Oldest Utah Elk—General Manager D. S. Murray of the Bell Telephone company is the oldest Elk, in point of membership, in the state. He was the third man of the first 10 to be initiated in 1887 by the Omaha delegation of Elks that came out here to institute the order in Salt Lake City. Both of the first and second men, who preceded Mr. Murray, are dead; one being the late Hank Barnes. The Elks first had their headquarters next door to the Cullen hotel, and afterwards on east Second South street.

Returns from Northwest—T. H. Smith, the lumber dealer, has just returned from a three-weeks' absence in the northwest. He reports the wholesale trade as very quiet, though likely to get on its feet once more very soon; but general business is excellent, with real estate changing hands in Tacoma, Portland and Seattle, at the rate of $50,000 a day in each city. Mr. Smith says local lumber conditions in the northwest cities are very fair, as there is so much building going on. The stringency of the times does not appear to affect building. In general the entire northwest seems to be still prosperous.

Mr. Coates is a graduate of Lehi university, where he was captain of the football team, and made a great record for himself in athletics. Mr. M. S. Darrow, a Cornell graduate, has been made chief engineer with the Irrigated Lands company, with whom he is doing very efficient service.

Dr. Middleton's Work—"The Diary of a Trip to Rome" is the title of Dr. George W. Middleton's narration of his recent voyage abroad. It has been compiled in book form and consists of 123 pages neatly bound. The work has just come off the presses of the Deseret News, and while it was printed for private circulation, the author has decided to allow a few copies to be placed on sale at the Deseret News Book store, where the book can now be had. The price of 50 cents a copy has been placed on the work, and to those interested in foreign parts as viewed through the eyes of a Salt Lake citizen so well known as Dr. Middleton, it should prove a valuable acquisition.

JUVENILE COURT ANNUAL MEETING

Judges, Probation Officers and Others Interested to Gather In Salt Lake April 7.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS DECIDE

Workers from Different Parts of the State Expected to be in Attendance —To Investigate Infractions.

The Juvenile Court Association of Utah will hold its annual meeting in this city April 7, according to arrangements made yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors. The members present were D. H. Christensen, Mrs. Hugh Park, Preston D. Richards and former Mayor Frisbie of Provo, and the place of gathering was at the office of the superintendent of schools. Judges, probation officers and others interested in juvenile work, are expected from all parts of the state at the April gathering.

Many complaints reach the ears of juvenile court officials almost daily, of infractions of laws and ordinances pertaining to minors. Pool room keepers are accused of permitting boys under the age limit to lounge about their places of business, and in some instances saloons are frequented by such youths. Some of the moving picture shows come in for censure, as they, it is claimed, allow boys and girls to remain until the last performance is over, which is in violation of the curfew ordinance. Such delinquencies will be looked into and remedied by the association.

Lavisky, 531 west Second South street. Officer Yeager saw the man leave the store and at once gave chase to the fellow. As Yeager was gaining on the man he fel into a cesspool which is about 10 feet deep. Yeager was unable to get out and the thief escaped. The officer was dragged from the pool by fellow policemen. The thief secured a watch, ten cents in cash and two gold crosses valued at $3.

HUMORS

Come to the surface in the spring as in no other season. It's a pity they don't run themselves off that way; but in spite of pimples and other eruptions, they mostly remain in the system. That's bad.

WILL ASK FOR A NEW TRIAL

Attorneys for Joe Sullivan Will File Motion With Judge Armstrong Saturday.

BASED ON ERRORS OF LAW.

Defense Also Claims Witness Who Saw Sullivan Walking North on Railroad Tracks Will Appear and Testify.

After holding a consultation with their client, the attorneys for Joe Sullivan have concluded to ask for a new trial. A motion to that effect will be prepared and submitted to Judge Armstrong Saturday, and the grounds upon which the motion will be based are errors of law in the rulings of the court and the contention that the verdict was not in accordance with the evidence. Judge Armstrong may rule on the motion before passing sentence on Sullivan, the date for which he set for April 1, or he may not; the fact of the passing of sentence being immaterial in the premises. Should the motion for a new trial not be granted, the case will be immediately appealed to the supreme court, and until that tribunal shall pass upon the appeal, the sentence can not be carried out.

Atty. Frank E. Vickery this morning said he had every confidence that a new trial would be given Sullivan. "We have received assurance that the 'missing witness' who saw Sullivan walking north on the railroad track towards Woods Cross early on the morning of Dec. 14, will appear and make affidavit to the fact. It appears that the party who thus saw Sullivan did not care to become identified with the case pending the result of the first trial, but since the result of that trial is that the defendant must end his days in jail, he has consented, we are assured, to come forward and tell what he knows in regard to the case.

MAINTAINS HIS INNOCENCE.

"Sullivan is anxious for a new trial. He says he is innocent of the crime charged against him, and is willing to take the risk of even a death sentence to try to establish his innocence. He stoutly maintains he was not at the Albany saloon at the time of the holdup, and that he was not guilty of the murder of Officer Ford. He admits he was unwise in taking the steps he did after leaving the prison, in attempting to dispose of the silverware, etc., and in mixing up with Garcia and Owen; but after being confined with such men in the penitentiary for four years, he had great sympathy for them. He says he did walk out to Woods Cross and catch a train there, and that the testimony of the trainmen that they saw him get off the train at Ogden at 7:30 in the morning was a case of mistaken identity, as it was not he.

WILLING TO TAKE RISK.

"Sullivan's willingness to incur the risk of the extreme penalty to assert his innocence, naturally inspires us with confidence, and he declares if he has a fair, square trial he will be exonerated from the charge of the killing of Officer Ford. And with the testimony of the witness who saw him on the tracks north of town, which we are assured will be forthcoming, we have every hope that a new trial will be granted, and that Sullivan will be shown to be not guilty of the charge."
