BALL TEAM HOME FROM BUTTE

Two Weeks Trip Was Not Very Profitable for Salt Lake Nine.

MINERS PLAY HERE TODAY.

Locals Will Stay Home for Four Weeks—Complain of Umpire Jack Huston's Treatment.

Last evening the Salt Lake ball team returned from its two weeks' trip to the north country where it received several bad wallopings at the hands of the Seattle and Butte nines. The boys all looked well and contented and had no kicks to register except with referenc to the work of Umpire Jack Huston at Butte. They characterize his method as malodorous. They declare that he apparently had it in for the local boys and the only way they could win when he held the indicator, was to score a clean knockout with a 20 minute count. Capt. Davis has protested one of the games won by Butte because of Huston's work.

At Seattle, as everybody knows, they went into the game badly handicapped and had little chance to win. With the team fully organized they expected to make good at Butte and claim they would have done so but for Huston giving them the worst of it on all occasions.

During their sojourn up north, they played 12 games and won only three of them.

Two members of the team did not return. Kelley is at Butte and Mr. Stopher was sidetracked at Spokane. Manager Reynolds gives out the cheering information that two new men are coming. They will be introduced upon their arrival. It is claimed that an effort was made by another manager to induce Davis and Wiggs to jump but they liked Salt Lake too well and would not leave.

The team will remain home and entertain all comers for the next four weeks after which they will spend one week in the north and finish up the season. The first game is scheduled for this afternoon with the Butte aggregation which arrived this morning. Wiggs is slated for the rubber and Dowling will probably pitch for Butte. After the series with the Miners, Salt Lake will take a chance with Seattle, Tacoma and Helena. The locals promise to be in good form and say they will more than make up for the bad showing up north.

Thomas Smith, paper hanger, of 128 South Main St., says: "A slight pain in my back, coupled with a disturbed action of the kidney secretions, led me to reason that if my kidneys were at fault a stitch in time would save nine, and the present was the time to act for kidney complaint is so gradual and so insidious in its dealings with ordinary mortals that complications are apt to arise which lead to serious trouble. I tried a remedy very flatteringly advertized to cure kidney complaint and gave it a fair trial but it failed to stop my backache. Then I went for Doan's Kidney Pills to the F. J. Hill Drug Co.'s store, and commenced the treatment. It only required a dose or two to tell me that they were acting just as promised. After their use for some time the backache and irregularity of the kidney secretions absolutely stopped."

WHAT THE BIG PUGS ARE DOING

Latest Reports from Jeffries and Corbett's Training Camps.

FITZ PAID $55 PER ROUND.

Champion Doing Little or No Training—Corbett Explains How He Will Win From Hollermaker.

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—The latest news from Harbin Springs is to the effect that Champion Jeffries now weighs close to 230 pounds, but does not appear to be fleshy. Trainer Delaney is confident that the mill with Corbett will be a comparatively short one.

"The champion," he said today, "does not intend to permit the bout to drag along to an endless length. Jeffries will fight with such strengh and speed that he will early bring Corbett down to his level in the question of agility. When he once gets him there the battle can be considered as over."

When this statement was repeated to Corbett the latter said:

"So Jeffries expects to make the fight a short one, does he?" he inquired. "Well, I hope he tries to, for if he does he will find me on hand. He will not have to chase after me, either, for I have invented a short-arm defense which I believe will prove an enigma to him. I am a much stronger puncher now than I have ever been and firmly believe that I will be able to put force enough into my blows to knock Jeffries down and put him out."

JEFF WILL GO HUNTING.

Harbin Springs, Aug. 10.—Jeffries will not reach the city until the night of the 12th, two days before the fight. Fitzsimmons left here Friday, after failing to give the champion the benefit of his skill, which he came 3,000 miles to do. These two facts, due to the long-headed maneuvering of Billy Delaney, will puzzle the sporting world more than any amount of advertising would. Jeffries cannot get himself talked about through affability or spectacular feats, but Delaney is bound that he shall be talked about, and he is pursuing a consistent course to keep the public guessing.

No one will again see Jeffries box in earnest until Friday night. None but those who have already done so will see him stripped. So no one will know his condition.

"If they once see him, it's all off with the betting," says Delaney.

The champion will do light work for the next three days. It will be similar to today's program—an hour in the gymnasium with the punching bag, the weights and the skipping rope, a few hours in the canyons and creek bottoms with a gun and an hour or two playing with an indoor baseball, for which he and Joe Kennedy choose sides and play the regulation game.

FITZ AN EXPENSIVE HELP.

In the afternoon or early evening the champion, to vary the monotony, sometimes indulges in a game of croquet. At dinner he always has a pint of wine, sometimes claret, oftener champagne.

It was Fitzsimmons' wife who took him away two days before he had planned to leave, though Jeffries was willing to let him go. She grew very tired of the society, or lack of it, here, and kept Bob miserable until he consented to go. Jeffries had intended to box with him only once more. He kept Bob waiting here for six weeks, ready each day to put on the gloves with him, and he boxed only six times of three rounds each.

Those 18 rounds were rather expensive, as Jeffries kept the telegraph wires hot between here and Chicago when Bob was wooing his wife, and insisted that he cut the courting short. Bob received $300 and expenses for himself and wife, including railroad fare, from Chicago here and back for both. The total bill was over $1,000. Jeff thus paid $55 a round for his light experience with the lanky hitter.

The reason that Fitzsimmons was cut out of the bill for this last week is that Delaney won't take any chances on injuring Jeffries' hands, and Bob is such a hard hitter that an accident would not be far from impossible. It is usual to refrain from hard boxing the week preceding a fight. The champion's hands are all right now, and he will take good care to keep them so. He may do a little light work with Joe Kennedy.

Fitzsimmons is to meet the crowd here in the city Thursday night. He will be a second at the fight and is looking forward to it with the same delight that a school boy has in anticipating his first theater. Fitz is such an ingenuous, wholehearted fellow that he wins the favor of everyone. He has the same admiration for Jeffries that lover has for a sweetheart he can never possess.

"Boy, if the Lord had been as good to me as he was to you, what wouldn't I have done," he has often exclaimed while looking at the big fellow stripped. "You don't have to do anything to win. Just step into the ring and that hair on your chest will take the steam out of anybody."

And the contest will be one between nature and science, between instinct and art, between brute force and skilled strength. When Jeffries and oCrbett come together the mighty battle-ax will meet the keen Damascene blade.

CORBETT EXPLAINS HOW.

San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Chaps who workd with Jim Corbett when he was a clerk in the Nevada bank on Montgomery street and not making the "big money" that he now is were visitors at Croll's garden yesterday afternoon. Jim might have done a little road work, as the weather was just right for his kind of work, but when his former officemates put in an appearance he gave up all thought of running on the road.

"How much did I weigh when I fought Jackson?" repeated Corbett, when the weight question was touched upon. "Let me see. I weighed just 188 pounds, and I was 10 pounds heavier than when I fought Sullivan at New Orleans. It only seems like a day since I left the bank to go away from home to fight, but after all, it was not so many years ago. To return to this weight business. It was pretty hot here yesterday and the day before, and I sweated off a few pounds. I only weighed 184, but I wouldn't be surprised if I tipped the scales at 188 when I go into the ring Friday night, which would be just 10 pounds more than when I fought Sullivan, though I really expect to fight at 185 pounds, which is a good weight for me.

"I will fight Jeffries differently from what I did the first time. In that fight I hanged away at his head, which is large and bony, and I broke both hands trying to knock him out on that hard jaw of his, which he protects pretty well. I am now convinced that Jeffries' jaw is his strongest point, and if he is to be defeated it is to be with blows on the body. Now in regard to my blows. I don't intend to use as many in a round as formerly, but when I do plant one it will have force behind it and it will hurt. Of course I don't expect Jeffries to stand still and let me walk up and punch him wherever I want to. I look for him to come tearing in like a big giant and make every effort to whip me as quickly as he can. To avoid his rushes I must use cleverness and outgeneral him. I have been told that Fitzsimmons used cleverness when he fought Jeffries and made a good fight, but I don't agree with any such statement. I say that Fitz made a rotten figh. Any fighter who will go in and punch himself out in eight rounds so that he can hardly stand up, as Fitz did, makes a poor fight instead of a good one. Fitz has 20 rounds to beat Jeff in, but by the pace he made you would have thought it was only a 20-round go."

"The Yosemite club is having a tremendous advance sale. It received $18,000 in orders before the tickets were put on sale Friday, which is a record breaker.

FRANK HOFMAN ILL.

Popular Local Bike Rider is Stricken With Diphtheria.

Friends of Frank Hofman, the speedy local bicycle rider, will be somewhat shocked to learn that he is suffering from an attack of diphtheria and that, in all probability, he will be unable to ride for several weeks and perhaps not at all this season.

Hofman has been feeling ill for several days and when a physician was consulted he pronounced the case diphtheria. Downing, the amateur is also down with the same disease. These two riders live at the same place. Orlando Steyens and other riders are talking of arranging a benefit meet for the afflicted riders.

Program for Olympic Games.

St. Louis, Aug. 10.—The Amateur Athletic union's olympic games committee held its first day's session today. President Walter Linginger presided. The committee spent several hours at work on the final program of this feature of the world's fair, which will be the third Olympic games contest, the first having been held in Athens in 1896 and the second in Paris in conjunction with the Paris exposition. The time fixed for holding the games is Aug. 29, 30, 31, Sept. 1, 2, and 3 1904.

In order that the athletes training the world over can train in a uniform manner and all go to same distance in practise, the committee unanimously voted in favor of having the running races measured according to the metric system.

Getting Her in Shape.

New York, Aug. 10.—A small army of dock yard employes besides her own crew and some of the crew of Shamrock II swarmed about Shamrock III as she lay in dry dock in Erie basin today and began the task of putting her in trim for the cup races. She will be cleaned repainted and re-enameled. Capt. Wringa does not expect to get her out of dry dock before next week. On Wednesday the day before the first race with the Reliance, she probably will be measured by the official measurer of the New York Yacht club to ascertain her racing length and whether either boat will have to give the other time allowance.

LA FONTISE BEATEN.

Dixie Kid Knocked Him Out in Tenth Round.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 10.—Dixie Kid tonight knocked out Mose La Fontise in the tenth round. The fight was scheduled for 20 rounds. La Fontise never had a look in to win, but he put up a game exhibition. He was knocked down eight times during the fight. A right swing to the solar plexus and a left to the jaw did the ousiness. Dixie got a belt in the mouth in a hot mix in the ninth, drawing the blood, and that was the only effective blow landed by La Fontise during the fight. The black boy had all the best of La Fontise in height and reach.

Agitating for General Strike

Berlin, Aug. 10.—An agitation in favor of a general strike is making headway among the coal miners in the Essen district. At a large meeting of miners held at Stockum, near Witten, Herr Nue, the recently elected Socialistic member of the reichstag, said the strike must begin within a few weeks unless the chief demands of the miners are satisfied.

Triple Lynching Averted.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 10.—By a narrow margin a triple lynching was averted in Winchester, Tenn., today. The intended victims were Henry Judge, Joe Delp and John Evans, and tonight, after a close call from a mob of 500 men, they have found security in the Davidson county jail here, where they were brought by Sheriff Stewart of Franklin county. The men are charged with the murder near Winchester of aged Simon Booker and his wife and the cremation of the latter's remains in the Booker home.

Martinello to be Secretary.

London, Aug. 10.—The Chronicle's Rome correspondent says this morning that an authority which is frequently well informed says that Cardinal Sebastino Martinello will be appointed papal secretary of state.

Miles on His Retirement.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The Tribune today prints an interview with Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who was asked as to the manner of his retirement from the command of the army and who is quoted as having said:

"The matter is closed for the present. Those who read the brief order and who have been cognizant of every thing the last few years will understand the situation. I believe that any one can run and read and understand."

The general denied any ambition to become commander of the G. A. R., saying:

"I have been a member of the G. A. R. since 1868, and have never failed to attend the encampments if possible. I expect to derive particular pleasure from this trip, because I shall have with me five friends who were members of my staff in the Civil war. It will be the first time we have all been traveling together since we were at Appomattox Courthouse at the close of the war. The party will consist of Col. Nathan Church of Ithaca, Mich.; Gen. John S. McEwan of Albany, N. Y.; Maj. Alex Sweeney of Steubenville, O.; Maj. John D. Black of Valley City, N. D.; Gen. George W. Baird, U. S. A., of Connecticut, and Col. H. H. Adams, of New York, a personal friend of fame."

Enthusiastic Over Coming Contest.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—While betting is rather quiet on the big fight about to come off between Corbett and Jeffries, the lack of interest in this respect is more than made up by the enthusiasm which is being developed all over the country in the coming contest. It is now said that the sale of seats for the contest will be the largest in the annals of pugilism in this city. It is certain that the heavyweights will box to a crowded house and it is almost assured that the gate receipts will amount to $50,000. It is said that more people are scheduled to travel a greater distance than they did to see Fitzsimmons and Jeffries here last summer and it is expected that fully a third of the vast audience will be made up of visitors from out-of-town. A party is being made up as far away as Philadelphia and reservation made of a block of 20 seats. Both the men are now tapering off in their training. Corbett still does a fair amount of work but it is principally limited to physical culture movements, with an occasional game of ball thrown in. He is taking no chance, however, in the way of injuring his hands, considering that he has gone too far now in reaching his present state to jeopardize a single ligament for the sake of amusement.

At Harbin Springs, Jeffries is finishing up work with the intention of an immediate departure for some convenient place in the vicinity of this city. It is expected that he will be here on Thursday in the best possible shape to enter the ring on the following evening. Both men are said by experts to be in the pink of condition.

WHAT THE OLD DOCTOR SAID.

"Doctor," said I, "you say appendicitis is much more common than it was thirty years ago."

"Indeed it is," replied the old doctor. "That we encountered this disease then, is true, but not with such appalling frequency. Appendicitis, these days, is almost as common as sore throat."

"To what, doctor, do you attribute this increase of appendicitis?"

"To hasty eating and to the use of foods which have a tendency to clog and fret the intestines and deaden peristaltic action. The way to avoid appendicitis and the surgeon's knife is to shun unnatural foods that beget intestinal torpor and constipation."

People who eat Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit do not have constipation and hence need not fear appendicitis. This perfectly natural food preserves the tone of the digestive tract and induces every excretory gland to subserve the body's interests. Have you tried this most delicious of all cereal foods?

"I have been eating your Shredded Wheat for over a year and it has completely cured me of constipation, with which I had been troubled for twenty years." — Joseph Jessop, Belden Hall, Coronado Beach, Cal.

Egg Plant Stewed with Onions.

Peel one eggplant and cover with salt to draw out the bitter juice, allow to remain for one hour, then drain free from all juice. Brown the slices in a frying pan with butter or fat. Lay these in the bottom of a baking dish. Peel four onions and slice, place these in the pan in which the eggplant was fried and add more fat if necessary and fry until a golden brown. Place the onions over the eggplant and season with salt and a little sugar; pour into the dish one small cup of water and half the quantity of vinegar, and set the pan over a slow fire; when the liquor is nearly all absorbed, arrange on a dish and serve.

Fried Eggplant.

Take medium sized eggplants and peel, cut in half-inch slices, place these in a quart of cold water in which has been put one tablespoonful of salt; place a weight on top to keep the plant under water, allow to remain for two hours, then remove and drain dry; dip each piece in beaten egg and bread crumbs and fry in fat until a golden brown.

Eggplant Fritters.

Cook one small eggplant in salted boiling water, to which has been added one tablespoonful of vinegar, for 20 minutes; drain and mash. To one pint of the plant add two well beaten eggs, one heaping saltspoonful of salt and half a saltspoonful of white pepper; to this add half a cup of flour, beat thoroughly and shape in small cakes and fry in deep fat, browning well on both sides.

Stuffed Eggplant.

Take one medium sized eggplant, cut in half lengthwise after cutting off the stem. Place these in salted water for half an hour, then drain and fry in hot fat until soft. For a filling for these mix together two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped pork, the same of butter, two ounces of finely chopped shallots or one tablespoonful of minced onions, and two cups of chopped mushrooms. Cooll this mixture carefully for 10 minutes, stirring to prevent burning. With a tablespoon take up most of the fleshy part of the eggplant, add this to the other preparation and season with salt and white pepper with a little chopped parsley. Place he eggplant in a baking dish and fill with the mixture. Sprinkle with fresh bread crumbs and dot with tiny pieces of butter and bake a golden brown in a rather hot oven. When done place on a hot dish and serve with brown sauce either poured around it on the platter or in a sauce boat apart.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

For over four years I suffered with general debility, causing a thorough breaking down of my system. My cousin, who had been benefited by S. S. S., told me about it. I tried it and it cured me. I heartily recommend S. S. S. to all who may feel the need of a thoroughly good blood tonic. Yours truly,
