THREE MEN KILLED IN A MINE.

Final Distribution of Leland Stanford's Estate—An Attorney Arrested—Cause for Valuable Property.

At Tacoma, Wash., Wednesday night, the dry goods store of H. Hockenbury, was robbed by burglars who took goods valued at $200. The store had been robbed five times within the past twelve months.

Montana's quarantine regulations concerning the importation of cattle from other states have been modified. The primary certificate prohibitory clause and all south bound shipments of southern cattle to that state.

Jesse Fox reached Durango, Col., that night with the news that three men were killed in the Calumet mine, located in the La Plata district. They are Pat Burnett, Joseph Dunlap and Robert Kennedy. It is thought that caused their death.

John Gardenier, an inmate of the Nevada penitentiary, has been committed to the insane asylum at Reno. He has been confined at the prison for the murder of John Alsop in Nye county, and released from that county to his imprisonment.

Roberts Gillespie, an aged colored woman, was killed to death at midnight in a fire behind the city jail in Fresno, Cal. She had entered the place to assist in a prisoner's escape, but was overtaken by the heat and smoke and falling across the bolted door, perished miserably. In her flaming clothing was found some stolen goods, over the broken chained door.

Orestis, Idaho Republican: Mr. M. T. Lemon of Riverside, Idaho, was notified last week that a fortune is waiting for him in Switzerland. In some manner the brother-in-law of Mrs. Lemon, who died in Switzerland, Mr. Dodson in the east, learned of the death of a wealthy relative and inherited the small home. In closing up the affairs of the deceased, it was discovered that Mr. Lemon was the nearest of kin, and he was immediately notified. He leaves for Dr. Olive Grundy of Franklin, accompanied by Drs. Cannon and Morrison of the place.

Denver Post: Friday, December 16th, from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. the Denver Temple of the Mormon Church will hold a bazaar and bazar in Knights of Pythias hall, corner of Fifteenth and Curtis streets, for the purpose of raising money whereby the society can secure a meeting house in the heart of the city. These relief society organizations of the Mormon Church are devoted to looking after their own and caring for the poverty of assisting here the latter take care of their own people. Lunch will be served. Music will be furnished by members of the famous Mormon choir and a number of Denver's best talent. Admission will be free.

Edgar Lowman, an attorney of Walla Walla, Wash., was arrested Thursday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshal Jack Bringer of Tacoma on a warrant issued by the Federal court charging him with concealing stolen government property. Lowman is one of the men who served a term in the penitentiary for defending a man named Hoffman against a charge of horse stealing. Friends of Lowman here say that notwithstanding what has transpired he has been a staunch friend to officers who had been for several months and then referred them to Lowman. The latter said some in expediting Morgan's case to the supreme court.

John L. Stanford, executor of the estate of Leland Stanford, filed in the superior court at San Francisco today a final account and petition for a final distribution of the estate. The report shows that all debts against the estate of the late senator, aggregating $1,042,971, have been paid. All the legacies, amounting to $1,112,900 have also been paid. All litigation has been disposed of in favor of the estate, except the so-called inheritance case, now pending before the supreme court, and in which $20,000 is involved. With the consent of the court, ample provision will be made to meet this tax should the court finally determine that it is legal and payable. The executors express the belief that the estate is in a condition to be closed and the residue and remainder distributed.

The long pending contest for an accounting in the voluntary trust fund left by the late John W. Mackay, founder of the California & Nevada railroad, was renewed before Superior Judge Oakes of Oakland, Cal., Thursday. The action was brought by Elizabeth Thomson and Lena L. Mackay, granddaughter of the dead capitalist, now the widow of C. Nickerson. The petition for the charge is made in the petition for Miss Mackay that he was appointed an administrator on a verbal agreement with Charles H. Smith of Denver, who died in the interim, for the purpose of retaining the property under his control to the detriment of the other heirs. Charles Smith, it is alleged, was likely that he was a resident of that state at the time. The petition says that the hand of fate and of his son and son worry wrecked the estate, which was valued at $12,000.

ESTIMATE OF STATE EXPENSES.

State Auditor Richards Submits It to Governor Wells for Legislature.

State Auditor Richards has sent to Governor Wells for transmission to the Legislature an estimate of the expenses of the State of Utah for the biennial period ending Dec. 31, 1899, made up, with their salaries and permanent appropriations, from suggestions of the various officers of state and boards of state institutions. The total of estimated expenditures is $1,425,256, for purposes stated as follows:

Legislative department, salaries and expenses	$ 21,929

Fugitives from justice	1,000
Expenses absentee landowners	1,000
Rewards for escaped criminals	1,000
Total	$1,425,256

The usual appropriation for all general and special purposes made by the last Legislature was $1,002,256. Special appropriations have been made by the Legislature at the approaching session, and allowance is to be based by some of the members that the estimate towards great can be cut down about $100,000 without working an injury to any state institution. The appropriation for Eldora for the current biennial period is, for example, likely to be entirely ignored. In the estimate above, $50,000 is for permanent improvements for the University, $15,000 for instruments for the mining school buildings, and $15,000 for the purposes of the State prison.

ACTION OF COUNCIL COMMITTEE.

Deny a Number of Requests and Will Recommend Granting of Others.

A few of the Council committees met together last night and took up matters referred to them. The petition of Henry Moffat asking that he be granted the privilege of running Pioneer park for a skating rink was acted adversely upon by the committee on streets and public grounds. The latter committee also decided not to sell the old mill at Liberty Park, $300 being the highest bid received for it.

The request of a number of saloon-keepers for the operating of a slot machine for the benefit and amusement of their patrons was denied by the license committee.

The municipal farm committee will report back to the Council that an appeal be taken to the Supreme court in the damage case of Cox and Sevedge.

The library committee contributed to give the trustees the use of a room in the basement in the joint building until the extension is completed, and that a room on the first floor will be provided for other room purposes.

DR. MILLSPAUGH STEPS OUT.

Presents His Resignation in Written form to the Board of Education.

Importation Idea Encourages Applicants from Elsewhere—May Name a Man Temporarily—Logan Journal on Paul.

Dr. Millspaugh formally filed his resignation with Clerk Morrow of the board of education late yesterday afternoon. Meanwhile the applications for superintendent come from far and near, the former being encouraged under the impression that the board is favorable to outside talent. It is stated, however, that a man may be chosen temporarily to fill the place in order that his choice may be determined. Dr. Millspaugh's resignation reads as follows:

"Salt Lake City, Dec. 15, 1898.

"To the Hon. Board of Education, Salt Lake City, Utah:

"Gentlemen—In view of the fact that the order of a position as president of a state university which has been made me, and that, in my judgment, it would be wise to accept it, I beg you to receive my resignation as superintendent of the public schools of this city, to take place Dec. 31, 1898.

"In taking this action I am not insensible of the great honor of being promoted to a position which I have been closely identified with the development and growth of the school system of this city, and that during the number of years I have received from superiors and predecessors in office, unwarped consideration, courtesy and support. For all this I thank you most cordially and sincerely. I believe the schools may continue to improve under the administration of him whom you may select to take my place, and that, through the advancement of the educational interests of the city, our children and youth may all become law-abiding, honorable and stalwart citizens of the State and the Republic.

"Very respectfully,

"J. F. MILLSPAUGH,
"Superintendent."

COMMENDS PAUL.

Logan Journal: Dr. Millspaugh has resigned the principalship of the schools of Salt Lake. We fill the vacancy, we have in view the name of a gentleman who would be a worthy successor to the position so ably and honorably filled by Dr. Millspaugh. We refer to Prof. J. H. Paul, A. M., lately president of the Agricultural College of Utah. We have known Prof. Paul for years. As a teacher he has no superior and few equals in the State. As an organizer and director of school affairs, his successful management of each of our Logan colleges is ample evidence. As an upright and abundantly impartial president, he won the esteem of all classes in Cache valley and the special love of the College students. The teachers of Cache county, would, we predict, be unanimous in their endorsement of Prof. Paul for such a position. We suggest to the Salt Lake school board that they offer the position of principal of the city schools to this popular and progressive educator.

A UTAH MAN PREFERRED.

There is Ample Material at Home for Office of Superintendent of the Public Schools.

To the Editor:

From present indications, I think we are justified in concluding that the school board of Salt Lake City, is about to make an attempt to employ an eastern educator, to succeed Dr. Millspaugh, as superintendent of the public schools of Salt Lake City. In this statement I do not intend to include all the members of the board of education, for I am confident that a number of them are strongly opposed to such a thing, but I have reference only to a number of its members who constitute the so-called majority of the board.

If such be the intention of the board, and I doubt not that it is, I ask any member belonging to it, or any other person, for that matter, to give one reason why we are compelled to employ a non-resident of the State of Utah, to stand at the head of the public school system of Salt Lake City. The only legitimate reason of it were true, that could possibly be given, for such an act, is that we have not the ability in Utah at hand, with which to fill the position.

If that be the reason, I beg leave to record the impeachment, and to say I have at the writing, in mind, at least a score of men and women, tried and true, in Utah, who are equal, if not vastly superior, in points suggested by the board for the position of superintendent, and who are recognized as such, the State over.

I fancy that those advocating the measure, would hardly give that as the reason for entering a search for talent, even though they thought it true.

The real reason, as we all know, is dissatisfaction with our superintendent, and it is not for a week. Anyone who has watched the course of events in the matter of the employment of teachers in the public schools of Salt Lake City knows that the great majority of them are imported to Utah, and that nearly all of the best practices are held by people who are, in fact, non-residents. It is stated that these teachers live in Utah. Yes, that is true, as long as they draw a handsome salary from Salt Lake City. But what becomes of them as soon as their employment ceases, and as soon as they chance to obtain an equally good situation? They are gone, never to return, and the facts and figures in connection with that matter bear me out, and show the truth of my statement. We are told, however, that Utah teachers have stood an equal chance with imported teachers in our schools. That statement I challenge, and I stand ready to prove what I say.

The mere fact that eastern teachers have been employed at all, and the further fact that graduates from our University and when home institutions of learning have been unable to obtain schools in Salt Lake City, and have been compelled to go to adjoining states to find employment in their chosen profession, is the only argument I need, to refute the statement that our home teachers receive what, first of right, should demand from the board of education of Salt Lake City.

These facts I know, because they have come within my personal observation, and as I said, I stand ready to prove what I say, if my statement is challenged.

Well, what have these facts to do with the question of the city superintendent of schools? you ask. I answer, very much, for the reason that these things would cease, if one of our home people were selected to succeed the late Dr. Millspaugh, that an effort was made in that direction, I do not mean to insure for the position, one who is in sympathy with the suggestions before made.

I assume almost impossible, when I think of it, and how the people of Salt Lake City will act and submit to the condition of things, year after year, and vote for parties to the board of education who will tolerate it, to mean than I am also incompetent. Let us remember the vote of the members of the board, in the choice of the superintendent, and when the time comes for their re-election, let us see to it, that we cast our vote for those and only those, who will make it certain that the sons and daughters of those who pay the taxes to support the city and State, shall receive proper consideration at the hands of the board of education of Salt Lake City, and the superintendent of our schools, and that our own educators shall be chosen to superintend the educational affairs of this city and State.

Very respectfully,

H. A. SMITH.

Shattered a Limb.

Logan Journal: Dr. O. S. Ormsby was called to Preston on Sunday to attend Mr. Dodson who was suffering from a wound inflicted by a shot gun. It seems that Dodson, who lives at Bloomville, was out hunting with a company, and when about 10 feet ahead of him the gun in the hands of his brother, which was accidentally discharged. The load striking Dodson just below the knee, literally tearing the limb asunder. Two or three days elapsed before he was noticed and was missed and the alarm was sounded and the hunting party was organized to search for him. In Bloomville, still adjoining, he was found, and taken to his home, where he was called home, was very low, and the recovery is not expected.

UTAH TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Will Meet in Ogden December 29th—Preparations Being Made to Entertain the Party.

The Utah State Teachers' association will convene in annual session at Ogden, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 28, 29 and 30, and the teachers present will number from 200 to 400. The local committee has been hard at work and fully a committee arrangements for the entertainment of this large crowd of visitors. There are about 1,000 teachers in the State, and it is estimated that nearly 40 and quite half of that number will take advantage of the low railroad rates offered and attend the convention.

At the same time the Utah Mathematical society will meet here, and altogether it will be a busy week for the teachers during their sojourn in Ogden.

President Kingsbury of the University of Utah, is president of the teachers' association and A. K. McNight, secretary, while W. A. Kerr of the Brigham Young College, Logan, is president of the Mathematical society. The headquarters of both associations will be at the Reed house, and their meetings will be held in the high school building, which the citizens of the company are a reception for the night of the 29th at the Reed house, at which the house is in the hands of Prof. Cropp, who will be made a special feature.

It is the desire of the governing committee that all those who desire or can to contribute to assist during the three days mentioned, notify the committee. The dinner arrangements may be made. Word may be left at the board of education rooms.—Ogden Standard.

Utah's Congressional Delegation.

It is expected that Congress will take its holiday recess at the end of this week and that the Utah delegation will use no time in getting home, with the positive exception of Senator Hoskins, who has to remain here until after the time. Congressman King is expected to arrive home next. Delegate next week by Senator Cannon and Senator Hawkins later.

Primary Entertainment.

A Primary entertainment will be given in the Tabernacle next assembly room Lorenzo, Friday evening, commencing at 7:30. The children will appear in costume in a number of drills as well as furnish other interesting numbers. Parents and general public invited.

A MAN OF DREAMS.

Nicola Tesla Declares That He is Now Prepared to Show the World He is an Electrical Wizard.

For years past Nicola Tesla has been criticised by people who, of what he has accomplished, pronounced him a visionary. He has declared that he had perfected a machine to utilize the sun's rays, but he remained being the chief part of his machine miles above the earth. Just as you can see the rays of the sun reflected by a hand mirror from the moon, so he has for a distance of many miles, and when it has been within the reach of his machine, he has caused it to be reflected back to the earth, and it has been used for a long time. Tesla has made a wonderful discovery, and he has perfected a machine to utilize the sun's rays, and when about it has stated that he can do the same in the hands of his opponents, who are seemingly delighted. The last evening Tesla was before the press, visibly showing the light on Pike's Peak. Two or three days elapsed before anything was said, and he seemed with this light was conducted in Colorado Springs, and in Denver, and, although it was a time when the reputation he had built up was jeopardized, he took a reporter and photographer down the line, and called home him, was very low, and the recovery is not expected.

light in hitherto unknown ways and to get electrical power transmitted without wires—a matter upon which electricians have long been working.

Now he applies for a patent for an automatic which, if it proves to be such, will mean a greater fame and fortune than has ever been acquired by any electrician.

Without wires or other artificial means of connection Tesla asserts that he has performed a machine by means of which an electrical current sufficiently strong to record telegraphic signals, but powerful enough to drive the machinery of factories and railroad trains, can be transmitted from any part of the globe to any other part, either across the country, the waves of electricity or a wonder will be sent from Angier to Jersey without connection.

Tesla is a cautious student in the field of electrical experiment, he is conservative, and his starting on a new venture is high. In the knowledge of these facts, the claim that he makes is fairly entitled to careful consideration, and the world will be ready, when the patent has been granted to the great man, on which time he says that he will explain the secret of his invention. At present what he has done the experiment is worth the price of admission. He claims that he has the experimental work to be proved, and in future he work will be equal to any test that can be put upon them.

HON. JOSEPH H. CHOATE.

The United States has been without an ambassador to the court of St. James since Hon. John Hay was elevated to the position of secretary of state, and there has been a great deal of speculation as to the would be the successor. The United States has so many good men that the selection of just the right one is a difficult problem. Just now the friends of Joseph H. Choate, of New York, claim as a certainty that he will be appointed to this most distinguished position. Mr. Choate is considered the strongest representative lawyer in the United States. He is a polished gentleman and an able speaker, and it is believed it will fulfill the important mission in England. He is a product of New Hampshire, having been born at Salem, Mass., January 24, 1832. He has been a leading lawyer in New York since 1856, when he first came to the metropolis. Joseph Hodges Choate was the most brilliant student of Harvard college during his entire term and was graduated at the head of his class in 1852. He attended the law school of Cambridge, and was admitted to the bar in Massachusetts in 1854. After a year's experience with the Dorlon bar he removed to New York. He has been associated with many important cases and has well earned the Choate reputation. He has partner in New York now Mr. M. Ingersoll, and a strong combination, it said. As a popular after-dinner talk, Mr. Choate is ranked only to Depew.
