To the Stockholders of the People's Equitable Co-op Association:

We desire to call your attention to the condition of your store and ask your assistance to make it a success.

In February, 1893, we owed $27,777.35. At a duly called meeting of the stockholders it was decided to sell out our goods; and this has been done to the extent that we now owe less than $7,500. Over $20,000 in cash has been realized from the sale above the necessary expenses of conducting same. We have left a large stock of goods, many of which are just becoming seasonable. We have added a choice line of groceries and can sell you anything you need. Do you wish to help yourself or some one else? If you buy and induce your friends to buy from our store you benefit yourself directly. We owe very little [illegible] We have a large stock of [illegible] and our store, and a lease the best we know of in town. Help us to wipe out the balance of our debts, and then say what you wish done with the business.

Board of Directors
People' Equitable Co-op Ass'n.

To the Public:

We are actually selling the remainder of our Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Furnishings and Shoes at one-half their regular price.

We are being governed in our prices by the present financial crisis, and realize that the people need all that they can get for the least amount of cash. Therefore to miss this great offer would be almost a sin.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.
Monday, August 28, 1893

FRAGMENTS.

CHIEF JUSTICE ZANE has been occupied in chambers today with Supreme court work.

ON Saturday evening a lady bicyclist in "knickerbocker" costume attracted considerable attention on Third South street.

JUDGE BARTCH will leave for Denver towards the end of the week for the purpose of holding court. His honor expects to have quite a long time there.

THE deputy county clerk this morning issued a marriage license to Nazarene Pitcher, 22, of Pleasant Grove, and Florence Calmer, 17, of the same place.

An adjourned meeting of the Territorial Supreme court will be held on Wednesday morning next at the request of Attorney Jackson, who will not be here for two days.

THE City Council will meet tomorrow night. Once the matters of importance to come before the municipal rulers is the proposal of the persons employed by the Calmer-Jennings Paving company.

THE work of paving between the rails and inside of the city street car company commenced this morning under the direction of the engineer and superintendent of streets. The work will be carried on at the rate of about one block every three days.

"IF Cassidy the convict is insane," said a local wag today, "because he assumed the cognomen of brutality and hooting him for one or twenty minutes at a time, does it not logically follow that the criterion of the insane asylum, who admit that they had not heard him for one and two years, have wheels in their heads?"

C. M. JACKSON, the president and promoter of the American anti-Catholic political secret association, complained to the News this afternoon that the statement in the Liberal organ that Comissioner Pollard was a member of the order was false. Mr. Pollard knows nothing of its workings further than what has appeared in the newspapers.

"CHARLIE STANTON," said a prominent Liberal to a News reporter this morning, "has sounded his own political death knell by identifying himself with the liberty-destroying Americans. Even though it were an open fact that the Liberal party would succeed itself at the next election, Mr. Stanton would not be able to get the position held by Dalgleish, his erstwhile second lieutenant. Too many a hero, he has made the mistake of his life by joining the Americans."

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

Duke's First South Street Millinery Establishment Damaged to the Amount of $7000.

At a few minutes past 1 o'clock yesterday morning the spacious millinery parlors of J. J. Duke on First South street, just west of the clock corner, were found in flames, the origin of which up to the present are completely surrounded in mystery.

The fire started in the rear of the store and owing to the inflammable character of the material spread with such rapidity that a loss of $7000 with only $2000 insurance resulted in a remarkably short time. The firemen did the best they could but found the blaze a difficult one to combat.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Missionary Work in the South Sea Islands.

At the services in the Tabernacle yesterday, Sunday, Aug. 27.

ELDER JAMES L. BROWN was the first speaker. He had just returned from a mission to the South Sea islands, where he had spent about fifteen months in missionary work. He gave a brief account of the origin of the mission in these islands in 1844, and related some interesting incidents in its history. In 1844 the first person was baptized. The missionaries left after the islands had been excluded from Nauvoo. In 1850 Elders again visited the islands, but found the French having established a protectorate and showed considerable jealousy towards the missionaries. Later a great many were baptized and immigration followed. The Saints, however, blessed the labors also added numerously to the Church and worked wonders through the faith of the members. The priests spread many false rumors about the missionaries, among whom was the speaker. It was said that he was a government spent sent to the place to create rebellion among the natives. He was then arrested and sailed in a little schooner. But when there he succeeded in organizing a branch. Soon he learned that the mission was to be abandoned and returned home. The field was then unmanned for over forty years and left to the management of the native Elders. Persecution raged. Mormon meetings had to cease. If anything was heard singing a Mormon hymn he was arrested. The children were compelled to go to the Catholic schools and if the parents resisted, persecution followed. Several Saints were excluded and many others died in prison. They had no other alternative than death or denial of the faith. Still a remnant was faithful and prayers were constantly sent up to heaven that Elders should come again and teach the principles of the Gospel. But at last the Saints became scattered both through dissentions, persecutions and epidemics till finally of the four thousand there remained not more than a little over a hundred. In this condition the people were found by recent missionaries. The speaker with others had been called to go and see what could be done. He had heard that there was a terrible influence against the Mormons but he had not met many Saints who acknowledged it. Since his return home he and his wife were anxious to hear about Salt Lake City and the Temple of God. He had found several written wonderful facts of faithfulness, telling the saints that if they would be faithful, the Lord would send His servants to them. The speaker had also had many encouraging experiences. Many persons had been baptized; the testimony had been established in the hearts of many and they had prepared themselves to stand faithful, whatever might come. The speaker further related his experiences in various places. When he first visited the islands the people were cannibals; now they were civilized. They exhibit great faith and wonderfulness in their religion. Their greatest desire is not to be left without missionaries from Utah. Now there are ten elders there, all in good spirit and learning the language with astonishing rapidity.

ELDER ABRAHAM CANNON, of the council of the Apostles, next addressed the congregation. He said he had listened with great interest to the previous speaker. He realized that the Gospel has to be preached in every land before the end shall come, in order that no people shall be left without excuse. A great work is yet to be done in the South Sea islands. What has been done in the Sandwich islands is an instance of what will be done in other groups. The people to those parts are of Israel and have many problems. They should informed as to a greater extent in their value than in ours. They will be made a glorious and mighty people at last, and if the Elders go to them with sincerity they will find as much, if not more, joy than by going to the more civilized nations. Then, there are peoples in Europe—in Germany and Russia, for instance—to whom the Gospel has hardly yet been preached. There is a vast work to be done. Besides, we have the continents of Asia and Africa, Australia and South America. To all these countries the Lord will yet send His servants, and the work rests upon the Saints. Should they fail in this, the disapproval of God will fall upon them. The Lord is working through His spirit, and the nations of the earth will see the power of God. It is well for the young men especially to consider the work that is before them if they remain faithful. Opposition they will meet, but the Lord will be with them, and they will gain eternal exaltation.

Strange Denials.

Since the exposé of the purposes and secret operations of the Americans there are numerous denials on the part of many as to connection with the order and some of these probably correct. Here, however, is a case in point showing to what such a member of the organization will go in order to protect himself. A News reporter inquired of a prominent Liberal if he was identified with the movement in any manner and he responded in the most emphatic manner that he was not. In less than three-quarters of an hour the reporter ascertained beyond any question of doubt that the gentleman was a member of the executive committee.

JUDGE BARTCH'S COURT.

The Wasatch Mineral Spring Company's suit comes on at last.

Before Judge Bartch this morning the hearing of the case of the Wasatch Mineral Spring Co. vs. Timothy Cook et al, on an order to show cause why a permanent injunction should not issue, was commenced. The facts were recently given in these columns, at the time of the filing of the complaint.

Brown and Henderson represent the plaintiffs; for the defendants Leatham, Montgomery and Rawlings appear. The dispute arises in regard to a medicinal spring — the "Wasatch"—on land near the Warm springs and purchased by the parties in from the defendants in the year 1892. All the present trouble settings out of a certain boundary line. Plaintiffs say that they were deceived into the purchase of the spring and have earlier give use thereof; that the deed be set rectified so as to include part of lot 13 lying north of and adjoining lot 14.

A good deal of time was taken up by Colonel Montgomery in reading the answer of the defendants, and shortly before noon the taking of testimony began.

ORIGINAL.

In the case of Hannah S. Harding vs. Thomas Pullen et al, the answer was, on motion of counsel, ordered stricken from the files.

W. W. Gee vs. W. F. O'Meara. Demurrer to amended complaint withdrawn and ten days given in which to answer.

John T. Cook vs. A. J. White et al. Motion to strike out answer referred to Judge Zane.

S. S. Terrill vs. N. H. Groesbeck, Attorney R. W. Taylor was substituted for Attorney Rhodes as referee in this suit.

How is This?

Verify the mail service over the Union Pacific is badly neglected, says the Nephi Courier of Saturday, and it is time that the citizens of the central and southern portions of Utah rise en masse and protest against the way it is now conducted. To say nothing of the eastern and western mails being delayed one day through the present train service, for it usually most runs the south is now cutting out to Salt Lake and returning here the following day. We understand there is no mail clerk on the trains south of Lehi and that is the cause. This matter must be remedied at once, as it is an imposition upon the public.
