FRAGMENTS.

THE City Council will inaugurate another battle against the annoyance of dirty streets tomorrow night.

In consequence of the Columbus celebration the monthly meeting of the Eighth quorum of Seventies at the Twelfth ward meeting house (Friday) evening will not take place.

FUNERAL services over the remains of James Bogan, early passed who died at the Sisters' Hospital in this city yesterday, from typhoid fever, were held at Skewes' undertaking parlors at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Joseph Lucas, Jr., a lad of twelve years, appeared in the police court this afternoon to answer to the charge of using abusive language. The complaining witness was not in attendance and the case was dismissed.

THERE is a considerable quantity of liquor, cigarettes, and other contraband in the police station awaiting an owner. The goods were found by Officer Fullmer in Heath and Sessions' saloon on the banks of the Jordan near Tenth South street where they had evidently been secreted by thieves.

DEPUTY County Clerk Brown this morning issued marriage licenses to the following: Wm. C. Gray, 23, of Salt Lake, Florence Pearce, 18, of Salt Lake; Thomas H. Murray, 21, and Laura Sumner, 22, both of Brigham, Utah; Joseph H. Austin, 23, and Mandana A. Jones, 22, both of Park City.

AT the meeting of the city fathers last night Mr. Rich presided and Mr. Young was present with mustache and disposition in order. When once a ruling was made by him some of his colleagues fell into the mistake of appealing from his decision. "Why, he is a czar in Tom Rich," said a councilman when the meeting was over.

LAST MONDAY a German named John Matzen, about forty years of age, was knocked down by a hack while walking on the corner of Second South and First West streets. He was badly hurt, the pole of the vehicle having struck him on the left side. Dr. Mecham attended to his injuries. Matzen has suffered considerable pain since.

A MAN who gave the name of E. J. Dayman, who hails from Montana, was found in the street last night by the police, suffering from the effects of an epileptic fit. It was believed that the unfortunate fellow was demented, and he was taken this morning before Judge Zane, who ordered his commitment for admission into the County Infirmary, where he will remain pending communication with the Montana authorities.

Public School Celebration.

The public school exercises tomorrow promise to be very interesting indeed. The programme as published in last evening's NEWS will be strictly carried out. Fully 5000 school children are expected to appear in the procession, which will form on Main street immediately east of the Temple Block at ten o'clock, shortly after it will move forward to the entrance of the Tabernacle grounds on the south side of the block, where, from a temporary stand, will be seen and heard the members of the board of education, city council and prominent citizens. At 10:30 exercises will commence in the Tabernacle.

His Suffering Ended.

Isaac Maddows, an account of whose serious injuries from an accident was reported in these columns last evening, died at St. Mary's hospital at 10 o'clock this forenoon. From the first it was known that his injuries were fatal and Dr. Benedict rightfully refused to amputate his mangled limbs. Except when resting under the influence of opiates his sufferings were intense and his death was a happy release.

The time and place of the funeral will be announced hereafter.

Didn't Come From Kaysville.

A drunken farmer was gave his name as Hudson and his place of residence as Kaysville was taken in tow by Officer Fitzmaurice. He had but sixty cents in his possession when searched. Late this afternoon he was taken before Justice Goo while still under the influence of liquor. And many attempts he made to plead not guilty which caused the prosecuting attorney and the court to smile. He was remanded to jail until it sobers this evening, when he will be discharged. He lives in the city and not in Kaysville as he claimed when arrested.

An "Ex-Special" in Trouble.

Policeman Frank Davenport swore to a complaint this afternoon charging one John B. Smith, who was a special officer in Detective Frank's staff force, with impersonating an officer. It is alleged that he failed a man in Liberty Park a few nights ago and succeeded in search him with a view to appropriating his valuables to his own use. A warrant was issued for Smith's arrest and given to an officer to serve.

Gallegher's Victims.

Deputy Dog Tax Collector Gallegher today swore out complaints against two citizens residing at 300 and 302 East Second South street, respectively, on the charge of keeping dogs without a license. Gallegher says he does not know the number of his hooded victims did not know, but he called them "John Doe." Warrants were issued for their arrest and placed in the hands of an officer.

IN POLITICAL CIRCLES.

What Local Parties and Partisans are Doing.

The Democrats held a meeting in Bancroft's hall, Greenpoint, last night.

The Liberal committee for county officers held a meeting at Frederick's office in the Insurance Exchange building today.

The Republicans of the Fourth precinct had a rally in Taggart's opera hall last evening. Arthur Brown was the principal speaker and said there was considerable enthusiasm.

Chairman Devine is expected to proclaim in politics, but adopts their policy in somewhere, and thinks that the Republicans may resort to "fire" before the campaign closes.

The Ogden Democratic convention yesterday made the following nominations: Mayor, J. C. Armstrong; recorder, John S. Carlow; marshal, John McMahon; police judge, T. E. Fitzgerald; treasurer, H. H. Scapp.

Hon. E. M. Allison, Jr., returned to Ogden yesterday coming from Salt Lake county, where he has been canvassing in company with Hon. Frank J. Cannon, to enthusiastic audiences of Republican principles.

A Liberal ratification meeting is announced for tonight in the old Federal courthouse. The speakers will be Colonel Kelsey, C. E. Allen, Frank Gilchrist, C. F. Loofbourow, J. H. Hayes, M. M. Kaighn and J. M. Denny. It is expected that there will be other musical and moral melodies, of an instrumental character.

Heber city has put up a citizens' ticket for members of the town board. H. M. Aird was nominated for president and James Cross, Thomas Clatworthy, William Wills and Clement Ford for members. The good folks of that vicinity don't seem to think national politics necessary in a town election, and there be many others who will quite agree with them.

Latest Court News.

George L. Wilcox brought suit in the Third District Court this afternoon against Ella S. Shoots, Elias A. Shoots, J. W. Stewart, W. C. Pavey and Wm. G. Armstrong, to recover $4,000, with interest, on a promissory note, secured by a mortgage.

The legal arguments in the hearing of the action for personal damages against the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern railway, brought by Thomas H. Murray, of Salt Lake, and Laura Sumner, 22, both of Brigham, Utah, and George H. Austin, 23, and Mandana A. Jones, 22, both of Park City.

The legal arguments in the hearing of the action for personal damages against the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern railway, brought by Thomas H. Murray, of Salt Lake, were in progress in Judge Zane's Court at 3:30 this afternoon. The case involves a question in another column of this issue, and it is expected to go to the jury about 4 o'clock, or the verdict will not, in all probability, be handed in until tomorrow morning.

The arguments of counsel in the charge against Police Officer J. A. Davenport, of assaulting Louis Barnett, were in progress in Commissioner Norrell's court this afternoon. The complainant charges that the policeman clubbed him heavily and numerous times with his "billy" while in and out in custody.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Action for $15,000 Against a Railroad Company, for Personal Injuries.

ANOTHER DIVORCE GRANTED.

Short Orders Made by Judge Zane This Morning.—Suit Filed Against a Mining Corporation.

In Chief Justice Zane's court this morning the first case called up for trial was that in which John W. White sues the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern Railway company to recover the sum of $15,000, which he claimed as damages for personal injuries he alleged to have been received while in the employ of the defendant company as a workingman.

Day & Street represented the plaintiff, and Messrs. Williams and Attorney Farley L. Williams appeared.

The plaintiff's case was that while following his employment in the company's yards at Pocatello, on March 29th, 1890, part of his duty being to set and release the brakes, he slipped upon the end gate of a car that was about to be unloaded, but, in trying to derail the blocking, the wheels of the cars were not in motion. As a result his right leg was crushed and wrenched by the train passing over one of the tracks, and the injuries were such, it is said, as to render him a cripple for life.

The defense was a general denial of the plaintiff's allegations as to negligence on their part.

The trial was still proceeding at noon.

THIRD OF DIVORCE.

Laura Grierson has long since become tired of married life, and this morning went before Judge Zane asking that the bonds of matrimony be even better than ever before in Orleans, to dissolved. Her petition was recently filed, the grounds on which it was based being desertion and failure to provide. The parties were married in this city twenty-five years ago, and for a considerable period the complaint has absorbed himself from his wife and family, and has made no provide for her wants. The defendant, who, it was stated, resides at Brighton, did not appear, and the Court granted the divorce, as prayed.

GOOD SHOT ALLOWED.

In the case of Sarah J. Levy vs. U. S. Marshal E. H. Parsons, tried yesterday, the jury this morning came into court and reported that they could not agree upon a verdict. The case was therefore discharged by his Honor. The action was brought to recover certain goods seized upon by the marshal of their valuables, which was alleged to be yours, and first mortgagee for their seizure. Michael A. Daly was an interpleader in the action and claimed the goods by virtue of a chattel mortgage executed and delivered to him by one several months before making to the form of 1890.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

L. M. Dyer vs. J. H. Hudson et al. The action was begun and contested. The case of D. W. Roberts vs. Harriet Peet et al. was set for hearing on Monday morning next.

John H. Price et al. vs. W. L. Webb et al. decree entered in accordance.

Verlin Schiffer et al. vs. Utah Lodge No. 1 et al. Demurrer to amended complaint overruled. Sustained. Exceptions.

In the suit of the Pacific Lumber Co. vs. P. P. Rolle, the motion to dismiss the demurrer from the files was allowed and defendant entered.

Anna H. Fielding vs. John W. Young et al. The motion to take the depositions of Anna H. Fielding was allowed.

NOW SITS FIRED.

Thomas J. Brown filed a suit in the Third District Court this morning against Frank Holman, Henry Dreschler and L. E. Holman, doing business as the Highland Mining company, for services rendered as a miner at various periods. There are several items for disbursement, aggregating the sum of $[illegible].

In the suit of Pacey & Dwyer, lumber dealers, vs. S. E. Shoots and the Hughdown Mining company (tried Commissioner Mathews court), judgment was this morning entered in the Third District Court for the plaintiff for $[illegible] and $[illegible] with costs.

THE SECOND DAY

Ceremonies Opened with a Grand Civic Parade.

MANY NATIONS REPRESENTED.

The Day is Cloudy, but the Enthusiasm is as Great as Ever.

THE PEOPLE TURN OUTEN MASSE.

Reception to the Justices of the Supreme Court—Military Ball Tonight.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The second day of the series of pageants commemorative of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus in connection with the dedication of the buildings for the housing of the great Columbian Exposition, opened cheerless, cold, with lead clouds obscuring the face of the sky. But in spite of these adverse conditions there was no lack of enthusiasm among the last crowd that gathered in the city from all quarters of the country, from all nations of the globe, to witness this memorable event.

The ceremonies of the day opened with a great civic parade at 11 which by 9 o'clock was in motion. Fifty hundred thousand people participated actively, and which was witnessed by a million and a half spectators.

The parade was a fitting one for city which has been in progress nearly a week was completed the preceding afternoon and this morning. The great public buildings, the huge halls, the structures, the lofty office buildings in the center of the city and the smaller stores and private residences in the outlying districts were alive with bunting, pennants, streamers and all the drapery which goes to make up a decorated city on the most radiant occasion. Scarcely an entire house in the street those occasions are claimed in bewildering array of colors from home flags and Stars and Stripes, emblems in some cases to be mistaken, with flutering degree bearing the colors and symbols of every nation under the sun.

THE PARADE FORMED

on Lake Front, marched through two miles and a half of business streets, the waiting divisions disbanding at the end, to make way for those following, when the Chicago branches had fallen into line at the start.

The parade was made up as follows: Chief of Police McClaughry and Deputies mounted, and followed by a detachment of mounted police, and they in turn by a detachment of police on foot, patrolling company front, stretching from curb to curb, keeping back the crowds during on each side of the street, to make room for those who followed. Next came Sousa's marine band of the Marine national band, playing martial music in turn, so that the blare of brass and resounding of drums was heard at all times at the head of the procession.

Then came Major General Nelson A. Miles, the great marshal of the parade, resplendent in all the glory and magnificence of his high military position in the army of the United States, followed by his staff and aides-de-camp. Next, superbly mounted, came the Chicago branch in full dress, with white trimmings, headed by a bugle corps, acting as escort to the mayor and city council of Chicago in carriages, with the governors of the different states, surrounded by their brilliant military staff.

THE SECOND DIVISION

was led by the Independent Order of Foresters, twelve thousand strong, marching twenty-five front. Next came the Knights of Pythias, resplendent with the dark green of sunny Italy and Greek sovereignty. Following them was a goodly float representing Columbus discovering America. Next in line came wearing their national colors, blue and white. Then followed Catholic Order Sons of America, composed of Catholics, in close order, the Royal Orange Society, each member decked with a bow of orange ribbon. At their heels came 3500 members of the German Turnverein, headed by the national committee of their order, attired in grey, each man bearing on his breast the Chicago colors, red and white. Then followed in close order the members of the Bohemian Turnverein, Czechs, Czechs, five hundred, German veterans. Nationality additional to
