UNIVERSITY HOLIDAYS.

Overwhelming Petition of State's Youth Secure an Extension for Them.

RAILROADS WILL NOW BE LABORED WITH

Varsity Junior Team Whitewashes the High School Chrysanthemums—New Hearing for More Scalps.

It has been with an inward smile of complacency that the students have read again and again the welcome announcement of the Faculty. The petition for an extension of the holidays has been granted, the Chrysanthemums will now extend from Thursday, December 29, to Monday, January 9, and it was found by some of the earnest petitioners that the Faculty might act as grand juries are wont to do, and, giving the part of what was asked for, the same of the apparently wiser ones wished their ears with a horror lest, in the end, there might be no such fear because surely the professors themselves would be as the students themselves are. It has been noticed as a general thing to see two students meet each other and simultaneously shudder with the shudder of a man who has received an astounding announcement, why in the name of great injustice did the Faculty ever lengthen the holidays to the first place?

• • •

It is apprehensively rumored as coming from one of the professors that there is a possibility of the laboratory and library not being opened to the students during the holidays. This is disgraceful and should not be given the privilege of making up back work or perhaps of working a little ahead, they will be greatly disappointed. The other students especially desire to do this, because their number is not only varied but better to do the work during part of the holidays than to do it after school begins, when it will mean a double burden, as the work must sometime be done. Even the most ambitious and determined find after four months hard work that some studies or parts of studies have been somewhat slighted and ought to be pursued.

• • •

An effort will be made to have the railroad extend their excursion tickets to cover the entire Christmas holidays, as now granted to the students. This request will undoubtedly be thwarted as many of the University students live outside of the city.

• • •

A public meeting will probably be given by the Delta Phi soon after the Christmas holidays.

Again the Varsity juniors have demonstrated their marked superiority over the junior High School team. The game yesterday was a lively one and in spite of the cold, piercing wind a fairly large crowd paid the ten cents admission to see them. Though in the first half neither side scored and each held well its side, in the second half the Varsity boys showed their mettle by making a touch-down and coming within a few feet of making a second when time was called. The Juniors are solid metal to the base, and will doubtless make a wide reputation if they continue together for a few years. Another High School team has better look out.

• • •

The senior Varsity team is beginning to feel like a fine, young game cock that had when it was every other rooster in the barnyard away to some corner with head down and tail hung low. Indeed, it seems that was the way with Napoleon, the Great, after he became the Napoleon to conquer. All the energetic energetic activity of ex-Manager Hiner in a "personal visit to Logan and personal visit the High school there to accept the challenge for a game. Captain Johnson likewise is a recent visitor to Provo failed to arrange for a game with the boys from the asylum city.

• • •

Now the All Hallows boys, overcome with the bitterness of defeat by the High school, refuse to play the Varsity boys and have cancelled the game that was to have been played today. A challenge to the city High school team has been thus far ignored. According to, covered with the bright colors of war paint the Varsity boys swing their tomahawks of defiance at the Ogden, the Ogden high school, the city High school, Provo, and All Hallows.

• • •

Pearson, who had his ankle dislocated, and Kerr, whose nose was badly twisted, are back in school again. The accidence of not having been hurt so badly as was feared. They seem not to have so the least lost sort of the Football spirit that has vigorously characterized them heretofore.

• • •

Much to the sorrow of the football boys, Gulchman has discontinued playing on the team because of illness. At first he declared that he had played his last game. But now that he is feeling somewhat better, he says he will think that with a little more exercise he may be able to play if arrangements for a big game are made. Will may the boys feel sad for Gulchman is even speaks in warm tones in stature. The coach is credited with having declared that he is the best player of any team in the city. Dewsnoby is playing center now.

• • •

There is a possibility of a game being arranged for between the University and Y. M. C. A. Nothing definite however, has been done yet.

• • •

Attendance at the exercises of the senior classes high school is being unusually large the last few days or two. This is not surprising however, to him who knows that Thou Shalt has been sending the girls of late.

• • •

Wednesday, Dec. 21, has now been chosen for the date on which the Delta Phi ball will be given in Masonic hall. It will be after the hands and cards for Christmas is over, which will be have some bearing for such a date. The ball is announced so long before hand, its popularity is insured. The committee is working energetically forward to the ball after last year, not being so generally successful.

• • •

Long will the members of the Delta Phi fraternity remember last Thursday evening's meeting. The surroundings were kept to very close and secret, and the strong fraternal spirit shown, together with the presence of honorable guests made the occasion a delightful one. George G. Harris was called upon by the president to give an extemporaneous talk on the tribunal, the question of citizenship winner. This was followed by an extemporaneous talk on the same subject by Mr. Fisher of good men. The question of our and fellows was treated by M. H. Power. After the meeting the boys went home with the feeling that it is good to have friends.

• • •

The boys of the Zeta Gama are all anxious to meet the Delta Phi in match debate. But after much discussion and the unknown consequences that have resulting so far the case to make the challenge. The choice of officers will occur next week.

• • •

Various members of the Dramatic club have been seen gathering together of late in interested discussion over queer looking papers before the club. By next week they will have decided what play they will best present, and rehearsals will then at once begin. They expect to appear on the boards immediately after the holidays. It is expected that where the first entertainment will be four weeks.

• • •

A good deal of curiosity has been aroused the last few days among the boys of the school of elocution. Strange looking boxes appeared on the factory boards mysterious secret meetings of the girls of both sexes, and all to the end that no one knows whether it will result in a deadly surprise or a very undesirable.

• • •

The college annual have been carried by the faculty to send in their contributions of poetry, prose, etc., to prints that all will be produced.

• • •

The staff of Chronicle editors are now considering the best suggestions for a Christmas number. No extra pages will be added, but the contents will be the most part, be suggestive of the season.

• • •

Next Monday evening the second of the school series of lectures will be given in the University by H. Gilbert. Hilgard will be on Yellowstone Nation at Park, and will be illustrated by a hundred stereopticon views. Prof. Hilgard is a good deal of lecturer and as a city through the park and took some very fine photographs. The lecture will be given in the assembly room of the Lafayette building, 1st e First North street. A ticket of the series course admit to all of the stationary seats.

• • •

The committee of the students' lecture club have been trying to get one of the Fort Douglas officers to address the students on the subject of the war with Spain. They have not succeeded yet.

• • •

Dr. Kingsbury, president of the University, has also finished his last report to the board of regents. He will advise that there be no appropriations made for additions to and improvements of the University buildings. If the regents follow the advice of their president it will be greatly disappointed. The other students especially desire to do this, because they consider it not only easier but better to do the work during part of the holidays than to do it after school begins, when it will mean a double burden, as the work must sometime be done. Even the most ambitious and determined find after four months hard work that some studies or parts of studies have been somewhat slighted and ought to be pursued.

A REMEDY for Nasal Catarrh which is drying and exceedingly irritating to the membranes should not be used. What is needed is that which is cleansing, soothing, healing and strengthening. Such a remedy is Ely's Cream Balm. Try but a small size for 10 cents or the large for 50 cents at druggists or delivered by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Catarrh is a germ disease. It neutralizes the acid and permanently cures the worst cases with this other medicines fail to relieve. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best when it is taken in small doses. It gives tone to the stomach, stimulates the liver, and strengthens the kidneys. It works off rheumatism, fever, bronchitis, colds, coughs and grip.
