the razor on Stewart.

The defendants were sworn and testified in their own behalf. Stewart stated that when Attwood knocked the cripple (Deane) down, he interfered and then Attwood struck at him. "I drew the razor," said Stewart, "and cut at him believing him to be a dangerous man. During the scuffle the razor dropped and someone else picked it up."

He was a native of St. Louis and arrived in Salt Lake the same day as Attwood. He blamed the whole affair on drink.

The court held both defendants to await the action of the grand jury in a bond of $1,000 each, and also held Attwood as a witness to appear before the grand jury in the sum of $500. They were taken to the county jail late in the afternoon.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Sowing the Wind" has struck the story of the town very hard, and despite the increase in prices and the cry over hard times, last night's audience held up very fairly. The superb acting of Henry Miller, who looks like an old-time picture of Washington in his prime, of Viola Allen, Thompson, Crompton and the others of this illustrious company has rarely been excelled by a stock company here, and Salt Lake theater-goers who miss the last opportunity tonight to see them will miss such a treat as hardly comes more than once in a good many seasons.

PRIMARY ASSOCIATIONS.

The Children's Fair to be Held in Davis County.

Address of the Primary Stake Presidency to the Parents, Children and People Generally.

FARMINGTON, Davis County, August 1.—As it has been decided that the Primary associations of Davis stake hold a fair in the latter part of September, we think it best to call their attention to the fact that there is a little less than two months' time to prepare for the event; and if we have an exhibit we want it to be a credit to the children of Davis county. Therefore a few suggestions may be timely.

The Fair will be held in Farmington, and we feel to thank the judge and members of the county court for kindly permitting us to use the court house.

We desire to have our boys and girls excel in all kinds of home industries and learn to do their work well.

There are some boys who are very handy with tools and can make wonderful things with only a pocket knife. Then let us see who can make any kind of machinery, such as threshing machines, reapers, mowers, tools and furniture of all kinds, brooms, toys, etc. Have we no inventors in Davis county? If they can only invent a flycatcher.

This appeal is to all young men and boys under 20 years of age.

Smaller boys can make bee hives, screens for windows, graters, butter ladles, comb cases, mopsticks and ornaments.

Boys as well as girls should learn music—form into musical bands, either brass, martial, string, harmonica, tin whistle or anything else that will make music. Each band should be under the care of a proficient leader, that order may prevail.

There will be a department for girls' work—dress making, darning, mending, knitting, straw braiding, making artificial flowers and various other things.

Drawings and specimens of writing will be for boys and girls.

We want the girls to become first class housekeepers and cooks—to learn to make good bread, butter, pickles, preserves, bottle fruit, and see how thin they can peel apples and potatoes. They should study economy by making their own vinegar, starch, soap, candles, etc. The time was when we had to make these articles or go without.

A liberal donation of teams is desired.

There will be a conservatory of flowers; also a lunch table and ice cream stand.

As we wish to help ourselves financially, any article of clothing, toys, or ornaments donated by the people will be thankfully received, and will be for sale.

A 50 cent prize will be given for the best home made straw hat; 50 cents for the best made dress; 50 cents for the best darning; 25 cents for the best mending; 50 cents for the best assortment of vegetables. Mrs. Lucy Rigby offers a prize of 50 cents for the best pair of suspenders knit by a little boy.

Will some others of our particular citizens offer special premiums?

We trust the children will be strictly honest and not expect credit for work which they have not done themselves.

The Fair will open on Thursday, September 27, and close on Saturday, the 29th. The price of admission for adults will be 10 cents; children 5 cents.

The Primary conference will be held in the meeting house on Friday, Sept. 28th, commencing at 10 o'clock a.m., and there will be but one session, to give the children an opportunity of visiting the Fair in the afternoon.

An entertainment will be given in the evening. The presidents are therefore solicited to send in their programs as soon as possible.

A good attendance is desired at the officers meeting the last Friday in August.

Respectfully,
AURELIA S. ROGERS,
JULIA HESS,
LUCY A. CLARK,
Stake Presidency.

THE BONANZA MINE.

Contract for 700 Feet of Tunneling Has Been Let.

A Rich Gold Proposition in Which Salt Lake Parties are Interested.

A. H. Shelton, superintendent of the Bonanza Mining and Milling company's mine at Baker City, Oregon, is in the city. Salt Lake people are the parties chiefly interested, and a meeting of the stockholders is called in this city for September 1. Mr. Shelton makes a very flattering report of the condition of the mine. He says he has taken between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of ore out of it and the depth on the ledge is not over fifty feet. As water interferes some with the working in the shaft it was decided to run a tunnel 700 feet long, to tap the ledge some 250 feet down. It is the contract for this which has been let today. By the terms of the agreement the work is to be completed by the 15th of May, 1895. Mr. Shelton says he has a shaft some fifty feet below the tunnel level, and there found the ledge just as rich in gold and much larger than it was near the surface. The parties interested feel confident that the Bonanza property will prove the best paying mine in northwest.

Both Were Fined.

Mary McKay, living on west First South, swore to a complaint in the police court Monday, charging O. H. Follinger with having abused her. Follinger swore to a complaint later charging Mrs. McKay with a similar offense. The cases were aired before Justice Smith this afternoon. The testimony showed that the most disgusting language had been freely used on both sides, and his honor fined the defendants $5 each.

Death on the Train.

Mr. John Snyder, of 2740, Morgan street, St. Louis, Mo., died today on a Rio Grande Western passenger train, near Price, Emery county, Utah, while traveling to San Jose, Cal., for the benefit of his health. He was accompanied on the journey from St. Louis by his medical attendant, Dr. A. S. J. Smith. The cause of death was diabetic coma. He had been a sufferer from diabetes for about eighteen months. The body will be shipped back east for interment.

Joint Building Matters.

The joint city and county building committee met at the Mayor's office last evening and awarded the contract for furnishing vault doors to Mosler, Bahmann & company, for the sum of $[illegible]. The previous bid of this same firm was $4,[illegible], but, it appears, was amended since the last meeting of the committee and that without explanation or attempted justification.

Carlby & Dumbeck were awarded the contract for placing water tanks in the building for $1,[illegible]. The contractors are required to give bond for the full amount of the bid.

Morris and Lynn were appointed a committee to purchase an extra chandelier. James, Spencer & Bateman company had their bill of $[illegible] allowed, after which the committee adjourned.

A GOOD REPORT.

Missouri and Her People are Now Much More Friendly.

BLACKBIRD, Missouri,
July 25, 1894.

Editor Deseret News:

Perhaps a few lines from a couple of missionaries laboring in the cause of truth might be of interest to some of the many readers of your valuable paper. We are laboring in the northern part of the state of Missouri, at present in Putnam county, with headquarters at Blackbird. Many of the Latter-day Saints will remember that this is the state wherein many of our people at one time suffered great persecution at the hands of lawless men; but we find that another generation has grown up and become quite old men since that time, and thousands have come here from other parts, and we find a very friendly feeling exhibited towards us, generally speaking. Of course a few are evil-disposed towards us through falsehoods they have imbibed from those who in days gone by used to delight in persecuting the Saints, and some have inherited it as an evil legacy from parents, a curse that may follow to the third or fourth generation. The editors treat us with respect. They always publish our articles without any hesitation. We are being looked upon with more favor by the thinking people. There is a great deal of prejudice being removed by the Elders as well as by many people who visit Utah from the East and bring back truthful reports. We discover that the masses of the people have but a very faint idea of how the Latter-day Saints are and understand the Gospel. They [illegible] to think formerly that we [illegible] nothing but polygamy. After they hear the Elders explain the principles, as we as a people understand and practice them they admit at once that they see we nothing wrong with them. Some say there is no need of Prophets nowadays; we say we as Latter-day Saints cannot get along without them. If they can, very well. We tell them that when the Lord anciently had a people, He always had Prophets to whom He revealed His mind and will and as we are living in the last dispensation, when all things were to be restored, we claim Apostles and Prophets would necessarily have to be restored also in order to fulfil the prediction of that great Apostle to whom the keys of the Kingdom had been committed.

We have been here some three months and three members have been added to the Church and quite a number of others are seriously investigating the principles of the Gospel. We know that the Gospel is a success, that it will triumph over every obstacle and its destiny is to fill the whole earth. We know that it will save and exalt all those who will embrace it and live according to its teachings, and it will also relegate to the region of the condemned all those who reject and fight it.

It has been much dryer this season here than formerly and crops are lighter.

The DESERET NEWS is our mind is the best all-round paper published on the globe. I have had the privilege, in the last twenty months, of examining quite a number of periodicals, and I say, give the merit its due. If any of the NEWS readers have friends in these parts, send name and address and we will call on them.

We remain yours in the cause of truth,

U. A. HALL,
AUSTIN KEARNES.

OBITUARY NOTES.

[illegible]

OGDEN, Utah, July 31, 1894.—It was a dark shadow that fell upon the household of Brother John Douglass, of West Weber, on the 13th of July, 1894. That day his wife, Sister Douglass, went to Ogden to complete her purchases preparatory to the celebration of Pioneer Day at West Weber. She was somewhat fatigued by her day's labor and did not reach home till late at night. Having [illegible] her duties she retired to rest. Next day, well, and rose on the morning of the memorable day, partook of breakfast as usual, had loaded the abundance of the good things of life the [illegible] and was nearly ready to step into the carriage and go to the scene of the day's intended festivities. At this time she felt a little unwell, and asked her son-in-law, who was with her at the time, to get her a drink of water. He did so; she drank a little, and then sank into a chair, but immediately afterwards fell forward with her face toward the floor. Her son-in-law caught her and prevented the fall to the ground. She exclaimed, "Oh, Tom!" and these were the last words she uttered in this world. He immediately called for help, which was soon at hand, but too late to be of avail. One of her daughters, Matilda, rushed to her mother's aid, but the vital spark had fled—the spirit had gone to join its kindred in the unseen world.

This sudden and sad unexpected event cast a deep gloom over the entire village, where she was so well known, and beloved by all who knew her. Indeed she was well known in many parts of the Territory. Heart disease was supposed to be the immediate cause of her death, superinduced by over-exertion and anxiety of the day previous. Sister Douglass was tall and hearty, she was also well advanced in years.

The funeral services were held in the West Weber meeting house on the 25th inst. The building was filled with friends and sympathizers.

Those who took part in the services were: Bishop Robert H. [illegible], who presided, Elders Archie [illegible], Joseph Hall, [illegible], C. H. [illegible], Thomas Hardy, John [illegible], John [illegible], Nathan Hawks, Geo. F. [illegible] and Charles [illegible]. Some of these Elders have known Sister Douglass for over forty years, and were personally of her [illegible] while in England, in the land beyond the sea. Their acquaintance with her has been one of the many years in this land. They, therefore, knew her well, and testified of her goodness of heart, her integrity to the work of God, her unwavering adherence to every principle of the Gospel that she has become acquainted with. She was one of God's noble women; honest, punctual to meet all her obligations when they became due, and always ready to lend of her substance to promote the interest of the work of the Lord. Her memory is embalmed in the hearts of very many who will now call her blessed.

Matilda Douglass was born May 7, 18[illegible], at Oversley, Leicestershire, England. She was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints by Richard [illegible], confirmed by Thomas Hardy June 17, 18[illegible]. She emigrated to Utah in 1863 and settled in West Weber, and has never changed her residence permanently.

She was twice married, the first time to Elder Joseph Walsh, subsequently to Elder John Douglass, who survives her. She had five children and thirty-two grandchildren.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH HALL.
