OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, - AUGUST 4, 1894.

Important Arrests at Evanston.

On Marshal Dale, of Evanston, giving notice to Chief Davenport that he had captured the man "Red Phillips," who was wanted here on a charge of robbing the house of Charles Christensen, a sheep herder, last Tuesday morning, Davenport notified Marshal Dale, as the case is now in the hands of the U. S. marshal. Deputy Ballentyne took the morning train yesterday at 8 o'clock with his man, who now lies in the county jail awaiting a hearing.

Deputy Ballentyne also brought back with him one N. Ballet, a striker who participated in stopping a U. P. mail train on the night of the 3rd of July. Ballet had gone to Wyoming and was seeking refuge in Evanston when arrested. He also is in jail awaiting a hearing on the same old charge.

Thrown from a Cart.

At about 8:00 last evening G. L. Corey was driving down Washington avenue in a cart, his horse became frightened at a passing street car and willfed around, throwing Mr. Corey to the ground. The animal kicked him in the two twice, cutting a horrible gash in his cheek and severely injuring his jaw. Dr. Gordon was summoned and dressed the wounds, which will not prove serious.

A Chinaman's Serious Injury.

A Chinaman met with an accident last evening which may result in his death. He was driving along Washington avenue when his horse became frightened and ran into the Ogden river, throwing the Chinaman into the stream. Dr. Powers attended to the injured man and has but little hope of his recovery, as the wound is a severe one and the Chinaman has but little nerve.

Notes.

One carload of Australian quail went east this morning over the Union Pacific.

John Welsh was assessed $25 by Judge Miner yesterday for unlawful substitution.

James Fackrell, who met with an accident in Ogden canyon Tuesday night, is rapidly recovering from his shock.

The damages on the storehouse of the Colorado & Utah Canning factory, which was burned down last Tuesday night, amounted to about $4,000, and is insured to the amount of $2,000.

Welsh, the foreman of the Southern Pacific stage, who dropped into a vat of boiling water a few nights ago, is getting along as well as can be expected, as the scald was a severe one.

Deputy Cooke has just returned from Lewistown, Rich county, where he arrested, after considerable scheming, an old gentleman whom the deputies have been after for ten years past, wanted on a charge of colonization.

GUATEMALA'S FIRST LADY.

The Wife of President Barrios Now Visiting Her Native Country.

Among the visitors to the United States, and who will probably come this way in a few days on her journey to New Orleans from California, is Mrs. A. de Reyna Barrios, wife of the President of Guatemala. She is accompanied on her trip by the Misses Martha and Adriana Bolnagel and Dr. Juan Padilla, the president's physician. Mrs. Barrios is described as a very handsome young woman, and a native of New Orleans. She met her husband a little over eight years ago, when he was in exile from his native country, at New York. It was a case of love at first sight on the part of the Central American. Mrs. Barrios was then Miss Algeria Benton. She married the love of her youth, and in a short time the couple were married. Barrios took his bride to his native country, and the lady became very popular with the people. Her husband, though, was not so popular with the government of Barillas, and he found it expedient to get out of the country very suddenly. Barrios is a soldier, and has the reputation of being a very brave and efficient officer. Never for a moment did his pluck and ambition desert him while he was in exile. He made his home in this city for several years, but all the while he was in communication with his friends in Guatemala, who kept him thoroughly posted on the condition of affairs. When the time for election of President drew nigh Barrios' name was put forward by his friends and his nomination was received by the people with delight.

This was two and a half years ago, and the soldier thought then that the time was ripe for his return to his country. Against the advice of his friends, who feared that Barillas would make away with him, the intrepid young officer and his wife sailed for Guatemala. Encomiums of Barillas were awaiting his arrival at San Jose where his carriage was disembarked at its Guatemala, but he disembarked at Champerico. Numbers of his friends flocked there to meet him. The people simply went wild at Barrios and his wife. Here take the city of Guatemala. The streets were paved with roses and flowers were strewn along their path. Men jumped up on top of the carriage, and in their excitement broke through the roof, almost killing the future president and his wife. Barillas was not a candidate, the government's choice being Lonzeda. Barrios, though, was the people's choice, and although the soldiers, who were his executioner effectively, were woken up and not permitted to vote, he carried the day by an overwhelming majority.

Mrs. Barrios may extend her trip to Europe, though that is not decided upon. Speaking of Guatemala as a home, she tells it is in the highest terms of praise.

Last of the Carlyles.

Hidden away in a lovely nook of the valley of the Sixteen Mile creek, in Canada, is a pretty little house, known as Comely Bank, the residence of the only surviving sister of Thomas Carlyle. She is a sweet faced old lady of 85 and is the widow of Robert Hanning, who for years held a responsible position in the service of the Great Western Railway Company of Canada. Mr. Hanning had been in business in Manchester previous to crossing the ocean. For many years Mrs. Hanning kept up a more or less regular correspondence with "Dear sage of Chelsea," which at his death is still left her, enough to buy the little home where she now resides. Comely Bank was the scene of the Edinburgh residence to which Carlyle brought his young wife, Jeannie Welsh, and Mrs. Hanning gave her Canadian residence the same name. Mrs. Carlyle is described by the creaky personal sister as "a sweet nice, lovely, very pretty, very kind, loving woman."

READ THE EXPERIENCE

Of Mrs. Mary L. Bates, Wife of Robert Bates.

Who Has Been Connected with the Z. C. M. I., as a Trusted Employee for the Past Twenty-one Years.

To making her statement for publication she states as follows:

MRS. MARY L. BATES, OF GLOUCESTER, SALT LAKE.

"I was attracted to the Z.C.M.I. and Deseret Hospital by the Medical Institute. I was troubled in my side and all that women are troubled with, and I was not able to do my work, and was alike connected to my job. Nothing as a cure seemed, with results most strongly induced me, and I did so with women. I had been asked to report on the Hospital Institute, as I was a lady, and I did so. I was cured in a short time, and I am now a strong, healthy woman.

"I had tried nearly all the time, and could scarcely do anything, and I was troubled with every ailment that comes to a woman. My appetite was all wrong, and I was so nervous I could not sleep for weeks at a time. I was so weak I could not walk a mile, and I felt as if I should die. I was so nervous I could not bear the noise of the children, and I was so weak I could not do my work. I felt as if I could not live. I was so nervous I could not sleep, and
