MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

No More Subdivision Water Mains to be Laid for the Present.

CITY'S CASH GRADUALLY GOING.

Reports from the Street, Waterworks, Health and Other Departments for the Week Ending Today.

It has been definitely determined by the municipal committee on waterworks that there will be no more extension of mains into suburban districts for the benefit of real estate owners. Several petitions of this character have recently been denied as well as others which can scarcely be classed with the kind indicated. A member of the committee said today that the petitions could consistently be denied on the ground that there was a scarcity of water, leaving out of consideration the question of expense altogether.

The Squirrh Club.

The Squirrh club, a new Republican organization, will hold its second meeting in the club rooms, No. 12 Atlas block—the old Walker Opera house—this evening. The special business of the meeting will be the consideration of the constitution and by-laws which have been prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose. These provide for a non-factional organization, which is intended to be supplemental to the regular party organizations, and also general work for the Republican party, locally and nationally. The annual election of officers is suggested for May of each year, and meetings are to be held on the first Monday of each month. Membership is extended to all citizens of the political faith of the club. The officers for the first year are H. S. McCallum president, Chas. S. Davis vice president, L. S. Hyams secretary, James Jennings treasurer, and an executive committee consisting of the president, vice president, secretary and J. E. Hoar, Jas. R. Anderson, David S. Casey and Oscar Youngberg.

Missionary Party.

In the Sixth ward assembly hall, on Monday evening next, a complimentary party will be given to Elder William Parkins, who is about to depart on a mission to the Southern States. The first part of the entertainment, which is to commence at 8 o'clock, consists of songs, recitations, charades, etc., and the evening will close with a dance. The program is in good hands, and a large attendance is assured.

A MISSIONARY'S LETTER.

Elder J. R. Halliday Sends a Budget of Information From East Tennessee.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 18, 1893.

Editor Deseret News:

A few words from the East Tennessee conference to your valuable paper which reaches us regularly as a sweet morsel, bringing news from our beautiful Zion, our loved ones at home and from our fellow-laborers in the various parts of the missionary world, we trust will be read with interest by some of your many subscribers.

We are pleased to report the conference in a very good condition and with the force of twenty-two energetic and humble workers which we now have we intend that it shall not retrograde, but continue to advance until every son and daughter of God in East Tennessee shall have had the opportunity of hearing the Gospel and be left without an excuse in that regard.

The new counties recently opened up, bear quite encouragingly indeed; in many places the Elders are received into the homes of the most influential and prosperous citizens, whose financial conditions are such that the Elders can be well cared for. Years of association from this in Cleveland are almost if not entirely a thing of the past. The recognition that the Latter-day Saints have so long merited and today demand, by being given their right ellicit faith in virtue and honor, is fast being realized, and when the falsehoods, misrepresentations and unwarranted prejudice sown in times past are brought home to face with truth and reason, the Elders have no trouble in convincing the people of the unfairness of their sentiments, save those who "desire darkness rather than light." And though sometimes confronted with excessive of immoral practices, heathenish ideas and treasonable intentions, we are pleased to be able to hold up before them the true, patriotic, educational and moral standing of our people. There are thousands of good, kind and honest hearts among the people here and it is for these that the Elders are searching, bearing the message of everlasting joy.

The writer only a short time ago had the privilege of forming the acquaintance of a wealthy land owner here, who visited and worked in Utah and had occasion to become acquainted with our people pretty thoroughly, having been in all the towns from Logan to Beaver, and the glowing terms in which he spoke of the people of Utah, the kind treatment he received, was very gratifying to an Elder laboring afield.

Says he: "If ever there was a band of Christians, who are honest, and display that Christian spirit so conspicuously set forth in the teachings of our Savior, surely the Mormons deserve that name. They treated me well and my choice are ever open to them."

This man is influential and does a much good, ever raising his voice in our defense. And none like a traveling Elder can fully sense the joy it is to us to have our people energized in such high terms, and reminds us that not only is it possible to promote the interests of Zion by traveling in the missionary field, but at home in our business associations of life, and in civilly and charitably to strangers we can sow seeds which at a later date may bring forth fruit.

As a rule the health of the Elders remains good. However a few have been suffering with long troubles, but these have been relieved to return home. East Tennessee is noted for its healthy climate and its excellent water and were it not for the extra amount of moisture which the air contains, its climate would vie with that of our mountain home; as it is the country is conspicuous for its many elderly people, over the age of four score years. Pretty well only the pensioners and those connecting to obtain pensions, problem sickness and they are "growing" sick.

Fruits are here in great abundance this year, and in most parts black, dew and huckle berries are growing wild in great profusion, and with the excellent prospects for large crops of most products, the people of east Tennessee are jubilant.

The Elders have already suspended their labors of active canvass, and are spending the months of July and August among Saints and friends, after which time a number of new counties will be opened, and the work of canvassing resumed.

Reluctantly are we forced to chronicle the release of our worthy president, W. L. Hayes, with that of Elder James C. Orme, effective June 24, 1893, but on account of sickness were unable to start home until well along in July. Together they entered the field August 18th, 1886, when this conference consisted of only six Elders, and having done honest work, and leaving a host of dear friends who are loth to part with them, we give them the farewell hand shake, bidding them "God speed." To fill the vacancy made by the release of President Hayes, J. R. Halliday has been selected.

The arrival of John H. Hinckley, of Rexburg, Idaho, and Joseph Dunkley, Wallacy, Idaho, occurred July 6th and we welcome them in our midst. Wishing the NEWS prosperity unbounded, and desiring ever to be found with it fighting for truth and the welfare of Zion, I am, respectfully,

J. R. HALLIDAY.

Residence Burned.

This morning at 1:30 the fire department had a run to a residence owned by C. W. Ellison, on Iowa Avenue, between Ninth and Tenth East and Second and Third South. The boys arrived in time to prevent the entire destruction of the house, but the roof was partly burned and a frame summer kitchen entirely destroyed. The loss on the building is about $800. The loss of the contents can not be estimated, but is fully covered by insurance. The policy on the building is $1,000 and the insurance of the contents is $1,200. The house was vacant at the time of the fire and the mystery how it was started.

Will Remain at Home.

A NEWS representative had a pleasant chat with Heber S. Goddard this afternoon, on matters of a musical character, during which he got the information that that gentleman does not intend to return to the East this year as some of his friends have supposed. On the contrary, it is his purpose to remain in Salt Lake among his own kin and people in preference to going away, although he has received some very flattering inducements to do so. For three years he has been a substitute pupil under instruction of New York's famous baritone instructor, Geo. Sweet, and the development of his splendid voice is a matter of common knowledge in Salt Lake. Mr. Goddard is looking about for proper studio quarters and when he finds them he will launch out as a professional voice culture.

ASSIST NATURE

a little now and then in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you thereby avoid a multitude of distressing ailments and diseases and will find a new frame of mind and body. Of all known agents for this purpose, Dr. Bennett's Pleasant Pellets are the best. Once used, they are always in favor. Their mildness and efficacy recommend them to be kept on hands open and regular, and to further commend them to the care with other pills. Hence their great popularity with millions from federal emperors down. Price and their attendant discomfort and mortality disappeared. The "Pellets" are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. Do not be regulated while using them; they do not interfere with the daily duties of occupation, and produce no pain. Are growing in favor to the opposite. They act in a mild, easy and natural way and there is no reaction after world. Only 25 cents.

The Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belching, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. In proof of their superior excellence, it can be truthfully said that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial. Put up in vials, glass tight. Therefore always fresh and reliable. Sugar coated. Take one after dinner. Prevent the disease for which they are recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of having a better profit, but it is not the one who knows best.
