VACATION IS OVER.

Universities, Colleges and The Public Schools Resume Work.

TIME FOR STUDY HAS ARRIVED.

Features at The Utah School of Physical Culture.—Other Worthy Institutions.

Vacation has passed, and on every street this morning were seen students wending their way to their accustomed places of something, to resume the work that is to prepare them for life's eventful battle.

At the Utah University, the work of last term will be resumed, with the exception of some new studies in each department which naturally follow those completed. While a number of new faces were visible today, the enrollment will remain about the same as last term—three hundred and forty-seven—owing to the fact that, as in all institutions, there are those who find it impossible to return.

The work at the Church University will continue much the same as before the holidays, as the regular semester will not close until the latter part of the present month.

The character of the work contemplated will be that of the highest grade in chemistry and physics, the treatment being largely in the nature of lectures, accompanied by experimentation. This before is supplemented by daily drills, in which the student is expected to do much original investigation.

The public schools assembled again this morning after a vacation dating from December 23rd. There are two terms during the year of twenty weeks each, the present one closing the latter part of the present month, at which time new studies will be taken up in the various departments. The enrollment will not at this time materially change, and will remain at about the same number, a little more than nine thousand in the entire system.

The Utah School of Physical Culture was also a busy scene of operations today, the usual classes for men, women and children being continued as before the holidays, as follows: Hours for women, 11 a. m., 4.30 p. m., 6 p. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; men, 7.30 p. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; children, 4.30 p. m., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

In addition to these classes an extra class will be formed for men at 6 p. m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and in all women's classes new classes will be formed to suit the convenience of the ladies as far as possible. As heretofore the gymnasium will be open all day for practice, and classes and private lessons in elocution arranged; also lectures in normal classes given in the afternoon. This institution is elaborately equipped, and is under the direction of Professor Dye.

The Presbyterian Collegiate Institute, Rowland hall under Episcopalian auspices, Hammond hall under Congregational control, All Hallows' college for boys, under the auspices of the Catholic church, Saint Mary's academy, under the control of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, all opened again today. The various kindergarten schools of the city commenced again yesterday.

Mrs. Irvine's Alimony, etc.

As stated in last evening's NEWS, counsel representing the Irvines met Judge Zane by arrangement, in chambers, yesterday afternoon, with a view of settling the amount of alimony and attorneys' fees to be paid Mrs. Irvine, as the finding of the court last January in the divorce suit. Judge Boyle, Attorneys F. L. Williams and Waldemar Van Cott were sworn as to what they considered would be reasonable attorneys' fees, and they agreed upon $300, which was allowed by his Honor. Mrs. Irvine was granted a little over $100 for witness fees and expenses, exclusive of the court costs, and alimony in the sum of $50,000, payable in three equal installments in three, six and nine months. The attorney's fees and costs were ordered paid within twenty days.

The usual motion for a new trial was made and thirty days allowed to file statement for same.
