GENEALOGICAL.

To Latter-day Saints who are interested in Genealogical Matters:

By and with the consent of the proper authorities, I have consented to go to the United States during the present winter to obtain the genealogies of such families as come from those who might desire to employ me. During my recent mission to the East I acquainted myself with institutions that will enable me to procure genealogies with a fair degree of certainty, and in procuring those of a number of families at the same time, the expense will be but a very small portion of what it would be if only one were procured. This is a rare opportunity for the Saints from New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania or Delaware, or points where ancestors were natives of those States, to procure genealogies at a small expense. A circular giving terms, etc., will be sent on application.

EASTERN.

California Pioneer Banquet.

NEW YORK, 12.—The third annual banquet of the associated Pioneers of the territorial days of California will be held at the Sturtevant House on the evening of Friday, the 18th instant, to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the discovery of gold at Sutter's saw mill.

The Trouble with the House Door-keeper.

CHICAGO, 12.—The Times' Washington special says: The trouble with the House door-keeper, Polk, is that in accordance with the law and rules of the House he refused to put on the rolls the names of the office-seeking friends of Congressmen who are accompanying them back from their homes. The appointments stand the same now as they did before the recess, but this exasperates the place-hunters, and they want to oust Polk.

Blair Explains.

Montgomery Blair, who has been here since the introduction of his memorial in the Maryland legislature, declares that he presented the memorial without consultation or suggestion from anyone. Tilden had nothing to do with it and having done what he conceives to be his duty the responsibility of further action rests with the Mary'and legislature.

Postmaster Key's Sentiments.

WASHINGTON, 12. — Postmaster General Key was asked, to-day, what would be his course if the anti-repudiationists in Tennessee should call on him to lead them in the next gubernatorial campaign, and replied—"The campaign is a long way off—next fall, and I do not at present much expect to be called on. I am, however, known throughout the State as being bitterly opposed to the repudiation of the State debt; and if an honest party should get into a strait, and it were thought that by running me as its candidate for governor the cause would be strengthened, I would be greatly tempted to leave any position I might occupy to answer the call thus made for me."

Application for Land Survey.

A letter was received at the General Land Office, to-day, making a formal application for the survey by government of a portion of the old Fort Dearborn military reservation as public land, still subject to entry, although it now embraces nearly all the business portion of Chicago south of the river. This application is supposed to be based upon the theory that the sale of the greater part of the Fort Dearborn reservation by direction of the Secretary of War in 1837 was not authorized by the law of 1819, under which it was ordered. The application comes from George Wolf, of Freeport, Ills, for Louis Obsendorf, with a view to locating Valentine scrip upon the lands. It is accompanied with an enclosure of money to advance the cost of the desired survey.

Prices of Government Advertising.

Postmaster General Key, to-day, addressed a letter to Speaker Randall, inviting the attention of the House to the need of the law regulating the prices to be paid for government advertising. The Postmaster General suggests that the law be amended so as to allow the payment of such prices as the department and various newspapers may agree upon, not exceeding the regular commercial rates. He also suggests that in case the department be not authorized to pay any higher rates, the law be changed so as to relieve it from the requirement of advertising full lists of routes, etc., at miscellaneous lettings, instead of which brief weekly notices might be published in not exceeding ten papers in each State or Territory, stating that proposals would be received for carrying mails between stated points, but referring the contractors to the second assistant Postmaster General for all details.

Blaine Speaks.

Senator Blaine, in response to a serenade at Hot Springs, Ark., spoke briefly, concluding thus: "I desire, gentlemen, to express the very great satisfaction I have experienced in witnessing the harmony, friendship and cordiality that exists between the two races in your community. Perfect peace in the South will everywhere follow perfect justice. There is no man in the country who desires strife for the sake of strife; but there will always be strife so long as there is wrong. I believe that you set a great example to your entire State, and I believe that in following it Arkansas will share generally in the prosperity that you will have concentrated here."

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 12.—Wool is rather quiet, the new year not having as yet brought any increased activity. There is, however, a very firm feeling, and holders are confident that full current prices will be realized for some months to come on account of the small available supplies and large consumption. Combing and delaine fleeces continue very quiet. Large mills, after purchasing quite freely for the past six months, have withdrawn entirely from the market. Ohio and Pennsylvania fleece, X, XX, and above, 42 @ 44. Michigan, Wisconsin, and other fleeces 37 @ 42½, combing and delaine 52 for fine quality, unwashed combing 29 @ 38, coarse coits and combing 29 @ 45, scoured 39½ @ 80 (?) super and x pulled 32 @ 46. In California wools sales were large, amounting to about half of the transactions of the week, including 416,000 lbs. of fall at 14 @ 25½, and 90,000 lbs. of spring at 25 @ 32. The total sales of domestic for the week were 1,229,900 lbs.

A Lawyers' Duel.

SAVANNAH, 12.—Robert Fishburn and Walter S. Harley of Waterboro, S. C., fought a duel near this city this afternoon. The weapons were revolvers. Harley was shot in the abdomen at the first fire and will die. Fishburn fled. The parties are brothers-in-law and lawyers.

WESTERN.

Change of Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—The ruling schedule for Australian steamers has been changed to fix their time of sailing one week earlier than under the old arrangement. The change has been made by the postmaster-generals of New South Wales and New Zealand, so as to alternate the London mails across this continent with the mails via the Suez Canal.

FOREIGN.

TURKEY.

Cabinet Council—Great Distress.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 12.—A long cabinet council took place to-day. The Porte has as yet received no dispatch either from London or the Russian headquarters, respecting the armistice. The population are irritated against England, whom it is declared is morally responsible for Turkey's misfortunes.

There is great distress among the refugees from Adrianople.

ITALY.

Honor to the Dead.

ROME, 13.—Two thousand seven hundred deputations have already requested permission to attend Victor Emanuel's funeral.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Russo-Turkish War Exciting Race—Russian Advance on Adrianople.

LONDON, 12.—Last week's events have swiftly vindicated your correspondent's forecasts. It is hardly too much to say that an exciting race is now going on between arms and diplomacy, with considerable uncertainty whether the Russians shall reach Adrianople, or the Turks an armistice first. Turkey is already at the mercy of the Czar. Her power to resist the Russian advance is already crushed. The conqueror may, almost at will, transfer an armistice from the Balkan heights to the genial plains below, where the Russian soldier would find it almost summer. Yet England, so far from making war, practically acquiesces in the policy of the continental powers consenting to separate negotiations between the belligerents, while reserving the ultimate right to be consulted as to the finality. Russia, however, will not consent to a six weeks' armistice except with some general agreement by Turkey as to the terms of peace. She cannot be expected to lie expensively idle in an inhospitable territory while her enemy recuperates unless assured that she will not need to fight again. Nor will Russia offer terms of peace until Turkey sues for them, as it is now understood she will speedily, and when named she must accept them. The Russian advance is already less than 100 miles from Adrianople. Nothing can now prevent the seizure of the rich and fruitful province of which it is the centre, except an armistice. Once there her terms will be much harder than now, possibly more extravagant than the other powers would consent to. The conditions, now considered indisputable, are Servian and Roumanian independence, the autonomy of Bulgaria, territorial acquisition in Armenia, and probably the restoration to Russia of her old control of the mouth of the Danube. It is only in reference to the opening of the Dardanelles and Black Sea, that the other powers will care to intervene. Russian diplomacy can peacefully secure too much in that direction to insist, dangerously, on anything that might widen the conflict. The war, there, is substantially over. That, at least, is the conviction here, and business men are setting their houses in order on that basis.
