Chinese Arrested for Illegal Fishing—Fatal Mine Cave-in—Singular Deaths.

John C. Hewitt, a California pioneer of 1849 and a veteran of the Mexican war, died at Fresno on Wednesday. He was a native of Augusta, Me., and his estate valued at $70,000.

The Mormon church, says the Prescott Journal-Miner, which was so nearly bought by Henry O. Wood and associates, entries over $50,000 in July, the daily average landings being 218.

The Hailey (Idaho) Times reports the stockings which were to Tonopah went Monday. "This monkey business," it says, "is largely due to the recent behavior of the men during the recent strike, when not a mine struck but was a prey to wanton damage done in Shoshone."

Sheriff Olney, of Graham county, Ariz., reports two men murdered. Captain Smith and a kid named Moss slaughtered on Eagle creek. Both men were shot in the back and had their throats cut as well as bullets in them. At Safford, Charley Morris shot and killed Charley Adams. The two men killed were from Texas, and the two men that did the killing are from Missouri.

Monte Bilvens the well-known stockman in North park, recently had an exciting experience with an immense bear, known as "Old Jack," that has for some time done much damage to stock, and more than once attacked ranchmen and gun-away. Mr. Bilvens came across the bear unawares, but fortunately found it lame, and was thus able, after a hard tussle, to club the brute to death. It is a great relief to the people of the park to have the animal disposed of.

S. P. Udell, agent for the Lander (Wyo.) Transportation company, informs the Sun-Dial that his company has shipped from this country the past two months 800,000 pounds of wool, of this amount 250,000 pounds was shipped from the Fort Caspar country and 600,000 pounds from the press on the Sweetwater. In addition to this 60,000 pounds were shipped from the Sweetwater country via Rawlins making in all a total output for Fremont county of 910,000 pounds.

A despatch from Yuma, Ariz., says: There is no truth in the Washington report that Yuma Indians are leaving here and going into Mexico and causing trouble. About eighty Yumas have married Diegueno squaws and settled with them twenty miles below Yuma, on Mexican soil. Some another Mexicans, Cocopa and Diegueno Indians have deserted Yuma and are living outside of Mexican boundary line. All are happy and peaceable. Reports originate with those who wish to guide locals towards the Indians with some of the boundary line.

A horrible accident occurred at Bitter Creek, a station twenty-five miles east of Rock Springs, Wyo., on the Union Pacific at an early hour on Tuesday morning. Willie Little Dreamer, the two and a half year old daughter of Station Agent Drobeck, and the six year old son of Section Foreman Hilbert were playing under the cars the latter were set in motion and the two children were crushed beneath the wheels. The little girl had her right arm cut off at the elbow and both legs of the little boy were severed. There is no hope for the boy.

Another fatal accident occurred at the Denver Coal company's mine at Rankin, Colo., on Wednesday afternoon. Willie Jane Keeper was hoisting coal in one of the slopes a large rock fell on his body, injuring him internally, which resulted in his death three hours later. He was taken to Trinidad on the train and expired a few minutes after reaching his home. He was a man 35 years of age, married, but has no children. This is the second person killed at the Denver Coal company's mine during the past four months.

On July 23rd Mrs. L. M. Jacobs, who was working on a vineyard near Colfax, Cal., died after an illness of twelve hours. Two days later Mr. Hig, superintendent of the vineyard, was taken ill, being similarly affected, but may recover. On Sunday, the 29th inst., A. Paterson, a workman in the vineyard, was also taken ill in the same manner and died in thirty hours. Attending physicians pronounce the cause of death to some poor people on the heart. A strange feature is that three people should be taken ill with this disease at the same place and so nearly at the same time. Everybody has left the vineyard and an investigation of the process will shortly follow.

The crops in the Grande part of the valley, from Cisco to Dolores, Colo., are reported to be the best ever known. One will average from fifty to sixty bushels per acre and wheat from twenty to thirty. Large quantities are now coming. The alfalfa crop is globally good and a large acreage has been left for seed. The potato in this section will be enormous. The hay crop was never better and the corn fields are looking well. Although threatened by both the hoppers and the black worm, this portion of the Arkansas valley has escaped beneficial injury from both, and is in the most prosperous condition it has been ever in the ensuing year way to the farmer.

A dispatch from Monterey, Cal., says the local authorities arrested twenty-seven Chinese fishermen for illegal fishing on Tuesday night out on the bay, where they were engaged in squid fishing. In fishing for squid, which is a small fish, the Chinese catch and dry for exports to China, the fishermen use a net, the mesh of which is smaller than the law allows, and in catching the cuttlefish squid in lieu of small fish it must be taken out, cut up in the nets and brought to the surface. They are thrown overboard again only to die, with the result that the beach has been also covered with so many dead fish during the past few days. The authorities thinking a number of boats and a party the day after this before they were aware of the trouble that awaited them. They were confined in the city prison and their boats and nets were confiscated. They will be tried and if found guilty the full extent of the law will be given them.
