THE BOSTON VISITORS.

They Are Hospitably Entertained And Enjoy Their Sojourn

A TRIP TO FORT DOUGLAS,

The Temple Block, Garfield and Other Places of Interest.

This morning at 7:30 o'clock the visiting Boston officials were received at the Union Pacific depot by the reception committee appointed by the Salt Lake Council. The committee consisted of Messrs. Bell, Beardsley, Folland, Evans and Hardy. The distinguished delegation from the famous city of culture and literature are as follows:

John H. Sullivan, John H. Lee, Thomas F. Keenan, Thomas W. Flood, John F. Doner, Michael J. Mitchell, Jacob Fettler, Edward J. Leary, Otis Eddy, aldermen; David F. Barry, president city council; John M. Galvin, city clerk; James M. Hillard, committee clerk; Alvah H. Peters, city messenger; T. J. Brennan, city press representative.

They were driven to the Knutsford Hotel, where they regaled and recuperated themselves after their tiresome ride across the mountains. At 9 o'clock an informal reception provided for by the Mayor and City Council took place. There were no speeches, and after about half an hour of pleasant intercourse between the Bostonians and Salt Lakers, carriages were ordered and the City Hall made the first objective point of visitation. Here Chief Stanton of the fire department gave an exhibition of what his corps could do. The regular process of answering a call was very creditably accomplished. The visitors expressed themselves more than pleased with the efficiency, activity and promptness with which the manoeuvres were performed.

The carriages were again entered and driven to the west entrance of the Tabernacle. The visitors and their Salt Lake friends proceeded to the east end of the building where Prof. Badger rendered two pieces on the great organ. The performances were applauded. Mrs. Rosalie Dean Allison gave an aria from Rossini's Stabat Mater, and, as an encore, gave the Last Chord. Prof. Thomas next entertained the visitors with a description of the building, and demonstrated its acoustic properties by rubbing his hands, speaking in a whisper and dropping a pin on the rail in front of him.

The party next drove to Fort Douglas where they were received in the club rooms by the following officers: Colonel Black, Major Clapp, Captains Noble, Allen, Palmer, Morrison, Woodbury; Lieutenants Tyler, Cowles, Steadman, Newton, Vance, George, Thurston; all of the Sixteenth infantry.

The gallant officers joined with the Salt Lake delegation in extending the hospitalities of the fort to their eastern guests. After a pleasant conversation the party proceeded to the quarters of the two Indian companies. Major Clapp, through the interpreter, a half-breed, explained to the soldiers the character of the visitors from the great city by the Atlantic.

Mayor Baskin also addressed the Indians, and complimented them on the soldierly deportment, and their admirable conduct on the streets of the city, when off duty. All this was imparted through the interpreter and received with a sententious and impressive silence, unlike—like on the part of the Indian warriors.

In looking over the roster of the Indian companies Michael J. Mitchell, one of the Boston aldermen, noticed the name of Mitchell among the names. He expressed a desire to see the bearer of the name. Major Clapp ordered him to the front. The alderman I guess? Now he came by his military ardor. The brave replied that he got it from his father, who was a full-blooded Indian. This caused general merriment, inasmuch as the alderman is also the son of an Hibernian, and at once friendly relations were established between the city father from the far east and the Sioux brave from the prairies of the west.

The club quarters were again visited, and Mayor Baskin, on the part of the City Council, extended an invitation to the officers and their ladies to join in the excursion to Garfield Beach, this afternoon, and to the banquet at the Knutsford this evening.

About 12:45 p. m. the party left the Fort and drove to the Temple and ascended the tower to take in the magnificent view of Salt Lake valley. They next proceeded to the Knutsford for lunch.

The Salt Lake representatives were as follows: H. N. Baskin, Mayor; Councilmen: C. F. Loofbourrow, E. E. Rich, E. A. Folland, S. C. Ewing, C. E. Wantland, J. L. Lawson, L. C. Kerrick, F. J. Moran, H. F. Evans, M. H. Beardsley, O. H. Hardy, J. A. Hulse, C. M. Bell, F. O. Horn, A. L. Simondi.

The Bostonians are making their tour in the Wagner car "Cascade." They left Boston at 2 p. m. on the 17th inst., visited Chicago, Omaha and Denver, at all of which places they were hospitably received. They express themselves as highly delighted with the warmth and enthusiasm with which they were received in this city. The hospitality and welcome extended to them at Fort Douglas by the gallant officers they regard as a marked feature of their trip. They will leave Salt Lake for the coast at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

A New Railway Company.

With Auditor Pratt was filed yesterday afternoon the articles of incorporation of the Salt Lake and Wyoming Railway Company. They provide that the road shall commence at a point in the city of Ogden, and run thence through the counties of Weber, Davis, Morgan and Rich to a point on the boundary line between Utah and Wyoming, in township 16 north, range 8 east of the Salt Lake meridian, and also commencing at a point on said railroad near Croyden station in Morgan county, and running thence in an easterly direction through the counties of Morgan and Summit to a point on the boundary line between the Territory of Utah and the State of Wyoming, in township 3 north and range 8 east of the Salt Lake meridian, and the total length of all the proposed lines of railroad is 115 miles as near as the same may be.

The amount of the capital stock is $400,000, which is divided into 40,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, which is the actual contemplated cash construction of the road, together with the cost of right-of-way, motive power and every other appurtenance pertaining for the completion and running of said road, as nearly as can be estimated by competent engineers.

The stock is held as follows: L. G. Wilkerson, one share; W. N. Swan, one share; E. W. Evans, one share; A. H. Swan, one share; W. Halcomlee, one share; D. Hamer, one share; W. D. Halliwell, one share; C. K. Bannister and M. K. Jones, each 501 shares; Thos Robinson, one share.

One hundred and thirteen thousand dollars has been subscribed and 10 per cent is paid up. The promoters, it will be seen, are those who are interested in the Pacific Short Line, and Salt Lake & Sioux City schemes. All of them, except Mr. Jones, who is a resident of New York, live at Ogden.

Returned Missionary.

Elder Charles W. Olson, of Grantsville, returned yesterday afternoon from a mission to Sweden. He left Salt Lake City on April 30th, 1890, and labored in the Gothenburg conference during the entire time. In the course of the two years he has been absent he has traveled by sea 8251 miles, by rail 10,209, and on foot 1656. He has held 294 meetings in all, and met with very gratifying success. He was most kindly treated by the people wherever he went, and found a spirit of inquiry among them. Elder Olson published the Articles of Faith of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in several dailies and newspapers, and he reports that the Gospel is making rapid progress in that part of the mission field in which he has been laboring. He comes back to Utah in the best of health.

"The Practical Politician."

This is the title of a new addition to local literature. It is a compendious work, containing much useful information within a limited space. It fills a want in this section of the country, where political inquiry is intensely awake and education in that line is in progress. This manual covers about 192 pages and will doubtless find a ready sale. The author—E. A. Renner—has sought to be non-partisan, and has succeeded as well as could be expected. He has endeavored, in speaking of the two national parties, to confine himself to statements of fact and principle and to avoid anything having the appearance of bias. To a man of very pronounced political leanings this is a task of some difficulty.

Another New Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Hales Brothers company of Spanish Fork were filed with Secretary Sells today. The line of the company is placed at fifty years. The capital stock is divided into 5,000, divided into shares of $10 each. The officers are George G. Hales, president; H. Chamberlain, vice-president; Nicholas Smith, secretary and treasurer. These together with Joseph L. Hales, Stephen F. Hales and William F. Hales form the board of directors.

The purpose for which the company is organized is to buy and sell all kinds of building material.

THE METHODISTS.

Still Troubled About Lay Representation.

OMAHA, May 25.—The Methodist conference this morning adopted a report commending the objects of the World's Fair, urging it to be closed on Sunday and recommending the appointment of a commission to make a church exhibit at the Fair.

The report recommending ministerial and lay delegates to be seated separately at the next general conference was adopted.

The report of the judiciary committee to the effect that the bishops have veto power over the action of the book committee in all matters pertaining to elections, but have no right to vote in meetings of the book committee, was adopted.

The committee on lay representation reported in favor of equal lay and clerical representation.

The amendment to refer the matter to the annual conference was defeated by the votes of the lay delegates. Vote ordered on the adoption of the report of the committee resulted: Laymen—for 145; against 11. Ministers—for 197; against 108. The chairman held that the report was adopted by the concurrent vote of both orders, but the objection was made that it required a two-thirds vote. A motion was made to refer the matter to the judiciary committee. Pending action, recess was taken.

A Lesson in Patriotism for Children.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 25.—General Palmer, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., is earnestly co-operating with the executive committee on the National Columbian school celebration, October 12, which aims to impress upon thirteen million pupils a powerful lesson in patriotism. In a letter to half a million veterans of the country he urges that they assist in the celebration, acting as escort to the parades, raising saluting flag, etc.

A Line of Steamers Between Tacoma and China.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The announcement that the Northern Pacific has succeeded in establishing a line of steamers between Tacoma and China and Japan is confirmed here. Arrangements have been completed with an English syndicate, by which a new company called the Northern Pacific Steamship company has been formed. The president is Mr. Wm. Pearce, London, who organized the Canadian Pacific Steamship company. There will be three ships under the British flag and voyages will be made monthly in each direction, and within a year it is hoped to have a semi-monthly service. The first steamer of the new company left Hong Kong May 21. The line opened in time to carry part of the tea crop, of which the Northern Pacific has hitherto transported about twenty-five per cent. The Northern Pacific, as a company, will not have any pecuniary interest in the steamers, the steamship line taking ocean earning, and the Northern Pacific the overland earnings on the traffic interchanged. The steamship line will deliver exclusively to the Northern Pacific, but will compete for the exports of the Pacific Coast at all points.

Dewning's Statement.

MELBOURNE, May 25.—The Age publishes the statement which Deming made to the jail officer shortly before his execution. Deming says that when Emily Mather (the woman whom he married in Kalshki) found out he lacked the fortune she supposed him to possess, they were constantly quarreling. During one of these he struck her three blows with an ornamental battle axe, killing her. He carried the body into the yard, cutting her throat, and proceeded to bury the remains in his outhouse. He covered the body with cement which, he admitted, was bought prior to the murder, but he intended to use it in making ordinary repairs.

Boxing Matches.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The proposed match between Ted Pritchard and Bob Fitzsimmons is further off than ever. The latter has now received a letter from Pritchard's training quarters to submit the articles of agreement for the proposed match with Bob Fitzsimmons in the Olympic Club, New Orleans; also to inform him that the Olympic Club would delay his expenses and pay any forfeit necessary, if he would break off the match with O'Brien. Pritchard stated that September 5th was the date named for him to fight Fitzsimmons and this would not give him enough time to train. Pritchard guarantees that he will fight Fitzsimmons in the Olympic club any day in November, providing a purse of $15,000 be offered. Jim Hall challenged Pritchard to box 8 rounds at 11 stone, 8 pounds. The latter refused. He agrees to fight Hall at 11 stone, 10 for $5,000 a side, eight weeks from signing the articles.

A BRAVE OFFICER.

He Defends the Jail Against a Lawless Mob.

DALLAS, Tex., May 25.—The determined stand of Sheriff Lewis prevented the mob from effecting an entrance to the jail last night for the purpose of lynching the negro Henry Miller, who murdered Officer Brewer. He barricaded the jail and told the mob he would defend the prisoner with his life. While the mob were battering at the jail door, several shots were fired, and two persons slightly wounded. Leading citizens counseled conservation, and the mob finally dispersed.

The Spanish government decided that an American certificate beneficently will be a sufficient guarantee of the wholesome condition of the articles exported.

I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to all sufferers from dry catarrh from personal experience.—Michael Herr, Pharmacist, Denver.

I had catarrh of the head and throat for five years. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and from the first application I was relieved. The cause of smell, which had been lost, was restored after using one bottle. I have found the Balm the only satisfactory remedy for catarrh, and it has effected a cure in my case.—H. L. Mayer, Waverly, N. Y.

A Mother's Mistake.

Mothers frequently make a mistake in neglecting the Cough as a child. A Fort Wayne, Ind., lady writes: "My little daughter, 6 years old, had a severe Cough, but as it was nothing unusual I thought nothing of it, and allowed it to run on for four or five weeks, when it became so obstinate she began losing flesh. I called in a physician, who treated her three weeks without benefit. A neighbor insisted upon my trying Ballard's Horehound Syrup; it relieved her from the first dose, and she began gaining flesh rapidly; when she had used two bottles her Cough had entirely disappeared. I would not be without it." Mothers not conversant with children. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is free from Opiates. It's the most soothing Throat and Lung medicine in the world. Price 50c. and $1.00.
