Observer Weather Bureau.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Rock Springs, Wyo., people deny the report, published in Wyoming papers, that small pox has taken hold in the town.

Esther F. Keeler, of the Sixteenth ward, who has been severely ill for more than a week, is reported to be improving nicely.

Mrs. Mary A. Williams, of the Sixteenth ward, who was taken ill in the Tabernacle yesterday at the close of the funeral, was in a precarious condition this afternoon.

The new colonel of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, H. H. Wheaton, is expected to visit Salt Lake about February 10. Lieut. Col. Lemuel W. Cole will join the regimental staff the same time.

A shooting of an varying from a sixteenth to an eighth of an inch in thickness, caused the calls of the street car tracks early this afternoon. As a result hundreds of persons who usually ride to their work were compelled to walk. It was not until 4 o'clock that repairs of a sufficient character were made to allow that regular car service commenced.

The death of Bernard Pearson of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, on Saturday, at Cheyenne, Wyo., was caused by the colored girl who killed him to be an accident. She says he asked her to stand aside as it was not loaded, and when she snapped it the bullet went through his head. The girl, whose name is Pearl Thornton, gave herself up to the police.

John N. Campe of this city died on Sunday as a result of a stroke of apoplexy at Fresno, Cal. He was in the 63d year of his age, and was a native of Norway, but came to Utah 28 years ago. He was an expert draughtsman and has held positions in the government and municipal service in this city. His funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2 p. m., at the family residence, 43 Apple street.

On Saturday evening Mr. D. S. Murfin, general superintendent of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company, and Miss Olga S. Marts, a member of Lieut. Commander Marts, U. S. N., were married in this city, and left for California on their wedding tour.

The funeral of Parley Tripp, the Catholic priest who died in this city on Saturday evening, in the 15th year of his age, took place from All Hallows College this forenoon. He was a native of Prussia.

Mr. J. O. McCracken, formerly editor of the Herald of this city, is now in San Jose, Cal., where he occupies a position on the San Jose Daily Herald, which he helps to make the best contemporary. From a letter to Jas. T. Dunbar of the "News," it is learned that he intends to give a lecture on Mormonism in the California city and accordingly writes for information and literature upon the subject. He says he wants to only "made to tell the truth and nothing but the truth" about the doctrines in the State of Utah.

The sidewalks of South Temple street, especially east of D street, at an early hour this morning were practically unnavigable, owing to the fact that, consequently, the pedestrians composed of frost-bitten waiters to work to retain footing in the center of the street. Several of the pedestrians assayed reconnoiter footholds with a constant splash, and a smile of glad surprise succeeded the exclamations of those within hailing distance. One gentleman had the temerity to proceed to work on his horse, but the fact that he came when he struck the sidewalk and invariably became separated from his wheel by some means or other, soon converted the thaw in the vicinity of F street.

JOHN H. CAMPE DEAD.

Pails to Recover from an Apoplectic Stroke.

There will be grief in the hearts of the many friends of John H. Campe to learn of his demise, which said event occurred early yesterday morning. On Friday night he was stricken by a stroke of apoplexy from which he never rallied to consciousness. The deceased was a man of stalwart proportions and his form was straight as an arrow, but for many years was replaced in the office of the company's engineer by a cane. The cane was used to lessen the jar of his footsteps in the office of the city engineer. He was a native of Norway, having come to this country twenty years ago, most of which time has been spent in this city. He was generally known in this city. He was a member of Hiawatha tribe, who will deeply feel his loss.

The deceased was 61 years of age at the time of his death. The funeral will take place on Wednesday from his late residence, 43 Apple street. The interment will take place at Mt. Olivet.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Policeman Carey was called to the Tonnah lodging house Saturday night by the report that a man by the name of Sam Cantrell had attempted to commit suicide by swallowing laudanum. The policeman found a vial containing the drug "one-third empty" and a note which he took to the station. The vial was sent to the city chemist, and warrant issued for the arrest of the man charged with the offense.
