A SECOND EDITION OF THE ARTICLES OF FAITH.

The first edition of "The Articles of Faith," prepared by Dr. J. E. Talmage, under appointment of the First Presidency, is exhausted, and a second edition is now in course of preparation. It is now but two years since the first edition of 10,500 copies was ready for sale, and for months past it has been impossible to meet orders for the book. Such a sale of a home publication has never before been reached within the same length of time.

The author specially requests of all who have used the work in class-work or for individual reading and study, that they kindly inform him of any errors in references, or other mistakes and omissions they may have observed. It is by teachers and students who use such a book for detailed study that errors of the kind would be most easily detected. None but minor errors, mostly typographical, and but few of these. have been reported to date; but a full report of errors will be appreciated. Reports of the same should be sent without delay to Dr. J. E. Talmage, Salt Lake City.

annous an AMUSEMENT'S.

Tonight at the Theater, Daniel Sully, the noted commedian, appears in his new play, "The Parish Priest," Mr. Sully has been seen several time in Salt Lake, and has always left a good impression. His new play is said to be vastly different from anything in which he has yet been seen, and the eastern press reports speak very highly of both him and his company.

The Theater was again crowded back to the walls last night, the occasion being the fourth presentation of "Fatinitza." The success of this opera seems to be in advance of that of any other the home company has yet produced. The encores were so numerous and pro-longed that the performance was not finished until 11:30, and in spite of Mr. McClellan's endeavors to prohibit recalls, the audience refused to allow the performance to go on without them. "Fatinitza" will next be seen in Ogden on Friday evening, and in Salt Lake for an Arbor day matinee and night performance, Monday. The last performance will be given for the benefit of the old folks Wednesday afternoon, admission being free to old folks and wilders are at the same dows, none others being admitted.

Manager Graham of Provo and Manager Thatcher of Logan have invited the "Fatinitza" company to visit those cities, but it is doubtful whether the opera can be taken out of town, the expense of the production being so great as to prohibit rendition except in Salt Lake and Ogden.

The following Associated Press dispatch will be interesting reading to the nany people who were watchi the result of Alice Nellsen's visit to London:

London, April 10.-London gave an enthusiastic welcome to the "Fortune feller," which was produced last evening at the Shaftesbury theater by he Alice Nellsen Opera company.

Every detail of the production ceived cordial approval from an over-flowing audience. Miss Neilsen, whose first appearance in England it was, won an instantaneous triumph. Joseph Cawthorne, Eugene Cowles and Alexander Clark made hits.

FOURTH SESSION OF THE MOTHERS

Interesting Meetings Held This Forenoon and This Afternoon.

MANY HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS

More Exercise, Fresh Air and "Mother" Recommended as a Cure for Children Broken Down by Study.

The fourth session of the Mothers' congress convened this morning at 10 o'clock, the meeting opening with prayer by Mrs. L. B. Davis. After the reading of the minutes, Mrs, C.B. Stewart rendered a piano selection, which was followed by reports of branches of the Mothers' congress. Mrs. Hepler of Sevier said that they had not been able to form regular clubs, but were trying to introduce study and work along the ines of the congress. There are grand principles upon which our lives may be guided and we should never lose sight of them in the sublime mission of motherhood.

Miss Murcutt, national lecturer of he W. C. T. U., spoke on the subject of An Australian at Home and Abroad." said that wherever she went she ad found the same human instincts. thers were longing to bring up thei shildren rightly, and groping for light on their path. In Australia there were many homes in which children were neglected, as elsewhere, and she be-lieved that if homes were what they ought to be there would be fewer huspands, sons and brothers spending their time in saloons and other disreputable places. Women come to us in every country and tell us of wayward chil-iren, and we find on investigating that their sorrows are the effect of pernicious or careless training. taken into a home once where there were two sons, and the mother came to me and said, 'My boys have been brought up to moral ways, but now they are spending their time and money in saloons and dance halfs.' I found that the mother spent her time away from her home, letting her children grow up as they would, neglecting the careful watching and attention that might have kept them in the atmos-phere that would have led them into straighter paths. Whatever good there is in me I owe to the influence of my mother, and it is so with the most of Miss Murcutt closed with a greeting of love and sympathy from fellow workers to the women of Utah. Mrs. Mary Ronney Ross gave a pret-ty vocal selection, entitled, "The Chil-dren's Friend."

Dr. Seabrooke, president of the Woman's Press club of Pennsylvania, then gave a talk on Woman and Medicine and other topics. She said that care of the sick had always been considered woman's natural duty and vocation, yet until recently few had any training whatever for the important tasks falling to her care. Now people are un-willing to trust their sick to those unvocation of trained nurse is now a desirable line of work, and though thousands are graduated each year from medical colleges, there are few who remain unemployed. Dr. Seabrooke gave an interesting sketch of the woman's movement in medical science in Pennsyl anla. She said that on commencement day in the medical colleges where women were admitted policemen had to be employed to prevent a demonstration on the part of mobs who gathered to show their contempt and derision for the female students. Now women tors are welcomed in all homes. Who can so fully understand a woman's case and need as a woman? It is with women and children that women doctors and nurses find their best field, and their influence and practice is steadily growing. "If there is any woman with-in reach of my voice today," said Dr. Seabrook, "who has a taste or desire for the study of medicine let her have no fear in going forward. There is a broad field open to all. I would say to others don't crowd your girls too much. Many mothers are so anxious to heir girls advance intellectually that hey are put under a strain under hich they break down. Health should not be sacrificed to intellectual attain-ment. I have been impressed by the idea of the magnificent opportunity you have in Utah to reach out and help each other. In your semi-annual conferences you are brought together and can do much to aid your sisters in country who have perhaps not the portunities that come to you in the city." Dr. Seabrooke closed with a reeting to the women of Utah with a ope that their good work would bring

Mrs. Stewart asked if Dr. Seabrooke would give a suggestion for allaying the evil of over study and she responded y saying that they should have more exercise, fresh air and "mothers." subject of over working in schools and said that the problem should be earn-estly considered, and methods should e discussed for doing away with this evil. Several suggestions were made for Francis Smith who was to have read a paper, and also Prof. Davnes, who was to have rendered an organ solo, were both absent and Mrs. Stewart kindly responded to a request by the president to substitute a piano solo for their members, giving a beautiful and much appreciated selection.

Dr. M. Roberts said that she visited a home the other day in which were several young ladies who were studying some profession outside the home, with little or no thought of taking care of the home. Whatever may be said of towns, were the in recently it is preeminently woman's vocation it is preeminently that of wife and mother. If I had my way no young woman should be without a knowledge of nursing and the care of babies. No woman would cut into a beautiful silk dress pattern who had no knowledge of dress-making, yet thousands take up the duty of mother-hood without the slightest knowledge This of their proper care and training. This in reality should be the chief thought of a young woman to see that she is fitted above all things for this highest of vo-

Miss Richards, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, Mrs. Pickett and others also made en-thusiastic remarks on that and other important subjects.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The last session of the mother's congress convened this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the program being a most interesting one. A departure from the previous sessions was a recitation by Miss Aita Whitbeck which was excel-lently rendered. Mrs. Agnes Olsen Thomas, Mrs. Thomas Hull and Mr. Thomas Ashworth furnished the music of the afternoon, and Mrs. G. W. Pai-mer, of Farmington, read a paper "Motherhood as a Profession," a dis-"Motherhood as a Profession," a dis-cussion following, led by Mrs. G. A. Smith. "A Round Table Discussion" in charge of Mrs. A. P. Kesler was folowed by reports of mothers' clubs, and election of officers.

THE FATHERS ARE HEARD. Mothers' Congress Addressed by Judge King and Others.

Last evening's session of the Mother's Congress was in the hands of the fathers, and they were equal to the oc-casion, having succeeded in making the session very interesting and instructive. Judge W. H. King presided in his customary graceful manner and made a breezy address eulogistic of the women's work and their clubs.

The musical feature of the evening was very fine consisting of choruses by the Harmonie German Singing Society and soloes by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas-Ed-ward and Thomas Ashworth. The invocation was offered by Rev.

Paden and then Judge King made some introductory remarks. He said that some were disposed to criticise women and their clubs, and ridicule them is their work, seemingly feeling that the only place for women was in the kitch-en. In their race for wealth men were becoming alienated from God, but that women were bringing them back and opening their eyes to the higher factors in life. The hands of the club woman should be upheld and supported because they make better homes. Better husbands and better children, all of which were wanted.

Supt. Frank B. Cooper delivered his interesting address on "The Light-vs the Dark-Eyed." It was a fine psychological exposition of the pessimist and the optimist. The one who never sees a hopeful side to anything, and the one whose metaphysical eye feet perceives the silver lining to the first perceives the silver lining to the dark clouds, first detects the ray of hope in every condition. In introducing Mr. Cooper Judge King waxed witty. He said that he thought it unfair for Mr. Cooper to come here, win the for Mr. Cooper to come here, win the affections of everybody, and then quickly flit away. He thought a perpetual re-straining order should be got out to compel him to remain here, and as an attorney, volunteered his services to work to that end.

Dr. J. M. Tanner made an interesting talk on "Reading in the Home."
the central thought being that the mission of the Mothers Congress was to bring the school nearer the home and the home nearer the school. should have access only to the best oks, there were some books more olsonous than the sting of the asp, so that the duty of the fathers and mothers was to select good wholesome books that the world had passed favorably

CITY GETS EXPOSITION GROUNDS.

The transfer to the city of Tenth ward I square was satisfactorily arranged at the meeting of the Council last night. The consideration, as before intimated, will be $20,000, payable by December 20, but there will be no interest to be paid on this sum. The D. A. M. society has effected a compromise with the city by which it will hold the State fair this year at the old stand. The society ame to the conclusion that it would take a full year to move its belongings and fix up Agricultural part to suit it, so the fair will not be held there till the fall of 1902.

These features and phases of the so clety's position were fully explained to the Council last night by Vice Presithe collect last light by vice President John H. White, who was granted the privilege of the floor for the purpose, and a few further explanations were offered similarly by President N. A. Empey. The arrangement seemed emipently satisfactory to the Council, and resolution was adopted authorizing the Mayor, the city attorney and recorder to draw up a contract for the sale of the property, the deed of conveyance to be placed in escrow to be taken up at any time before December 20.

A Testimonial from Old England.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a mar-tyr to bronchitis for over six years, be-ing most of the time confined to her bed, She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Cham-berlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy.
