A Knotty Legal Point in Regard to Arson, in Idaho.

A YOUTH FATALLY SHOT.

Bigger as the Roadrunner era of a Military Department.—Colorado Stage Robbery.

Dodd Stringer, for years chief of assayer for the Crescent company at Park City, and father of Thomas, Edward and Joseph Stringer, old employes of the company, has died in Spanish Fork of dropsy, superinduced by the effects of lead poisons absorbed while following smelting.

The Montana Gold, Silver, Platinum and Tellurium company at Neebo will make another $10,000 shipment of ore very soon. This company has recently cut the second lead in their ground with a long tunnel striking it too feet beneath the surface. It is a free foot vein and the ore carries gold and free milling. It also carries some silver.

The Elbert (Colorado) county Banner urges that the people of Elizabeth unite in an effort to get the Union Pacific to erect stockyards and scales at that point. It asserts that thousands of head of cattle are each year driven to other points for shipment, and that the Union Pacific might as well have the patronage if it would only provide the facilities.

There was a lively fire in the hillsides that skirt Great Salt Lake southwest of Brigham. The wind was blowing a gale and the flames brightly illuminated the sky as they leaped along through the forest of scrub oak at a surprising gait. They could have done little damage except lay waste a number of acres of winter range and eat up some fences.—Ogden Standard.

Mrs. Lorenzo Hansen and her mother, an aged lady, were thrown from a carriage and the latter painfully if not seriously injured last week. The other lady was not hurt. They were driving down from the farm. The horse took fright at an old gunnysack in the road, whirled around, upset the vehicle and piled the ladies in the ditch with the above result. The cart was smashed to atoms by the runaway animal.—Brigham City Bugler.

Judge Standrod says the Idaho Enterprise sentenced Phillip Clifford, the fellow who is supposed to have set fire to Keeler's saloon about a month ago, to ten years in the penitentiary. He was arrested and tried for burglary, for breaking into Ingersoll's house and stealing a lot of clothing, and was found guilty of burglary in the first degree. In passing sentence the court said he had investigated his past career and found he had served a term of eight years in the Utah penitentiary and had been out only a short time. He was too dangerous a person to be at large.

A letter was received last week from J. J. Sweeney who left the Park something over one year ago in company with W. B. Edwards for Australia. Mr. Sweeney is now in South Africa, having left Edwards in Australia. He reports it as a great country and says that an immense amount of the yellow metal is being taken from the rich down there. He says the claims are worth $300 feet, and that each one has a quartz mill on it in active operation. Mr. Sweeney says he does not like Africa but thinks there is a good chance in South Africa to make a raise.—Park City Record.

As Joseph Willey, of Teton, Idaho, a young man about sixteen years of age was returning from the timber with a load of wood, a slight shock caused the wagon to fall and he reached up his rifle from his Winchester so he could cover it up with quilts. In dragging the gun, which was an old fashioned affair, the charge went off entering the right side near the hipbone and coming out about one inch below the left side of the abdomen. His father who was along and a number of others got the wounded man to Teton by about dark, and Dr. Rivers was sent for. An examination showed that both lungs were penetrated and that he was bleeding internally. Death ensued next day.

An ex-Mayor has just died in Alameda, Cal., of consumption. Deceased was well known in Louisiana several years ago. He figured conspicuously in the Duly mining suit which occupied the attention of the last term of court here. It will be remembered that after killing Constable Lowther at Butte, Duly's whereabouts could not be found. Six months after the killing a deed executed in Denver by Duly to Dolan was received at the recorder's office here and caused much comment. Dolan, although he knew that time and probably knew at the time of his death the whereabouts of Duly, for whose apprehension a reward of $500 is outstanding, never revealed the secret to anyone and carried it with him to his grave.—Prospector.

During the current term of the supreme court the august tribunal will be called upon to decide whether or not it is a crime to "attempt to commit arson," says the Idaho Democrat. The question arises in the appeal of John Collins, the man who earnestly endeavored to set fire to the jail at Idaho Falls. He did not accomplish his design, but the district court, taking the view that the deed found him guilty, and he was sent to the penitentiary. His attorney contends that he has been wrongfully punished, the statutes of Idaho not recognizing attempted arson as a crime. The settlement of this peculiar question will not, however, be the most intricate one that the court will have to unravel, there being a large number of important cases on the docket.

Dr. W. Finlay Thompson of Palmer Lake died a few days since at some point on the coast of Mexico of yellow fever. The news of his death will grieve a great circle in his friends throughout Colorado, especially in Denver, says the News, where he was intimately associated with many leading citizens in various enterprises. Dr. Thompson invested large sums of money in Palmer Lake on his faith that it would ultimately be one of attractive summer resorts. He did much to beautify the place, and it first sprung into prominence through his efforts. His beautiful house, "Gleneagle House," was one of the loveliest seats in that section. Two years ago Dr. Thompson removed his family to New York and last year he went to Mexico to look after several interests. He leaves a wife and three daughters in New York. His aged mother and his sister reside at Palmer Lake.

A prominent army officer was in the city yesterday, says the Denver News, and in the course of conversation expressed the opinion that Denver would before very long be made the headquarters of a military department, saying in explanation that there has been talk for a good while of several important changes in the present Arizona department. This is now made up of New Mexico, Arizona and a part of California, with headquarters at Los Angeles. The new organization provides for the transportation of the entire state of California to the department of California, and the formation of a new division to be known as the Mountain department, made up of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. If this should be carried out, and there is every probability that it will, then the headquarters of the new department will either be at Denver or Santa Fe, with the chances largely for the former on account of General McCook's prejudice in its favor."

D. W. Schneider was taken before U. S. Commissioner Hinsdale at Denver on Saturday, charged with being an accessory after the act of Alexander McKenzie, who held up the Spur City and Creede stage September 23 last and relieved carrier U. M. Pemberton of the United States mail. Subsequent, it is claimed, received McKenzie and concealed him in his cabin, shifting him in every way in his power to avoid the officers of the law. The prisoner pleaded not guilty and was held in $1000 bonds. Being unable to furnish these he was committed to jail to await trial. McKenzie is already confined there.

Jack Crawford, the poet scout, has been written a poem in honor of the coming silver convention at El Paso, and dedicated it to the McKinty club of that city.
