

TAFT'S ATTITUDE TOWARD WOOL

Theodore Justice Claims Chief Executive Is Not Familiar With Effects of Tariff

SOME FACTS AND FIGURES

Nation Cannot Go Back to 10 Cent Duty Without Declining The Flocks.

Theodore Justice, of Justice, Bates & Co., of Philadelphia, in a letter to the News upon the subject of the tariff and the president's attitude in relation to it, declares that he did not have had much familiarity with the effects of the five different tariff acts upon the wool industry. In his letter he further says:

There is no question of such vital importance to the personal comfort of our readers as the injury to the wool-growing industry, especially at a time when the whole world's wool production is increasing, and consumption increasing with increasing population.

The president's statement in his Wisconsin speech of his belief that the wool of the Payne-act were too high, would never have been made, if the president had been familiar with the effect upon the wool industry of the five different tariff laws that have been in force during the past 50 years.

Advocates of tariff revision, downward, are sure to take advantage of the president's Wisconsin speech to assail the present wool duties.

Experience with the law of 1883, when the duties were 10 cents a pound, shows that we cannot go back to that low rate without declining the flocks. Duty without declining the flocks, duty without declining the flocks, duty without declining the flocks.

TABLE SHOWING THAT WHENEVER WOOL DUTIES WERE BELOW THE PRESENT DUTIES THE NUMBER OF SHEEP DECREASED.

Law 1867, last four years..... (a) 25 per cent increase, with a duty of 12 1/2 lb. Law 1883, about six years..... (b) 16 per cent decrease, with a duty of 10 lb. Law 1890, less than four years..... (c) 10 per cent increase, with a duty of 11 lb. Law 1894, less than four years..... (d) 31 per cent decrease, free of duty. Law 1897, more than 12 years..... 46 per cent increase, duty of 11c. per pound.

Note—(a) At the rate of increase in the last four years of the law of 1867, with a duty of 12 1/2 cents a pound, if continued at the same rate, we would by 1897, have produced our entire wool supply.

(b) Under the 10-cent-a-pound duty of the law of 1883, if continued at the same rate of decrease, by 1890 we would have been without wool for cost of raising wool was less than it is today.

(c) If the McKinley act, with 11 cents per pound duty, had never been discontinued, the number of sheep would have increased 46 per cent since the passage of the Dingley tariff act in 1897.

(d) He also proved by the reports of the bureau of commerce and labor, that wages paid to wool factory hands had increased more than 31 per cent, and by the testimony of the wool growers themselves that the labor cost of growing wool had increased still more.

He also showed beyond any possible successful contradiction, that measured by all previous experiences with tariff revision, the present duty of 11 cents per pound is the danger line below which wool duties could not go without injury to the most important agricultural industry. That whenever the duties had been reduced below 11 cents the number of sheep had always decreased, and the important food supply to the consumer had likewise fallen off, and that whenever the duties were as high or higher than 11 cents per pound the number of sheep had always increased, and as a matter of course the nation supply had likewise increased.

Article as an article of food is a matter of possibly more importance to the comfort of all the people than wool.

The re-enactment of the wool and woolen schedules as they had been before under both the McKinley and the Dingley acts was the same as though a reduction had been made, for the labor cost of production had increased, while the duties remained unchanged.

WHAT MR. JUSTICE HAS DONE.

Of Mr. Justice's labors, the American Sheep Breeder says: Since the passage of the Dingley act many years ago, a period has elapsed during which time the wool growing industry has greatly prospered under this act, in the framing of which Mr. Justice was so largely instrumental.

In 1897 and 1908 there came again the demand for tariff revision, which, a portion at least of the public, chose to interpret as tariff reduction. By a statement of great force, made before Congress, Mr. Justice rendered service to the wool growing industry, the value of which is inestimable. Assisted by the bureau of commerce and labor, he considered of facts by congressional committees, which were so convincing that Congress passed over the wool and woolen schedule with no destructive changes.

Mr. Justice showed that, according to the official figures of the department of agriculture, the number of sheep turbed, at the rate of increase under that act we would have produced all the wool we now use.

(d) If the free wool act had never been repealed, at the rate of decline under that act, by 1890 the United States would have been without wool.

The protectionists argue that the matter for American citizens to decide is whether they will increase or decrease the mutton and wool supply, that if it follows with less wool it will be dearer, especially as the whole world is on the retrograde, the gain in the southern hemisphere being less than the decrease in wool production in the northern hemisphere.

Except by Senators Warren of Wyoming, Carter of Montana, and Smoot of Utah (the conspicuous senatorial champions of the wool growing industry) and by the executive officers of the National Wool Growers' association, the value of the services rendered by Theodore Justice to the United States will probably never be fully known.

The officers of the National Wool Growers' association, however, have frequently made most courteous public and private acknowledgments of the value to the wool growing industry of the services rendered by Theodore Justice.

SWEDISH ORGANIZER SPEAKS. C. E. Tholin Tells of Strike in Sweden Supported by American Unionists.

In the Unitarian hall Wednesday evening, C. E. Tholin, general organizer of the Swedish Federation of Labor, delivered an address to about 50 of his countrymen. The lecture was in the Swedish tongue. Translated, Mr. Tholin spoke in part as follows:

"For the first time in history, an American labor union, the American Federation of Labor, is supporting financially and morally a strike in another country. The other day when I spoke before the American body in Toronto, Canada, active measures were at once adopted to help the Swedish strikers with influence and money from America."

"The Swedish strike began July 3, when the Swedish Employers' association locked out 10,000 men and women, mostly textile workers, who were working 10 hours a day for about $2.30 per week for women and something less than $5 a week for men. This was done because times were dull then in Sweden and the employers wanted to break the workers' union, the Confederation of Labor, so that when good times came again the workers could not enforce shorter hours and more pay. This confederation of Labor has been organized since 1888."

"As the lockout of 10,000 workers could not break the confederation, on July 21 the employers locked out 40,000 more, and on August 2 they turned out another 20,000, a total of 80,000 union men. At this all the workers of Sweden took up the fight, backed by workers in other countries, and 400,000 men and women struck, covering all lines of labor except the railroads, the telegraph and postal service. This took place on August 4 and continued until September 4 when the men went back to work except for the Employers' association."

"The situation then turned into an effort on the part of the workers to break up the Employers' association, and men were allowed to go back to work for the individual members of the association if these members resigned from the association. This has largely broken up the Employers' association, till today only 50,000 men are on strike."

"German workers have sent us $50,000, the Danes $15,000, Norway sent $15,000 and America has sent $30,000. I am in this country to raise funds to win the strike. If the strike is not soon ended 30,000 men will leave Sweden for America, and Australia is the scene, never to return."

GRAND JURY FINDS EIGHT TRUE BILLS

After Session Lasting Two Weeks Report Is Made to Judge Page Morris.

THREE MEN UNDER ARREST

Five Indictments Held Pending Apprehension of Parties—Personnel of Jury.

After having been in session for over two weeks the United States grand jury, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night, made its report to Judge Page Morris. Eleven cases in all have been considered and true bills have been found in eight of these.

The indictments reported are against A. L. Williams, charged with impersonating a revenue officer and collecting money as such; George Peterson, uttering a forged money order; and Ron Saylor, extracting money from registered mail. All of these are under arrest. Five other bills have been withheld pending apprehension.

After the report had been made, Judge Morris thanked the jurors and they were dismissed. A number of the jurors live at a distance but most of them were enabled to catch trains which took them to their homes in time for their Thanksgiving dinner. The full jury was composed of B. F. Redman, Salt Lake, foreman; John Alves, Salt Lake; F. O. Buell, Heber; Scott Bringham, Taylorville; A. H. Box, Salt Lake; William H. Day, Salt Lake; John H. Evans, Brigham; H. S. Foster, Ogden; S. C. Fullmer, Mapleton; Andrew Freed, Lehi; W. Parr, Ogden; William Ferguson, Eureka; F. C. Howe, Murray; J. S. Parry, Mantua; J. W. Redd, Price; Harrison Spiers, Salt Lake; B. S. Young, secretary, Salt Lake.

OFFENSES CHARGED. Ron Saylor was a mail clerk, whose run was between Salt Lake and Malad City and he is charged with rifling letters and obtaining $20. Three letters are named in the indictment, mailed severally from Snowville, Garland and Stone. One of these was addressed to the postmaster of Kansas City and two were to have gone to a mail order house of Chicago. The crime is alleged to have been committed on April 21 of this year. Saylor is held in $1,000.

A. L. Williams, charged with impersonating a revenue officer and held in $1,000, is charged with having gone to lodging houses and hotels in this city and demanding to see the government licenses. If the proprietors were unable to produce licenses Williams is charged with having collected the amounts, $20 for beer and $30 for liquor, under the pretext that he had the authority. Witnesses before the grand jury who he is alleged to have threatened were Mrs. W. E. Dunn, Maggie Richards and Mrs. L. C. Pender.

George Peterson, who has an alias of Miller, is the man who is charged with presenting a forged money order at the Midvale postoffice. Max Presler, an electrician, reported to the Midvale postoffice the loss of a money order. Shortly afterward Peterson presented an order for payment, endorsed with Presler's name. It was recognized at the postoffice and Peterson was arrested. His bail was fixed at $750.

SCHOOL CENSUS COMPILED. Five Cities Show 34,567 School Children, 21,917 Being Here.

In the five largest cities in Utah there are 34,567 school children, according to a report compiled Wednesday in the office of State Sup't. A. C. Nelson. Of this number there are 23,937 in Salt Lake.

Ogden shows a decrease of 33 children between the year of 18 and 19 years which cannot be accounted for. Murray also shows a decrease of 47 children of school age. This is accounted for by the fact that a good many families packed away from the smelters were closed down there and opened in Garfield. Salt Lake City shows an increase of 86 children and Provo a gain of 36.

There are 50 colored children in Utah of school age. Of this number 44 are in Salt Lake.

The report shows the population by cities as follows: Salt Lake, white boys, 10,362, girls, 10,680; colored boys, 28.

People eat more Quaker Scotch Oats than any other food product sold in packages. It's the greatest strength maker. Are you eating enough of it? WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING.

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samosa, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful gain in this preparation since first introduced in Salt Lake City and the remarkable results following its use have made Z. C. M. I. Drug Department such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samosa that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samosa will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but Z. C. M. I. Drug Department has seen so many of their customers who have a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samosa that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate food, and makes the user plump, well and healthy.

Deserter Under Arrest Who Drew Pension While Serving in Army.

George Y. Handacre, who served several months at Ft. Douglas as bandman for the Fifteenth infantry, and who deserted on Oct. 6 last, is under arrest in San Francisco. He is also charged with defrauding the United States government out of pension money. It is alleged that he has been drawing a pension of $12 as a disabled blacksmith and at the same time serving as an able-bodied soldier.

Discharged from the navy two years ago, Handacre was granted a pension for disability. He obtained employment in an Oakland, Cal., store, and afterward came to Fort Douglas, where he enlisted under an assumed name. While in the service here he is charged with having regularly drawn his pension. Feeling detection he deserted and returned to the coast where he found employment in a store in San Francisco. While at work there he was recognized by Special Pension Examiner E. G. Harsh, who had gone into the store to make a purchase.

FORCED INTO EXILE. Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home, Mountain air he thought would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

There is no way to cure Catarrh except to purify the blood, and thus do away with the cause. The symptoms may be benefited by the use of washes, inhalations, sprays, medicated tobacco, etc., and the use of such treatment catarrh sufferers receive temporary relief and comfort. External and local measures however cannot have any effect on the blood, and therefore their use alone is of no real curative value. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, and comes as the result of catarrhal matter and other impurities in the circulation. These morbid matters in the blood cause an inflammatory and irritated condition of the mucous membrane of tissue lining of the cavity of the body, producing an unhealthy secretion, ringing noises in the ears, stuffy feeling in the head and nose, headaches, hoarseness, bronchial affections, watery eyes, etc. S.S.S. is the best treatment for Catarrh because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. This medicine removes every particle of the catarrhal impurity from the circulation, making this vital fluid pure, fresh and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, because they are nourished with pure, health-giving blood, every symptom disappears, and soon S.S.S. produces a perfect cure. S.S.S. does not contain any habit-forming drugs, which really never can cure Catarrh, but often ruin the health. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

Dinwoodey's

The Watch

We are all selfish. If a merchant makes good a guarantee to a complaining customer he is called honorable and if he gives the Orphans a donation he is called generous—Now these virtues may exist but behind them both in the average man is the element of selfishness, because he knows he will lose less if he makes good his guarantees and gives to charity than if he does not.

To please a customer first and not be required to make good a guarantee afterwards, should be the merchants first thought in buying goods, and when merchandise is found that, for the price, excels all other similar ware he does well to recommend it to his patrons.

The Leyson Special Watch for men and women excels all others of a similar cost and we recommend them from a selfish motive knowing they will stay sold and make of every owner a friend.

They cost from $24.00 to $200.00 and satisfy every watch requirement.
