BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Chicago, April 11.—The officials of the Burlington may say there is no reason for apprehension that the strike on the Western lines will extend west of Chicago. It is evident that the managers are anxious to forestall any apprehension they may feel.

The supreme council of the Order of Railway Employes will meet here on Monday, and it is understood the question of ordering a general strike on the Burlington system will be considered.

Omaha, Neb., April 11.—Only twelve Burlington switchmen have struck here and their places have been filled without any serious trouble. The strikers visited the yards today and persuaded two men to quit, but no violence was attempted. The spokesmen say they could have easily denied the right to join the union. One man stated that Yardmaster Davis had said that he had received orders to hire non-union men. The yardmaster denies this.

Beloit, April 11.—Warrants were recently issued for the arrest of Edward S. W. Bel-dahl, E. P. Ker-fast and Frank Ochsen, on charges of repeated malicious assaults upon boys. Dr. Ochsen escaped on the day the warrants were issued and has taken refuge in Spain.

Lincoln, April 11.—The strike of Burlington switchmen in this city is not apparently causing much trouble. The officials of the Switchmen's and Trainmen's Brotherhoods say no one city conferring all day, but with what result is not yet known.

Denver, March 11.—The striking Burlington switchmen at this point are about twenty-five in number. Their grievance is the same as that which caused the strike at Lincoln and Omaha. The officials assert that places are filled, and freight is being handled promptly. The strikers, however, declare that the company has only one switch engine at work, operated by the yardmaster and his assistant.

Boise, April 11.—Right Rev. A. J. Glorieux, D. D., Bishop of Appolonia and vicar-apostolic of Idaho, was granted audience by the Pope yesterday. His Holiness made a number of inquiries, warmly and kindly, in regard to the Indian situation, and was greatly pleased upon being informed of the kindly feeling of the Protestants towards the Catholics in Idaho and elsewhere. In conclusion, his Holiness said: "God will take a people, so inspired by sentiments of justice and liberty."

Iquique, via Galveston, April 11.—News is just received here that Arica and Tacna have been captured by the insurgents and that the Department of Tacna is in the hands of the Congress party, who now control all northern Chili, as far south as Copiapo. No fighting occurred. The government forces are fleeing toward the frontier of Bolivia.

Knoxville, Iowa, April 12.—The well known stallion Colonel, sire of Rysdik's Hambletonian, died here this afternoon at the age of twenty years, of inflammation of the stomach. He was the sire of Competitor, 2.08¾, and Alix M., 2.20. He was owned by N. P. Cornell.

Omaha, April 12.—Bishop Scannel was formally installed Bishop of Omaha today with imposing ceremonies. Many clergymen were present from outside states, including Bishops Hennessy of Wichita, Kans., Cosgrove of Davenport, Ia., and Bonacum of Lincoln, Neb.

Orange, Mass., April 12.—This afternoon four Italians, best riding on Miller's river, went too near the rapids and were swept over and drowned.

Dublin, April 12.—The anti-Parnellites, Tanner and Deasy, tried to speak at McCrosen today, but their voices were drowned by the cheering and hooting of the factions. The noise was soon followed by blackthorns and a fight ensued. Charge followed charge, the advantage resting first with one side and then with the other. Several of the wounded lay on the ground for some time and were trampled upon. The combatants at last rested from sheer exhaustion. Many of the injured are in a serious condition.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 12.—Tom Kennard, the "Michigan Cyclone," and Mike Queenman, of Chicago, fought fourteen savage rounds at Cudahy lake this afternoon. Queenman was badly punished and only avoided a knock-out by falling Kennard in the fourteenth, whereupon the referee gave the fight to Kennard.

London, April 12.—The latest advices from India concerning the massacre at Manipur are that Commissioner Quinton was decapitated and his body horribly hacked, the fragments being thrown outside the city walls, where they were devoured by dogs. Two officers, whose names were not given were spared. Mr. Grimwood, British political agent and two other officers were shot. The bodies of all the victims were brutally mutilated and thrown to the dogs.

Berlin, April 12.—In a speech at the Marine Academy at Kiel the Kaiser said the navy would exercise the chief effective part in the next war, and should endeavor to annihilate the enemy by a grand coup, its duties in this respect resembling those of the cavalry ashore.

City of Mexico, April 12.—Edward Rosbidge, an American, the bank bookkeeper while the latter tried to prevent him stealing a policeman, has been sentenced to four years' imprisonment and one years' detention at Alarazos.

Washington, April 12.—There were no developments in the Italian affair today, and interest has lapsed into a dormant condition, which will last the next few days may bring forth. High officials are certainly incredulous as regards Italy's alleged intention of taking such a hostile step as the ordering of Minister Porter from Rome would be.

ENSILAGE VERSUS FIELD CURING.

Their Relative Merits as Reported by the Pennsylvania Experiment Station.

In a report of the Pennsylvania State college experimental experiment station on the results of extensive experiments in the relative merits of ensilage and curing for fodder corn, the experiments a well managed silo appear to preserve food with considerably less loss of dry matter than occurs in field curing under average conditions. On an average of all available experiments there seems to be no material difference in the digestibility of silage and fodder from the same corn.

Under the head "Yield of Food Per Acre" the bulletin says: The very moderate crop of 14.8 tons per acre contained 4,301 pounds of digestible food. Of this there were recovered in the silage 3,666 pounds to the fodder, 3,808 pounds. A good crop of maize corn will furnish as fodder or silage fully two tons of digestible food per acre, or more than twice as much as a fair crop. There is no good reason for believing that a pound of digestible matter in silage is any more valuable than a pound of digestible matter in a well cured fodder. With the loss observed in this experiment there are per ten pounds of digestible food recovered in silage the same in the two methods. The detailed results of the experiments conclude as follows:

Regarded simply as a source of food, then, silage would appear to be, in most cases, cheaper than field cured fodder. The question of convenience, too, is an important one. There are seasons in which field cured fodder cannot be housed during the fall without danger of its spoiling. Under these circumstances the use of field cured fodder involves frequent trips to the field for the purpose of housing in the fodder, and, further, the frequent cutting of the material. In many cases the convenience of having the material already cut and under roof would of itself be a very considerable advantage on the side of the silage. Furthermore, there is no question that succulent food in winter has a dietetic value, as is illustrated in the case of roots. Now, silage is a relatively sloppy kind of succulent food, and it is probable that an addition of it to the daily ration of milch cows is of benefit as an appetizer. The considerations advanced seem to show that, on the whole, the more economical method of utilizing the corn zea crop is by ensilage, but either the method or the careful utilization of the dried fodder by cutting and shredding it is easily practicable to a continuance of the old system of winter feeding upon hay and grain, or to the wasteful practice of throwing uncut fodder into the barnyard to be eaten or trampled by the cattle, or turning cattle into the stalk fields to pick up such fodder as they can secure there.

Points in Bee Keeping.

A Massachusetts apiarist in a paper read before a Massachusetts farmers' meeting told how to treat a sulky colony of bees. He said:

A very good cure for a sulky colony is to take all the brood away and give full sheets of foundation. When all swarming is over with, look the matter over and jump the filled boxes to the outside, and bring those just started on to the center. In a few days more a new super is placed under the filled ones on the strongest colonies. Time slow about filling up had better be kept in one super and new boxes added by rows in the center, and gradually tapered down until the close of the slower season.

As soon as the clover season has passed, all the honey remaining on the hives should come off and the brood frames be examined. Wherever honey is found in any quantity it should be uncapped, extracted and the empty combs returned to the hives whence they came. We have found that it does not pay to leave honey in the hives after clover fails. It is better to extract it and feed it back when necessary, as the bees will do just as well, if not better, without it. In fall they will make their own living during pleasant weather. If left on the hive they will use it for brood rearing out of season and thus consume it needlessly. If needed for winter stores we have it ready to feed back at any time.

A Good Idea.

The illustration here reproduced from the Farm Journal shows how a horse may be prevented from tearing its blanket with its teeth.

A leather shield, as shown in the picture, is sewed to the halter, which does not interfere with the animal eating, but does with its habit of tearing its blanket. The shield should extend four inches below the nose. The idea is a good one.

A yellow poultry car has been put on a western railroad for the shipment of live poultry to the eastern markets. The car holds about five thousand chickens. The chickens for the car are fed and watered in transit by attendants. Dairy cows are being shipped in this way, and that with the improved system of feeding there is less shrinkage in weight and the advantage of holding the poultry for the market.

A Warning

To Horse-Owners.

The Split Nail in this Shoe accidently lamed the horse from which it was removed by taken to Worcester, Mass. One point of the nail came out in the proper place for clinching, and so deceived the blacksmith who shod the horse. The other point was left in the direction shown in the illustration, piercing the tender part of the foot called the "quick," from which quick no wonder arose for we nearly two weeks.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW,

I have been troubled many years with diseases of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without any relief. About the first of April I was suffering from a very severe attack which had almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was cast aside. When I was able to be about it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes. Since I had discovered your OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my health, I immediately began to improve from the time. It had an immediate effect, and I noticed an improvement of all the cases in the book, in a few days I was happy in the knowledge that I was on the road to health. I feel that I owe my life to the use of the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, and I have been.

WHAT IS A GUARANTEE?

Many merchants and salesmen are in the habit of indiscriminately "guaranteeing" their wares with no thought of being called upon to make the "guarantee" good. It is a pernicious and foolish custom more respected in the breach than in the observance.

A guarantee, to have any value, should be made with knowledge of the meaning of the word and a set purpose to carry out the terms of the guarantee. On this basis the makers instruct us to warrant, and we replace any tool found imperfect in use.

We have used our best judgment, acquired by a considerable experience, in selecting the following lines for our stock and sell them to our customers with an absolute guarantee that if they do not prove to be all that we represent them, we will refund the purchase money in full.

"Jewel" Steel Range. A finished article, perfectly proportioned, made of the best material. Don't fail to see it. It will pay you.

"Quick Meal" No Generator, Evaporating. Light it as you do your gas burner. No smell. No danger. No complication. Every objection to the use of a Gasoline Stove done away with. Think of the discomfort caused in Summer by avoiding the heat of a big Kitchen Range.

"Superior" Cocks and Ranges. Superior as bakers. Superior in economy of fuel. Superior in design. Superior in construction. Superior in everything that goes to make a perfect cooking apparatus.

The "Foote Refrigerators." An ice saver. A Health promoter. Cellular stone lined. What is that? Investigate it. It will more than repay you.

Our stock of Builders' Hardware, House Furnishings, Garden Hose, Lawn Sprinklers, Lawn Mowers, etc., is complete in every detail.
